Olney Prospers When it Discovers Red Top Industry

By LESTER H. COLBY
From Last Week

When the first white men saw this region, about 1702, there was a vast prairie with scattered groves of trees. In the district was settled a few Indians known as "Redtops." For 170 years it was mostly a wilderness.

Finally, about in the 1870's, some one began to dig for lead and found a considerable quantity. Out of that, though has grown an unusual industry. Under the name of red-top it is merchandised all over the world. Red-top seeds literally flourish in the country in western Illinois. The industry centers in Clay, Wayne and Richland counties. The main markets are Olney, Fairfield, Florida and Salem.

What it means to these counties can be estimated better when it is known that the seed houses in Olney in 1925 shipped out 40,000 sacks of red-top seed valued at $500,000. Arthur Shultz, of the Shultz Bros. seed company in Olney, says that the seed industry might perhaps be called the red-top seed king.

The industry by designating the first seed-seeder machinery for cleaving the seed-seeder for the first time.

The secret of the red-top industry is this: While red-top flourishes all over the country, it does not need anywhere on earth in sufficient quantity to make it profitable as a seed. It is profitable in one small spot in New Jersey and some other spots. The rest of the country has the red-top men maintain a "natural monopoly" which brings the state seed-seeder for the first time.

Olney has recently become the center of a large and profitable industry. That story goes back to O. D. Gray and to 1915. Mr. Gray was a farmer in Olney. He was a Liberator, not far from Olney. He made a deal with the owner, used the land hereabouts was cheap, $10 to $50 an acre. It still is, the owner that Mr. Gray had the trees, he, Gray, would set a peach orchard. He'd pay the owner $5 a year rental and take an option to buy the land at $100 an acre.

Three or four years later, in the fourth year, it paid for the work on the orchard that year. Then came the fifth year. That fifth year Mr. Gray set a big crop and his 40 acres gave him a gross income of $25,000. That was in 1920. Since then the orchard has yielded 25,000 bushels of peaches with prospect of another big crop this year.

That was the first peach orchard in the district. As a result farmers have gone peach-wise. At West Liberty a fruit growers' association has been formed. Fourteen members control 300 acres or about 25,000 peach trees. The orchards are planted in rows between the shoulders and the Michigan peach grove. That seed, good market—usually $10.00 to $14.00 a bushel. The yield is from 20 to 30 bushels to the acre. Farmers had can it be bought nearby, it was sold, for $10 an acre.

Some would be orchardists have failed, rather bitterly. P. H. Landwehr, an experienced peach grower, said:

"It's about 75 per cent man and 25 per cent orchard."

Olney was pretty much down-to-the-dumps up to five or six years ago. That was before peaches were discovered and before the show factory came. The show factory employs 600 people. The payroll is $11,000 a week. Dozens of empty houses were filled and many more built.

Some years ago four brothers and two sisters, the brothers physicians and the sisters nurses. Where the family name, opened a little hospital to Olney. Today there are two doctors on the staff. About 5,000 hospital patients and 20,000 office patients are handled yearly.

Olney's white squirrels? Oh, yes. Some years ago a farmer found a litter of albino squirrels. He brought them to town. That was very back, pre-Volstead. The squirrels were in a colony where for a time. The next they were turned loose. And Olney today has white squirrels scattered all over the town.

Can Reinstate Your Government Insurance Now

The state of Illinois pays $30,000,000 into the military service during the World War. Virtually all of these men took out the war risk insurance while in the service, but since their discharge over three-fourths, they have allowed it to lapse and today are in ignorance as to their rights to reinstatement and conversion of this insurance.

The insurance dropped amounts to two and one half billion dollars. Under the supervision of Dr. Frank T. Duffy, regional manager of the U. S. Veterans' Bureau, 111 N. Canal Street, Chicago, all ex-servicemen's organizations, the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and the home service chapters of the American Red Cross are being intensively campaign during the next three months and endeavor to have all the ex-servicemen who have allowed their insurance to lapse, to reinstate it.

Protection Bill Needed

A great many men when in the service virtually took out the insurance against their own wishes in the matter, but today are realizing that after the government was right in this matter. The protection was needed at that time and was given at a very low rate. Since their return from the service protection is needed more than ever and they can still have the advantage of obtaining government insurance at less than cost.

The officers of the local American Legion post will study copies, the many benefits of government insurance to the men if given an opportunity. If you haven't reinstated and converted your insurance get in touch with one of these organizations as soon as possible, and talk it over with them.

Remember that July 2, 1926, is absolutely the last day under the present law upon which this insurance can be reinstated and converted to one of the six standard forms of policies that the U. S. government is writing for the ex-servicemen of the World War only, and remember that this insurance is absolutely the best, safest and cheapest insurance that can possibly be bought.

