Favors Barrington

School Township 43 May Find $17,000 of Its Funds

The school-village joint fund audit undertaken by Charles Anderson and Co., auditors, represented by Mr. Wainer, has been completed and copies of it have been received in Barrington. This audit was made by the village to determine if any of the funds tied up in the closed bank belong to school township 43, range 10, of which Mr. Waterman has been treasurer while also treasurer of the village.

The audit was reported as showing

The school township fund was included in the account in the State bank. If this is definitely established as true, then the village will have an equal claim to $17,000 of funds which were in the joint account in the First National bank. One trustee reported that the school district has $15,000 on hand and that this sum will be held up by injunction until the division is complete.

The audit went back to the time when the First National bank was opened in 1919. A comprehensive report of the audit will be published next week.

Accounts Against Village Delinquent Water Bills to Be Cancelled by Offsets

With a large number of small bills against the village read and approved at the board meeting Monday night, the board decided on a suggestion by Trustee Herman Kuhlman to get offsets on the bills presented by citizens who owe on their village water accounts.

Most water bills have been kept arrangements out their bills due to misunderstanding of whether the property owner, tenant, or former tenant is responsible for the bills. Some bills were brought up to date last summer with notes to the village. Any of those bills owed by persons who hold accounts against the village will be taken care of by offsets.

The matter of a leaky roof on the lean-to part of the village hall was brought up. Sami Petersen was instructed to have the roof repaired with covering. A request from Matthew Perak that the Schwenm barn next to his tailor shop be condemned

Mr. Peack reported that insurance on his tailor shop was impaired by the presence of the vacant barn.

Simpson-Church Ballots Held Up by County Clerks

Action Taken on Advice of Secretary of House of Representatives

With the election ballots of the Tenth district filed in two county clerks' offices on the advice of County Representative, the action of Simpson-Church, clerk of the House of Representatives, the receipt of votes for congressmen asked by Charles H. Weber, democrat, is still in the preliminary stage. The hearing is being held before the board of appeals in the county building of Chicago.

Robert M. Sweitzer refused to surrender the ballots to Weber on Mr. Simpson-Church's advice.

Trimbale advised Sweitzer that the house of representatives held the sole power to try the rights of its members, and that the ballots could be given only to a committee of the house authorized to conduct the hearing.

Examined Poll Books

Low A. Hendon county clerk of Lake county, was holding the poll books in this portion of the district only on the advice of Trimbale, but because the ballots are in the county clerk's office in the Pease-McMurtre resort for county audit.

In the meantime both sides are making time by examining poll books and tally sheets.

Neither Simpson Jr. nor Weber are present. Simpson Jr.'s personal income and salary are being paid by G. R. Richter and Weber's by H. C. Bradford.

Weber has 40 days to make a record, and then Simpson has a similar period to do likewise. If neither side can settle in this time, it is presumed that the 75th congress will take cognizance of the situation.

Bill to Require Payment of Prevailing Wage Offered

A bill to require the payment of the prevailing rate of wages on all public works has been introduced in the legislature by Representative Howard L. Doyle of Decatur. It is designed to meet the case of the law, which was enacted out of the supreme court and is one of the major measures of the legislature's legislative program. The bill requires the contractor to provide for payment of the prevailing wage rate. It authorizes public authorities to determine the prevailing wage in any locality. It applies to all public works and all political subdivisions and provides penalties for violations.

City Split on Gas Tax to Be Voted on in Legislature

A bill making a three-way split of the gasoline tax to give the cities one-third, to be introduced in the legislature on behalf of the Illinois Municipal League. The Hunter-Putnam Road commission recommended that one-third of the gas tax go to the state to be used solely within cities for street improvement and material highways. The Municipal League bill, however, would give one-third of the tax to the cities, to be used for the kind of street improvements, including maintenance, sidewalks and lighting, with the rest to be to the counties and one cent to go to the state.

Russia

The former Russian empire extended from the Baltic sea to the Pacific ocean and from the Black sea to the Arctic ocean, stretching nearly half-way around the globe and including an area of 8,500,000 square miles. The area has been decreased by 200,000 square miles to Finland, Poland, Latvia, Lithuania, and Estonia, which have been recognized as independent countries. The official name of Russia is now Union of Soviet Socialist Republics and is a federative of 15 Soviet Socialist Republics. Russia is mostly a plain and lowland area that rises to heights exceeding 12,000 feet.

