Another Civil War Vet Passes

A spectacular fire which blazed in the air space above three adjoining stores early Sunday morning caused a total damage estimated at $3000 and threatened to destroy an entire block of connected business houses.

The fire started in the ceiling above the refrigerator of the Shinner market some time between 4 and 4:30 a. m., probably from a short circuit in the electric wiring. It spread through the air space or attic between ceiling and roof both east and west until it was burning over three store buildings, the one occupied by the new Main Street market and the vacant building west of Shinner's.

Mrs. Ella Lemke, proprietor of the food shop, who slept in the rear of her shop, turned in the alarm. She was awakened by a crackling sound, she said. Mrs. Lemke called the fire chief and reported the sound coming from the rear of Shinner's. She asked the chief to investigate. A few minutes later the call was put in and eight minutes after that the fire department was at the building, according to report of the fire department.

Although the flames were restricted to a small area, a great deal of smoke spread through the attic of the entire building which is open above eight store spaces from 108 W. Main street to 112 North High street housing Shinner's market, Main Street market, Fredlund Drug Co., Graber and Hutchins barber shop, Wm. Schaefer's Tailor shop, Vanity Beauty shop and the U. S. post office and including one space west of Shinner's which is not occupied.

The actual fire damage was restricted to the ceiling and roof above the three stores and to equipment and merchandise in the Shinner market. There was very little smoke damage to the stock in any of the other stores, but some damage was done to the painted surface of walls and ceilings. The large refrigerator and a stock of meat in Shinner's were ruined. Damage to personal property was roughly estimated at $2,000. Damage to the building was estimated at from $1000 to $1200.

Insurance was carried on the building and equipment.

Expect Large Crowd at Annual Alumni Banquet at Salem Church Friday

Free Water Is Old Trick Although the manufacture of fresh from sea water is generally considered to be of comparatively recent origin, old records investigated by Canadian National Steamships, show that when Sir Richard Hawkins made a voyage from England to the West Indies in 1593, he had a distilling apparatus on board his ship.

Fat folks should take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—it's the SAFE, harmless way to reduce as tons of thousands of men and women know.

"Bottoms Up" Is Sunday - Monday Screen Attraction

Walt Disney's "Big Bad Wolf" Also Featured: "Good Dame" Tuesday

Al Johnson's "Wonder Bar" makes its 3-day run at the Calhoun Theatre tonight. Saturday will bring W. C. Fields' "You're Telling Me."

Featured with Fields are Larry "Crabbe, Joan March and Adrienne Ames. The picture tells the humorous story of the adventures which befall a goofy inventor when he tries to be a big name in his home town. His daughter can't marry the man she loves, because she lives on the wrong side of the tracks. "Decent people just won't associate with them Biebes," say the high-bats.

Andy Clyde in the comedy, "Giddy Prosprosity," Papineau, Tennant and Pathe news will precede the showing of the feature.

The Sunday-Monday attraction of the Calhoun headlines, the silly, symphony color cartoon, "The Big Bad Wolf" and the new Spencer Tracy feature, "Bottoms Up."

"The Big Bad Wolf" has created as much interest as did "The Three Little Pigs." Walt Disney's cartoon hit of last year. This new cartoon tells the story of "Little Red Riding Hood," with the introduction of the "Three Little Pigs" in the cast.

"Bottoms Up" is a romantic comedy that brings out into the open the oft-gossiped-about truth that you have to bluff Hollywood to win its favor.

The four characters portrayed by Spencer Tracy, Sid Silver, Herbert Mundin and "Pat" Paterson decide to break into the movie with a grand bluff of their own. Spencer gets a great idea, inspired by his affection and sympathy for "Pat," who has been languishing in Hollywood since winning a beauty contest some months ago. He spreads the news around that Lord Brocklehurst Plenty of trays for ice cubes! And you say one of them is for extra fast freezing? I certainly need something like that for hot weather—and parties.

Your Leonard is a beauty, my dear. So roomy! And so gorgeously finished!

Checked Burr's Conspiracy

The first state to act in quelling Aaron Burr's conspiracy—even before the federal government itself—was Ohio. Without waiting for word from the national government, or instruction from any office of it, Gov. Edward Tiffin called the legislature into special session to promote the passage of "an act to prevent certain acts hostile to the peace and tranquility of the United States within the jurisdiction of this state." Acting promptly, Tiffin ordered the seizure of Burr's boats, provisions and ammunition, and one of the most notorious conspirators in all history came to sudden grief.

stantial gain in retail deliveries of Buick automobiles in the last ten days of May over deliveries in the previous ten days of the month was reported today by W. F. Hutstader, general sales manager of the Buick Motor company.

During the period a total of 2079 new cars were delivered to retail customers throughout the United States as compared with 1553 in the preceding ten days, a gain of 526 new units or more than 34 per cent.

