Company With 75 Employees Leases E. Main Building

$10,000 Remodeling Job Started on Commercial Hotel Structure

The Chesterfield Tailors, Inc., will move to Barrington early in July and take up quarters at 334-236 E. Main street in a building now vacant but which will be remodeled and enlarged at a cost estimated at $10,000. Preliminary work was started on the building Wednesday.

Barrington was reached by W. S. Clark, president and treasurer of the company and other officers who reached an agreement with I. E. Lander to lease the building on East Main street. The company will come here with about 75 employees, the number to be increased to 125 by the end of the first week in September. Mr. Clark told a representative of The Review.

"Early in July, after the company is located here, we will have

The extensive alterations to the building will include removal of the third floor, extension of the building 60 feet to the north (this will more than double the floor space of the present structure not including the third floor), construction of a new front on the building, lowering of the basement three feet, complete modernization of the basement and lowering the ground floor to a level just a few inches above the sidewalk. The addition to the rear of the building will be 60 feet long and 44 feet wide, outside measurements. The present structure is 2 feet long by 38 feet wide, outside measurement. The new front will be either brick, stone, or concrete block. All present partitions on the first and second floors will be removed and new construction

Store Building
139-45 Park Ave.

A major building improvement on Park avenue is contemplated by the owners of real estate where the National Tea Co., Miller confectionery, and Shepard barber shop are now located.

Final arrangements for the improvement have not been made and complete information regarding plans for work are not available. According to tentative plans, the three buildings are to be removed and a complete new building to house the National Life Co. will be constructed. The Shepard barber shop has already made arrangements to move, and next week will be located at 137 Park avenue, one block west of the present location.

the shop will divide the store space at 137 Park with the Cadwallader Jewelry shop which is now located there.

Many Grove Children Receive Diplomas in Graduation Exercises

Fox River Grove School
The Grove school held closing exercises Monday night. Two operettas and dancing provided entertainment for the large crowd. The fun of the "Golden Chorus" took place in the drama of William Penn with white ladies in grey dresses and quack capes and the boys in brown uniforms. Fainted Feather was in full regalia, a war dance was staged. Mrs. Clarence Elgion directed the operettas. Mrs. Hazel Black Chorney accompanied at the piano.

The first four grades, pupils of Miss Elsie Vercell presented the story dance and an operetta "Smiling Sinner." With this was a host of goblins, witches, gnomes, forest caves and beautiful fairies. Gloria Kuersten and Dolores Bajek sang Molly and Polly melodies attired in riding habits. Mrs. Ella Kousha played, accompaniments. Applause was very enthusiastically given; every child seemed to take his part admirably.

After the curtain had been drawn on the play and reopened, the scene disclosed the commencement class. Twenty students were seated in a semi-circle, seven boys with blue jackets and white trousers formed a background for five girls beautifully attired in white net with accessories of pastel shades. Salutatory address was given by Ruth Olson, the class poem by Miles Penkava, the prophecy by Hermine Vardick and Lillian Immers. The valedictory address was given by Helen Musil, other members in the class were Raymond Homola, Billy Prokop, James Sedlack, Delbert Ford, Clarence Chilar, Richard Hegner. Diplomas were awarded by J. C. Yonak in the presence of the other board members, George Wagon and Frank Nagel.

Community High School
Commencement work at the Community high school, Crystal Lake, ended Friday night when 85 students received their diplomas; nine of this number were from Fox River Grove: Evelyn Ont, John Soukup, Lydia Vajlik, Mildred Vokac, Mildred Rusa, Sylvia Sinkler, Yvonne Sinkler, Mario Slezek. A large crowd from the Grove attended all of the exercises.

Hayes Kennedy, Legion Americanization Worker, Heads Palatine Services

Palatine again paid honor to those who gave their lives for their beloved country by holding the usual Memorial Day services Wednesday morning in which the American Legion, Sutherland Woman's Relief corps, American Legion Auxiliary, boys and girls scouts and more than 200 children participated.

