

Illinois Leads in Many Things

Colby Relates

By LESTER B. COLBY

It was the twenty-fourth of a series of articles called "Red-Discoveries" which appeared in the Chicago Tribune last week. The first article dealt with individual cities and the second with the State. The third article, which appeared last week, was devoted to Illinois as a whole. It was a study of the things which are being done in this State which are making it a leader in many things.

How do you suppose to get the most out of life? The answer is to get the most out of the things which are around you. The Illinois State Fair is one of the things which are around you. It is a place where you can see the best of the things which are being done in this State. It is a place where you can see the best of the things which are being done in this State.

Illinois leads in many things. It is a State which is full of things which are being done. It is a State which is full of things which are being done. It is a State which is full of things which are being done. It is a State which is full of things which are being done.

THEATRE TRAIN BACK ON ITS OLD SCHEDULE

The last suburban train out of Chicago at night on this division of the Chicago & North Western railroad, which is generally known as the theatre train, was set back to its former winter schedule on last Sunday night.

For a long time this train has kept the Chicago & North Western winter schedule. It was advanced to 10:45, which was the Chicago time, with the ending of the winter season. The winter schedule, the train was scheduled for departure at 11:30.

Many claimed that this did not give them time to get out a show, as one of the performers, and reach the depot before the train departed. A group of protest went up from suburban dwellers, and as soon as the complaints reached the ears of railroad officials, the train was restored to its former schedule.

Confirm 35 at St. Ann's Church

A class of 35 young people greeted St. Rev. Bishop E. P. Hearn, D. D. at a class held Thursday afternoon on the occasion of his first episcopal visit to St. Ann's church.

Much preparation had preceded this day and it had been long anticipated. Not only the children and young people who formed the class, but the parents of these children and friends realized that confirmation is a sacrament event in their lives.

They are confirmed in the faith of their spiritual life and marks a milestone in their lives.

To be a "Strong and perfect Christian and soldier of Jesus Christ," is the earnest desire of each member of the class.

Illinois Products Exposition Opened in Chicago Today

Chicago, Oct. 8.—The wealth of the State, its products and industrial resources, together with the forces, that have been combined to make the State a leading producer of the nation, were stressed today at the American Exposition Palace with the opening of the Illinois Products Exposition.

To depict this wealth and to display other things indicating the desirability of Illinois as a state in which to live is the chief object of the exposition, which is being staged under the auspices of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce and the immediate direction of the new industries committee of that organization.

In the view of those who viewed the exhibit during the "setting up" process, Chicago and companion cities, which have never held previously an industrial exposition, are commencing to have great educational value.

The exhibit, which is to be held in operation, a display of thirty-one of the State's products, is being held in full action, broadcast, in the main hall of the exposition, a display of thirty-one of the State's products, is being held in full action, broadcast, in the main hall of the exposition.

POSTALS OUTSIDE OF UNITED STATES WILL COST YOU MORE NOW

The rate on postal cards from Canada, Cuba, Mexico and Panama has been increased by 2 cents. The rate on postal cards from other foreign countries was increased from 2 cents to 3 cents.

In view of the fact that the postal card is instructed not to send out of the country, the rate on the postal card is increased from 2 cents to 3 cents.

Amount of postage, Postmaster Robert suggests that persons making a trip to foreign countries should take them in the window. Many times, he says, postal clerks are unable to read the address on foreign cards, and are therefore unable to determine whether or not the correct amount of postage is paid.

Truck Skids on Wet Road; Driver Instantly Killed

Michael Korecky, 37, one of the men on patrol in the Fox River Grove, was killed instantly at 7:45 o'clock Friday morning when his truck skidded on the wet road. The driver was killed by the truck skidding forward to the rear of the truck and into the side of the locomotive.

According to witnesses of the accident, the victim must have been in the wrong lane and applied the brakes but because of the slippery condition of the street, caused by the rain, the truck skidded forward to the rear of the truck and into the side of the locomotive.

Body Carried Mile. It was about a mile before the truck could come to a halt, and the cab of the truck with the driver in it, was carried far on the side of the road. The body was removed from this position and placed in the back of the truck. The train backed into town and the body was taken to the town hall to await the coroner.

An inquest for Korecky was held Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. The verdict was that the death of the accident probably proved fatal to the driver. The train, Chicago & North Western, does not run on the wet road.

Mr. Korecky purchased the locomotive through a property of the Fox River Grove. He was engaged in his occupation since that time. He was a well-known man in the town of Fox River Grove.

FARMERS SWINDLED

Another instance of farmers fleeced by wholesale is reported from Lancaster county, Nebraska, where about 150 tillers of the soil fell victims to smooth salesmen representing a fake concern operating under the aluring name of "The Consumers' Service Company," said to have head quarters in Chicago.

These farmers paid a "membership fee" of $22 each, which was supposed to entitle them to "privileges of buying merchandise and agricultural supplies at a small margin over cost for a period of three years."

