MRS. LYDIA BEERMAN is the wife of a local professional man and herself a local business woman. The first Barrington woman to enter politics, she is well informed, honest, courageous and aggressive. We feel that no reason whatever exists to bar a woman from the office of Trustee and heartily recommend her election.

JOHN BLANKE, an independent candidate without factional adherence is recommended as a quiet but deep thinker who is exceptionally well versed on village affairs. He is not engaged in local business and will well represent the commuter population.

Recommendations of E. M. Wallace, Mary Hallet Pedersen and Gertrude M. Schwemm for members of the Library Board and of A. D. Church for Police Magistrate are deemed to require neither explanation nor argument.

The recommended candidates are entirely unencumbered by the past troubles of the village. In co-operation with board members who have endeavored to place village affairs in the open, they will give Barrington a government worthy of the complete confidence of its citizens.

The musical numbers given by the four clubs were very good, the sweet tone quality in both groups being especially pleasing. Helen Jure and Alvin Kocher did nicely in their piano work. The entire program was a credit to the Junior high department.

500 Physicians Attend T.B. Clinic in Chicago

Nearly five hundred physicians of the Chicago area enrolled last week for a series of tuberculosis clinics being given at the college of medicine of the University of Illinois, 1835 W. Park street, Chicago.

The clinics are provided by a grant from the Chicago Tuberculosis Institute, known as the Theodore R. Sachs fund, and are being directed by Dr. Samuel A. Levinson, assistant professor at the college. They are part of the annual early diagnosis campaign being conducted by the institute. Another group of lectures for nurses is now in progress.

Three outstanding specialists in the field of tuberculosis have been selected to hold the clinics at the university. Dr. R. H. Jaffe, Cook county hospital pathologist, held three clinics last week April 9-11.

He will be followed by Dr. Lawrence Brown, who will hold clinics for a period of two weeks beginning April 17. He is chief physician at the University of London, England.

Beginning May 8, clinics in tuberculosis of infancy and childhood will be given under the same auspices. The speaker is Dr. E. Gorter, who is professor of children's diseases at the University of Leiden, Holland.

Earth 1½ Billion Years Old
How old is the earth and how may we know its age?

An analysis of the principal methods which have been applied to the solution of this problem, and the results obtained, is presented in an article in the April issue of Field Museum news, monthly bulletin published for the several thousand members of Field Museum of Natural History. Sharrat K. Roy, assistant curator of invertebrate paleontology, is the author.

All that can be stated, definitely from the data thus far produced by study of the most reliable indicator known, is that the earth's age is at least far exceeds 1,500,000,000 years. Mr. Roy concludes.

For Comfort—your car has to be big enough so you can be comfortable in it. Pontiac has a wheelbase of 115 inches.

For Performance—you have to have a big, powerful engine. Pontiac's engine is a big 77-horsepower Straight Eight that gives you 78 real miles per hour.

For Economy—you have to have engine efficiency. Letters from people who have taken Pontiac's Economy Demonstration say that it gives 15 miles or more to the gallon of gasoline.

For Appearance—well, just look at it and you'll see what Pontiac is. Pontiac shows the effects of a new finesse in styling that is making it one of the most talked about cars of the year.

For Safety—you have to have scientifically designed and ruggedly built bodies and chassis. Pontiac's 4-door Sedan weighs 3265 pounds at the curb, and all closed cars have bodies by Fisher. Fisher No Draft Ventilation is a special feature in all closed models.

Only if you have Pontiac's size and weight and engine in your car, can you expect to really get their benefits out of the car. Pontiac is a typical General Motors Value—an outstanding car in the low price field—and a good car to buy.

A Pledge to the People of Barrington by the Undersigned Independent Candidates for Village Offices

1. We will use every possible means to avoid a special assessment on the property owners to pay for a new sewer system. We will safeguard the right of the Village to have the Sewer Case reviewed by the Supreme Court of the State of Illinois and if consistent with the wishes of the property owners, the welfare of the Village, and the advice of the Citizens Advisory Committee, we pledge ourselves to have the case reviewed by the Supreme Court.
2. We will maintain the strictest economy in all Village functions and will seek co-operation with the other local taxing bodies, civic organizations and the taxpayers in a united drive to substantially reduce taxes. Village expenses will be cut from the top down.
3. We will set up and rigidly maintain a budget system for the Village and work towards the goal of placing the Village on a firm financial standing and on a cash basis of doing business. This budget will be made public and understandable.
4. We will place the Village Attorney and Engineer on a contract basis of payment in any work (this is a recommendation of the Citizens Advisory Committee).
5. We will oppose any further special or supplemental assessments and any unnecessary expenditures of public money. In no case will special assessments be levied upon property owners without the full consent of the property owners affected and interested.
6. We will strive to bring a speedy and just conclusion to the subject of over-issued and forged bonds. The liability and responsibility for these, over-issued and forged bonds will be placed where the facts and the law warrant them to be placed.
7. We will support the police in their work and will permit no public official to interfere with the police in the discharge of their duties.
8. We have avoided and will not enter into any entangling public, private or political alliances with the Village Attorney, the Village Engineer or the other appointive officers no matter who they may be, whether present or future incumbents of those offices.
9. We will oppose the attempted "grab" of the Metropolitan District plan which would saddle upon the people of this community the financial burden of the bankrupt tax-eating organizations of Chicago. We stand for home rule in home affairs.
10. We have prosecuted and will continue to prosecute the suit of the Village to collect from the Paving Contractors an apparent overpayment of $10,000.
11. We further pledge that although we have co-operated in the publication of this advertisement of things important to Barrington we are in no sense a political group nor are we politically allied with anyone or with each other. Each of us filed his own petition independently and neither individually nor collectively are we sponsored by, or under obligations to, any political group, office-holder or office-seeker.
12. If elected we will conduct ourselves in a non-partisan independent manner working honestly and sincerely for the best interests of the Citizens of Barrington.

