Modern gas heat is fast replacing old-fashioned methods

THE sneaking, puffing from Horse that once was the pride of the rails is now just a relic for exhibition purposes only. The boiler that once breathed smoke and soot has given rusty with disuse—replaced by the fast, silent, clean streaming train. So, too, with heating systems. The old-fashioned furnace with its soot, dirt and dusty ashes is rapidly losing favor. Thousands are switching to modern gas heat. Gas heat that is automatic, efficient, free of dirt. With gas heat you never have a worry about the furnace. No running up and down stairs to fix the fire. You run your furnace from your cozy chair by simply setting a little thermostat on the wall. And gas heat is clean. No soot. No dirt. No basement must. The house stays clean. Curtains and walls are free of grime. And think of the comfort of a winter with no fire to bank without wielding a shovel, without hauling a single painful of ashes.

Investigate gas heat now. We make a startling offer so you can know the countless comforts and conveniences it will bring to your home. We'll install gas heat at our expense, remove it at our expense, if you don't like it. We will install a burner in your present furnace or boiler at our expense. You pay the rental for the burner, which amounts to only $3 a month for the heating months in the average home. This charge is included with the bill for the gas you use. You try it for one month, two months, a year. If within a year you find that you don't like it, we'll remove it at our expense and replace your former heating equipment in good workmanlike order. But if you decide to keep gas heat—as we think you will—the rental you have paid applies on the purchase price of the equipment. Now—while there is time before the cold weather—get the facts about low cost gas heat. Call today for details.

Winners in Catlow Club Contest Will Be Announced Friday

"The Party's Over" on Screen "Shoot the Works" Coming

Friday night brings to a close the Movie Club Contest which has been running at the Catlow theatre, Barrington, for the past month and 8:00 p. m. that night will be the dead line for casting final votes that will decide the winners of the contest. The contest has been a success, and numerous other prizes posted. At nine o'clock the judges will announce the names of the lucky contestants. The prize fund for the evening is $100.00. "The Party's Over," with Stuart Irwin, Ann Southern and Arline Jue featured. The story concerns a son that was an all day sucker to the rest of the family. When he awoke to a realization of his position, the "Party's Over" was indeed over for his idling relatives. Comedy, cartoon and news are listed as added items of the program.

Edward G. Robinson heads the bill coming to the Catlow Sunday night, "Dark Hazard," a story of a gambler's love and life. Robinson another great part. Genevieve Tobin and Glenda Farrell appear with him. Short subjects will add variety to the program.

When knighthood was in vogue, it was an old phrase that expressed the comedy antics of Robert Woolsey and Bert Wheeler in "Cockeyed Cavaliers," scheduled to play the Catlow Sunday and Monday. Thomas Todd, Dorothy Lee and Noah Berry appear with these two comedians in this entertaining feature embellished with sheer nonsense.

For bargain night next week Tuesday, August Themas, "The Whirling Hour" will be on the screen. Judith Allen, Tom Brown and Guy Standing are featured in "Shoot the Works," which begins its three-day run next Wednesday. Ben Bernie and his "Lads" provide the musical background for the comedy of Jack Oakie and Roscoe Karns. Dorothy Bell, Arline Jue and Alton Siskiworth provide the fun and game interest. The story recites the adventures of a broken down side-show troupe which survives only because of its flagrant stunts and its stuffed whale. Ben Bernie gave the low down on the picture when he said, "Yowah it's full of 'beat' fun."

Premiere of "Tsar Paul" Held at Woodstock Opera House Thursday Night

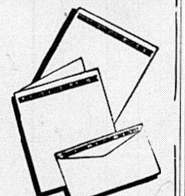

The premier of "Tsar Paul", last of this season's play festivals to be presented at the old opera house in Woodstock, was scheduled for Thursday night with Hilton Edwards who stages and directs the play in the part of "Tsar Paul". Michael McLiammoir, whose brilliant playing of the role of "Hamlet" remains a beautiful memory to many local persons, will have the part of Alexander, son of Paul. Orson Welles, local graduate of Todd school, acts as Count Pahlen, especially close to the star, and Louise Prussing will be Princess Anna. Constance Heron, a lovely and tragic Ophelia in the last play, will be Elizabeth.
"Tsar Paul" is a Russian play written by Dmitri Merejowski and centers about the mad Tsar Paul, son of Catherine the Great. It will be presented eight evenings, beginning tonight, Aug. 9, and continuing through Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights and again during the same nights of next week.

