Paddock Bills in Legislature Would Modify Pauper Act

A plan to temper the Pauper Act is embodied in a bill presented in the state senate by Ray Paddock of Wauconda. It calls for all counties under 200,000 population to furnish relief to needy war veterans and their families, and the second that counties must support all paupers admitted to the county poor farm which is maintained by the county.

The Paddock bill would relieve the townships from the necessity for appropriating funds to carry on the relief under the Pauper act for war veterans, and would also relieve the township from paying a set rate for residents and the township for the county poor farm or to the county hospital for treatment.

Under the bill in many cases the relief work overlaps from township to county, although the county is not supposed to be furnishing poor relief.

However, the bill still eliminates the inequitable distribution of poor funds. In Lake County, for example, all property used to pay equally in taxes for the county, but Wauconda derived most of the benefit.

Central Lake County Community Club Asks Organization Charter

A central Lake county clearing house for jobs will be the first undertaking of the new organization of business men of the central part of the county to be known as the Lake Regions Civic association.

The clearing house is planned to supplement the work of the township poorhouses. Persons having any odd jobs to do, or who are in need of masters. Men wanting to do work will be given the jobs, this assisting the persons having work to do, and offering and the men needing employment. At the same time the poorhouses will learn how many of the needy are willing to work for assistance.

A charter for the organization will be issued by Edward J. Hines, secretary of state, if a request of several Round Lake and Grays Lake business men is approved.

Recently the organization will be set into roads and transportation in the central part of the county, and a trade at home, camp and picnic visitors in fairs surrounding counties, as summer camps with the hope of making them permanent residents.

The organization is to adopt a slogan and W. C. Petty, county clerk superintendent, is to be asked to conduct the central office to supply the slogan.

Seven committees already have been appointed and are functioning.

The purpose of the organization, as shown in the charter, is "to promote good citizenship, community spirit and work for the advancement of welfare, health and comfort of the community at large."

Materials Evolved by Acids Drawn From Air

Silk stockings have actually been made from air! They look very well indeed, but they have one drawback: they melt in hot water. Scientists, that is, chemists, say that while this is a drawback, it will doubtless be overcome in time, for the science of making silk from air is still in its infancy.

Wonderful work has been done by Mr. Wallace Carothers, who has discovered that about twenty substances can be extracted from air, each of them a synthetic rubber. A synthetic cloth has even been evolved by the same various acids drawn from the air with a waste product of ordinary petrol.

Air plays a very important part, for we could not live for a instant without it. In the future, though, it is likely to provide things besides breath. Synthetic silk of the most valuable fertilizers known is already manufactured from air, and the same gas used for filling certain kinds of electric lamp bulbs can be obtained in the same way. Not long ago a method of extracting carbon from air was discovered, and from this it was predicted that new methods of obtaining both fuel and food from the atmosphere.—London Times.

Bad Cooking and Crime

We have seen that cooking was many times that long ago, but at the bottom of a large portion of the world's crime; and we have never found any reliable statistics to support the claim. They tell of the indefatigable researchers and surveyors go about among our criminals and delinquents and ask them about the cooking was in their homes! Personally we think, and have often said, that this would be a better world if there were no good apple pie than there is, but we cannot prove even that.—Boston Herald.

Democracy

Democracy is not merely the government of a majority. It is rather the government which best expresses the country as a whole, and towards this ideal the power is exercised legally to the majority is merely a mechanical means.

New Version of Legend Concerning St. Patrick

The legend of St. Patrick driving the snakes out of Ireland, as told in "Wonder Garden," by Frances Jenkins Olcott, is that St. Patrick found Ireland filled with snakes, serpents, demons and fiends, and determined to rid the country of them. So he gathered them all together and bade them go to the top of "Crochan Acha." Some refused because they knew they would be forced into the sea from the mountain top. St. Patrick, knowing they feared the sound of the drum, played one very gently. Immediately they rushed to the top of the mountain to hear there over the side of a cliff into the sea.

Some of the reptiles, however, hid in a cave near the edge of the sea. They rang the bell again, but in vain, as the sun dried up their scales. The reptiles were safe until he rang the bell over the mountain top, and they fled to the hollow where they were hiding. It fell on their backs and they plunged into the sea. Never since that day have snakes been seen on the island.

The legend is a beautiful one, and that St. Patrick cleansed Ireland of its sins and brought it the faith.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Outlines Plan for Lake County Police Hook-up by Radio

A Lake county police hook-up with the village and city police and the sheriff's department linked together with a broadcasting station and radio equipped cars, will be suggested to Lake county officials by Edwin Ahlstrom, chief of police of Waukegan.

The police chief explained that in the past the cost of installation has been so great as to prevent any real progress in the plan, but if High-Tek radio could be used, no consent, now they have their station in operation, the cost of operation distributed over all of the cities and the county would be a comparatively low cost.

In the past the sheriff's cars are equipped with radio and radio sets sent out on the Chicago police set, but this does not give any of the towns in the county a hook-up with the sheriff's force.

As an example, Ahlstrom pointed out that if Antioch wanted their squad car to come in to answer calls in Antioch and radio sets heard by every police car on the roads all over the county, and if the call happened to be a bank robbery, a very policeman in the county would be on the alert to catch the bandits, and they could be in toward Antioch from every angle and throw a net about the town that would be a great asset.

When Truth Isn't Spoken

Lying is a pleasure, but speaking the truth is a painful necessity. How true that is, especially when applied to women! Does woman lie to please herself or through necessity? Certainly in society lying is as necessary as breathing. Truth does not come so easily, but from the mouths of men and women of their bestness. They dilate on the scantiness of the refreshments and the boring of the music of the whole affair. Every truth is good to express except those which one hides from one's husband.—Marion DeKobler, of the London Saturday Review.

"Jeb Smith" Knows the Value of a Dollar

"Jeb's dollars aren't as plentiful as they were awhile back, so you can bet he's pretty careful of them. The other day we were talking about economizing and I asked Jeb what he could least afford to be without on his farm. Like a shot he answered, 'My telephone.' It's a time and money saver too often, Jeb said, for him to be without it. And Jeb's right! It's cheaper to have a telephone than to be without one. Experience proves that."