Sales of the new series 40 Buick, which considerably outnumber deliveries during the period, are responsible in part for the increase. Other Buick lines, however, including the 50, 60 and 90 series, either showed gains or remained at substantially the same levels as during the preceding ten days.

Factory shipments during the ten day period were in excess of 4500, meeting a nationwide demand for deliveries of the new series 40 cars of which there was a pronounced shortage. In addition, the company carried over into June a bank of orders for more than 10,000 cars, requiring the highest June production schedule since 1923.

Retail deliveries of Buick cars to June 1 this year were 23,347 as compared with 20,081 in the corresponding 1933 period, maintaining the company's sixth position in the industry in the retail delivery of cars this year. Total Buick deliveries for May were 5213 units.—Ad.

approached from the southeast bugging the left side of the road.
In his confusion, the driver said he turned to the left to avoid a collision. The car darted off the road bounced across a rough pasture for 375 feet and finally bumped into the telephone pole after tearing down a wire fence and several steel posts.

The top of the car was torn off and the body crushed in Spiegel who was sitting in the back seat beside to keg of beer, was thrown forward so hard that his neck was broken, his chest singed in, and his right leg broken.
Caved, directly in front of him was thrown against the windshield so hard that his jaw was broken. Cremer slid down under the steering post and escaped injury except for the cuts received from a shower of broken windshield and window glass.

William Klingenberg of Barrington who motored by the place a few minutes later, saw the wrecked car and occupants and called the Danlester and Willmering ambulance. The two injured men were picked up and brought to Barrington and then Singer was taken to Elgin.

State Policeman William Gal-agher took Cremer into custody.
Following an inquest at 11 a. m.
Cremer was taken to Deschauer's court for hearing and was arraigned on a charge of reckless driving.

Bird Club to Ask for Sanctuary in North Side Park

The Barrington Bird club will ask to have a bird sanctuary established at the south end of North Park. It was decided at the June meeting of the club held Tuesday evening at Bosky cafe.

The club members are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Work. A committee will be appointed soon to meet with the Barrington Park board to decide on further details.

William Lyon of Waukegan, well-known throughout the state for his work as president of the Inland Bird Banding association, was the guest speaker of the evening. Mr. Lyon explained that bird banding helps to determine the number of birds that migrate and pointed out that only amateurs under government supervision are permitted to do this work.

Theories on bird life are quite often open, he said, citing that it has been found that two birds migrate in the same nest have been found to migrate to extreme opposite ends of the country. Anderson was the first man to band birds, using sterling silver bands.
Aluminum is the safest metal now used, he added.

Each species of bird is trapped in a different way, he said, and sometimes it takes months and even years to accomplish it. Birds have a number of characteristics as human beings and so often the same birds are caught in the same trap year after year.

A permit is issued by the United States government to persons wishing to trap and band birds, and they must prove they are competent.

Mr. Lyon also spoke of the many ways of attracting birds to the home grounds by the planting of seed-bearing flowers and grains.
Miss Marion Jurs gave a musical program. More than 35 members attended the meeting.

Cruel Punishment
The knout was a whip used for punishment in Russia and was introduced during the reign of Iraz III in the fifteenth century, says Pathfinder Magazine. There were several forms but the most familiar kind consisted of several thongs of hide or leather plaited and interwoven with wire. Lacerations from the loose ends of the wire made it a cruel form of punishment and a sentence of 100 lashes upon the bare back was usually the same as a death penalty.

Carcasses Still in Black Sea Carcasses of boats that died a hundred thousand years ago or more still choke the bottom of a large part of the Black sea, and still poison the waters there with the noxious products of their decay.

The Black Hills

The Black Hills are not hills, and they are not black, writes G. B.
Turner in the Kansas City Times.
The name is merely the literal translation of Paha Sapa, the name by which they were known to the Sioux Indians who inhabited the South Dakota plains. In the Sioux language this alluded to the dark clad heights, a color illusion accentuated by contrast to the green plains from which they were viewed. Properly, the Black Hills are mountains, the highest peak, Mount Harney, 7,242 feet, being higher than any peak in the mountains of the eastern United States.

"Grapevine Telegraph"
The expression "grapevine telegraph" refers to the speedy exchange of news or information or the transmission of messages by word of mouth. It had its origin during the Civil war and received its name from comparing the way verbal news travels to the way a grapevine spreads from tree to tree or trellis to trellis.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Gieske, J. S. Gieske and J. C. Plagge of Barrington attended the commencement program at the Northern Illinois State Teachers' college at DeKalb Friday. Willard Gieske, son of Dr. and Mrs. Gieske, 212 Grove avenue, was a member of the graduating class.

