REFORMER CONFESSES

Often in our early enthusiasms we battle for causes which seem to us of supreme importance at the time, but which we may later conclude were not so vital, after all.

In a recent magazine a well known writer and lecturer gives his experiences along this line. He has been quite a reformer in his time. Among the causes for which he has fought with tongue and pen are the single tax, the direct primary, votes for women, the League of Nations, spelling reform and prohibition. His present views on these questions are interesting. He says:

"Single tax still seems good to me, but vastly less important or likely of attainment than it appeared in the height of my excitement about the great cause."

"I have reluctantly concluded that the direct primary will not change the nature of man very much."

"I think we should be officially in the League, but I no longer believe that it is an idealistic institution."

"I still think men are entitled to the ballot, but I can't see that they are doing much with it.

"Spelling reform engaged my attention at one time, but I am beginning to think that people are entitled to spell correctly if they insist upon it."

"I heated myself and my audiences to incandescent luminosity for the cause of prohibition, and now that the cause is written into the constitution, I am inclined to think that we traded a wasp for an asp."

PROTECT THE CHILDREN

If the experiences of the past may be taken as a criterion, many bright, happy children who are now growing up, their health derelict with the help of unskillful and callous pedagogues, will be doomed to death through the negligences of those whom some duty it is to protect them from such a fate.

School boards and teachers have a grave responsibility in this matter, a responsibility that is often not realized until too late. The conditions of heating, heating apparatus, lighting, arrangements for safety, etc., for school exits should have the personal attention of school authorities. Systematic and rigid fire drills should have a regular place in the routine of every school.

Especial danger arises when the school house is used for entertainments at night. One has only to recall the awful tragedies of past years to realize what harm may result from stupidity and negligence.

In one case dozens were roasted to death through the overturning of a lamp in an upper room crowded with children and their parents, when the only small door opening toward the inside, was closed and blocked by the children. In another case, inflammable Christmas decorations caught fire in a school room where the windows were barred with heavy wire netting and the frenzied crowd choked the only exit, resulting in nearly half a hundred deaths.

Failure to take every possible precaution for the prevention of such heart-breaking disasters is wantonly criminal.

THROUGHTLESS CRUELTY

A recent news dispatch told of Teressa Corona, 14 years old and six feet tall, who was found hanging from a tree in a grove of pine trees from the pines of her father's garage. Thoughtlessly her associates have made her the victim of a heartless tragedy.

It was hard enough to bear the self-consciousness and embarrassment which the child's abnormal size made inescapable, but those who made her even greater by their derision were equally callous.

Thousands of instances like this occur, where some physical defect or peculiarity of sensitive persons is used as a pretext to torture them with unkind remarks which cut to the quick. We read some time ago of a young girl who finally committed suicide because she had been driven to desperation by ridiculous name, which had a suggestive meaning to evil-minded persons.

Children will seize upon such opportunities to harass their associates, sometimes in a spirit of fun, but often with vicious intent. Much parents would disapprove of such conduct, many do not take the trouble to explain to their children how really cruel it is or appeal to their better natures to induce them to refrain from it.

Unconscious infliction of mental suffering is as bad or worse than the infliction of physical pain and children should be earnestly admonished to avoid both forms of cruelty.

WHAT BECOMES OF KILLERS

Every newspaper reader sees accounts of many murders, but few are able to follow the cases through to learn what really becomes of the killers, excepting in a few notable instances.

One of America's largest life insurance companies has studied the records covering 146 cases in which its policyholders were killed by other persons. Here is what it found:

Of the 146 killers, 32 were found to have been justly killed in justice.

Of the remaining 114 killers, 45 were never indicted, as 22 committed suicide, 16 were not tried and 5 were turned loose for lack of evidence.

Those who were indicted, 16 were acquitted, 11 were "no trial" cases, 1 was a mistrial, so that only 41 were found guilty.

