"Permit me also to congratulate you upon your brilliant editorials in regard to the tax situation and in regard to the sales tax. I read them—every one—and they are highly instructive. Thanking you for your interest which I believe every newspaper should have that is interested in the welfare of the community and with all best wishes, I am very truly yours, Richard J. Evons."

It is much easier to tell the man in office he is wrong than to run for office and do the thing as it should be done.
