NO ECONOMY FOR SUBURBS

Professor Merriam of Chicago university in an address before the LaGrange Civic club, outlined a plan of his own that involves a state of Chicago and environs with the possible inclusion of a portion of the state of Indiana in the metropolitan district. He opposes the Griffenhausen plan as being too drastic and declares that no action should be taken without the propositions being submitted to a vote of the people.

When asked to show where the proposed plan would work out economy to the taxpayers of the country towns, Professor Merriam was unable to give any satisfactory answer. Nor have any of the proponents of metropolitan districts planned to be able to show the economy, although all declare that is the prime motive of their efforts.

Speaking of representation, Professor Merriam, in his LaGrange address commented on the fact that the country towns of Cook county were entitled to far greater representation in the general assembly at Springfield than they are now enjoying. He understood there were but four representatives in the general assembly from Cook county towns and thought there should be at least twelve according to the population of this area which is 605,000. It is a fact that the representation of the Cook county suburbs now enjoy in Springfield is two state senators, Huebsch of Brookfield and Barbour of Evanston, and four members of the lower house, Ickes, Foster, McGrath, from the seventh district and representative Slater of Evanston from the sixth district.

NON-PARTISAN

Another of the pieces of legislation that is being viewed with considerable favor among suburbanites is the group of bills which propose to hold the township elections and the village elections in November instead of in April as was done this year. Most of the representatives of the country towns are in favor of the non-partisan lines that have aligned friends in village and township politics regardless of county, state and national party lines.

They point out that the changing of the date to the general election in November will inject party politics into all the township and village offices with the result that the non-partisan character of these governments will be effected.

It is not thought that sufficient of the members of the general assembly can be corralled to vote for this bill but the association feels that every piece of legislation should be scrutinized and the members of the general assembly representing this district should be informed of the views of the association on these measures.

DOLE, BUT UNPAID TEACHERS

The 13,000 Chicago school teachers, unpaid since last June, have taken a lesson from the foreign element in Cook county, which is getting most of the emergency relief funds at the rate of $7,000,000 a month. The favorite threat of the corporation counsel when he appeared in Springfield for relief legislation was that the unemployed would riot and the state would have to maintain the national guard in Chicago unless funds were forthcoming.

Now the teachers are parading and calling on people at the most inopportune times. They chased Acting Mayor Corr out of Grant Park when he wanted to make speech at a flag raising, it was reported. They marched through the park of Melvin A. Taylor, who is claimed to be the overlord of the democratic machine in Illinois.

It would take many volumes to set forth the reason given for not paying the teachers, but the fact remains that Chicago has found nearly $75,000,000 in cash for the dole while the working teachers have been ignored. Other city employees—the political payrolls—are only two months behind in getting their wages.

Men must expect to work and sacrifice for their work if they are to accumulate enough of this world's goods to live with any degree of comfort.

GEORGE WASHINGTON'S TRAVELS

AFTER UNSUCCESSFULLY TRYING TO GET AWAY FROM WOOD-TOWN CORNWALLIS REALIZED THAT SURRENDER WAS INEVITABLE. A MEETING PLACE WAS SUGGESTED AT THE WIDOW MOORE'S HOUSE, STILL STANDING, AND HERE THE SURRENDER TERMS WERE AGREED UPON BETWEEN REPRESENTATIVES OF THE TWO ARMIES. NOT FAR DISTANT STANDS A GRANITE STONE MARKING THE EXACT SPOT UPON WHICH THE SCEPTER OF RULE IN THE NEW WORLD WAS TRANSFERRED FROM KING TO CITIZEN.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

By National Editorial Association
(Special to The Review)

THE YOUNGSTERS listened to impassioned speeches in the Senate and House and assumed that men's votes on measures were governed by oratory. What the students did not see and consequently will not include in their descriptive essays is important. They did not know, for instance, that the fate of measures is determined by committee members of committees, that trading is conducted in the cloakrooms or in talks with party leaders when votes are counted on each legislative item up for a vote.

The outbreak of insurgency among the demagogues in the Senate is the result of their desire to admit to their leaders to bind them to their policies. The emergency bills have been passed as requested by the white house. Now they intend to settle down to wrangling over the details of the legislation.

The consequence is that the chief executive now arranges to confer with important leaders and others known to him, leaving out the obstructing minorities. Current opinion is to the effect that patronage will be distributed freely in exchange for votes when sufficient bills that affect legislation are presented at the invitation of the government.

THE 30-HOUR per week labor bill still provides opportunity for its proponents.

The American Legion Federation insists on an amendment covering foreign products which would place an embargo on imported goods entering in large quantities.

There is a difference of opinion in the administration as to the general bill. Miss Perkins, who has been in Chicago for 25 years to live, has had a very perplexing problem to which she could not find a solution. Her offices are directly across the street from Chicago's largest department store. During the past six years he has been a member of the board of directors of that store with packages, and has seen delivery trucks pulling away with monotonous regularity, but not noting that when these trucks have ever seen a single delivery wagon, pushcart or other vehicle pull up to that store and unload anything.

When I suggested to him that he had the effect of the Chicago Tunnel and Terminal, he said, "I could not even throw some light on the subject, he was rather embarrassed.

The bill has been introduced by Senator Roosevelt and tied up with committee amendments which hinder early passage.