It was a colorful array of flags as the group, led by the band in immaculate white uniforms, marched to Hillside and Southside cemeteries where the services were held. At Hillside cemetery Rev. J. C. Vooks gave a prayer, which was followed by an inspiring address by Hayes Kennedy of Joliet, state chairman of Americanization of the American Legion. Rev. Bloomquist gave a beautiful tribute to all soldiers who sleep in graves unknown. Girl scouts assisted by four boy scouts, under the leadership of Mrs. E. R. Foster, decorated each soldier's grave with a bouquet from the local gardens.

At Southside cemetery the services were conducted by the American Legion, Robert Mosser and Harry Panhellegon giving the tributes. At each cemetery a firing squad gave the salute, with Wesley Cropper sounding taps. The line disbanded at the flag pole after the flag was hoisted to the top of the pole.

Harry Panhellegon, commander of the local Legion post was marshal.

Collective Bargaining
Collective bargaining is a labor union term, and refers to a method of determining wages, hours and working conditions by direct negotiation between the representatives of a labor union and an employer. Instead of acting individually, as in the case of individual bargaining, the employees act as a group in presenting their demands, appointing representatives who hold conference with the representatives of the employers in order to adjust matters of dispute. The individual employee subordinates himself to the common interest of his fellows and in return receives benefits which he could not obtain alone.

Cost's Whiskers

The herds of goats that browse on the hills of Cyprus are the principal producers of laudanum. While feeding on certain shrubs their whiskers become matted with the gum that exudes. The thrifty goat-herders carefully comb this gum from the whiskers of the goats, and it is from this substance that laudanum is obtained.

Lone Civil War Vet at Fox River Grove Was on March to Sea

The lone surviving Civil War veteran of Fox River Grove, Frederick Ackepohl, who was an interesting figure at the Cary-Fox River Grove-Algonquin Memorial day services, was a driver of a commissary wagon, when he marched to the sea when he was only 17 years old. A brief sketch of his life follows:

He was born in Germany in August, 1844, immigrated to the United States at 16 years of age and settled at Cincinnati, O. The war began, feeling that high and Ohio was strong for the Union. The spirit of the times affected the young man. At the age of 17 he enlisted with the Union army.

Too young to carry arms he was given the work of driving a commissary wagon and it was when he was driving this, serving Sherman's army on its famous march from Atlanta to the sea, that he was taken prisoner. When asked in what battle he was taken prisoner, he answered, "No battle, we were cut off by bushwhackers," a term of those days.

He then explained the roads were very muddy in North Carolina and teams and wagons were getting stuck. While in this difficulty, a Union soldier, told them to turn and drive the other way for the rebels were after them; they did as they were told and drove into the camp of the Southern army in South Carolina. They were taken prisoners and placed in an abandoned barn and given a pint of corn meal a day with what water they wanted. They could prepare the cornmeal as they pleased. When asked if he regretted on this diet, he stated they were young and high spirited and did not realize the hardship.

Luckily it lasted only 17 days as one morning they were told to "get out of there, the war is over." They were allowed to carry as much food as they wished but it took him a week of walking day and night to reach the Union lines.

Mr. Ackepohl recalls seeing and hearing Lincoln when he campaigned for his second term on the steps of the Lincoln monument. Mr. Ackepohl relates Mr. Lincoln stood up in a horse drawn carriage and bowed low to the people on both sides of the street. Mr. Ackepohl enjoys good health, reads without glasses, resides with his son Harry and is extremely fond of four great grandchildren.

92 Years of Age But Drives Away Car Full of Bandits

George M. Jackson, well known resident of Barrington township, routed three youthful bandits from his home Saturday with a 70 year old pistol which he used to carry as memento of Barrington in the years following the Civil war.

The three youths, leaving two others in an automobile in front of the house approached the Jackson home. Mr. Jackson asked them what they wanted, but they did not answer and stalked into the house. He followed them into the building after asking what they wanted.

One of the bandits finally said: "We know you have money and we're going to find it."

The elderly man declared he did not have any money on the place. He said he kept his money in banks. They continued to search the house ignoring Mr. Jackson. Finally he sat down on a chair at the head of his bed as though he were tired. Reaching under the pillow he drew out the gun which he had there. Cocking it, he probed the nearest robber in the ribs and commanded:

"Now you get out of here. This gun has never missed fire since 1869 and it is not likely to now, so you better get out quick." The three young fellows marched out and climbed into the car without saying a word. The five adventurers then drove off. Mr. Jackson notified his son Harvey and daughter Grace who were working in the barn.

