

BARRINGTON REVIEW

ESTABLISHED 1855
M. T. LAMPEY, Editor and Publisher
LESLIE P. PODDOCK, Managing Editor

Published every Thursday afternoon at Barrington, Ill., and is a weekly newspaper of the Barrington Union of the State of Illinois.

All copy for advertisements must be received before Tuesday noon to insure publication in that week's issue.

Cards of thanks, resolutions of compliance, obituaries, memorials, and all notices of interments, and other notices of public interest and parties given for general benefit will be charged for.

Advertising rates made known upon application.

All communications should be addressed to the BARRINGTON REVIEW
TELEPHONE NO. 1 BARRINGTON, ILL.

OUR HIGHEST COURT

The 72d birthday of Chief Justice William Howard Taft, on September 15 marks another milestone in the distinguished career of the only man ever to hold in turn the offices of president and chief justice.

It is interesting to note that while 39 citizens of the United States have been elevated to the highest judiciary, only 10 have been appointed chief justice, and only 3 of these of our government—J. Jay, Rutledge, Ellsworth, Marshall, Taney, Chase, Waite, Fuller, White, and Taft.

One of these, John Rutledge, was never confirmed by the Senate, as evidences of approaching insanity developed about the time of his appointment by President Washington in 1785, and Ellsworth was named in his stead.

John Marshall served longer than any other chief justice, 34 years, and died in office at the age of 80. Taney served 28 years until his death at the age of 87. Jay, the first chief justice, was the youngest at the time of his appointment, being only 44. Marshall was appointed at the age of 46.

Among former associate justices of the Supreme Court, Justice Sutherland, at the age of 32, was the youngest, while William Johnson was 33 at the time of his appointment. Associate Justice Holmes, still in active service at the age of 88, is the oldest member of the present court.

The high ability and undivided integrity of our highest court have always been a source of pride to every American citizen. The court at present is constituted firmly, maintains the best traditions of the distinguished jurists who served in the earlier days of the Republic.

WHY ARE WE DISLIKED?

If foreign cartons are to be believed to represent the sentiment of other countries toward the United States, it would appear that we are considered a nation of greedy, money-grubbers, seeking to exploit the rest of the world for our own selfish gain.

We are told that if there were no war, there would not exist to the extent our critics would have us believe. But if it does exist, a survey of America's activities in relief and restoration work should prove such a sentiment to be unjust.

A case in point is the work of the Near East Relief through which citizens of the United States have given $100,000,000 for the saving of a nation of 400,000,000 people in the shape of a famine and a holocaust, including 13,000,000 orphan children, besides feeding more than twelve million people during famine periods. This represents the achievement of only one humane organization of American origin since the war.

Many millions have been sent to other parts of the world for rehabilitation, famine and disaster relief, medical aid, and education. The total will probably never be known.

In the matter of war debts our government has been lenient, even generous, particularly when it is considered that the World War was not of our making, but was brought about through the selfishness and hypocrisy of European nations.

Our own statesmen have made some mistakes. They would not have been human had they not made them. But in the broader view our country has always been on the side of justice, humaneness, and peace.

Why, then, should we be disliked by the rest of the world?

HISTORY IN STONE

Carved in enduring limestone, a story of the evolution of printing will be preserved in the ornamentalities of the great new newspaper building recently occupied by the Chicago Daily News.

Depicted in bas relief in the trimmings of the massive and beautiful structures are the first rude characters chipped on a soft stone by a harder stone in the hands of a cuneiform, the first writer. Then there is shown the ancient scribe with his roll of papyrus, followed by the various stages of written language up to the printing press, and then the modern press rolling off its millions of copies, with a linotype man in the background, his fingers twirling on the keyboard.

Carved on the huge panels are the names of famous editors and publishers—Franklin, Dusin, Brewster, Greeley, Medill, Bowles, Lawton, and others. President A. E. Dickinson, of the Indiana Linestream company, a high authority on construction, recently declared this to be one of the finest newspaper buildings in the world, also stating that it stands in the News, but to the entire newspaper profession, as well as to the prehistoric man, whose first crude carvings were the beginnings of recorded speech.

RELIGIOUS FANATICS

Recent attacks on the Jews of Palestine by fanatical Moslem Arabs again illustrate the unfortunate fact that the world's most violent and unreasoning hatreds still have their source in differences of religion, as has been the case from the earliest times. The Moslem religious schools have sought to exterminate the Christians, in the apparent belief that by so doing they would gain the favor of the Almighty. Persecution, torture and wholesale massacre have been employed to this end, among both savage and supposedly civilized peoples.