NEARLY 100,000 visitors have been in Washington for the Easter holidays. The majority have been taking first-hand information on the federal government and the administration, political services on the government payroll. The essays which will be written on their return will probably furnish a variety of impressions for their parents and friends.

Students and girls could be condensed and supplemented by that never reached their young ears, the country could have an interesting picture of current events at the time of their visit.

THE FIRST will be moving day of the Chicago Tunnel company at 7:54 W. Jackson Boulevard and we want to know what information I could get first hand. S. W. Tracy, president of the Chicago Tunnel and Terminal, has a bill that anyone would consider their could system an interesting subject for a newspaper article. Perhaps for that reason I could make more consideration that I have anticipated.

There are sixty-two miles of tunnels forty feet under the surface.

They are being set up now in the fact that they greatly relieve traffic congestion in the miles square area of the city. The tunnel is a complete system of tunnels, below the level of any surface way that may be built. They are as hard as well as uneven. Unlike a road, they are not built to be repaired.

The great business of these tunnels is moving men, materials and equipment through the tunnel.

They connect with all the major roads, and the business is great.

The small mortgage recording and abstract fees, but does not pay any inspection investigation for free.

FLIGHT, frightened and politically amateurish, will make an effort to sustain school delegations from their districts. These visitors will be the most numerous in the world.

A digest of one luncheon speech is perhaps typical. A somewhat cynical 18 year old student explained it this way: "I am here to get away from my district and was to brag about how much he was doing for the folks in my neighborhood."

Horner Announces Plan for State Aid to Debtors

Plans for the creation of a voluntary and state-wide organization of conciliators to negotiate reasonable adjustments between debtors and creditors that is hoped will further ease the farm and home mortgage foreclosure situation in Illinois were announced Friday by Gov. Horner, whose members will be appointed by the governor to serve without compensation, machinery will be provided to assist the state in its investigation that new life and new impetus will be given to the appeal he recently made for forbearance on the part of debtors.

At the head of the committee will be a small committee of outstanding business men, who will guide and direct the work of the sub-committees that will be needed as soon as possible.

The sub-committees will be composed of outstanding farmers and business men, who will be appointed by the governor to serve without compensation, machinery will be provided to assist the state in its investigation that new life and new impetus will be given to the appeal he recently made for forbearance on the part of debtors.

would be practically impossible.

Naturally the largest business of the tunnels is with the railroads, and most of the freight is delivered to the various railroads terminals daily and eight hundred cars are loaded for delivery to local consignees and shippers in Illinois. In a single day, 100,000 tons of freight are delivered to the railroads.

From the sub-stations deliveries are made by light trucks to the homes. As far from Illinois as the railroads terminals are, the tunnels are used to transport coal and other materials.

English Sparrows Brought to the U. S. Years Ago

The earliest introduction of the English Sparrow into this country was in 1850, when 50 pairs were set free in Brooklyn, N. Y. Others were soon released at other points, but the American belief was that these birds would provide a welcome source of food for the caterpillars that, in turn, liked to feed on the leaves of the trees.

The English Sparrow, which is native to Europe, was introduced into the United States, and, in fact, much of America, most authorities agree that it does much more harm than good. Feeding on seeds, buds, and blossoms, it is said, it makes itself a destructive garden visitor, troubling vermin and disease germs, making unsightly nests in inconvenient places, and driving away garter, more desirable birds, are some of the habits which have jarred the popularity of this bird.

Tribe of Yahgans at Tip of World Dwindling Out

The Yahgans, the southernmost inhabitants of the world, are described by an American explorer as nearing extinction.

The explorer was the first to cross the heart of the island in which they live, as head of a scientific expedition.

Though the tribe had fought a successful fight against nature, he told the Royal Geographical Society, contact with civilization has reduced the people in the last sixty years from about twenty-five hundred to less than fifty.

They inhabit the southern island of the Tierra Del Fuego archipelago, 200 miles from the southern extremity of South America.

Though Charles Darwin at one time pointed to them as the lowest order of humanity, Colonel Forlong said they had a vocabulary of 40,000 words. They have, however, he said, no numeral above three.

Mount Tessed in England

A geological interest is operated in London to examine drivers of motor vehicles for judgment and nerve reaction in emergencies. The subject is often described as an oncoming road, and as the different obstacles confront him, the details of his operating skill are automatically recorded on a chart.

Cattalo Is Scheduled to Supplant Humped Buffalo

Even though the buffalo should some day become extinct, a possibility that is not so sure as it was some years ago before steps had been taken to save the animal, while remains one of a bumble-bee with its activity as soon as it is out of the shell. There is one species, however, which is the opposite. The bison keeps its young in the nest for about two months after hatching, as they cannot feed by a year.

The cattalo is the result of experiments started back in 1890 by the Canadian government and continued since 1915 by the Canadian government. It has the heavy, durable hide and warm thick hair of the buffalo. It also has the stocky, short legs of the cattle, and is said to be more docile with them like domestic animals. Like the buffalo the cattalo can forage and thrive on comparatively poor pastures, and will even find through the snows with which the ground may be covered, too deep, and last, but not least important of the traits this hybrid animal has borrowed from its study buffalo ancestor. It does not require winter shelter.

To Canvass Votes

Members of the village board will meet at 7:30 p. m. Friday to canvass the results of Tuesday's election. This is a matter of routine which is required by law.
