Record Tree Crop Being Set Out in Illinois Now

A record number of 151,000 trees are being put out on Illinois farms this year as part of plans to speed up the proper utilization of land and bring about better planned agricultural production, according to L. E. Sawyer, forestry extension specialist of the college of agriculture, University of Illinois and of the Illinois natural history survey. This is the 15th consecutive year largest in record for any one year in forestry projects sponsored by the extension service of the agricultural college and other agencies. Mr. Sawyer said.

The trees are costing from $2 to $7.50 a thousand and are being gathered from Pennsylvania, Indiana, Tennessee and local Illinois state forests.

Almost half of those trees, or about 60,000 of them, are black locust that will be planted for erosion control and the holding of blow sand land in different parts of the state.

About 32,000 pitch pine trees will be planted on sandy soils and on areas where no trees are growing. In addition about 46,000 Norway spruce and white spruce are being planted for Christmas trees and for windbreaks. One planting of 20,000 Christmas trees is being made in DeKalb county, and another of 10,000 in Livingston county.

The remaining 15,000 trees and pines in the 151,000 that will be set out this spring, and the rest are ash, maple and a variety of other species that are to be used in reforestation work it was reported.

Planting of the 151,000 trees is going forward at a time when the cost of labor for forests is much higher than it has been for several years. Mr. Sawyer pointed out. Recent legislation has revived certain wood-using industries while the adoption of the lumber code should assure the farm timber owner a fair price for his products.

Important Corn
Corn, and its products is one of the most important known to mankind. It is of special value to the chemical industry. According to an outline given to the American Chemical society corn furnishes them with one of the most important of the basic materials used in chemicals—starch. In fact, corn is 50 percent starch. A pound of starch is about thirty pounds of starch to the billion of corn. To turn a lot of this starch is converted into dextrose which is cornstarch sugar. Uses of dextrose are many and varied but one of the most important is its use as infant food. Dextrose is also identical with the sugar of the body and can be used by the cells with our digestive enzymes. Dextrose is also used in carbonated beverages to keep the gas in them from escaping. Another starch product is used for thickening starches and soups as well as thickening for colors in fabrics. Pathfinder Magazine.

Mail man finds freedom from furnace worries!

An interview with Mr. and Mrs. K. H. Wernicke, 15741 Marshfield Avenue, Harvey, Illinois

Mr. and Mrs. Wernicke are planning a new room in the basement now that the coal bin has been eliminated and there is no soot or dirt. The picture shows them going over their plans.

LET'S mean to have gas heat—and free of furnace worries!

"I start my route pretty early in the morning," says Mr. Wernicke, "and I have to go through many houses during the day. Naturally, with our old heating unit, I worried about having to stop the route. The coal was either too hot or too cold. I never knew what was going to happen next. But now that we have gas heat, I never even think about the furnace. Not once. It's that simple."

No more dirty ashes to haul! And it's a treat to come home to a house that's always cozy and warm!"

Thousands switching to gas
as rates go down

Imagine your home free from soot, dirt, and furnace drudgery! Imagine getting just the temperatures you want, night and day, by adjusting a little dial. Why not? Furnaces are long, when for gas heat are so low! Think of a gas heating system that's always ready to go!

AMERICAN FENCE
Gas heat can be installed in your home without allowing the house to cool off.

"Now that we have gas heat, we never think about the furnace any more," says Mr. Wernicke. "Our heat is fine, now."

It's a startling trial offer! To prove that every home can afford to heat with gas, we'll install it at our expense—and remove it at our expense, if you don't like it.

YOU INVEST NOTHING!
Without ONE CENT of investment by you, we'll install the most modern burner in your furnace or boiler. You pay nothing, we do all the sole judge—it costs you nothing—and our heating system is installed—at OUR EXPENSE. We make the investment because we're in business to provide a dependable source of income for you.

ESSENTIAL!
Dry air and uncomfortable nights might follow a cessation of your gas service. If, of course, you give without this service, you may have to be lacking in comfort and health.

The heating service is constantly at your command, 24 hours each day, for cooking and heating and other purposes. That's why we say that gas is an essential part of living.

And from the standpoint of economy, it's a good investment.

For this service must cover the production and distribution of gas as a reasonable return on the money invested to make it possible