It produces quantities of grain, skins, furs, flax, hemp, timber, wood pulp, pitch and turpentine. Coal is mined west of the Ural. Also south of Moscow and in the valley of the Donetz; iron is mined in the first two coal fields. In the neighborhood of Kirov (Kuznetsk) 100 miles northeast of Khabarovsk and near Kertch in the Crimea.

Still Unknown

Many kinds of animals as yet unknown to science are believed to be hiding away in obscure corners of the earth. They lurk in the dense, unexplored jungles, high mountains, isolated islands, or in burrows under the ground, only when they come into contact with the attention of systematic biologists. Several new types of animals have been found in the collections of the Smithsonian Institution. In most cases they are close relatives of known animals, but differing sufficiently to merit independent classification.—Montreal Herald.

SLANTS ON CONSOLIDATION

The Suburban Area and Country Towns Associations of Cook County, Inc. stands as a united body representative of the separate communities of Cook county outside of Chicago. As a positive factor it favors and works for what is best for the individual communities. As such it means to study ways of bettering conditions of living in such communities by whatever plan this is possible. It will study all proposals and pass the information thus obtained on to the people of Cook county.

Taxpayers of Chicago outside of Cook county observe that for several years some of the people of Chicago have been claiming that they are burdened beyond ability to pay. Also that they have thrown the matter of assessment of taxes into the courts. This leads those outside of Chicago to question the desirability of being aligned or associated in a paying capacity with such a state of affairs.

None of the municipalities outside of Chicago but in Cook county have exhausted their bonding capacity even in the sluggish state of the bond market. None of them have come as near their bonding limit or its taxing prerogative boundary as has Chicago. Chicago apparently having done so must now look to some outside source to help carry its stupendous load of taxation. And it would seem that Chicago has selected the suburban towns of Cook county as the most likely prospect in this direction.

This is the time of year when, more than at any other period, the taxpayer gives close attention to his financial responsibility for the maintenance of his municipality. If the load seems heavy in the smaller towns how would it be if the suburbanite were a taxpayer in Chicago?

Last week the survey of the police costs in the suburban municipalities demonstrated that in 14 towns the per capita costs were $2.28. This week the continuation of the survey by The Suburban Area and Country Towns Association of Cook County, Inc., shows the costs of 30 municipalities, taken at random, to be $2.27. The per capita cost of police protection in Chicago is $5.63.

"SHARE THOSE JOBS"

A total of 2,700,000 marks (six hundred and forty million dollars at current exchange) is to be mobilized by Germany during 1933 to provide jobs for as many as possible of the nation's 5,600,000 unemployed. The leader of the movement is to be given wide powers in order to free the program from bureaucratic red tape. A great part of the money is to be spent on major public works.

The United States government has also thrown its resources into the fight against unemployment and has produced some excellent results. But it is probable that Germany will discover what we have—that government relief projects can be of but temporary benefit. The solution for aggravated unemployment lies to a much greater extent in such a movement as the present "share the work" drive. Here is an endeavor that strikes toward the root of the matter—turn one job into two or more.

To "share the work" costs nothing and "providing jobs" is always cheaper than charity. Not to mention the social profits accruing therefrom. Its influence on purchasing power is tremendous, aside from what it does to prevent and overcome distress and poverty. It is a recognition of the fact that all must cooperate to defeat depression, and must not lose sight of the general welfare which always precedes individual welfare. The fact that the movement is rapidly growing, in large businesses and small, puts America at the forefront of the nations in solving the unemployment problems of today.