On Sunday Mr. Jackson celebrated his ninety-second birthday with relatives at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Bertie Brandt in Barrington.

LET'S ELIMINATE THE PEDDLER

The worst part of that 365 day season for transient peddlers, solicitors and other doorbell ringers has arrived.

Much to their annoyance, local women and men in the homes are called to their front doors several times daily in response to strangers who vend their wares on private front porches.

About the only thing that can be done to eliminate this nuisance is for the village board to make the work of peddling in Barrington disagreeable and unprofitable for those engaged in it. For more than a year the trustees and village attorney have been wrestling with one kind of an ordinance or another for discouraging peddling in the village. The last draft is one which would require all peddlers to take out licenses. This, of course, would apply to local persons engaged in peddling as well as transients, but we believe few if any local persons would be injured by a general ordinance of this kind.

Local business houses would not be prohibited from delivering on order from their customers. If, for example, all bakeries, whether local or not, delivered goods only when ordered, the local shops would have advantage over non-local shops. No fair-minded citizen would deny that local shops which pay personal property tax and either real estate tax or rent are entitled to that advantage.

But after all, it would be the resident and not the business proprietor who would benefit from a good anti-peddler ordinance. We believe the amount of business taken out of town by peddlers which would otherwise go to local stores is exaggerated in the minds of some of the merchants.

The sound reason for discouraging peddling is elimination of the doorbell ringer. The large majority of local housewives would not even miss the out-of-town fruit and bread wagon peddlers if at the same time they could escape the overbearing nuisance of answering the door knock of book salesmen, amateur photographers, bag candy sellers, and what have you.

LANDLORDS, BE REASONABLE!

When a new industry moves to a community, with promise of bringing additional families, the owners of residence property for rent are tempted to boost their rental prices.

Some property owners actually did boost rent prices when the Jewel Tea Co. came to Barrington. Many arguments resulted and many Jewel families settled in other communities to "commute" to their work in Barrington. Some bought homes and are permanently settled out of Barrington. Some rentable houses here stood vacant with loss to owners.

Now the Chesterfield Tailors are coming to Barrington. Under present conditions, owners of residence property will do well to be reasonable with tenants and prospective tenants. The Chesterfield Tailors will be located just across the street from the railroad station where the employees can very conveniently ride back and forth from Chicago or any of the towns along the C. &amp; N.W. where rents will remain low. The location is also conveniently near four garage buildings, in which employees can park their cars while at work and then drive them to and from homes in other communities.

We doubt if any attempt to raise rents now will be successful. Rents in Barrington are already slightly above the level of rents in other communities.

BETTER HOMES FOR FARMERS

Changes in living conditions on American farms during the past decade call for a new system of house planning. Nobody knows exactly what the ideal American farm house would look like, but a pretty close approximation to it has just been constructed on the grounds of the World's fair, under the sponsorship of a national farm magazine, The Country Home. This "model farm house" will be visited by hundreds of thousands of American farm folks, and studied with the highest interest—for every indication points to the expenditure during the next ten years of more than a billion dollars on new farm homes.

It is easy enough to make light of something new, but when the experts show that farm house architecture is not keeping up with factory and city architecture, that farm-house builders pay a lot of money for something they don't get, that they build a lot of waste space they don't use, that the average farm house wastes heat, time, human energy and health, it's time to see what can be done about it.

The World's fair model farm house is an answer. It is, in fact, a common sense answer, one of the only model farm houses ever designed in this way for a real farm family making its living from the soil.

EDITORIAL SHORTS

The voice of the people isn't often heard but a good many ambitious fellows have heard the voice that the people sent out, much to their disgust and chagrin. We are referring to those who are willing to suffer, for the salary, on the altar of the country.

A high moral, intellectual and physical average is more important than a high birth rate.

