Utilities Ready to Make Voluntary Reduction in Rates Gov. Horner Told

A reduction in the future rate on rates to consumers of gas and electricity in Barrington and other communities served by the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois, the Peoples Gas Light and Coke company and the Commonwealth Edison company seems apparent as the result of recent action in Springfield, and especially a conference Wednesday between James Simpson, head of the companies, and Governor Henry Horner.

The utility companies are ready to make a voluntary reduction in rates to gas and electric consumers. Mr. Simpson told Gov. Horner. To make possible a reduction in rates to consumers the companies maintain that they will have to make a reduction in dividends to stockholders to keep the companies' finances in good shape.

Just how much of a reduction is to be made to the individual consumer is not yet known but it is reported to be not less than 5 per cent.

Elmer Reports on Bank Association Plan for Deposits

If banks must guarantee deposits to the depositor, the latter in turn must guarantee to leave their time deposits in the banks for fixed periods of time without withdrawal, according to the consensus of opinion expressed at the annual meeting of the Illinois Bankers' association held in Chicago, Tuesday.

Charles A. Elmer, cashier of the First National bank, who attended the meeting, reported that the bankers generally favor a plan for making deposits absolutely safe as based on this suggestion for guaranteed time deposits. The plan was outlined by Louis M. Krensch, investment banker of Chicago.

The plan in brief follows: All money taken in at the bank would be automatically placed in either time or demand deposits. Time deposits would be for stated periods of time, probably four or five years. This form of deposit would pay a comparatively high bank rate of interest, 4 per cent, 4 1/2 per cent, or possibly higher, but the money could be withdrawn until the stated time of deposit expires, even if the money is not needed. However, if a time depositor needs the money, he may borrow on his certificate at the current rate of interest.

If a person could not guarantee to leave his money in for several years, he could deposit it only as a demand deposit. This would mean that the depositor had to pay a demand deposit form by the bank. The bank would not be required to pay the money in low rate of interest government bonds in order to earn money on the demand money to pay for handling it. The system would also exclude the plan for depositing money in low rate of interest government bonds in order to earn money on the demand money to pay for handling it. Recognized by State
University

Ela Township High School has received a North Central Association certificate for membership for another year. Membership in this organization is given only for a year at a time. Each year the school must comply with the standards and regulations of the association.

To those interested in Ela Township High School this means that the high standards of the association are highly respected and that the school is a part of the school. Ela's accreditation by the North Central Association of Colleges and Universities of Illinois is such that the high school was not visited this year in order to hold individual conferences.

This means that upon the last visitation of the high school visitor, he found the standards and efficiency of the school so commendable that this accreditation was extended indefinitely. This speaks of the high standards for Ela, as the majority of high schools must be visited every year by the university.

Mrs. E. Jackson Dewire
Reviews "Great Meadows"
at Last Book Review Meet

The last meeting of the book review club of the Lake Zurich Community Women's club was held at the home of Mrs. J. T. Griffith on Friday, June 7.

The book, "The Great Meadows" by Elizabeth M. Johnson, was read and skillfully interpreted by Mrs. E. Jackson Dewire. The story is one of pioneer life in Virginia during the years of 1774-1781. It presents a picture of the primitive life of the settlement at Five Forks, in the Allegheny country, and continues with the adventures of the brave men and women who, leaving this comfortable life, went to the wilderness beyond the mountain barriers into the rich new lands to the south. Here, amid constant danger from Indians, they built new homes and established a settlement in the heart of the wilderness.

Those who have attended this year's book review club forward to the resumption of the book review club activities in the fall.

Census Indicates

Depression affected marriages and divorces last year in Lake County much the same as it did other things, it appears from the records of the Federal Census bureau.

There were 4,816 marriage licenses issued in the county in 1932 and 5,156 in 1931 or a drop of 341. The county second in the state with Cook county first with 55,274. The third county was Rock Island with 15,096, then Winnebago with 12,828 and St. Clair with 10,228.