It is interesting to recall in this connection the approval by Rev. Cotton Mather, foremost Puritan of his day, of a plan to capture the Waban Indians and bring them to the high seas while on their way to America and sell them into slavery; Mathew wrote in 1682:

"Much spoil may be made by selling the whole lot to Barbados, where slaves fetch good prices in rum and sugar, and we shall not only do the Lord a great service by punishing them, but also make great profit for the minister and people."

The same intolerant spirit exists in our own day, not only among the fanatical Arabs, but among zealots of all faiths, including many who call themselves Christians.

GEN. KIEPER AT 93

Among the famous old men of 1929 is General J. Warren Kieper, the last surviving major general of the Civil War, living quietly at his home in Springfield, O., at the age of 93, and doublets looking back with satisfaction on a long and useful life.

General Kieper was born in 1836, was a major general again for service in the Spanish-American war four times, and was a member of Congress and was speaker of the House of Representatives in 1881, the year in which Garfield was assassinated.

In 1898, at the age of 62, he was made a major general again for service in the Spanish-American War. He last served in Congress in 1916, and in 1917 he continued his practice of law and remained president of the Laddage National Bank of Springfield until his retirement two years ago, after 54 years as the head of that institution.

Ten men in it is given to experience such a long and distinguished career as that of General Kieper, during whose lifetime science and invention have virtually remade the world in which we live.

IS FATAL MISTAKE

This is the story of a prudent man, as told to a Kansas City newspaper:

He brushed his teeth twice a day, wore rubbers in wet weather, did his daily chores, slept with windows open, was careful with his diet, had a medical examination twice a year, never smoked, drank, or indulged in any kind of excesses. He was all set to live to be 100 years old.

The funeral was held last Wednesday. He was surrounded by 18 specialists, four health institutes, six gymsnasiums and numerous manufacturers of health foods and anti-aging.

He had forgotten to look out for a train at a grade crossing.

C. H. Shenk of Lancaster, Pa., offers $100 reward to anyone who will "help locate my uncle who died in Southern California in September, 1889." The first step, we assume, would be to find out whether he went up or down.

Another garrison seat in John L. Ladd of Willow Springs, Ill., Declaring that a bolt of lightning cured his rheumatism, he said, "I am a humanitarian and would not conceal this discovery for financial purposes, so I gladly make it public."

written language up to the printing press, and then the modern press rolling off its millions of copies, with a linotype man in the background, his fingers twirling on the keyboard.

Carved on the huge panels are the names of famous editors and publishers—Franklin, Dusin, Brewster, Greeley, Medill, Bowles, Lawton, and others. President A. E. Dickinson, of the Indiana Linestream company, a high authority on construction, recently declared this to be one of the finest newspaper buildings in the world, also stating that it stands in the News, but to the entire newspaper profession, as well as to the prehistoric man, whose first crude carvings were the beginnings of recorded speech.

BARRINGTON REVIEW, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, 1929

Church News

ST. ANNE'S
Sunday, Sept. 12, 8 a. m. and 10 a. m.
Wednesday, Sept. 16, 8 a. m.
Devotions in honor of the Sacred Heart first Friday of each month.
Mass at 6 a. m.
Confessions, Saturday, 5 a. m.
Eucharist, 8 a. m.

REV. JOHN A. DUFFY, Pastor
1825 N. Main Street, Barrington, Ill.

ST. JAMES (EPISCOPAL) CHURCH, DUNDEE
Sunday services on and from September 15th until further notice.

10:30 a. m. Morning Prayer and Holy Eucharist, 10:35 a. m.

Standard time.
S. R. S. GLAY, Pastor of Dundee and Barrington

1825 N. Main Street, Barrington.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST
Sunday service, 10:30 a. m.
Wednesday, 7:30 p. m.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT BAPTIST
9:30, Church services.
10:35, Morning worship.
6:15, Young people's meeting.

For next Sunday the pastor has chosen as his theme for morning, "The program for Life and in the Evening, 'The program for Death.'

The church choir will have charge of the music in the morning and the church society in the evening.

Now that the fall work has begun it is naturally expected that each one will find his place in some part of the work. The church choir will sing in the choir room, the church society in the parlor.

