MEMORIAL DAY

On Saturday, May 30, the people of Barrington will turn aside from the affairs of the busy workday world long enough to pay tribute to the sons of this community who gave their all on the battle fields of Gettysburg and Antietam, of San Juan Hill, of France and Belgium.

Memorial day for many years was an occasion for honoring those who fought and died to keep our country one and indivisible. With the ending of the World war, it took on a new significance. The age-scarred ranks of the men of '61 have been recruited with those who survived at Chateau Thierry, Belleau Woods, St. Mihiel, the Argonne, and every other place and sort of service endured at their country's call.

Memorial Day represents a greater solidarity of sentiment than any other occasion which the American people observe. Its pure motives enables everyone, irrespective of creed, philosophy or trend of thought to approach it without acrimony, without misgivings of any sort, but in a spirit of reverence and unselfishness.

The draped flags, the muffled drums, the measured tread, the clear notes of the bugle and the rifle's salute over the flower-covered graves are but symbols of respect for those who are sleeping the final bivouac.

The real reverence, the real spirit of the occasion, exists in the hearts of those for whom these heroes died and for whom other heroes were willing to die.

HOUGHTON TOLD THEM

Alanson B. Houghton, the new American ambassador to Great Britain, made a notable speech at a banquet in London by the Pilgrim Society welcoming him to the court of St. James, in which he warned Europe against further warlike movements if financial aid from the United States is continued to continue.

As the new ambassador had been in close consultation with President Coolidge and Secretary Kellogg, his predecessor in London, just before sailing to take his new post, his utterances were rightly construed as representing the views of the administration.

His address indicated unmistakably that America does not intend to finance the nations of Europe for further war preparations and he told his hearers that "the time for destructive policies has passed and that the time for peaceful upbuilding has come."

The trend of his remarks pointed quite plainly to the displeasure with which America regards the hostile attitude of both Germany and France, although he mentioned neither by name.

His speech created a profound impression throughout England and Europe and the British press of all shades of political opinion was practically unanimous in approving the views which he expressed.

BRYAN MAY RUN AGAIN

William Jennings Bryan may run again—not for the presidency of the United States, but as a candidate for the seat now occupied by Duncan U. Fletcher, the man from Florida. Rumors to this effect have persisted for some time and now appear to be well founded.

The large vote Bryan received in his election to the national Democratic convention as delegate at large from Florida indicates that he has a strong hold upon the electorate of that state, while Senator Fletcher has been thrice elected to the office he now holds. A contest there would be a little royal.

Bryan is interested in making real estate deals daily at Miami, for which he is said to receive $500 a talk, and is reputed to be a millionaire, but he denies that he is worth that much.

There is no doubt, however, that he has made a lot of money down there and that his circumstances are far different than when he gained the title of "the great Commoner," as the champion of the people.

When asked the other day whether he would be a candidate for the senate he replied: "Simply say for me that I have nothing to say."

When a politician gets to that stage it is probably safe to conclude that he means "Yes."

MISDIRECTED SYMPATHY

Joe Ranko and Floyd Hall, murderers of the city marshal of San Bruno, Cal., were given life imprisonment instead of death sentence through the influence of sympathetic ladies, whose appeals are said to have had a softening effect on the jury.

Both convicts recently escaped from San Quentin prison and immediately entered upon a fresh orgy of crime, including another murder. Commenting on the matter, Governor Friend Richardson of California said:

"The jury, being too soft to subster influence, gave them life imprisonment. These men had criminal records. They succeeded in escaping and have since terrorized different communities, killed one citizen and wounded an officer. I sincerely hope that the criminal exploits of these young murderers will be a warning to kind-hearted but misguided sub-sisters."

There can be little doubt that much of the crime which stalks through the land may be traced directly or indirectly to misguided sympathy, such as Governor Richardson justly demands.

Weak-minded women who make a practice of sending flowers and delicacies to murderers and making heroes of them are themselves a menace to society.

SOME BOY

Robert Sessions, 15-year-old high school student of Birmingham, Ala., is the winner of the national oratorical contest recently held in Washington, D. C., in competition with six other regional champions representing the entire country.

Robert was the youngest of the seven competitors, two of the others being 16 and the remaining four 17 years of age.

The prize was $2,000 in cash and his proposals to donate the entire sum to his school to be used in the promotion of good citizenship.

With the winning of the prize was a splendid achievement, the laudable and patriotic purpose to which he intends to devote it indicates that Robert Sessions possesses the highest ideals, as well as remarkable oratorical ability. He is "some boy."

PROPER UTILIZATION OF LUMBER

National Lumber Manufacturers' Association declares that the forests of the country are robbed of $140,000,000 worth of wood every year, by an unnecessary insistence on long boards for building. The waste in form and mill, and on the building job, is declared due solely to a misunderstanding which demands long boards where shorter lengths would serve as well and would save waste all the way from the forest to the finished house.

