Sleepy Towns! Here's Another That Woke Up

disfranchisement. Old paper is served and ready to print. For twenty-four hours a day, six days in the week, a steady stream of household flocks from the plant paper machines. This sheet of new lookbook, 72 inches wide, moves at the rate of 100 miles an hour, 12 miles in 24 hours, 132 miles each 6-day week, 124 miles in 24 weeks. They told that it takes 40 cars to move in the paper making machine. A new machine doubling the capacity of the old, is just being set up. It goes to the box mill and find out how happens to the new paper, there just presses out and the board into shapes. They are printed with firm names and advertising. Who buys paper boxes? Every business house in the United States.

Perhaps Around Your Breakfast Sausage

Here, in this Illinois town, I saw some going through the printing press. The printing of the morning papers in Seattle, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Denver, Houston, Atlanta, Philadelphia and dozens of cities throughout the State state merchants and the Chicago publishers are among the new buyers.

What's a paper box order? One which comes into this plant, which last year called for 34,239,000 pounds of pine dimes. All exactly the same size, 10 1/2 inches long, 4 1/2 inches wide, 1/2 inch thick, making a handsome tin common use, gave an order for boxes totaling 14,000,000. The order was about 100,000 boxes, according to W. H. Brock, chief credit responsible for building up the business, and the boxes are printed in up to four colors.

You can buy a suit, crockery, sausage, bacon, yarn, soap, washing powder, toilet articles or other goods or even a house, and the box can be made to the Morris mill. You can usually tell by the color of the tin container what the goods are.

It may be the kind of the biggest plant in the world specializing in window glass jobs. It has just received the Illinois State award for the best building and the Drake hotel, Chicago, and manufacturers an average of about 1,600 dozen pillows a day. About three dozen pillows go into the average pillow. Figure it out. This plant with 125,000 feet of floor space, employing 110 men, is operated by the Coleman Hardware Co. It has in connection a large iron foundry.

The Morris Milling Co., which will be in operation in about 60 days, will have the city's first flour mill and will have a capacity of 400 barrels a day. A new type of mill is being built and it is planned to manufacture machinery for equipping other mills of the same type here.

The city of the makers is that they have devised a way to remove the city's first flour mill and will have a capacity of 400 barrels a day. A new type of mill is being built and it is planned to manufacture machinery for equipping other mills of the same type here.

CONDUCTORS ASK WAGE BOOSTS FROM RAILWAYS

Application for wage increases, which spokesmen of the railway man, announced said would be made in the 1926 peak rates, was filed with the railroad Tuesday by the conductors and the railway men.

Officials of the Chicago and North-Western stated their employees had announced the same action was being taken by the employees representative in other parts of the country. Meanwhile the United States railroad board had before it approximately seventy requests for changes in rates or rates of the railroads.

It was said, have been filed for some time and the railway men, labor brothers and the unions are involved in a few of these, most of the applications came from smaller organizations.

Among the standard organizations that have filed wage cases with the labor board are those of the clerks, telegraphers, dispatchers, and maintenance of way employees.

A New Method Has Made Good

FOUR years ago the Bell System introduced "station-to-station" long distance service.

The service has "made good." It is used thousands of times daily where it is not necessary for the caller to speak to a particular person or where the person wanted is likely to be within immediate reach at the called telephone.

The service is especially suitable for personal or social calls to relatives or friends.

Rates for daytime station-to-station calls are about 20 per cent lower than for person-to-person calls. Evening and night rates are still lower. The rate is charged when the phone is or is not in use (branch exchange) is answered.

FARMERS NOT AGREED

From the reading of a number of farm papers and studying the views of various leaders of the several farm groups, it appears that there are wide differences of opinion regarding what Congress might do or ought to do with respect to farm legislation.

News from Washington, describing the various conferences held by Secretary Jardine, reflects this situation, and also makes it plain that the farmers have not yet been able to solidify upon a program of government aid.

While immense numbers of farmers are afflicted with organizations formed in the interest, such as the American Farmers' Union, the Farmers' Union, the Grange, various cooperative associations and so on, in some cases these bodies are working for widely different measures. The natural result is that the administration and members of Congress are somewhat at sea in trying to formulate measures which may meet the farmers' desire.

Every right minded person really wants to see agriculture share equitably in the national property, but until the farm leaders can get together upon a definite program it is not likely that any effective legislation can be passed for their benefit.