Those who are interested in the choir should come to the church.

Now that the fall work has begun it is naturally

expected that each one will find his place in some part of the work.

This friendly church extends a very cordial welcome to all visitors.

CHARLES R. DRUESSLER, Minister

SALMON EVANGELICAL

Sunday School 9:30 a. m. The Sunday school is looking forward to a rainy day soon.

The students and the regular attenders should be sure to bring their raincoats.

The church choir will have charge of the music in the morning and the church society in the evening.

Now that the fall work has begun it is naturally

expected that each one will find his place in some part of the work.

This friendly church extends a very cordial welcome to all visitors.

CHARLES R. DRUESSLER, Minister

SALMON EVANGELICAL

Sunday School 9:30 a. m. The Sunday school is looking forward to a rainy day soon.

The students and the regular attenders should be sure to bring their raincoats.

The church choir will have charge of the music in the morning and the church society in the evening.

Now that the fall work has begun it is naturally

expected that each one will find his place in some part of the work.

This friendly church extends a very cordial welcome to all visitors.

CHARLES R. DRUESSLER, Minister

SALMON EVANGELICAL

Sunday School 9:30 a. m. The Sunday school is looking forward to a rainy day soon.

The students and the regular attenders should be sure to bring their raincoats.

The church choir will have charge of the music in the morning and the church society in the evening.

Now that the fall work has begun it is naturally

expected that each one will find his place in some part of the work.

This friendly church extends a very cordial welcome to all visitors.

CHARLES R. DRUESSLER, Minister

SALMON EVANGELICAL

Sunday School 9:30 a. m. The Sunday school is looking forward to a rainy day soon.

The students and the regular attenders should be sure to bring their raincoats.

The church choir will have charge of the music in the morning and the church society in the evening.

Now that the fall work has begun it is naturally

expected that each one will find his place in some part of the work.

This friendly church extends a very cordial welcome to all visitors.

CHARLES R. DRUESSLER, Minister

SALMON EVANGELICAL

Sunday School 9:30 a. m. The Sunday school is looking forward to a rainy day soon.

The students and the regular attenders should be sure to bring their raincoats.

The church choir will have charge of the music in the morning and the church society in the evening.

Now that the fall work has begun it is naturally

expected that each one will find his place in some part of the work.

This friendly church extends a very cordial welcome to all visitors.

CHARLES R. DRUESSLER, Minister

SALMON EVANGELICAL

Sunday School 9:30 a. m. The Sunday school is looking forward to a rainy day soon.

The students and the regular attenders should be sure to bring their raincoats.

The church choir will have charge of the music in the morning and the church society in the evening.

Now that the fall work has begun it is naturally

expected that each one will find his place in some part of the work.

This friendly church extends a very cordial welcome to all visitors.

CHARLES R. DRUESSLER, Minister

SALMON EVANGELICAL

Sunday School 9:30 a. m. The Sunday school is looking forward to a rainy day soon.

The students and the regular attenders should be sure to bring their raincoats.

The church choir will have charge of the music in the morning and the church society in the evening.

Now that the fall work has begun it is naturally

expected that each one will find his place in some part of the work.

This friendly church extends a very cordial welcome to all visitors.

CHARLES R. DRUESSLER, Minister

SALMON EVANGELICAL

Sunday School 9:30 a. m. The Sunday school is looking forward to a rainy day soon.

The students and the regular attenders should be sure to bring their raincoats.

The church choir will have charge of the music in the morning and the church society in the evening.

Now that the fall work has begun it is naturally

expected that each one will find his place in some part of the work.

This friendly church extends a very cordial welcome to all visitors.

CHARLES R. DRUESSLER, Minister

SALMON EVANGELICAL

Sunday School 9:30 a. m. The Sunday school is looking forward to a rainy day soon.

The students and the regular attenders should be sure to bring their raincoats.

The church choir will have charge of the music in the morning and the church society in the evening.

Now that the fall work has begun it is naturally

expected that each one will find his place in some part of the work.

This friendly church extends a very cordial welcome to all visitors.

CHARLES R. DRUESSLER, Minister

SALMON EVANGELICAL

Sunday School 9:30 a. m. The Sunday school is looking forward to a rainy day soon.

The students and the regular attenders should be sure to bring their raincoats.

The church choir will have charge of the music in the morning and the church society in the evening.

Now that the fall work has begun it is naturally

expected that each one will find his place in some part of the work.

