Efforts to Keep Church at Coolidge Lot Fail; Building Permit Granted

Efforts of various of property holders to avert the sale of the lot at Coolidge and Lillard streets proved unsuccessful Monday night when the village commissioners issued a permit for building a transmission issue a permit to the congregation.

A group of church members were present at the board meeting to urge that the permit be rescinded, but the owners were present to urge that the application be denied.

It was only one course that the board could follow, namely the right to prevent church buildings from going into class A residential, and no ordinance of this kind has ever been passed.

Church building, however, is not prohibited by the zoning ordinance, but the church building must be a church and not a residence.

Scouts Celebrate Anniversary at 3 Large Gatherings

Program Includes District Rally, Church Service and Court of Honor

Three busy days marked Barrington's observance of the 25th anniversary of scouting. About 110 local scouts attended the rally at Park Ridge for all boys in the northwest suburban area. Saturday, the 14th, a council meeting was held at the St. Francis church here. Sunday, they held their court of honor at the auditorium of Barrington high school for a large audience Tuesday evening.

After hearing President Roosevelt's radio address to the Boy Scouts of America, the scouts gathered to plan for an all-day church service.

Barrington's three troops and cub pack assembled at the Methodist church early Sunday afternoon and marched to the St. Francis church for a church service arranged in their honor.

The total number of Barrington and Cahn men and women on projects estimated at about 125.

Proposed Ordinance for Licensing Peddlers Is Read at Board Meeting

A proposed ordinance for licensing all peddlers working in Barrington was read at the village board meeting Monday night. The ordinance takes an amendment. It would require licenses from local as well as out-of-town vendors who sell from their wagons. It would not require licenses from collectors or from stores making deliveries.

Address, Scouts

The address was delivered by Rev. Charles B. Drusell, the local Baptist church, who was introduced by Rev. Philip Beascher as the dean of Barrington ministers. Rev. Drusell remarked, "I think this is the first time in the history of scouting that a group of young men have gathered together in a group of this size."

In picturing the good qualities expected of every scout, he drew from the life of Abraham Lincoln as an example. He illustrated the "beautiful and genuine sincerity of Lincoln as a man."

Among the good qualities expected upon the boy scouts were the qualities of truth, loyalty, cheerfulness, helpfulness, thrift, courtesy, cleanliness, and reverence. He urged the boys to strive for the things that are highest in life and to make their efforts to do good. In his closing remarks, he said that "one of the fine things of scouting is that it makes folks help."

Court of Honor

According to President Franklin D. Roosevelt, the court of honor is the highest award given to a boy scout. The court of honor will then expire with the terms of the presidency, the board and the three trustees who were elected last spring.

There will be a village president, a village president, and a village president for a term of two years, and that plan will be followed for the next two years.

Trustees will be candidates for re-election. Those whose terms expire are: John C. Cahn, Herman Kuhlman, and William G. Drusell.

Joe E. Brown, who has the title role in the new "College Coach," which opens at the Catlow theatre on Sunday, has a scene in the movie film at the box office. He was once a back at Marquette university, and is a well-known figure in New Haven's golf circles. This year, when they come to the Middle West, he will be a regular at the box office of the Hotel "The Carlton." The National will come February 18 to the Catlow theatre. Joe appears in one of the most interesting and charming comedies, women with equal facility.

Joe pictures, Joe has appeared in a summer, a winter, and a spring. These are but a few of his successes. He also plays polo, tennis, and golf. All this activity keeps him busy, but he still finds time for his work, which is required of him by his organization.

WHAT'S GOING ON

Out to spend $8 billion dollars in six months, the federal government is actually falling down badly on that spending job. The president is not yet ready to admit that the government is not spending enough. The six weeks' experience shows the program is $70,000,000 behind schedule and still slipping. During these six weeks the national finance corporation and the civil works administration have been the most promising spenders. They managed in the first week of January to pay out nearly $200 million of the $800 million that would have to be spent if the budget plan is to be kept before July 1.

Under fire, the national recovery administration is admitting that it may have made mistakes in policy during the first few months of its existence, but those mistakes, it claims, are being corrected. The administration is in a better position to know what is happening in attitude. Only recently NRA was one emergency organization that was too afraid to admit that it could do wrong. Now it has two more to worry about. One was that affecting prices. The other was that affecting the hard-pressed business. Both of these are getting intense attention. Of added urgency is the position of the business man whose costs have been increased by code operations, but whose demand for labor has not been increased. This kind of have poured into Washington. They now are on the point of being told that they are to blame for a strike made by A. D. Whitehead, division administrator of NRA, and Robert H. Montgomery, head of the research and planning division, officials planning to recommend a schedule for intermediate credit to the small employer.

