Record Tree Crop Being Set Out in Illinois Now

A record number of 151,000 trees are being put out on Illinois farms this spring as part of the plan to speed up the proper utilization of land and bring about better planned agricultural production, according to L. E. Sawyer, forestry extension specialist of the college of agriculture, University of Illinois and of the Illinois natural history survey. This total of 151,000 trees is the largest on record for any one year in forestry projects sponsored by the extension service of the agricultural college and other agencies, Mr. Sawyer said.

The trees are costing from $2 to $7.50 a thousand and are being gathered from Pennsylvania, Indiana, Tennessee and local Illinois state nurseries.

Almost half of these trees, or about 60,000 of them, are black locust that will be planted for erosion control and the holding of blow sand land in different parts of the state.

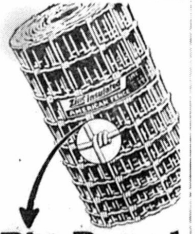

About 32,000 pine trees will be planted on 60,000 acres and on some out farm soils as a timber crop. In addition about 40,000 Norway spruce and white spruce are being planted for Christmas trees and for windbreaks. One planting of 20,000 Christmas trees is being made in DeKalb county, and another of 10,000 in Livingston county.

There are about 3,000 red pine trees in the 151,000 that will be set out this spring, and the rest are ash, maple and a variety of other species that are to be used in reforestation work. It was reported.

Planting of the 151,000 trees is going forward at a time when the outlook for forestry is much brighter than it has been for several years, Mr. Sawyer pointed out. Recent legislation has revived certain wood-using industries, while the adoption of the lumber trade should assure the farmer timber owner a fair price for his products.

Important Corn

Corn, one of the most important crops in the world, is of the most important value to the chemical industry. According to an outline given to the American Chemical Society, corn furnishes them with one of the most important of the basic materials used in chemistry. In fact, corn is 50 per cent starch, as there are about thirty pounds of starch to the bushel of corn. In turn a lot of this starch is converted into dextrose, which is cornstarch sugar. Uses of dextrose are many and varied, but one of the most important is the use as a nutritive food because it is identical with the sugar of the body and can be used by the cells without digestive change. Dextrose is also used in confectionery, beverages to keep the gas out of beer from escaping. Dextrose, another starch product, is used for "stickum" on stamps and envelopes as well as for thickening for colors in fabrics. Pathfinder Magazine.

Mail man finds freedom from furnace worries!

An interview with Mr. and Mrs. K. H. Wernicke, 15741 Marshfield Avenue, Harvey, Illinois

Mr. and Mrs. Wernicke are planning a new room in the basement now that the coal bin has been eliminated and there is no coal to store. The picture shows them going over their plans.

LET a U.S. Postman tell you what it means to have gas heat—and how easy it is to get. "I start my route pretty early in the morning," says Mr. Wernicke, "and I have to be out a good many hours during the day. Naturally, with our old heating unit, I worried about the furnace all the time. The house was either too hot or too cold. I never knew what was going to happen next. But now that we have gas heat I never even think about the furnace. No more coal to shovel. No more dirty ashes to haul. And it's a treat to come home to a house that's always cozy and warm."

Thousands switching to gas as rates go down

Imagine your home free from soot, dust, dirt, and furnace dangers! Imagine getting just the temperatures you want, night and day, by adjusting a little thermostat on the wall. Why put up with furnace worries any longer? When it's gas heat that's always cozy and warm."

Gas heat can be installed in your home without allowing the house to cool off

Dr. Charles Gilkey Addresses 175 at District Meeting

In which we live. We never can move where we cannot see "the smoke from our neighbor's chimney." The world has grown so small that a farmer who rises in the middle West will jostle someone in middle Europe. We cannot indulge our impulses. In such a world a fire anywhere endangers us all. It can set the whole world on fire.

"Education must contribute in a time like ours to a new understanding of the limitations and costs of force. The growing generation recognizes the limitations inherent in force. In any physical contest a boy eventually overcomes his father. Understanding and co-operation are necessary for a sound relation between father and son. So it is between nations. Force is costly and deadly. It never settles a question. The United States entered the war to establish her right to trade as she wanted to, but this problem is not settled yet. Strength does not settle problems. The cost is so great that everyone loses. Education must show us the limitations of force and give us new minds that are constructive to world peace."

Music by the Dargemond Trio and brief addresses by Mrs. William Farrell, state president of the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs, and Mrs. Roy Hutchison, district president, concluded the program.

Among the guests were local pastors, members of the school faculty and representatives of the following clubs: Albany Park, Arlington Heights, Belmont, Hermosa, Lincoln Square, Mt. Prospect, Norwood Park, Palatine, Physician's Fellowship, Lake Zurich and Crystal Lake. Tea was served at long tables attractively decorated in yellow and green.

Announcements of Many Candidates Appear in Review

With county primaries scheduled for April 14, many voters are studying the records and promises of candidates for nomination.

Most of the leading candidates for nomination for Lake county offices have their announcements in this issue of The Review. This will offer Lake county voters an opportunity to "get acquainted" with their men.

Complete lists of Lake and Cook county candidates for office will be published in The Review next week, the last issue before election.

Annis Club Members Hold Reunion After Lapse of Twenty Years

A reunion of former members of Annis club was held at the home of Mrs. George J. Miller last Thursday evening with Mrs. C. R.
Stout as co-hostess. The club was formerly the Methodist Sunday school class of Mrs. O. Mattison and was active about 20 years ago. The meeting was called in honor of Mrs. Isaac M. Brown and served as a pre-nuptial surprise as well as a reunion.

The invitations were large craft envelopes including pages of a scrap book to be made up in advance by the guests using clippings, snapshots, original poems, reminiscences and appropriate anecdotes. They were brought to the party and used as entertainment, then bound and presented to the guest of honor, together with a gift from the club. Each brought her mother's wedding picture also and a great deal of pleasure was derived from identifying these as many of them are well known Barrington people.

The color scheme for the table was white with touches of pale pink, green, and yellow. Of the original 18 members, ten were present, four sent regrets, and four were at a great distance.

At Thirty and Sixty Uncle Ab says it is better to proceed safely at thirty, than to stop too suddenly at sixty; and that goes for years of age, or miles per hour.

High School Operetta and Easter Cantata Draw Big Crowds

"The Belle of Bagdad," an operetta presented by glee clubs of the local high school last Friday and Saturday evening, was a colorful and delightful entertainment. Miss Esther Strouss directed the production and the high school orchestra provided a musical background.

The sacred cantata, "The Days of Easter," presented at the school auditorium Sunday evening by united glee clubs of the local high school was another successful program of the school.
The voices were soft and the chorus work delightful. It was evident that the young people were enjoying the result of their efforts as well as the great number of parents and friends who were present. It was reported that Miss Esther Strouss directed the work.