Mrs. Anna Otis and Mrs. A. L. Robertson, 121 W. Main street, attended the 77th annual commencement program of the Garrett Biblical institute in Evanston, June 6. Charles Arnold, son of Rev. and Mrs. John S. Arnold of Hamburg, Ia., was a member of the graduating class and received a Bachelor of Divinity degree. He is the grandson of Mrs. Anna Otis and nephew of Mrs. A. L. Robertson and Mrs. Grace Cannon of Barrington.

In Graduation Recital Owen Berger, pianist, was heard in his graduation recital at the Kimball recital hall, May 22. His first group, a Beethoven sonata, the familiar "Fingertine," Bach's prelude and Fugue C minor, and a Chopin Etude, displayed Mr. Berger's talent to definite advantage. Four selections drawn from the moderns brought out his facile technique and interpretative facility while the climax was reached in the third movement of Saint-Saens "Concerto G minor," with Mrs. Gage assisting at the second piano.

Scout Committee to Discuss Camp Work; Plan Fall Activity

The ways and means of completing the scout cabin at the Russell street playground will be worked out if possible at a district meeting of Barrington scout officials to be held at the home of Roy Willmering next Tuesday evening.

The cabin, which is one of the finest in the entire district if not the state of Illinois, is nearly finished. A little interior construction work and all of the interior decorating have yet to be finished.

This will be the last regular meeting of the committee before fall. The 1934-35 fall and winter scouting program will be laid out. The date for dedication of the new scouts' and other youths' organizations probably will be scheduled for late in August or early in September, but the exact date will not be determined until after the building is completed.

The committee has already decided that no more courts of honor will be held or merit tests given until after the fall season has opened.

Members of the scout committee of Barrington include: Edwin Wiemuth, J. C. Cadwallader, C. Hawley, Paul Pohlman, Henry Lipofsky, John Bell, Hugh Calkins, John Blanke, and Roy Willmering.

Trustees Consider Vet. for Dairy Inspector

work out a plan for hiring a veterinarian direct for inspecting all dairies selling milk in Barrington and charging the dairies fees for each inspection. The proposal was turned over to the health committee for further consideration.

The trustees ordered an anti-time relay panel for the control board of the new well. The cost will be $50. This is to eliminate possibility of the shaft breaking.

A report was made at the meeting Monday that police officers were not able to put in fire alarms except by calling the chief of the fire department. The alarm box in the village hall has been kept under lock. Sometimes the night police learn of fires before they are reported to the department.

As a measure for speed in making alarm calls, the trustees ordered the call box to be left unlocked and available to the police.

A complaint was received that several property owners have been pulling out grass on pavement in front of their homes. This is washed into the sewers where it tends to cause clogging. Several persons have burned grass on the pavement causing damage to the concrete surface. Both are forbidden by ordinance.

Graduates Hear Francis L. Bacon Talk on Education

Speaker Stresses Need of Educational Preparation for Living

In speaking of the need of an education, Francis L. Bacon, speaker at the commencement exercises of the 1934 graduating class of Barrington high school Thursday evening, outlined the newer outlook in regard to an education. Mr. Bacon is principal of Evanston township high school.

"During the World War, many faces were learned in regard to education," said Mr. Bacon. "The educated man and the uneducated man were helpless. It was found that when he had an education, he was not with an ease and rapidly that were amazing. European nations were advanced at the speed and tenacity of the American soldier."

Thirty years from now the average man in this country will be a high school graduate and the average woman will have had a high school education. Education has always been the great lever of power that lights human progress.

"A high school diploma is the greatest safeguard against the perils of the future. Out of 10,000 prisoners in Illinois only 175 are high school graduates."

It is not possible to spend too much on education. But the graduate must remember that which he receives his education he is at the same time placing under an obligation for the coming generation.

"The importance of highly trained teachers can not be overestimated. Fully defined aims is another step in the improvement of education. How thorough is the graduate's education? is a question often asked. In the past the teacher gave his ideas to the pupils and expected him to be able to give them back as they were given. Now young people are thinking learning how to think, and what to choose that will make them better citizens. They are picking the things in education that will help them to fill their place in the world in the best way. It is becoming increasingly important to seek the truth in education. Some people feel that a child should come out of high school prepared to earn a living; but 75 out of every 100 failures are due to lack of judgment and not to poor writing and spelling."

"We expect schools to overcome the influence of heredity, poor homes, and poor environment. The big business of education is to establish contact with reality. Persistence brings success. Effort means training and increased will power; it means the refusal to fail."

In closing, the speaker turned to the graduates stating that he hoped they had enough learning to be humble, to have respect, and to have reverence. He closed with this sentence: "God gives skill but not without men's hard hands."

Several numbers at the exercises included selections by the high school orchestra and vocal solos by Miss Blanche Frey.