INFLATION CONTING

Inflation of the currency is surely coming.

The old guard of "sound currency" advocates has been steadily diminishing and major daily newspapers have one by one swung from the old idea of "don't tamper with the currency" to the new idea as expressed in the phrase "money is man made and not divine, and as such it must be regulated by men."

The strongest argument against inflation is the experience of several other countries and of our own country in the past. Germany of the post war years from 1919 to 1924 is the present big shining example of whom not to imitate. During the last few months of Germany's inflation period a bushel basket of paper marks would not purchase food for a family for one day.

However, this country is going to attempt inflation on a "controlled basis." The administration in Washington is in favor of it, congressional leaders are in favor of it, agricultural leaders are in favor of it, and in fact many of the financial leaders believe it will work. An idea of what is hoped for by inflation is given in the following excerpt of an article published in the Daily News of Tuesday:

"Should inflation take place the price of common stocks would rise, the price of commodities, including grain, would rise, the price of real estate would rise, the cost of living would rise.

"Against this, debts would be more certain to be repaid and bonds would come closer to par, but dollars obtained would not buy as much as before because of the higher prices.

"Ultimately, when the price situation had been corrected, it might be time enough to return to a gold redemption basis either on the old values, if people had been able to work out their debts in the meantime, or on the new valuation proposed by the 'committee of the nation' in case it seemed better to preserve the peace-time inflation which had been set up."

A BRIGHTER EASTER

Easter has a broader meaning than almost any other holiday. To the people over all Christian countries of the world, Easter connotes a day of happiness, a return of bright days following a period of dark. The time of year in the Northern hemisphere fits the meaning of the day perfectly.

Easter falls on a day of spring, usually mid-spring, when people first become fully aware that days are brighter and warmer and winter is past.

This year Easter will have a greater significance, a deeper meaning, than the day has had in many years. In addition to coming after the subdued Lenten period, in addition to marking the division between winter and summer, Easter this year will seem to many as the beginning of a new era, as the first holiday after the major part of the world has emerged from a four year financial depression.

Not many women will wear expensive bonnets, and not many men will blossom out in new suits and top coats, but a great many will have lighter hearts and wear gay smiles than they have on any Easter day for several years.

WHAT DOES THE AVERAGE MAN READ?

What does the average man read? Attempting to answer this question The American Newspaper Publishers' Association canvassed the reading habits of a representative group.

The results indicated that men average forty-five minutes a day reading newspapers, twenty-five minutes a day on magazines and one-half of the men average less than one book a month.

In other words men spend twice as much time on magazines as on books and five times as much on newspapers. This ought to be interesting to those who advertise.

From the standpoint of culture the radio may be deplored, but in the present day of better newspapers the columns contain much that is neither trivial or ephemeral.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

By National Editorial Association (Special to The Review)

CONGRESSIONAL LEADERS are hopeful that business will be cleared up to permit adjustment before the session of the Senate which could not be properly labeled "emergency" has been voted at the capitol. The Black bill providing for a five day week of six hours each was pushed through the Senate as a relief measure for unemployment. The House leaders have attempted to put it aside until the administration's original program of reconstruction can be adopted. It is argued that the demand for a 20-hour week is sponsored by the American Federation of Labor and while its purpose is reasonably commendable the measure at this time would disrupt industry and commerce. The claim that the bill would almost immediately cut out a million labor to work and restore purchasing power is questioned in both administration and legislative circles. Contentions have been advanced that federal control over production by regulation of labor would be met by an intensified "machine age" or mechanical substitutes for humans in industry.

DISMANTLING — A bill to insure bank deposits indicates that action will be taken at this session. It was planned to reach the Senate in the fact that Senator Carter Glass of Virginia is sponsoring the measure and will make a strong case for it. The bill will probably be debated for some time as the steps proposed are revolutionary to bankers. The idea back of the plan is to address public confidence in banks and prevent bank holidays. The main argument against the plan is that a 100 per cent guarantee of deposits would tend to encourage sound banking and lessen the credit standing of the government. There is a wide element between the "insurers" and "insured" of deposits. The insurers would be borne by the banks. The legislators may favor the proposal which does not involve a charge on the treasury. Insurance of funds is not new as it states have tried it in various forms and usually failed. The results at present are starked so that congress may deliberate on the many phases without pressure for emergency action.