HG ADDITIONS MADE TO U. S. FORESTS
 Washington, D. C.—Big additions are being made to the national forests of the United States. During the past fiscal year the National Forest Reservation Commission has approved the purchase of nearly 100 acres of land to be added to the national forests. The lands consist of 143 tracts and are scattered over ten different states. The Commission has just finished the report and it contains much interesting information regarding our national forests.
 Of the amount approved for purchase 55,647 acres is placed in the United States Forest Service, containing an estimated 123,000,000 feet of timber. The lands consist of arable land, grass land and abandoned farm land.
 Two tracts were approved for purchase in the White Mountain National Forest and these contain nearly 22,000 acres, containing much valuable timber. There are now 42,260 acres in the White Mountain forest reserve, and it is well protected from fire. Cutting of the mature timber is being conducted in such a way as to assure a renewal of valuable stand of timber.
 In the Allegheny forest reserve thirty thousand additional acres were approved for purchase. Including the total area up to approximately 146,000 acres.
 Before the acquisition of these forest reserves these forests suffered of annually from great forest fires, according to the report, but the loss from fire has been greatly cut down by Federal effort and the cooperation of the people living in the vicinity. The report continues:
 "A notable example of splendid cooperation is found on the Shenandoah Forest in Virginia. The thrifty farmers of that region were quick to see the destruction visited upon the timbered lands annually by forest fires, and have responded admirably to the plan of forest officers for fire and detection of forest fires. Many fires occurring near the homes of farmers are promptly detected and suppressed by the farmers and the rangers thus advised. An ideal system of citizen cooperation has been built up on the Shenandoah, and this system is followed on all forests where it is possible."

Buick is More Expensively Built But it Costs Less to Buy one

Buick is built more expensively than any other cars in or near the Buick price class.
 "Expensively built" means that the different parts and units of the Buick motor cars are the best that modern engineering can design. But, thanks to the large volume in which Buick engineers have given to Buick, and thanks to advanced production methods that are models of efficiency in an efficient industry, the Buick motor car can be sold to you at a very moderate price.
 Many Buick features are duplicated only in America's highest priced motor cars.
 Buick, for instance, employs Torque Tube Drive to transmit the drive of the rear wheels to the chassis, instead of bucking the rear springs with the added drag. The highest priced American cars use the torque tube. And, as Buick's The American public wants finer transportation, and Buick provides it at a lower cost. Consequently Buick is more popular. Come in and examine the Better Buicks.

Chicago Claims Adequate Supply of Tested Milk

hours creating and appealing to (gr) agents. These unfortunates find that there is no information in other places. They are victims of misinformation. The Chicago Milk Producers' Association declares that the dairymen who have been slow to see the necessity of the test are fearful of the financial outcome but who now are realizing that their market will be lost unless they can provide Chicago with the kind of milk it wants. These men have largely been overcome by the providential leadership which has propped up one.

Distributors Offer Help
The milk distributors are trying to get together with the milk producers in the Chicago district where tests have not yet been substantially tested. An offer was made to the Milk Producers' Association that the distributors would turn over to the producers the plants in the untested districts so that the untested milk might be separated and the cream sold for manufacturing purposes. The producers, under this plan, were to operate the plants, receiving the revenue from milk sold. Later, the distributors offered to operate the plants, turning over to producers the proceeds. Both offers were refused by the officials of the Milk Producers' Association, which represents approximately 25 per cent of the 25,000 milk producers in the Chicago district. Distributors were believed they could work out the plan with the herd owners, independent of the association.

BENEFIT OF THE DOUBT
Quizzing a boy is not always so easy as it seems. Here is an instance in which a New Yorker came out second best in a passage of repartee with a lad named Richard who looked after the hot room in a well-known cafe.

The alter started out of the cafe after his men and was noted, as Richard handled his hat, with an impulse to quit the lad.
"Is this my hat?" he demanded.
"I don't know, sir."
"Well, then, why do you hand it to me if you don't know whether it is my hat or not?"
"Because it is the one you handed me when you came in," said Richard. — Pittsburgh "Chronicle" Telegraph.

The ballots will read as follows:

"Lake County Probate Court records indicate that $246,466 was paid for the property."

A burglar captured in Vernon had in his pocket a receipt for $600 from a surgeon who had changed the texture of his ears, chin and nose as a disguise.

We have OAKLAND Sales Doubled

All America has bestowed upon the Oakland Six the one sure mark of preference—ever-growing demand. Sales after state has favored the car so strongly that sales have doubled in the past six months.

The reasons for this unprecedented favor will be readily apparent to anyone who tests Oakland Six abilities.

The car has power for any hill you will encounter—more speed than you will care to use—acceleration that excites even—smoothness of performance unmatchable in its field—and, better still, a rugged endurance that assures years of service.

Moreover, Oakland's amazing prices—770 to $350 lower—single out the Oakland Six as an unequalled investment.

Costs More to Build Is Worth More— Yet Sells for Less

If any other manufacturer endeavored to produce a car similar to the Ford according to the high standards of quality in material and workmanship used by the Ford Motor Company and with the same tried and proved design it would be impossible to offer it at anything like the present low Ford prices.

If, on the other hand, the Ford Motor Company would substitute ordinary design for the basic Ford features, Ford cars could be produced now for less than the present Ford prices. Yet by so doing, Ford simplicity, durability and reliability would fall below the standard insisted upon by the Ford Motor Company and established throughout twenty-two years of leadership.

Just think! 13,000,000 model T Ford cars have been produced since 1908—almost as many automobiles as were built by all other manufacturers combined. In 1925, almost 2,000,000 Ford cars and trucks were built and sold—and plans for 1926 call for the production of even more than 2,000,000.

Today, more than ever, the Ford car is the most popular automobile in the world.

It was the superiority of Ford design in 1908 that established Ford leadership. It is this same Ford design, improved but basically unchanged, that is continuing to make the Ford car the outstanding leader among all automobiles.