The white house is not ready with a detailed plan for readjustment of debt but wisely recognizes and emphasizes for the present the broad principle and may soon be expected to give for revision of the existing laws to force governments to our government, on foreign debts to our citizens, on debts of our citizens to each other. Since currency inflation usually works hardship on the creditor class, the chance is now being offered as compromise with the debtor. Readjustment of debts is a precursor of a sound basis for business recovery. It is a mistake to say the administration is not doing its best. It is zigzagging from side to side but holding its public opinion well, which, after all, is important if we are to make any progress through the storm.

The government does not believe that gambling is a necessary part of business. It is a mistake to say the government is not doing its best to keep them in mind when they think of liquor advertising. The club held over the heads of radio stations and operators that there would be a commission with applications for hearing the renewal applications of all stations un嗔ed of the foregoing and they will be required to make a showing that their continued operation will serve public interest, convenience, and necessity."

The modern gold rush preceding out of the recent increase in value of the metal lacks the dramatic qualities which characterized the gold boom days of Alaska and California. To a large extent, it has been a matter of the sale of the pictures of the miners with his pan and shovel method of operation. C. W. Henderson, of the mining industry, makes the following observations points out the reason for the lack of new machinery, peak production in many mining centers will not be reached for several months. The reason has been a marked increase in activity, says, in some areas amounting to an increase of about 30 per cent in the number of men employed. The new price has given rise to many projects heretofore considered unprofitable.

Our Children

By Angelo Patri

e. Bell Syndicate—WNU Service

By the Book

Teachers who write and preach as much as I do ought to be the last, perhaps, to warn readers and listeners to the book, just my experiences forced me to caution conscientious people not to accept any and child training, the last and greatest one. There is no such thing.

Every child is an individual and different from his parents. When a doctor or a teacher or a child specialist of any sort, express an opinion given a direction, he comes as near the master as his knowledge and experience with all else. But there is always an uncertain element in the situation. That is the child himself.

When we have offered him our best, it may not be what he needs. We must always be on the alert for right adjustment between the child and us.

Take the matter of diet. Milk and eggs are fine foods for children. But how many? How many eggs? Is what form? That depends upon the child himself.

A mother called her child's physician because her child was not eating. The doctor, after the little one refused to touch an egg or anything that contained an egg, "Well, don't offer him an egg again. We'll give him something else and try to find out what he wants."

The doctor, however, suggested he ought to have an egg for his lunch doctor.

"True enough, but if he never eats an egg, I can't live and die if he never eats an egg." That seemed to astonish the young mother.

I am certain that after she has heard this she will not be surprised when one child's meat is another's poison.

The same idea holds throughout. One child likes his bacon and another prefers to lie down and sleep. One child sleeps with his feet and another finds every direction.

We can give one child permission to stay in the yard and know he will stay there, but another demands that his brother out of sight lest he be on the highway among the traffic, the instant we leave him alone.

Take the matter of children. The offer helpful advice. They suggest and they stimulate ideas in child training, but they have a limit. Where they have no mother's knowledge and first-hand knowledge of her child begin. That is why rearing a family requires the greatest skill and intelligence. That is why a mother's job demands the respect of all.

As my mother used to say, "If no other job ever does, 'Her children rise up and call her blessed.'"

Use the good books, listen to the experts, consult your physician, but always carry your own responsibility toward your own child.

A POOR BARGAIN

Governor Holman certainly traded the people of Illinois a potato for a basket of apples when he substituted the sales tax for the state property tax. State Treasurer Martin reports that the property tax collections in 1933 were $25,827,832.31 and that sales taxes for January were $4,436,352.23, or at the rate of $3,238,226.76 a year.

Half Million Annually

For Vets in Institutions

An appropriation of half a million dollars a year for the hospitalization in state institutions of mental cases among war veterans probably will be voted by congress according to Guy E. Bonney, superintendent of division of veterans service who returned from Washington recently. Veterans in Illinois who are cared for at the Elgin and Jacksonville hospitals will benefit to the extent of about $175,000 from this appropriation. Approximately 12,000 veterans are now cared for at the two hospitals but the greater part of the burden is borne by the state. Funds from the government in the present budgeting period will be used for the maintenance of only 225 of these former soldiers while the state paid for the rest.

New Deal: Valentine's Day is Local Success

Upcoming events: Next year during the New Deal if reported that Barrington people sent more valentines, candy, and flowers than this year in the era of depression. Local stores windows were filled with valentines throughout the weekend. The first day of this week—the local candy companies were still competing with modern, smart valentines for popularity. Each of the school rooms in the high school were decorated. Wednesday afternoon was devoted to the distribution of valentines. The king and queen made clay heart plaques for their mother and huge orange paper hearts for the valentines.

Flower valentines were shaped boxes of candy as adult expressions of devotion, according to reports. Popular valentines included attractive hearts and for-giving-moments cards with their corsages and delivered them in boxes adorned with hearts and gay red ribbon.