Good lumbering and marketing calls for the utilization of the whole tree. The buying public should co-operate with the mills in this matter as an aid to forest conservation.

THE FOUR CORNERS

W. H. Ludes, a Reading, Pa., manufacturer, will speak at a meeting of the families of a bonus for each family member after 14 years old.

An unknown donor sent $20,000 in gold bonds to Princeton University as a gift to be used for any researches in which he might be interested.

An expedition from the University of Toronto will conduct further explorations in the Chukchean, where bones of mammals were found last year.

The date of the first New England settlement during the winter has been fixed to 1570-600 p. m.

Cured of leprosy, but having to go to 400 miles to get a doctor, a native colony in the Philippines will remain there.

The Ohio supreme court upheld a Columbus law requiring negroes from public places.

An Oklahoma congressman has introduced legislation providing for new post offices and telephones in every city, town and village in the state.

A Massachusetts man, who has been a member of the state legislature for 10 years, is the only one of his kind known to have been born in the United States.

Bible Thoughts for the Week

Sunday.

Be not of them. For you know not what day may bring forth.—Prov. 30:3.

Monday.

Remember for me another poor rich or richer; feed me with food convenient for me.—Prov. 30:8.

Tuesday.

Behold her that is forgetful of her husband. This is the portion of the day when we are anticipating a full participation. Let us make it a real memorial service, in honor of our Master. Early morning services for 30 minutes will be a fine preparation.

Wednesday.

Trust in the Lord with all this heart; and lean not upon thy own understanding. He who truly acknowledges His, and He shall direct thy path.—Prov. 3:5, 6.

Thursday.

In the Beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. The Word is not anything made that was made.—John 1:1, 2.

Friday.

A Bardonization for the New Year. The Lord blesses thee, and keep thee. The Lord make His face to shine upon thee, and be gracious unto thee. The Lord lift up His countenance upon thee, and give thee peace.—Num. 6:24-26.

Saturday.

Finally, Brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think not of these.—Phil. 4:8.

Views in Brief

BY MARCY B. DARNALL

An inland machine, sent by the U. S. government to the Chapter of Spokane, Wash., contained explosives enough to blow up the whole building if it were set off. The device was made to look like a hand grenade. It was found to be a bomb.

Commander D. W. Fuller of the U. S. Cavalry, who was in charge of the guard at the fort, said that he had no knowledge of the origin of the device.

One Ohio town is strong for the Democratic party. The town of Newfield, Ohio, which provides all the services, has a population of 1,000.

"When two cars come to a stop at a red light, the people in one of them will start shouting, 'We are not going to be beaten out of the race by the other car.' The drivers of the cars are not even related."

One man, who is a Democrat, was shot in the head at a Democratic meeting.

Because of the personal nature of the attack, the man who was shot is not named.

EDITORIAL

Very soon that club in high school will be electing officers for next year. This election has usually been held in the spring to give the club time to get into full gear. Good officers will be an asset to an organization. If they have the right men for the right offices, the club will be assured of a better chance of making a success of next year's work. Study the candidates and see who are most fitted to do the work.

JUNIOR COUNCIL

The Barrington High Club held a meeting, Wednesday afternoon, May 13, to elect officers for the coming year. The results of the election were as follows: President, Henry Eines; vice president, Curtis McGowan; secretary and treasurer, Donald A. Schmid; recording secretary, Althea Berg, Francis Gostek, Robert Catlow; reporter, Raymond Juhne; sergeant at arms, Kenneth Clegg.

The boys of the club voted to pay dues of twenty-five cents, to help cover the expenses of the organization.

It was also voted that no boy be allowed to become a member of the golf club unless he has a passing grade in at least one major subject.

—GIRLS' NEWS

Members of T. N. T. Y. Yes, we are excited.

A group of high school girls went for an outing to Deer Grove forest for the first time. We decided we should go on some camping trips each week, if possible. Mrs. Clinehamer acted as "chaperone."

Mrs. Clinehamer, what do you say to a picnic party? Should you prefer a picnic to a campout?

Tell you what! Well, we'll put a bulletin on the blackboard in the recreation room. Write your suggestions on it. All right! Fine! Next week? Good!

NOTICE

The Junior class of the high school will have a Picnic in the park on Saturday and Friday evenings of this week.

Mr. Leonard's Talk

Mr. Leonard has three main divisions to his address. The world was his oyster, he said. A cheater in the business world, it will be you a bad oyster, either, because in every oyster you will throw on your own resources, you will find you can't get along without them.

His second division was get a college education. He pointed out