WHAT'S GOING ON IN WASHINGTON

The American flag is being struck and the nation's outposts drawn in as the country now forlornly abandons its dream of empire. The demand of American farmers for protection and the hope of industrialists for business gains, the attention, are in the main, back of the present withdrawal of the United States from its possessions and protectorates. But the big reason is the demand of the United States and dairy farmers from Wisconsin and New York can lead the cheers when the Stars and Stripes are lowered for the last time in Manila. The politicians of the sugar states were just as interested as the politicians of Havana in the withdrawal of American responsibility over Cuban affairs. In Washington the pressure, as reflected through congress, has been economic, not sentimental, in the drive for a new policy that carries the nation away from imperialism. It was under the first Roosevelt that the United States got Panama, built the Panama canal, assumed a form of protectorate over Cuba, added the Philippines as full-fledged possessions and accepted new responsibilities for policing Central America. Under the second Roosevelt, there is a different scheduled time-table. The Philippines now are getting ready for independence through a plan offered by the present congress.

For the moment the drought situation is clouding the vision of the "planned economy." A major crop disaster of wide proportions seems inevitable now. Farmers who were counted upon to be substantial consumers will be out of the picture. Also the agricultural adjustment administration's policies will have to be changed. Some of the adjustments necessary. Indeed, farmers will be aggrieved that they were virtually compelled to hold down production when uncertain factors like the weather were not taken into consideration.

Instead of "cracking down" on the verge of "cracking up" That prediction was made during the past week by congressional opponents of the recovery administration. It followed the order of President Roosevelt exempting seven industries of the "service" type, such as cleaning and dyeing and hotels and restaurants, from the trade practices

The Runabout Child

"My child was a lovely baby, and as good as an angel, until the past few months. Now it seems that I can do nothing with him. He delights in breaking things. He pulls the table cover off and laughs to hear the crash. He is as destructive as a plague. I don't know what to do with him any more. I've tried everything, spanking him, putting him in bed, sending him on a chair, all to no good."

Did you give him something to do? Something of his own to be busy with? While a child lies in his crib he gathers some impressions of people and things about him. Those impressions are imperfect. He has not touched and weighed and measured the things in the house. When he finds his feet he is off on a tour of inspection in this perfectly new world. It is a very interesting place. The table has thickness, it stands up and bits you back when you bump your head against it. He did not know that before.

Furniture and rugs and the little odds and ends that have beauty and meaning to their owners must be safeguarded from this explorer. He really does not mean to destroy. He does not know. What he is trying to do is to find out all about these new things. No, he has not seen them all these two years. He was getting ready to see them. It is now when he touches and pushes and pulls and bites into them that he is seeing them.

As soon as a child starts exploring, take him on your shoulders and let him look, touch and learn what he can take and what he must let alone. If he has a few short excursions he will not have to go about on his own, and his disastrous mistakes will be lessened. Then keep supplying him with things that teach and satisfy.

provisions of the NRA codes. Just how much ground is there for any such observation? The answer must be: None so far as any objection to the NRA codes. The demand of American farmers for protection and the hope of industrialists for business gains, the attention, are in the main, back of the present withdrawal of the United States from its possessions and protectorates. But the big reason is the demand of the United States and dairy farmers from Wisconsin and New York can lead the cheers when the Stars and Stripes are lowered for the last time in Manila. Under the second Roosevelt, there is a different scheduled time-table. The Philippines now are getting ready for independence through a plan offered by the present congress.

The psychological effect of the biggest deficit in federal finances since the war will not be known till after July 1st but even though Mr. Roosevelt's prediction of seven billions in the hole was not fulfilled, the spending of nearly $3,700,000,000 more than was received, will be a record not easily dismissed by the country. Also the fact that authorizations for next year's spending are likely to give us at least a two billion dollar deficit next year makes the future none too pleasant to think about. Some day the meaning of these vast expenditures will be translated into intolerable tax burdens. The fact that the government has set up so much of the national income that revolve comes in the form of unwillingness to pay or reform none too pleasant to think about. The Island of Rhodes in

Limeight With Castles

Ten miles south of Cape Alipo, in Asia Minor, lies the island of Rhodes, which is perhaps first noted in connection with the statue constructed there by Charles of Lindus.

In the Alexandrian period, notes a writer in the Chicago Tribune, when only seven structures were considered worthy of the name "wonders of the world," the Colossus at Rhodes ranked sixth in the list. This 105-foot statue of the sun god was raised by an earthquake in 224 B. C., and its fragments lay undisturbed for 820 years. Shortly after 600 A. D. the Saracens, having conquered Rhodes, sold the debris to a scrap metal dealer, who used 900 camels in carrying it away. About 1300, at the instigation of a pope, Rhodes was besieged and captured by the Knights Hospitallers of St. John of Jerusalem and strongly fortified.

