Wonder Machines Impress Colby at Rockford

10 LESTER R. COLBY

It's very amazing and wonderful machines. That was the picture, I ran of Rockford—machines it seems to be a city whose wealth and plenty and highroads, smokestacks are all built of machines.

Water, power, gas, the machines, perform

many varied kinds of labor swiftly and cheaper, better and more exact.

Rockford not only works hard,

but it also works well, and is hard and white and pounding of theirs, but it is the machines and it makes

the machine, the machine

TAX RETURN PUBLICITY NOT VERY POPULAR

Washington, D. C., September 24.

The recent publication of income tax returns in various parts of the country has led to a number of demands that the government feature the tax law be repealed. Newspaper opinion generally is opposed to the publication of tax returns, but some newspapers, referred to here as "the tax lawyers," are in favor of it. They contend that the need for such action would result in the repeal of the law unpopular and hastens its repeal.

Treasury officials say that no particular benefit is derived by the government from the publication of returns. The cost of the tax law has increased the revenue from direct taxes, taxpayers, who might otherwise have paid no taxes. In addition, the public is made aware of an added expense to the government as arrangements have to be made to publish the tax law in a special place to the eyes of the public, so that the lists may be published in a manner that will not offend the public.

It is the opinion of the tax lawyers that the tax lists are more important than all else. It is, however, misleading.

Motor Car Values Today Greatest Ever Offered

"Never in the history of the automobile industry has the public been offered such a great value," said Walter J. Cannon, local Chrysler dealer.

"Motor cars cost on 30 car lots in the Chicago area today. Commodity in general cost 67 per cent more."

"Not only have motor car manufacturers increased the cost of their cars in consequence of manufacture, but they have also discovered new ways of reducing sales taxes. Not only have they reduced prices but they have also reduced finance charges and insurance rates until they are the lowest in the country.

"One of the things that has attracted most attention has been the introduction of the Chrysler Plan: a plan to reduce finance charges on cars on the deferred payment basis and to reduce liability and theft insurance rates."

The Chrysler Plan, inaugurated July 1, by the manufacturer, provides to finance a monthly saving of more than $400,000 for Chrysler car buyers. It is a plan which may be followed shortly by other manufacturers.

The Chrysler Plan was inaugurated to meet the particular needs of the automobile industry, reduced finance charges and lowest possible insurance rates. The finance charges are uniform throughout the United States.

Wrench Constant Friend of Automobile Drivers

If the owner drives his car constantly it will be an excellent investment for the user to have a wrench constant, and now, says American Motorist. Especially with a new car it is not a bad idea to have a wrench constant, especially. Even the tightest nut will be more or less affected by constant vibration and a nut bolted so tight that it will not turn will lose the looseness after a few miles. The looseness gives rise to may result in the necessity for later repairs. As the car goes on the nuts will loosen after things, and known that they have been affected, to.

Some say that the motorist is unable to keep the nuts fastening the bolts sufficiently tight. Try as he may, he will not be able to do it again. If a lock washer cannot be applied, a good remedy is to tap a drop of solder on the nut. This is not safe in the absence of solder, a little paint or varnish will set the nut tight and prevent it from becoming loose again.

Neglected Lubrication

Causes of Many Squeaks

Squeaks which are hard to locate are sometimes caused by the lack of lubrication. Usually there is a grease cup or a bearing on the shaft which is not greased. It is not greased here, but fail to recall that there are bearings between the leaves of a clutch, between the plates of a flywheel, and between the plates of a flywheel.

When the car has been driven for several months, the bearing surfaces are worn, and soon there is a squeak. There are a number of ways to stop a squeak. One is to add a bearing, which takes them up to prevent the application of the oil and which is a good way to stop a squeak. Another is to add a bearing, which is a good way to stop a squeak.

"Before a recovery can be made," says Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor Club, "the party which has been negligent in the performance of its duty to the public will not be held guilty of contributory negligence; a violation of a city ordinance is negligence in law."

"If both parties are at fault, as for example, when the one who has violated the right-of-way law, another party according to the law of Illinois is entitled to damages."

"The contention that one party has been more negligent than the other has no bearing on the case as the law of comparative negligence has been applied in this case.

Engine Gets Blame for Slowing Down

In general, it is the engine that is blamed when the car slows down. It is disengaged whenever exactly the reverse would be the case. Generally, the engine is blamed when the car slows down. The reason is that the clutch is not entirely disengaged. In a car with a clutch, there may be a number of reasons why shifting: this latter condition is the most common. Since the clutch does not leave the flywheel, the clutch will not leave the flywheel.

The basic cause of trouble is very great wear in the throw-out bearing. In this case, the clutch pedal is pushed down all the way, the clutch moves toward only a little, and eventually the clutch is "locked" on the flywheel.

If the clutch is likely to result, however, in the car slipping around in the flywheel, a

Keep Outlets Open

All car owners say it is the American Motorist, however, who is most prone to accommodate the natural expansion of the water upon heating. The water is heated in the motor. Frequently they are also equipped with blow holes to allow the accumulation of sediment or dirt, the outlets become clogged and don't fully open. The result is that the internal pressure increases and forces the water to the front of the car. Following the line of least resistance and force, it is at a point where the water is forced to the rear. This is absolutely essential that these outlets be open at all times.

Bent Valve Seats

When removing the cylinder head for a valve grinding job, the condition of each valve seat is determined. It is easy to see whether it is bent or not. Valve seats which are bent will mark along one side of their stems and have bent stems. If the valve is bent, the seat will be bent. When the valve is popped up and down "true" they would be bright on all sides as a result of even pressure against the guides.

Know Auto Law If You Drive Car

"He violated the law, why should I be responsible?" is the question which many motorists are inclined to ask. Usually there is a grease cup or a bearing on the shaft which is not greased. EDITORIAL:

Do we, the pupils of the Barrington High School, know what has been done for us? We have been given new classrooms, desks, shades, and many other conveniences to make school life happy. But we must realize that there are others who want the same privileges.

Let us be careful about emptying our fountain pens on the floor and throwing waste paper around. When books are taken from the book cases and the teachers drake them, we are sure to find books to the proper places. Let us not purposely pull the shades so low that they will be in the way. Careless talk on desks in the class is not the way to manifest skill in sculpture. Let us show our appreciation to the leaders of this community that we appreciate what has been done for us.

New Editors Staff

A new editorial staff has been appointed for the news of the entire school, there are now five; one for each class. It will be each one's duty to tell the news of his class in his class. There are also editors for both boys' and girls' athletics, music, editor, etc.

FRESHMAN NEWS

We have completed our text on

How to Study and will pass it along to our other classes to make good use of it. Monday we began English in our Junior Class.

We are studying the metric system in general science class. We find it very interesting.

Science very interesting. By now, every Freshman knows—or ought to know—about the metric system and energy and the difference between the two. We had quite an interesting discussion in class on gravitation.

In Algebra we are learning how to solve the squares and cubes of numbers; some of the answers are amazing.

As soon as possible, a class meeting will be held to re-elect for Club House, the Freshman class. This year was a—the Schaefer in Watch.

We find Latin very interesting at present. We are studying motions which we have learned in English. Now we can translate them in Latin. We have studied the mode of the verb, and now we have learned two strains of "Ameri- ca" in Latin and are able to sing them.

We are proud to be able to say that one of our classmates is quite a star on the football team.

NOMOPHOMIC CLASS NEWS

The "big" news is spreading.

Through the school, all

and some of the girls of the neighborhord were out in the garden cathedral, building and in-

sents for some of the blighted houses who live near the Dunham area.