The county was seventh in the state in the number of divorces granted, with Cook first with 6,626. Peoria being second with 3,600. St. Clair third with 2,660. Madison fourth with 2,741, Sangamon fifth with 2,415 and Kane sixth with 2,077.

Lake county was second in marriage in 1931 and eighth in divorces. In the state as a whole there were 6,082 marriages in 1932 compared to 7,123 in 1931. There were 11,745 divorces in 1932 and 13,881 in 1931.

For the state as a whole 84 per cent were married out of 1,000 in 1932 and 151 out of 1,000 were divorced. It figures to be more or less for every six marriages.

1933 Illinois Highway
Maps Are Available

The 1933 Illinois highway map has just been received from the printer and is available to the public. Acting Director Robert Kinney of the department of public works and buildings announced.

Many new features have been embodied in the map. For motorists who plan a trip to the Chicago Century of Progress, there is a special map showing all the principal highways to the exposition grounds. Even the streets leading from the state highway to the exposition park are marked.

Federal routes are identified by line; state bond issue routes by heavy black lines. Other marks indicate roads carrying four lanes of traffic, made under construction, and proposed state highways.

Illinois State Fair Is Assured of Success

Director of agriculture, Walter W. McLaughlin, says: "Plans for the 1933 Illinois state fair to be held August 19-26, are well underway."

"It is apparent, even at this early date, that this year the Illinois state fair cannot be the greatest in its history. From the proceeds of licensed racing, and without drawing upon funds derived from property taxes, the 1933 Illinois state fair will offer $150,000 in premiums."

"That amount is greater than any other state supported or state sponsored agricultural fair in the United States this year, and in itself, is sufficient guaranty of the Illinois fair's continued leadership, if other improvements had not been made by the new officials."

Language Is Complex
The language of the Basques, an old race living in the Pyrenees, is so complex that it has not yet been fully investigated; they are one of the faintest nations in Europe, perhaps what is left of the vanished people of Atlantis.

Primitive Tribes

The world still contains primitive tribes that live as their ancestors did many thousands of years ago. They wear no clothing, have no homes and cannot make a fire. Some of them do not even realize that the sun is the source of daylight—Collier's.

GOVERNMENT MUST DELIVER

"During the period of thirteen years from 1919 to 1932 our federal government was perhaps the most expensive government that ever existed among men..." said Senator McKellar of Tennessee, recently. "Up to the World war our national expenditures had never reached a billion dollars per year. For the 10 years after the war the entire expense reached the enormous average figure of over five billions a year, and just running expenses, exclusive of interest paid on the national debt and all sums paid to veterans, exceeded the vast sum of three billion dollars."

As the senator further observed, the war was partially guilty for this, but guiltier yet was the boom prosperity of the times, which had the direct result of enormous expansion in both business and government. Since the boom passed away business has cut its sails to the prevailing wind but government has refused to. And the consequence of that tax burden is seen on every hand. It is seen in bread-lines because the weight of taxation has forced industries to renege and plants to close entirely. It is seen in the farming states—where thousands of farms, large and small, have been forced for failure to pay taxes. It is seen in the resident districts of towns and cities—where thousands of homes have been lost for the same reason.

The federal government has made a start toward economy. It will, and must, go farther. And states, counties and municipalities must fall in line.

Every public official stressed tax reduction in his pre-election promises, and it is time the goods were delivered.

TIME FOR REPAIRING

The only sound solution to the unemployment problem is the providing of productive work for those who are out of jobs.

All the charity in the world, good and necessary as it may be, cannot duplicate work that accomplishes something, and gives the person or the business that buys it an article or service of definite value. All the political relief schemes, well-intentioned as they are, amount to no more than doles when the money spent does not provide normal jobs and employment.

This measurement—productive work—should be the standard by which the individual in doing his bit to alleviate distress at all provide employment. To most of us, property improvement is the answer. The average citizen, during the last three years, has been reluctant to spend money. He has let needed household repairs go undone. The result is that many homes are rapidly going to pieces, are becoming fire-traps, or are uncomfortable and inefficient to live in. Today the repairs, betterments and additions that will bring property up to snuff, can be made for a fraction of former costs, and money so spent does a double duty. It gives the workmen a productive labor, and buys the property-owner improvement at bargain prices.