At the time the "memberships" were purchased, most of the victims also put up cash for varying quantities of merchandise, which the shippers promised to ship promptly.

No merchandise was ever delivered, so the farmers' indignation against the swindlers grew. The swindlers disappeared and at last reports there seemed to be no probability that they would be apprehended.

So long as people prefer to deal with tramp salesmen and mail order concerns, instead of patronizing home merchants who they know to be honest and reliable, such things are bound to happen.

No argument or warning appears to have any effect upon those who labor under the delusion that they can do better by trading away from home. It is even doubtful whether these swindled Lancaster county farmers will profit by their experience for any length of time.

They will probably fall for the next big faker or gaudy mail order catalogue that comes along.

MOVIES AS TEACHERS

As human knowledge becomes more extended and modern life becomes more complex, it is utterly impossible for any individual to absorb more than a few bits of information. Here millions who could never be induced to open a serious book might receive valuable information by the easiest as well as the most direct means, the impressions made being also more enduring than those gained from the printed page. It is accompanied by brief oral explanations, the picture method would be ideal for imparting a wide range of knowledge.

In the instruction of children this would hold good to an even greater degree, especially in the teaching of history and the natural sciences. In fact, the possibilities for raising the level of the average person, by the use of the picture method, are almost limitless.

After a day of routine duties few have the inclination to pursue studies which add to their information and culture. Here is where moving pictures might be utilized most effectively to teach as well as to entertain. Here millions who could never be induced to open a serious book might receive valuable information by the easiest as well as the most direct means, the impressions made being also more enduring than those gained from the printed page. It is accompanied by brief oral explanations, the picture method would be ideal for imparting a wide range of knowledge.

In the instruction of children this would hold good to an even greater degree, especially in the teaching of history and the natural sciences. In fact, the possibilities for raising the level of the average person, by the use of the picture method, are almost limitless.

The time will no doubt come when every progressive school will have a moving picture machine as an important part of its equipment.

According to opinions expressed by qualified observers recently, the editorial pages of American newspapers are regaining the prestige that was supposed to have declined during the heyday of yellow journalism a few years ago.

This renaissance of the editorial page is accounted for largely by the changed character of the editorial staffs. The editorial of the present is employed primarily for the purpose of conveying information and interpreting the news. It is less devoted to political and class propaganda.

While newspapers differ widely with respect to editorial policies, there is an unmistakable tendency toward a more accurate statement of the facts and a fairer attitude in their interpretation than was the case in the past. The conscientious editor of today would not expect to deliberately mislead his readers as to the facts upon which his editorial is based, even though he may not draw conclusions with which all agree.

Broadminded readers (and this class is increasing) do not object to opinions differing from their own, provided they feel that such opinions are honestly arrived at. They want facts above all else and the newspaper that strives to give them faithfully in connection with its editorial interpretations of the news will never lack for appreciation of its editorial page.

"NO BETTER WILL BE MADE"

Looking back only a comparatively few years, we may remember or have called to mind many things which were taken seriously then, but which cause a smile today.

Such a smile may be enjoyed by an advertisement appearing in the Review of October 1, 1909, and reproduced in the current issue of that magazine.

Properly displayed and accompanied with an illustration that looks very much like an ordinary rubber-tired runabout buggy without a tongue, the advertisement said, in part:

"The latest and best Horseshoe Carriage. Combines all requirements for an ideal and practical pleasure or business vehicle. No better will be made. Time cannot improve it. $600. Delivery in sixty days. Send for illustrated catalogue and interesting reading matter about self-propelled vehicles."

The fellow who wrote that advertisement took in quite a lot of territory. "No better will be made. Time cannot improve it." Think of that—26 years ago!

PLOT AGAINST KING

News of a plot by Communists to assassinate King George V, was made public recently and extraordinary steps have been taken to protect the person of the sovereign. It appears that deliberate plans have been made to execute the murderous design of the Reds, but that these have been frustrated for the time being by the British secret service.

It is also stated that the most vigorous action will be taken by England to curb the activities of the Communists and that measures similar to those adopted by the United States will be employed to exclude revolutionary agitators.

There is no doubt that the Reds have a definite plan for the overthrow of existing governments, which is being promoted through a systematic campaign which has been set on foot in Europe and other countries appears to have been greatly encouraged if not actually instigated by the revolutionary organization.

It is well that the United States has already made provisions for the exclusion and deportation of these undesirable and recent developments indicate the necessity for exercising increased vigilance.

EXPECTING TOO MUCH

Small-town hotels have been the objects of criticism, ridicule and sneers on the part of their guests from time immemorial. But probably most of them are furnishing the best accommodations available under the circumstances.

Travelers who are accustomed to modern conveniences and comforts in larger hotels probably expect too much when they strike a village house.

As a reminder of this fact, one country tourist who had been in the room, which read as follows:

"This ain't the Waldorf-Astoria—if it was it wouldn't be here—You ain't J. P. Morgan—if it was you wouldn't—Here we know—This hotel is the hum. Well, how about yourself?"