The knights left few relics of the classical period, but they built so well that their walls and towers and moated castles constitute the major part of the modern city. The city was evacuated by the knights in 1522 after they had honorably capitulated to Sultan Suleiman I, who had sacrificed 50,000 men in a vain attempt to take it by siege.

Port of Spain, from which town the roads lead to all parts of Trinidad, the Caribs called the island "Carib," or the Land of Hummingbirds. Amerigo Vespucci rested here on the voyage during which he discovered Venezuela. Raleigh made it his military base.

Musical Sounds in Cavern

The only cavern in the world in which the wind produces musical sounds is believed to be Fingia's cave on Staffa Island, one of the Hebrides. During a visit there Mendelssohn was inspired to write his overture, "The Hebrides."

Injury From Bullheads

Experienced fishermen pay little attention to the feelers, or "whiskers," about the mouth of a cathead when they are handling the species of fish, for despite the help of many persons to the contrary, there is no danger of injury from possible contact with these according to old-time fishermen. Anyone who knows anything about bullheads does take care to grasp the squirming, slippery specimen in a manner to avoid the first back of the head and the two side fins or pectorals for with these the bullhead is capable of inflicting a really painful wound.

Origin of the Peach
The origin of the peach is so far lost in antiquity that botanists have no proof of the exact wild plant which gave rise to it. The peach is one of the oldest cultivated fruits and is not known at the present time in a wild state. The consensus today is that the peach was known in China before reaching a state of cultivation in Persia, indicates its specific name Persica named it thought it to be native to Persia.

Boston Peace Jubilee
Patrick Starfield Gilmore, who had been a bandmaster in the United States army, organized two enormous music festivals in Boston called "Peace Jubilees" in 1920 and 1922. The first had an orchestra of 1500 and a chorus of 10,000; the second an orchestra of 2000 and a chorus of 20,000. A large organ, chimed of bells, and the detonations of the artillery were added to the orchestral effects. Soon after the second jubilee, Gilmore moved to New York and organized a brass band there which became widely known through its concert tours.

First Shaker Community
The first Shaker (Shaking Quaker) community west of the Alleghenies was organized in 1805 at Union Village, Ohio. This community now ceases to exist. A branch society was organized at North Union in 1821, but was dissolved in 1889, and now only the name—Shaker Heights—remains.

W. Altenburg's .371 Average Tops Broncho Batting

Willie Altenburg, star shortstop, was the leading batter of the Barrington high school nine during the recently finished season with a .371 average. Henry Rieck had a higher average than Altenburg but did not play regularly, batting only six times.

Altenburg knocked out the most hits, 13; and tied with Warren Grom at run making, each scoring eight times. "Howdy" Meiners hit the most doubles, 3; while Altenburg, Grom, and "Cheese" Lindberg each made a triple to lead the department.

The Broncho ball club had a rather lean season as a team, winning four and losing seven times. The other three wins were against conference teams but did not count in the league standing.

And How We Need 'Em
When the boys in certain Australian tribes reach manhood they knock out the teeth in their upper jaws because the girls consider that conspicuous white teeth are ugly. Later the young men complete the job by filing the edges of their remaining teeth. This is greatly admired by the girls—Pearson's Weekly.

Many Animals Deseased

Many wild animals suffer from diseases similar in effect to the common distemper of dogs. Two forms of this disease at times have been serious impediments in fox farming. Tularemia, widely publicized as rabbit fever, is known to occur in a great many wild animals, including the ground squirrel, muskrat, coyote, cat, foxes, sheep, and even in certain game birds—Literary Digest.

Not on Mainland

Cape Horn is not on the mainland of South America, as is generally supposed. It is located on the point of the most southerly of the Wollaston Islands, more than 100 miles from the Straits of Magellan.

Polygamy Growing in Africa

Polygamy flourishes in certain parts of the Belgian Congo, despite special taxes on extra wives. Tax varies from 90 cents to $2.50.