So, go to your local lumber yards, hardware stores, painters, carpenters and cement men and make plans for needed reconditioning of your buildings. Every dollar you spend will be a blow struck at depression. And remember that while charity is good, jobs and investments and productive work are essential to create profits from which indispensable charities are supported.

RETURN TO THE LAND

The return to the land movement, given impetus by the depression, is not confined to the inhabitants. Investment money promises to follow the same path.

The 1929 crash in industrial securities has gone a long way in emphasizing the truth of the old axiom that property is the repository of wealth. Land and commodities, physical manifestations of wealth, are the root of trade. Money is not wealth, but the measuring stick of wealth.

Some respectable economists believe that a great deal of investment capital withdrawn from the real estate field during the five years of stock gambling will again return to that field. The inflationary movement on which the country is launched will tend inevitably toward the increase of commodity prices and as inevitably react on land values. Land will take its ancient place as the foundation stone of the economic structure.

As currency expansion shrinks the idle dollar, so the urge to invest increases with the promise of rising commodity prices. Real estate should feel some of the first effects of the return of investment money to the firing line. Currency expansion, an invisible tax on money, in that it reduces public and private debt, with a compensating relief of taxation on land and commodities, must direct the attention of the investor to property investments.—Daily News, Orange, California.

When Uncle Sam drives an individual out of business by selling below cost of production, who pays the taxes of the "evicted" business man? Ask us an easy one. The consumer is the "last man." He pays it.

Wandering From This to That

Selling Free Flour

How flour for distribution for unemployed relief came to be sold to state institutions and used by them for the last few days, is under investigation by both the American Red Cross and Gov. Horner.

Discovery of the use of the Red Cross bags was made at the Southern Illinois penitentiary at Menard a few days ago. All of the flour was shipped by the Hall Milling company of 430 S. Front street, East St. Louis.

The Hall company got a state contract to supply flour during April, May and June to the Menard prison, St. Charles school for boys, Elgin hospital, Dixon state hospital, Normal orphanage home, Jacksonville state hospital and the Kankakee state hospital. The first car of flour was received at Menard on April 10. Guards immediately noticed that bags of the Red Cross were used to hold the flour.

Trains printed on each sack was a large red cross. Over this was the lettering "mailed from government-owned warehouse by authority of act of congress." Underneath was printed "the flour is distributed by the Red Cross. NOT TO BE SOLD. Mail No. 8."

Fight Until Legs Are Gone
The stick insects, relatives of the mantis, frequently fight among themselves until both contestants are reduced to mere bodies with out any legs. This is not necessarily fatal, however, for unless the insects are fully matured, having gone through their final molting, they will be able to grow new limbs to replace the one that has been lost.

Suggests Tax Boost of $1,000,000 Yearly

State Examines 405 Dog Heads for Rabies

Since the first of the year the diagnostic laboratories of the state department of public health have examined for hydrophobia or rabies the heads of 405 dogs sent in by citizens from all parts of the state. Positive signs of rabies were found in about one-third of the heads. May was the heaviest month for mad dogs, the laboratory experience shows.

The state department has distributed to date this year material for the anti-rabies treatment of about 600 people who were bitten by dogs suspected or known to have rabies. Heads are examined free by the department and treatments are free to people unable to bear the cost. Most of the rabies this year has been in central and southern Illinois. There have been three deaths from rabies among humans reported.

Oyster Invasion From Japan

In Japan the art of oyster culture has been developed. It is said, way beyond any methods practiced in this country. The Japanese oysters are large and of fine quality, and they are likely to crowd out the native bivalve. In two years about 32,000 boxes of "seed" were shipped to the Pacific coast from Japan and planted. Each box contains from 5,000 to 20,000 baby oysters, and it is estimated that at least 150,000 "alien" oysters have been put in the waters of the West coast to compete with the native product and with native fishermen. When it is remembered that it takes only about 250 adult oysters to make a bushel, the "invasion" becomes something of a problem.