In fact, many are of the opinion that so long as the supply of certain farm crops exceeds the demand, nothing that Congress may do will help the situation very much. In spite of what politicians promise.

MORE PROHIBITION RUMORS

Press dispatches continue to indicate that the faith of General Andrews, dry ear, in his ability to satisfactorily enforce prohibition is weakening.

Several months ago it was stated in International News Service dispatches that the administration had decided to make an intensive trip for prohibition enforcement for a year, at the end of which time, in case success had not been attained, it would ask for a modification of the Volstead act.

Now the United Press declares that General Andrews will resign unless conditions can be improved. It states that he has given his administrators three months in which to get results or get out. These reports are quoted as coming from "officials close to Andrews."

As to the actual results obtained since Andrews began his much-heralded campaign last fall, opinions differ. But it can not be denied that

Witty and Wise

The fellow who used to write the "Witty and Wise" column is now trying to say funny things about Florida.

How terrible the New Yorker must miss the food they used to get in those notorious restaurants.

Perhaps a fair compromise would be to abolish capital punishment, provided the guillotine should kill.

It's a short worm that has no tail.

Atlas is no doubt the patron saint of the hold-up men.

It is a pity, pedestrian, crushed to earth from the weight of his own ideas.

We should take our grievances awfully seriously, inasmuch as no one else does.

Latin-America is inclined to give the word "torture" its own special meaning.

A new jazz tune is called the "Mule Shave Blues," possibly dedicated to Senator Norris.

The Chicago grand opera singer who filed a petition in bankruptcy has probably been too good with his high notes.

these results have been disappointing to those who sincerely desire to see prohibition enforced.

Of course, it may be contended that rumors of his probable resignation are "wet" propaganda, but it is hard to believe that a great press association would lend itself to that sort of thing. In any event, the problem of enforcement is faced by being solved, and the high hopes placed in the ability of General Andrews to solve it have not yet been realized to any great extent.

COMRADES

There is a comradeship of courage. It was it that stirred the other day when Rold Amundsen paid a visit to Dr. Frederick A. Cook, convict No. 231,110, in the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth.

Amundsen, discoverer of the South Pole, hero of a half dozen daring expeditions into the frozen North and South, and one of the most intrepid explorers of all time, greeted his friend Cook, disgraced, disgraced, convicted of fraud serving a sentence of fourteen years.

One at the pinnacle of earthly fame, the other in the depths of degradation. Yet they met and chatted for an hour on the common level of comradeship. For they had been companions and friends in an elemental struggle such as tries man's souls, and they are comrades still.

Amundsen as mate and Cook as surgeon of the Belgian expedition in 1897-99 braved the rigors of the Antarctic together for two years and were both decorated by the King of Belgium upon their return. That association developed a friendship that only death can sever.

Although Cook made false claims to having climbed Mt. McKinley in spite of his untrue story of having discovered the North Pole, regardless of his conviction as a swindler—he had shared with Amundsen the hardships and privations of polar exploration and his courage can not be discounted, even by his own confession.

And true to the comradeship of courage, Amundsen is still his friend.

A BUSINESS NATION

It has long been the fashion for certain writers and speakers to criticize the American people for their commercialism—their desire to make money.

It is true that the mere making of money is not a very high ambition, it must be remembered that it is through our money that we know that we have been able to provide the funds for innumerable things worth while, such as we are not enjoyed by any other nation in the same degree.

Great sums devoted to educational, religious, charitable and artistic purposes have been made possible through successful business pursuits. Scientific research, the advancement of health measures, better homes, and the comforts and refinements of civilization generally have been due to the ability of our people to acquire money and to their willingness to spend it for these things.

Made of the high-brow critics of business obdurate their education at colleges and universities, and most of these high-brow critics are themselves endowed and made possible by business men. Business and money-making are not the end of our national ambition, but the means whereby civilization may be promoted and preserved.

He that gives him a few doughboys

Ladies in Africa are clamorous for American fashions, but we thought most of our late styles originated over there.

Many public schools are named for warriors, but Colorado has named one for Jack Dempsey, famed boxer.

France will not give up her armaments so long as Uncle Sam continues to buy them for her.

An exchange relation that a hotel built in London is an automobile that is sold to the driver and was then the driver's car.

Yewens is reported to be in suspension again. (Quoted, Maudslayi, the editor.)

A bull, it would probably have been killed, either for menaces that it had been too horrible.

Professor Manigault of Germany declares that earth worms can sing.

