

C. of C. Outlines Extensive Plans Coming Months

By JOHN E. DE LONG

The Chamber of Commerce, which meets on the evening of September 14, has a long list of important things in its plans. The organization is growing in numbers and interest, and is taking in all of the surrounding country.

Several people who have moved from the city to country homes near the Chamber of Commerce and are showing a fine interest in its work. In this community the country and the village are one in their interests and good fellowship, and that spirit is growing, and each section of the community is mutually helpful to the other. To carry out this plan of a whole community, co-operation is one important thing in the list of items to be considered at the meeting.

An all-community supper will be held probably sometime in September by the Chamber of Commerce, and special invitations will be given to the country people to come and participate in the discussions of things which are of interest to all. Harrington is at the beginning of a great movement, and the men of the organization see its significance, and are laying large plans.

rington is ready to report at the next meeting, and definite plans will be outlined. The committee on city planning will also report, and it has significant suggestions to make. The committee on a survey of the needs of the village has several proposals, and an important report of the work it has done. Some amendments will be proposed to the constitution which will make possible larger things which need to be included.

From now until the next meeting, the committee on membership will make a special canvass of the community in the country for new members, and we expect to double the membership soon, and the financial ability of the organization to do things of pressing need."

At the next meeting a committee on finance will be appointed to direct the financial enterprise and consider ways and means of raising funds

The men of the Chamber of Commerce realize that Barrington must act quickly on several items of im-

The president of the Chamber of Commerce has started a fund and made a deposit at the First State Bank for the purpose of buying a park for Barrington. Others will be asked to contribute to this fund, and it is certain that it will grow rapidly.

Barglars Enter

Burglars broke into the John Schwartz home on Lincoln avenue last Thursday evening and stole a diamond ring and lavallier, the property of Mrs. Martha Schroeder, who makes her home there, and a gold watch belonging to her son, Albert. They went through a pocket book belonging to Dwight Schwartz, who had been paid that day, but for

The jewelry and watch lost by the Schroeders were presents from Mrs. Schroeder's deceased husband, and aside from their intrinsic value were highly prized as keepsakes.

Mr. and Mrs. Schwartz were away from home between the hours of 7:30 and 9 o'clock that evening and other members of the household were also away, so it is presumed that the those hours, although it was not discovered until the next morning.

It is believed the burglar or burglars entered through the basement or by means of a window.

you can see the whole town of Duluth and from Duluth you can see the whole town of Superior. The reason is that Superior lies on the edge of Lake Superior on a peninsula while Duluth is built on the side of a long hill. In some places the edge where people dug out large quantities of rock so that they could build a house in the cave that they had made. To make the hill all the way started out in low speed. One day in Duluth we took a picture of the town from the top of a big hill.

After dining in Altlin we motored to Schenepells, for the next night. The town Saturday noon until late. First morning we visited with our half-brother cousins in Glencoe, Harlan, Iowa; Bird Island and Fairmont, during this time we only made about 150 miles.

The minute we left Fairmont it appeared we couldn't get home fast enough, but we did take time to go to St. Moines, Ia., and see the coal mines and stayed at Grinnell until Sunday morning. Saturday we made the longest drive in one day that we made on the trip, making 211 miles in nine hours and it seemed the fastest we went and the farther we went the better the Humphreys travelled.

To only trouble we had was to find suitable structures with 50 miles a day in Minnesota.

"The first road was in the north, from Hamilton to Toronto. The sidewalk curve and smoothness of cement was perfect.

"The worst town for traveling was St. Paul. The streets were so bad as far as the dunes and if they get through at the end of the day without getting hit they consider themselves lucky. At night everyone goes to bed.

"The states we hit were Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa and Illinois; and the cities. Even though the roads were wonderful, you can't get through in Pennsylvania and New York and the wonderful landscape of Minnesota and the corn country there, there are a lot of things that appear as if they were made that state and as like our own home-state. The way I feel is: Burrington is good enough for me. I'm satisfied."

A. A. EXHIBIT TO BE SHOWN AT THREE FAIRS

Joe Thinker, the cartoon member of the Peppy county farm bureau and comic character of the I. A. A. record, will continue to preach the gospel of organization and co-operation in the exhibit of the State Farm Bureau which is on display this week at the Central State Fairgrounds, and which will later be shown at the Illinois State Fair at Springfield and the Illinois Product Exposition in Chicago.