ENTER VALLEY FORGE THE WAVE OF EXTREME SACRIFICE. IN THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION, WASHINGTON WENT INTO WINTER QUARTERS JUST BEFORE CHRISTMAS IN 1777. BLOOD STAINED COATS MARKED THE WAY FROM WINTERHEAD AND THE MEN TOOK REFUGE FROM WINTER'S BLASTS IN HUTS.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

By National Editorial Association (Special to The Review)

LETTERS coming into Washington invariably submit this question: How will Roosevelt fare with congress and what can the country expect? A careful check reveals that the most chief executive stands up to the credit of having a large portion of his major projects written into law. But, it must be remembered that this opinion holds on the premise that a special session will be called in the early spring. The delegates say that Roosevelt must make his future on the first session as his party will be in complete control and enthusiastic in showing their leadership to the country. The same promise is not held out for subsequent sessions during the new administration. Political wrangling and factions will have a tendency to place rocks on the course for the ship of state.

BACK OF THE PRINCIPALS to clothe the incoming president with broad powers over government affairs is the fear that congress may overstep its prerogative to the new regime. The executive and legislative bodies of the federal government have always been jealous of their rights and privileges. The chief development of the month relates to the annual liberty of the democratic legislators in allocating their constitutional power so the president may have relatively free hand in reorganizing executive branches in the interests of economy and efficiency. Some of the seasoned veterans have outlined the danger in observation that congressional leaders may have a change of heart "when the honeymoon of the new administration is over, after Mr. Roosevelt has his first snap shot policies."

THE SENATE was told this week the country is interested in legislative results and not in irrelevant political maneuvering. It was a surprise to hear of condemnation of partisan strategy. But, the author of the same concept, Senator Vandenberg of Michigan, immediately launched into a political speech. It is typical of the session. The senate is not at all to the liking of the senate. While they are engaged in an article prepared by their secretaries, it is generally conceded that the senate is "in a position to be a very effective body, but it is not yet in a position to be a very effective body."

CONTRADICTIONS which apparently will not settle down the facility of lower legislation at this session. The White House may be the scene of a debate, but the question of the "share the work" drive is not a subject for the senate. The senate is not a body to be taken into consideration in an article prepared by their secretaries, it is generally conceded that the senate is "in a position to be a very effective body, but it is not yet in a position to be a very effective body."

FANATICS—THERE IS nothing more persistent or more tenacious than a fanatic. The house has repeatedly with an almost unrelenting vote rejected and censured Representative McFadden, republican of Pennsylvania, in spite of the fact that he is a member of the house. His right of free speech and the house is obliged to listen before voting down. He must depend on his friends in the senate to sponsor legislation that he wants passed. The leaders explain it in the old phrase "he has only himself to blame."

THE APPEARANCE of nationally-known business leaders before the senate finance committee to set forth their ideas on fighting the depression has not changed the picture. The views of these men have been advanced from time to time in their own fields and their practical suggestions adopted wherever possible. As Secretary of Treasury Mills says "at Kansas City, Saturday, Feb. 11, 'there is no dearth of progress plans, schemes and panaceas of every variety.' This cabinet officer was particularly bitter against plans for producing inflation."

Wandering From This to That

By National Editorial Association (Special to The Review)

Plans for the observance of Army day on April 6, the anniversary of the entry of the United States into the World war, are being prepared under the direction of Major General Frank Parker, commanding the Sixth Corps Area. The celebration, as far as concerns the three components of the army, the regular, National Guard and organized reserves, the states of Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin, will center in Chicago, where General Parker has his headquarters.

Governor Henry Horner of Illinois has accepted General Parker's invitation to be the guest of honor and principal speaker at a celebration at the Stevens hotel in Chicago on April 6. High ranking officers of the National Guard of the three states and reserve officers will be in Chicago that day to attend a tactical exercise arranged by General Parker at corps area headquarters and these officers will attend the meeting afterwards at the Stevens hotel.

The Army day committee consists of General Parker, representing the regular army; Major General Roy D. Keen, commanding the 33rd division, National Guard of Illinois, representing the National Guard; and Lieutenant Colonel W. R. Matheny, President of the Reserve Officers' Association, department of Illinois, and Colonel Gilbert FitzPatrick, president of the Cook county chapter, Reserve Officers' Association, representing the organized reserves.

Income Tax Deductions. With March 15, the deadline for filing federal income tax returns, rapidly approaching, the Chicago Motor Club has secured from authoritative sources a list of the various deductions which may be made by motorists of Illinois and Indiana arriving at the income on which they will be required to pay the federal tax.