This friendly church extends a very cordial welcome to all visitors.

CHARLES R. DRUESSLER, Minister

SALMON EVANGELICAL

Sunday School 9:30 a. m. The Sunday school is looking forward to a rainy day soon.

The students and the regular attenders should be sure to bring their raincoats.

The church choir will have charge of the music in the morning and the church society in the evening.

Now that the fall work has begun it is naturally

expected that each one will find his place in some part of the work.

This friendly church extends a very cordial welcome to all visitors.

CHARLES R. DRUESSLER, Minister

SALMON EVANGELICAL

Sunday School 9:30 a. m. The Sunday school is looking forward to a rainy day soon.

The students and the regular attenders should be sure to bring their raincoats.

The church choir will have charge of the music in the morning and the church society in the evening.

Now that the fall work has begun it is naturally

expected that each one will find his place in some part of the work.

This friendly church extends a very cordial welcome to all visitors.

CHARLES R. DRUESSLER, Minister

SALMON EVANGELICAL

Sunday School 9:30 a. m. The Sunday school is looking forward to a rainy day soon.

The students and the regular attenders should be sure to bring their raincoats.

The church choir will have charge of the music in the morning and the church society in the evening.

Now that the fall work has begun it is naturally

expected that each one will find his place in some part of the work.

This friendly church extends a very cordial welcome to all visitors.

CHARLES R. DRUESSLER, Minister

SALMON EVANGELICAL

Sunday School 9:30 a. m. The Sunday school is looking forward to a rainy day soon.

The students and the regular attenders should be sure to bring their raincoats.

The church choir will have charge of the music in the morning and the church society in the evening.

Now that the fall work has begun it is naturally

expected that each one will find his place in some part of the work.

This friendly church extends a very cordial welcome to all visitors.

CHARLES R. DRUESSLER, Minister

SALMON EVANGELICAL

Sunday School 9:30 a. m. The Sunday school is looking forward to a rainy day soon.

The students and the regular attenders should be sure to bring their raincoats.

The church choir will have charge of the music in the morning and the church society in the evening.

Now that the fall work has begun it is naturally

expected that each one will find his place in some part of the work.

This friendly church extends a very cordial welcome to all visitors.

CHARLES R. DRUESSLER, Minister

SALMON EVANGELICAL

Sunday School 9:30 a. m. The Sunday school is looking forward to a rainy day soon.

The students and the regular attenders should be sure to bring their raincoats.

The church choir will have charge of the music in the morning and the church society in the evening.

Now that the fall work has begun it is naturally

expected that each one will find his place in some part of the work.

This friendly church extends a very cordial welcome to all visitors.

CHARLES R. DRUESSLER, Minister

SALMON EVANGELICAL

Sunday School 9:30 a. m. The Sunday school is looking forward to a rainy day soon.

The students and the regular attenders should be sure to bring their raincoats.

The church choir will have charge of the music in the morning and the church society in the evening.

Now that the fall work has begun it is naturally

expected that each one will find his place in some part of the work.

This friendly church extends a very cordial welcome to all visitors.

CHARLES R. DRUESSLER, Minister

SALMON EVANGELICAL

Sunday School 9:30 a. m. The Sunday school is looking forward to a rainy day soon.

The students and the regular attenders should be sure to bring their raincoats.

The church choir will have charge of the music in the morning and the church society in the evening.

Now that the fall work has begun it is naturally

expected that each one will find his place in some part of the work.

This friendly church extends a very cordial welcome to all visitors.

CHARLES R. DRUESSLER, Minister

SALMON EVANGELICAL

Sunday School 9:30 a. m. The Sunday school is looking forward to a rainy day soon.

The students and the regular attenders should be sure to bring their raincoats.

The church choir will have charge of the music in the morning and the church society in the evening.

Now that the fall work has begun it is naturally

expected that each one will find his place in some part of the work.

This friendly church extends a very cordial welcome to all visitors.

CHARLES R. DRUESSLER, Minister

SALMON EVANGELICAL

Sunday School 9:30 a. m. The Sunday school is looking forward to a rainy day soon.

The students and the regular attenders should be sure to bring their raincoats.

The church choir will have charge of the music in the morning and the church society in the evening.

Now that the fall work has begun it is naturally

expected that each one will find his place in some part of the work.

This friendly church extends a very cordial welcome to all visitors.

CHARLES R. DRUESSLER, Minister

