Boy Scouts

What is a scout? A scout is a kind of a hero who is not a hero in the ordinary sense, but who is a hero in the sense that he is a hero to the people who are in the grade of the community.

Wanted—A troop hike. It seems especially difficult to arrange for a hike. The members of the troop are very busy and as the school year is over, the boys can find time to hike the leaders are away or busy.

There will be a meeting of the troop leaders and their assistants, the troop scribe and the commissioners of the troop at the home of Mr. Sieder, on Wednesday evening. Plans for the summer concert will be made.

The members of the troop will at the same time at the Baptist church on Sunday, May 17. Members of the patriotic organizations of the community will assist in this service.

The Boy Scouts have been asked to assist in the patriotic service held for our soldier dead who are buried in the Barrington County cemetery. Services will be held on Sunday, May 24. Every scout should plan to be present. We love our country. We can show a part of that love by honoring those brave men who helped to make our country.

Plans are being made for a baseball team.

The scout committee will be present at the last meeting in May (May 25) for the purpose of conducting tests for promotion. Every scout in the troop should be prepared to pass at least one test at that time. Nothing short of sixteen should keep him from a regular advancement. Tests that have to be taken in the open can be arranged for by consulting either Mr. Dobson or Mr. Spencer.

OK, hey? Any? It is a great and glorious feeling to know that we again have a full committee. F. C. Bond has consented to serve on our governing body. Now we can go forward with our work.

"REDLIGHT" GETS MEDAL FOR BEST POLO PONY ON GRASSME FARM CLUB

Redlight, owned by Eugene Byfield of Grassme Farm, has just been awarded the bronze polo medal by the Horse Association of America. This medal is offered annually to the best playing pony in each club which is affiliated with the United States Polo Association. The selection was made by a club committee composed of three members who actually participated in match games during the 1924 season and who therefore knew the ponies.

The judges, under instructions, made their choice with the idea that the horse they designated would be the one they would want to ride in the game if their own lives depended on winning—in other words, the pony that would deliver the goods. No attention was paid to breeding or type of horse, as performance alone counted. Ability, handiness and general playing were the factors the committee considered.

Redlight, a red sorrel gelding, was purchased from "Herd of the River Ranch," Texas, in 1914. He stands 14 1/2 hands high, weighs over 900 pounds, has great speed and handiness.

A POEM ON MOTHER

Mother is the greatest pal we ever had
We should make her happy, not sad
For we did little of work,
If you love her do not shrink.

Mother's day is drawing near
Give your mother lots of cheer
She will thank you, she will work
If you love her do not shrink.

Make her happy, make her glad
If she was sick you'd feel sad
Why then, do you shrink?
If you love her do not shrink.

—Rena Schaefer, seventh grade

MOTHER

The second Sunday in the month of May
Is celebrated as Mother's day
And it is so should we in light
That beautiful flower, the carnation

Who sacrifices for our sake,
Who stays at home our clothes to make,
While we go out and have our fun
And sometimes refuse an errand to run.

But we our mothers do abuse,
When all these errands we refuse,
For none of us'll be sorry, when it's late,
When our mother is taken away by fate.

—Margaret Ernst, eighth grade

MOTHER

Mother is the dearest friend:
Her love is never at an end.
She's always near,
Our friend so dear,
And she will love us long.

We sometimes disobey her,
Or offend some of her,
Though we're so blame,
We'll be the same.

This Mother, dear of ours,
At evening, when the sun is low,
And hear the tales she has to tell
Of the day times so long ago.

The tales we love to hear,
—Rena Schaefer, eighth grade

MOTHER

That little word "mother" has just to say,
And we see its meaning more each new day.
Whenever we go or wherever we do,
That little word stays staunch and true.

—Just Mother

It's the very first word we learn to say,
And we still find new meaning every day.
If we do wrong mother shows us,
And still remains shining, pure and bright.

—Just Mother

In all that we do mother is our friend,
And her love cares for us with no end,
That ever a word so small and dear
That can comfort us from our fear.

—Margaret Wetschell, eighth grade

Shopping for her husband, who tries to strangle her and then tells us to bed, Mrs. Benjamin James of Chicago secured a divorce.

Like Many Others

"Ah, old fellow," said a man meeting a friend in the street, "you were married at last. Allow me to congratulate you, for I hear you are an excellent and accomplished wife."

"I have indeed," was the reply. "Why are you perfectly at home in literature, at home in music, at home in art, at home in science—in short, she is at home everywhere except—"

"Except what?"

"Except at home."—Heartsong and Home.

219 Communities Served with Electricity or Gas

IF A GREAT barrier like the ancient wall of China were placed around the territory served with electricity and gas by the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois, inside would be found an almost entirely self-sustaining area.

In this area people are engaged in nearly every phase of human activity, its products finding nearly every human need.

In the remarkable progress of the communities comprising this interesting and active area Public Service Company of Northern Illinois has kept constant pace.

It is a fact, that the prosperity of Northern Illinois and that of this Company are inter-dependent.

The Company now serves 283,629 customers an increase of over 30,648 within the past year. It is an interesting fact that the Company serves 25 per cent of the gas users in Illinois outside of the city of Chicago.

The Company is constantly assisting manufacturers by finding new and greater uses for industrial power and gas. Its facilities are being constantly increased so that modern living conveniences will be available to a continually increasing number of people.

Investors in Public Service Company of Northern Illinois securities have every reason to be gratified by the stability and high standing, which, through careful management and conservative financing, continue to characterize securities issued by this Company.