The exhibit prepared by the Illinois Agricultural Association is a large reproduction of a model farm with all the equipment and buildings that are needed in the work of helping feed the world. It displays the spirit and magnitude of Illinois farm

It is summer time on the farm and John Thinker may be seen making hay as he drives a load of alfalfa to the barn, unloads it and returns to the field again at regular intervals. Trucks and wagons can be seen driving along the road carrying agricultural products to the center of consumption. On the right of the exhibit is shown a railroad

The 15th meeting of the 10th...

The third meeting of the 10th and 11th congressional districts will be held at Libertyville in the Presbyterian church on Tuesday, September 1. The meeting will start at 9:30 a. m. and will continue through the balance of the day. Dinner will be served by the Presbyterian Ladies' Aid at noon.

Members and officers of the DuPage, Kane, Will, Cook and McHenry county farm bureaus will be present. This is the first meeting of its kind to be held in Lake county and is a big opportunity for the Lake county farm bureau members to become better acquainted with the work done in their own and neighboring counties through co-operation with the I. A. A. These meetings together better in our I. A. A. and farm bureau work.

John C. Watson, from the I. A. A., will talk on taxation at this meeting. President Thompson says that taxation or revenue reform is the second greatest need for agriculture. Donald Kirkpatrick, legal counsel for the I. A. A., will tell us something about the St. Louis dairy situation. Vernon Vanniman, field representative of the New Re-Insurance Company, will be there to explain in detail the re-insurance plan. Come prepared to ask any questions on the above topics.

LAKE COUNTY HAS A HORSE-SHOE TEAM AT THE I. A. A. PICNIC

At the annual Lake county farm bureau picnic, held last Wednesday at Diamond Lake, J. J. Yore and Joe Atkinson of Roundou, won the horseshoe pitching contest for farmers. They are representing Lake county at the state picnic at Taylorville, today, where they compete with the greatest horseshoe pitchers in Illinois.

GRAIN MARKET REVIEW

With material changes in the world situation the wheat market displayed no marked trend during the week ending August 22, according to the weekly report of the United States Department of Agriculture. Some uncertainty as to the final outcome of the spring wheat crop caused some price fluctuations in United States markets during the week. The most favorable weather and reported offerings of grain had a weakening influence on European markets. It is becoming more apparent, however, that the domestic situation is of prime importance and that the market for American grain will be more heavily influenced by foreign demand than close of the week was quoted at St. Louis at $1.78-$1.81. Cincinnati $1.75-$1.76, and Toledo $1.73-$1.72.

While corn prices held fairly firm there was a weaker tone to the market. Country offerings were more liberal as farmers were more disposed to market their surplus with crop. Prices at the principal markets ranged from $1-11.05 per bushel for the principal trading grades.

HAY MARKET REVIEW

The hay market generally ruled firm during the week ending August 22. Larger receipts of only average quality hay weakened the eastern markets but arrivals at interior markets were below current needs and prices held very firm with numerous advances reported. Demand was active but not of large volume.

and mystifying intrigue. In "Don Q" Fairbanks plays a hero, a man of exceptional strength and popularity. Mary Pickford, beautiful and highly popular, plays the role of his leading lady with "Don Q." Donald Crisp, who directs the picture, in the supporting male roles. Others are the Countess De Saxe, Arthur Hays Sulzberger, and Edward Forrest and Albert.

Milton Sills stars in "The Last Word" played in full on Tuesday night and last night. The picture is shown for one evening only. "The Mask and the Mole" by Tom O'Malley, introducing Milton Sills as a comedian's newest picture, and that Sills has been a star, but that is not the case. He has played some big roles—such as "The Sea Hawk"—but always as a featured actor, and generally he shared the honors with another.

And now, for the first time in his career, he steps out of featured roles and into acknowledged, full-blown stardom. He shares honors with no one.

It is a great triumph for Sills and one the fans who have followed him for so long will be glad to see. The highest honor the motion picture industry can give him will be glad to give him.

"The Making of O'Malley" is a picture that is a real treat for the eyes on the streets of New York. Sills has an ideal role.

The title of the Auditorium's Saturday picture is "The Silent Stranger."