License fees, city vehicle tax, personal property and state gasoline tax—these are certain items which must be paid for driver's license. Losses sustained by reason of damages to the automobile are deductible, but must be proved by a sworn statement of the taxpayer, and will not be allowed for insurance or otherwise.

Interest on money borrowed for the purchase of a car, or the amount of finance charges. However, that portion of the charges covering premium on insurance to protect the finance company's interest may not be deducted.

New Member. The names of Chicagoans and residents of the city's suburbs who have recently been elected members of the National History Society of Chicago were announced today by Stephen C. Simms, director of the museum. New members include: Mrs. A. J. Daner, Edwin R. Feitcher, Prof. James Payne, Louis C. Severns and Mrs. A. J. Daner. The society's members are Mrs. W. Gray Brown, Mrs. Howard J. Burdette, Mrs. John Peter Denison, Graham R. Jacobus, Mrs. Alexander M. Kerr, Mrs. John J. Louis, James McShane, Mrs. Philip Rayner O'Brien, Mrs. H. O. O'Brien, Mrs. L. R. Efforts which have been made by Governor Horner and continuously employed by him for four weeks to settle the mine controversy in Charleston county while a temporary truce has been arranged by the mine operators and miners' factions prevailed, have responded. According to a statement issued from the governor's office, "There is still a remote possibility of resumption of hostilities in case the parties involved make any further change their uncompromising attitudes." Visualizing a tremendous cut in real estate taxes, Senator Edgar Nease has introduced two bills to amend the quadrennial real estate assessment system, and to substitute an annual listing of real and personal property with the assessment of its fair market value every spring. The assessment then would be made at one-third of this value at a straight one per cent rate.

The Writing Horse

"The Writing Horse" was written by the author, Walter B. Vance. The most interesting test of this intelligent equine was his ability to write legibly and neatly with the aid of a brush fastened in his mouth. Upon being stimulated by his master, he could not only write but also copy the words of the twelve verses with which the station was furnished.

Swede Was Discoverer of Northwest Passage

Adolf Erik Nordenskiold was a Swedish navigator, born, however, in Finland. He was the discoverer of the long-sought northeast passage, in 1879.

His vessel, the steamship Vega left Gothenburg, Sweden, July 4, 1878, passed through Jugar strait
August 1, crossed the sea of Kara, and anchored August 6 in Dickson's harbor. The explorers landed and took observations on Northeast Cape August 10, and sailed onward, passing the mouth of the River Lena August 27. About a month later the ship was frozen in, in latitude
67 degrees 7 minutes north longitude 173 degrees 30 minutes east, about three-quarters of a mile from the Siberian mainland. The crew went ashore, made friends with the natives, a then little known tribe, and spent nine months waiting for the ice to relinquish their ship.

On July 18, 1879, the Vega once more weighed anchor, and continued her journey. On July 20 she passed through Bering strait, the Vega passed to pass from Atlantic to Pacific north of the Eurasian continent. She reached Yokohama September 2, 1879. For his exploit, Nordenskiold was made a baron. He died in 1901.

Championship of Church Loop May Be Decided Soon

St. Paul Five in Position to Win Honors in Next Game

After a half of one week the Church League swung into action again last Tuesday night when Salem defeated the Baptists 45 to 27, and St. Paul defeated the Methodists 45 to 27. The St. Anne boys tried desperately to tighten the score, their efforts were of no avail as St. Paul climbed its sixth victory in seven starts. Stiglic led St. Paul with seven baskets, and Miller paced the leaders with three baskets and two free shots.

The second round will end February 21 when Salem clashes with the Methodists at 7:30 p. m. and St.
Paul meet the Baptists in the second game. It has not been decided, but if this round completes the schedule, St. Paul can win the championship by taking Tuesday's game.

H. D. Kelsey Is in Line for Chairmanship County Board

county board to the town boards in 1931, without making any provision for taking care of road and sewer people prior to a time when town funds could be raised through taxation. Mr. Kelsey organized and managed a series of three entertainments to raise funds for immediate needs. This series included a dance in the Jewett Co. building, a benefit movie at the Catlow theater, and a card party at Belmont Country club. Approximately $500 was cleared from these entertainments—enough to tide the township over until relief agency work after an appropriation was made in the tax levy.

