VETERANS, ATTENTION!

With but one week remaining in which World War veterans can convert their Government term insurance, it is imperative that the work be passed around immediately that the opportunity is taken advantage of now, it will not forever. The American Legion is realizing the unusual importance attending the converted policies, is trying to convert all veterans.

The converted policies are issued in six standard forms, with an additional five convertible term policies which are convertible at the present time to assume the payments on the standard forms. Argument for Government insurance is unnecessary. It is as good as a Federal bond. It is comparatively inexpensive. It is particularly good for those who are not able to go to the park fund—a children's home, or a hospital, or a home for the aged.

The celebration of the "Fourth" in Barrington is a patriotic duty, the honoring of the greatest in our country's calendar. The welfare of children is inseparably linked with the welfare of the nation. Many people would not think of letting a Sunday off by themselves, but the children are invited. You will find here a fine song service. The sermon will be given by Rev. J. A. Dufrene, pastor.

There will have to be written some date in the future another Declaration of Independence of no less importance than that of Thomas Jefferson. The man or woman who writes or inspires it will be one who has been neglected in childhood.

THE SCOUT RALLY

In view of the squat rally which is being held here today, the annual report of the organization showing phenomenal growth is of interest to all. With a membership of over 200,000 Scouts and Scout officials, it is heartening, to say the least, that the evidence of expansion and strength since the first of the year and at the present time, in many directions. It is to be most encouraging that the interest of the youth of the United States is being gleamed from a letter signed by George J. Ray, New York, which is in part:

"A report on movement in America which is doing more to develop the method of this organization than any other in the world. I am sending their time to the interest of the Boy Scouts."

It is a report on the physical and physical training of the youth of our nation.

A PRACTICAL "FOURTH"

A few dollars won't break anyone's pocketbook. It is well to remember that the money is given to the Boy Scouts for the use of the organization.

GOVERNMENT DOCUMENTS
NEGLECTED

That the American Legion seldom reads the news in the jail survey of his own neighborhood, and still less seldom reads the lessons which those surveys were made to teach, is evident from the fact that the Department of Agriculture, which has spent many years in the promotion of the public welfare, is only overshadowed by the police nominal.

The prohibited question has been brought forward by W. G. McAdoo's challenge to political leaders to make known their stand on prohibition. It can only fall on deaf ears that the question is not yet.

When the Republican convention assembles, Senator Borah may attempt to effect the insertion of a plank declaring that prohibition precisely as it stands is a violation of the fundamental principles of the Union. Dr. B. H. and some one who thinks as he does may try to bring about the adoption of a plank asserting that Federal prohibition is the worst calamity that has ever befallen the United States of America, it does not come from freedom from Great Britain. And, when the Democratic convention assembles, similar efforts will be made by advocates and opponents of prohibition. But, unless all indications are at fault, neither convention will adopt any other plank which will not be a recognition of the call for the enforcement of all laws as long as they stand in the Constitution or on the statute books of the nation.

These platforms are not, of course, wholly or even partially considered in the light of political expediency. They are designed merely as vote-catchers. A platform adopted by the party out of power invariably condemns and deplores the course of the party in power and, in so doing, attacks the policies committed by the party in power. A platform adopted by the party in power invariably compliments it on its achievements and congratulates the entire country on the patriotic wisdom with which it has been governing.

In 1924, the Democratic platform declared:

"The Republican administration has failed to implement the law, is guilty of flagrant violations of the law, and is responsible for the violation of the law. The Democratic party stands for the enforcement of all laws."

In 1924, the Republican platform declared:

"Every covenant demands the love and respect of its citizens. Violations of the law, and the enforcement of the law, are the same. The government can seek only the protection of the law, and the enforcement of the law, and the strength of the government for the maintenance of law and order, and the enforcement of the law."

Neither of these declarations means anything. And, though in a sharp change between now and then, the declaration adopted on this subject by both parties will be equally meaningless, in plain words of the street, both parties will "stand" in 1928.

Grades will now take a last look at their diplomas.

The open season for road bugs is now on.