THE SUPREME COURT will probably review for the summer before and cases involving recent legislation can be brought up for review. The Supreme Court, however, will be dumped in their laps as an interested citizen press for an official ruling on the validity of congressional acts. The question of legislation are naturally interested in the prospect of one or two changes in the personnel of the highest tribunal. The trend toward liberalism in court decisions has been noted in recent years and the highest court is 5 to 4 decisions a division of opinion among the learned justices that preside over the nation's highest court.

Therefore any vacancies which may occur from death or resignation will be of the utmost importance. Appointment to the supreme court is the greatest recognition that the president may bestow on a lawyer. The beer bill is slated for an early test in state courts and will probably reach the federal tribunal at the fall term beginning in October.

NINE MEN wearing the flowing black robes of their high office will ultimately have the responsibility of determining whether Congress has acted within its constitutional rights in dealing with current economic and social problems. It is generally acknowledged here that all major legislative acts will be submitted to the judicial scrutiny of the supreme court of the United States. The attitude of Congress in disposing of numerous measures of far-reaching importance has been aptly summarized by Senator Gore of Oklahoma as "the potent magic of a wishbone."

THE ADMINISTRATION is giving attention to international problems now that the domestic situation is less strained. The prime ministers of Great Britain, Italy and France are expected here shortly to attend conferences with President Roosevelt. Mr. Roosevelt is holding a huge naval construction program as a trump to ward curtailment of military by the larger nations. There is the matter of reciprocal tariff treaties to stimulate world trade. The Senate has given notice that World Court and League of Nations items are taboos. The little group of progressive republicans who supported the Roosevelt cabinet will turn against him on league policies. The chief executive needs their support at all times as the democratic majority in the Senate is not always responsive to his wishes.

THE PRESIDENT has been granted such tremendous powers for relief work that he must necessarily delegate the work to qualified subordinates. The emergency situation calling for action might easily be abused which accounts for the care exercised in picking executives. The purchase of lands under the forestry work relief bill will be observed. Those having desirable land for sale will not be permitted to boost the price, for the government intends to exercise its strong powers. During the war prices were skyrocketed when the government was a bidder. It is said that steps will be taken to check this holding of values.

NO GREAT CONCERN exists in official circles that a thorough probe of the powerful house of Morgan and its associates will be made in legislation dealing with the issuance of securities will exercise a harmful influence on business recovery. The repercussions which would usually follow such sensational action have been largely discounted by the banking crisis. The public has accustomed itself to shocks in the field of finance and industry. It seems certain that the Roosevelt program of controlling securities will be approved soon as a means of protecting the public. The bill will be the old "blue-sky" laws changed to meet new conditions.

CONGRESSIONAL authorization of emergency and relief projects recommended by the president are given with such speed that it is physically impossible to set up the necessary machinery for the projects. So many units of the federal agencies are involved that inter-departmental conferences are baffled at the details. The labor conservation plan having to do with the employment of 250,000 idle men requires a blending of four departmental groups. It is said that a national command will be appointed to head the new activity and the recruiting will probably be conducted by agencies to be formed in the various states.

T.B. Dark warnings of what the future may bring in the way of tuberculosis as a result of the depression have emanated from the Illinois health department. He on guard against the disease that has just plain facts with all the difficulties which follow in the wake of unemployment and poverty are factors in the spread of tuberculosis.

There are two mighty important points bearing upon this situation. One is that short rations even to the point of starvation will not cause tuberculosis. Neither will overcrowding. The other point is that tuberculosis cannot occur without the presence in the body of the tubercle bacillus—the germ of tuberculosis. A person free from the tubercle bacillus might starve to death, either gradually or rapidly, but he would never have tuberculosis. A dozen people all of whom were free from the tubercle bacillus could sleep in the same room indefinitely and not one would get tuberculosis for that reason.

"We Need Money"—Horner Attorney General Kern has publicly announced that, since congress has ruled that $2.00 is not money, the state should not try to license it, any more than it should license soda pop, coffee or tea. But Gov. Horner wants revenue, and more revenue. He also insists upon the political power that goes with state licenses.

Considerable revenue will have to be raised to pay for the state "soup-ers" who are expected to take the field under the Horner beer bill. The bill imposes a license on all brew made in the state for sale in the state and upon all beer imported into the state. Democratic leaders estimate that it will take from 200 to 500 "soupers" to check up on the surreptitious makers and sellers of home brew at a quarter a quart and the railroad and truck imports from other states.

These "soupers" can be covered up for a time by having the legislature appropriate a lump sum to the Director of Finance to handle beer tax collections until July 1, when they will have to appear in the regular budget.

Art and Good Art When a man tells a story, composes a song, or paints a picture with the object of communicating an emotion to others, then there is art; and when the emotion is new and springs from a fresh religious attitude to the world, then that is good art.