In the matter of tax reduction, Mr. Kelsey was the first supervisor to appear before the county board of review to ask for a general assessment cut. He and other supervisors especially interested in lower taxes were influential in bringing about the blanket reduction of 10 per cent on all Lake county real estate assessments. At the same time he voted for a drastic cut in the county budget which has made possible a 9 per cent reduction in county tax rate in addition to the 15 per cent real estate property assessment slice.

Chula township has received fair treatment from the county while Mr. Kelsey has been supervisor. As a member of the road and bridge committee he has helped lay plans for $120,000 worth of county road work in the township. This includes a plan for building of new roads which when carried out will improve the highway system and bring employment to men in the township.

Mr. Kelsey shouldered the fight to retain a county veterinarian. The vetarinarium was retained, and subsequent development in the Chicago milk situation shows the result was of benefit to Lake county dairy farmers.

Business men of Barrington appreciate the fact that during the last two years more than $1000 of county business, which previously went to Waukegan, has come to Barrington.

New Barrington Scout Troop Receives Charter in Ceremony at Church

In an appropriate church service held at the St. Paul church in Barrington February 12, the anniversary of Lincoln's day of birth, troop 20 of the Barrington Boy Scouts, was presented with a charter by Chief Scoutmaster of Park district. This troop is sponsored by the Sunday school of St. Paul's church.

John Bell, Barrington district chairman of boy scouts of the Northwest Suburban area, outlined briefly the organization of boy scouts. He declared that scouting is "known as the greatest movement for boys." The United States is divided into regions, these regions divided into groups or councils, and these again into districts. Each district has troops and each troop must be sponsored by some organization, as a Lions club, a church, etc. All men serving in scout activities give their services free except the chief of the group. The district is organized into communities, each with a chairman, to serve the various interests of local boy scout work.

The chairman of St. Paul Lutheran church committee has as his duty organization of the men and women in this church, behind the scout of troop 20. "The Scouts is an organization that builds men," he impressed upon his listeners.

Ten boys in Troop 20 received recognition in the church service for having met all requirements in the tenderfoot stage of scouting. This recognition ceremony was conducted by members of troop 21. The ceremony was very impressive. In presenting the charter to troop 20, the scout chief passed words of inspiration and encouragement to the members. This is the third boy scout troop to be organized in Barrington; this village now has about 75 scouts.

There are about 675,000 boys in the United States living for the principles of scouting. A boy who is in scouting is a better boy at home, and a better student in school, the scout chief explained and added that it is fine for a troop to be sponsored by a church.

Following the ceremonies, Rev. H. E. Koenig, pastor of the St. Paul's Lutheran church, presented a message in which he illustrated the various principles for which boy scouts are required to live, by drawing incidents and characteristics from the life of Abraham Lincoln. The principles upon which he touched included: trustworthiness, honesty, helpfulness, friendliness, courtesy, kindness, obedience, cheerfulness, thrift, truthfulness, cleanliness, and reverence. He emphasized that Lincoln had not only one of the boy scout laws.

Barrington Scouts May Get All-Year Home in Local Park

If certain plans in behalf of the Barrington boy scouts can be carried out, these scouts will within a few months have a place where they can hold meetings at any time in the year. This came from the meeting of the Barrington district committee of the Northwest Suburban council last Friday evening. The members of this committee are impressed with the fact that the local boys need to be engaged in wholesome activity during the summer months and that they should have a permanent place where they can meet as members of boy scout troops and where they will not be distracted from their boy scout program by secondary interests.

Members of the Barrington district committee have realized for some time that the local troop should have a real boy scout home, which the boys may decorate and equip for their own use and other scout meetings and where they will not be disturbed. These members are working out a plan at present for other portions of the town to build a new building to the east of Russell street playground or erecting a new building at the east end of the park. More definite information will be available later. Four weeks of honor are to be held in Barrington during this year. The board of trustees will meet on February 27, May 8, September 19, and October 27, and the council of boys will meet on March 13, May 22, and October 11. Each date is on a Monday night. The hope of the local troop is to know the importance of these dates.

Hold Booster Meetings In order to acquaint various local residents better with the needs and requirements of the Barrington scouts and the boys eligible for scout work.