In "The Silent Stranger," movie fans will see Fred Thompson, world champion athlete, in a series of remarkable feats of horsemanship. The film first shows Thompson as Jack Taylor, an ex-convict man who goes out and kills, and then goes to his horse "Silver King." Just with the devotion to his master that is only known to a horse owner, "Silver King" jumps a fence and falls the stage coach. Jack Taylor, Silver King, leaps from the top of the stage to the horse's back. Thompson's next bit of daring is to ride a stunt calling for him to leap from the saddle to the branch of a tree while the horse is going full speed. The action throughout the entire story is swift. Thompson mixes his riding and athletic ability nicely. At one time he jumps clear over a fence and into the saddle. The most daring stunt of all is made when he leaps a triple mount on a runaway train, rides them in human style, and finally stops the horses.

HIGHWAY SIGNS WITH ARROW HELP TO MOTORIST

Springfield, Aug. 24.—(By the Associated Press.)—The highway signs with arrows which will be placed between their "left" and "right" had led engineers of the state highway department to design a new highway sign with a curved arrow to designate curves leading to the right or left.

The curved arrow helps a motorist to visualize the direction of a curve rather than the letters "R" and "L," which have heretofore been used, said R. B. Benedict, assistant state highway engineer. It is a fact that many motorists have difficulty in quickly discriminating between right and left while driving. The curved arrow instantly tells him the direction he may expect the road to take.

People of all nationalities who are driving cars sometimes are unable to read English, Mr. Benedict said, and for these the visual sign is ideal.

Signs now in use designate double curves by the figure "S" while single curves are pointed out by the letters "R" and "L."

CHICAGO THEATRES

McVickers, "Jazz King to Stage"

"Grab Bag"

Paul Ash is to make his debut at the McVickers theatre four months ago. He has staged some lovely which have delighted his host of followers. Next week he'll bring something new—and if the theatre can hold the things there'll be a lot of records broken.

All that Paul will tell in advance is that he's rehearsing his biggest production—"Surprise Show." He says it'll be a "grab bag"—a lot of tricks, stunts, comedy, super-actuation—and surprise!

A lot of extra talent has been recruited for this big show which will have everything from opera to the Charleston. It is known that Coleman "Ash" proteges will be in the big "surprise show."

R. & K. Route Orchestra, Conductors and Organists

Balaban & Katz are launching with the opening of the Uptown Theatre, a radio and very important system of supplying orchestra leaders and organists to their theatre patrons. Each week will see a change of music masters in the Chicago, Detroit, and Uptown Theatres. Fresh ideas, fresh talent, fresh originality.

will be supplied each week by this method.

Nathaniel Planton, Leopold Sptilay and Adolph Dumont will be the leaders who will circle from theatre to theatre, each accompanying and directing the musical comedy stage—and music production for three weeks. The organizers who will direct the shows will be Jean Crawford, Milton, Charles and Albert Jay Malotte.

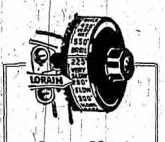

These six men will heretofore have no "home" theatre, but will travel from week to week. By this plan each conductor and organist will have an opportunity to rehearse the program for weeks in advance, knowing that the organization will be held intact for three weeks while moving between the Chicago, Detroit and Uptown Theatres. The plan too means that larger shows can be given, stage effects attempted, that have never been before.

That natural desire to be different is happily expressed when a brush is dipped into one of the brilliant "61" Floor Varnish colors, which stain as they varnish, in one stroke of the brush. "61" provides the maximum wear and water-resistance on all kinds of floors and linoleum. It lasts even longer on furniture and woodwork.

BASEBALL

N. B. W. S.—Algonquin's Own, 5. A fair crowd of local rooting fans saw a snappy, hard-fought ball game last Sunday at Spunner's park. The Barrington N. B. W. team took a licking to the offering of Ruth of Algonquin, and slammed the ball for a total of fifteen hits. (Algonquin) led the list with three triples. Schumacher got a triple and a single, and Ruessman got a double and a single. Ten singles divided between the rest of the team, made the Algonquin pitcher give the best he had all through the game. Bartholomew had the best of the pitching argument, allowing only seven hits, of which two were doubles. He struck out ten men, while Ruth only whiffed nine, but the difference in support and the hitting of the locals won him his victory needed. gave Bartholomew the edge on the other fellow all the time. There were many tight plays in the game and one could not say that the game was two useful runs in.

Next Sunday the Dundee Perle game will be held at Spunner's for the first game of a series. This team has been playing good ball without the right kind of home support and, without doubt will give the local boys a genuine scrap. Look them over at Spunner's ball park next Sunday.