Of the 41 found guilty, 35 are serving prison sentences, 6 cases have been appealed and have been granted new trials, 1 was given a fine, and ONE PAID THE DEATH PENALTY.

In the light of the above facts—and they are facts—it is little wonder that the United States has seventeen times as many murders as England and six times as many as our neighbor, Canada, according to population.

FUNNY BREAKS

Some of the funniest things in print are not those probed by writers who try to be humorous, but are the result of accident through carelessness or thoughtlessness.

The following paragraphs are samples, all of which actually appeared in various American newspapers and magazines:

"Dury and John Lacey wish to announce that the Lacey caught at Lida is no relation of theirs. They claim none of their folks have ever been caught."

"Dozens of hens gave their all to satisfy the appetites of the town people."

"The family was made ill by pantomime poisoning."

"To trade, $60 lady's plush coat; also girls for load of hay."

"Farmer boy, aged 40, wants position on small, slender widow's ranch."

"Presto!—The boy has been very forced and eastern. The Presto Friday night is 'Breaking Through'."

"Mrs. Mary C. Davis and Mrs. C. H. Powell have treated themselves to nice tombstones in memory of their husband."

"Found fountain pen by woman half full of blue ink."

"Why kill your wife? Let electricity do it. We help. Electric Supply and Fixture Company."

WASTE IN SKYSCRAPERS

We have been under the impression all the time that American skyscrapers were about the last word in efficiency, so far as utilizing space is concerned. Now comes an eminent engineer to tell us that they are monstrosities.

The critic referred to is Harlan Bartholomew, city plan engineer of St. Louis, who urges that the skyscrapers be replaced instead of past years to realize what harm may result from stupidity and negligence.

In one case dozens were roasted to death through the overturning of a lamp in an upper room crowded with children and their parents, when the only small door opening toward the inside, was closed and blocked by the children. In another case, inflammable Christmas decorations caught fire in a school room where the windows were barred with heavy wire netting and the frenzied crowd choked the only exit, resulting in nearly half a hundred deaths.

Failure to take every possible precaution for the prevention of such heart-breaking disasters is wantonly criminal.

The problem of handling traffic has become one of serious concern in all centers of population, where people and vehicles swarm like bees in a hive. Those who live in small communities have some advantages, after all, not the least of which are fresh air and elbow room.

RADIO MAIL LISTS

Many radio fans are wondering what has caused such a great increase in their circular mail lists. To a radio fan's magazine which goes to explain the lists of radio listeners who write in to their stations with requests for certain pieces to be played, or send for booklets, souvenirs or advertising matter. These lists are sold to dealers in radio equipment and parts, who are thus able to get in touch with these prospective customers.

As radio owners are generally of a class able to buy liberally, these lists are resold to dealers in all manner of merchandise as likely customers for their wares also. So the radio fan's name goes on and on. Finally comes many a "sucker list."

RUNNING THE TOWN

There are always a few people in every village or town who complain that a certain set of men want to "run the town." But those who kick most are usually those who do more active and patriotic neighbors who do try to get necessary things done.

Running the town is not such a delightful pastime as some imagine, and leaders in every town and city who associate their names and contribute their money to assist movements for the public welfare.

Those who are dissatisfied with their present leadership should get busy and give a hand, instead of criticizing from the side lines.

EAT AND SAVE

By MING LARDNER

The days, most everybody are racing in economy in living and etc., but the great majority don't know what to do about it. They are not prepared to save for a rainy day, of which God knows we have had enough of them on Long Island spring this year but among men and with the other day that has set 3 children dead, 300000000 of us have been so much absorbed by the high cost problem and was enough cash to save as in a few years you can't work and not have to worry about it. You can't afford to have the hand to insure he and his family, we want to make old age care, we have to save for a rainy day, of which God knows we have had enough of them on Long Island spring this year but among men and with the other day that has set 3 children dead, 300000000 of us have been so much absorbed by the high cost problem and was enough cash to save as in a few years you can't work and not have to worry about it.