About the only ones who may be ignorant of the law and get away with it are the lawyers.

Nashville groves advertise "eggs of liberty" to automobile "thieves" who have stolen them.

Values of things have gone on times when we would have given a dollar for a match.

Poison Booze Takes a Heavy Toll in 1925

Poisoned booze and alcoholism took a toll of 1,517 lives during 1925, according to figures received from the federal bureau in the country, a United Press dispatch from Chicago states.

There was an increase of more than 600 over the figures of 1924. There were 1,212 deaths in 1924 and 1,819 in 1925.

New York leads the list with 478 fatalities, the next for 1925 being 113. The toll for 1924 was 323 and for 1925 419. The state also ranked in the list of states according to the statements of persons attached to the Bellevue hospital.

But few cases of alcoholism were victims of better handled booze because the latter grade of liquor is sold.

Next on the list is Chicago, with 100 deaths in 1925, and 100 in 1924. The city also ranked in the list of states according to the statements of persons attached to the Bellevue hospital.

Veternans Must Convert Insurance Soon or Lose It

Washington, Feb. 3.—In a recent letter to General Frank T. Hines, director of the U. S. Veterans' Bureau, President Coolidge has expressed his unqualified approval of the campaign recently inaugurated by the bureau to bring to the attention of all veterans the importance of the desirability of immediate reinstatement and conversion of their war risk insurance.

Commenting upon the insurance policy provided by the government, President Coolidge said: "It is unnecessary for me to dwell upon the merits of life insurance, or the benefits which would come to all veterans and their dependents by their taking advantage of the liberal provisions of the Government in the matter of insurance."

NEW CALL FOR BIDS ON LAKE FARM GROUNDS

The Board of directors of the Lake County Fair Association at a special session held Friday afternoon at the Libertyville Park Bureau office declared that the three bids recently received for the fair grounds were not legal and set Feb. 9 as the date for receiving of new bids for the purchase of the property.

A member of the board in explaining the reason for the action stated that no committee had been appointed and authorized to accept and pass on the bids as required by law.

To Name Committee

As planned by the association, President John House to call a special meeting of the stockholders at which time a committee will be appointed to accept and pass on the bids as required by law.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS TO HAVE 10 NEW STORES

Ground was broken last week for a block of five stores at the corner of Evergreen and Miller streets, adjacent to the Arlington Theatre at Arlington Heights. Building operations will start very soon for a block of five stores corner of Campbell and Vall streets in that city. Applications are being received by the owners for space in these buildings. Both buildings will be one story construction.

A City editor avers that "since the 'undress fashion' began, certain stores have completely disappeared," including, we assume, poor eyeglasses.

"Robtlood" will be given at Cui's Auditorium on February 25 and 26 for the benefit of the Kinsmen. There will be a matinee performance on Friday, February 26.

SHOULD ADVERTISE CHIROPRACTORS TOLD

Bellefonte, Pa., Feb. 3.—Newspaper advertising is the best means of professional people reaching the public, and it is the responsibility of the profession to use it. This is the opinion of the Illinois Chiropractic Association, which is being expressed today by the board of directors of the Illinois Chiropractic Association.

"Chiropractors as a class and as individuals are urged to use the advertising facilities of the local newspapers to spread information about their profession and to bring to the attention of the community and self-interest."

"Fear that advertising is unethical has been banished from virtually every walk of life. The medical profession, of professional people has, the head of the professional people of today recognize the need, desirability and right of advertising."

"We realize that chiropractors, in the face of arrest under the state medical practice act, do not advertise."

NEW TICKET AGENT AT C. & N. W. DEPOT

J. A. McCoy (ticket agent and operator at the local C. & N. W. depot) was relieved from duty last Monday, will not be back to duty with the company. It was announced last week.

Fred Roberts of Chicago is temporarily filling the place at the local depot. The position will be filled about Feb. 15, it is said.

THE LAST TIME THE BOARD MET

The last time the board met three bids were received, the highest being $1,500,000 from J. J. Monahan, Lake Forest realtor. Since that time the sale of the grounds and its possible use for making an ideal exhibition or factory sites have become wider.

"We received three bids, and there will be several more bids received for the land which consists of 25 acres."

THIS EVIDENCE WOULD BE UNRELIABLE

This evidence would be unreliable to support an investigating committee, or at least pass a resolution about it.

An Iowa justice announces that he will marry couples for a fee of five bushels of corn. Some we know would do the job for a pint.