Enlarged Choral Contest Planned for Rural Schools

7,000 to Compete in Music Tournament for Cook County

With the pupils of the Plainview school, LaGrange, win next year's Cook county school choral contest. They are shown receiving congratulations on this year's victory from County Superintendent of Schools Otto F. Aken.
Plans for an enlarged choral contest in Cook county schools were revealed today by Mr. Aken. Having his plans on the tremendous success which met the contest in the school year just passed, he plans to extend it to two, three and four room schools in the coming season.
As in the last contest, there will be cash prizes and awards of banners to the winning groups, radio broadcasts and public concerts and a whole year's program in the schools.

More than 3,000 children sang in the contest. This year approximately 50 more schools will be included in the singing contests making the total almost 7,000. The following year, remaining schools in the system will be included.
"Through choral work, music was brought into schools that had never before included it in their curriculum. Children carried the music with them and their homes became highly conscious of work being done in the schools," Mr. Aken reported.

Three Unightly Power Line Poles Are Removed From Down-Town Street

Three unsightly power line poles have been removed from Main street and Park avenue this week. Their removal was made possible when the power wires were restring to new poles erected in the alley behind the stores fronting Park avenue and Main street.
Several additional poles will be removed from Park avenue and Cook street if and when the village finds a new route for its fire alarm control wires between the telephone office and the village hall. The wires are now extended across Main street, Park avenue and Cook street near the downtown intersection of these streets.
Several power line poles cannot be removed, as changing of the wires which they support would be prohibitively expensive.

IT'S LICKED ALREADY

Governor Horner issued the following statement: "Government—state and local in Illinois—is laboring under the handicap of a state constitution sixty-four years old. Some amendments have been placed in it during that period, but it is increasingly apparent to practical statesmen of government that it must be greatly revised and modernized to meet the necessities of our state.

"On November 6 of this year, the voters of the state will have a chance to place their approval on the convening of a convention to revise our antiquated state constitution. Along with other constitutional reforms, such a constitutional convention inevitably will bring about the consolidation of governments in Illinois and give us a rational and modern revenue system which must result in lower taxes. Without minimizing other vital changes, we believe it is of paramount importance that local governmental structures be revamped to reduce the cost of it, and make more efficient, local public service, and that necessary cost of government be fairly and equitably distributed, instead of falling, as it now does, principally on real property."

Governor Horner's proposal of a constitutional convention is doomed. It is a foregone conclusion that the voters will turn down the proposal at the polls November 6, not because the state constitution does not need some remodeling but because Governor Horner himself earned the sincere distrust of the majority of the voters.

His act of forcing a retailers' sales tax on the people to raise revenue to support the largest state political machine in the history of Illinois weakened his power over the Illinois electorate. His vicious act of sledge hammering the state NRA compliance act through the legislature completed his political suicide. He still sits in the governor's chair where his lease has two and a half more years of tenure. But his future is as dead politically as that of William Hale Thompson or Len Small.

"SNOUTY" RELIEF

After spending a week exploring the operations of one division of the government's far-flung bureaucracy, Commissioner George E. Allen of the District of Columbia reported that he found the "snoutiest" people on earth.

Allen let his beard grow, missed a few baths and neatly pressed suits, and spent his vacation applying for jobs at government employment agencies in a number of mid western cities—but failed to land a job.

"I found out our employment system is all wrong from beginning to end," said Commissioner Allen. "Around the employment agencies run by the federal government you will find the snoutiest people on God's green earth. You ask them for a job and they feel they are doing you a favor when they take your application."

The commissioner, a Roosevelt appointee to the district's government body, made notes on his experiences and will submit a report to Aubrey Williams, deputy administrator of the federal emergency relief administration, making recommendations for revising the relief and employment systems.

RATHER CAUTIOUS

Lorenzo Dow, an American evangelist who went to Ireland in 1799 to endeavor to convert the Catholics of that country to Protestantism, was a bold spirit in many respects, but it appears that he was extremely cautious in matters in which women were concerned.

His tentative proposal of marriage, written to a young woman of his acquaintance is a masterpiece of conservatism. He wrote as follows:

"If I am preserved, about a year and a half from now I am in hopes of seeing this northern country again; and if during that time you live and remain single and find no one that you like better than you do me, and would be willing to give me up three years out of every four for travel in foreign lands (for if you try to stand in the way I would pray God to remove you, which I believe God would answer) and if I find no one I like better than I do you perhaps something further may be said upon the subject."

It is safe to say that the young lady could hardly have gotten a breach of promise verdict on the strength of a letter like that.

INTERNATIONAL PEACE

The shortest and most certain path to the assurance of international peace is that the governments of the United States and of the British Commonwealth of Nations should quickly unite in this declaration: We reaffirm the solemn obligation which we took upon ourselves seven years ago when we ratified the pact of Paris, under the terms of which we renounced war as an instrument of our national policy. Should any other power signatory to that pact violate it for any reason whatsoever, we shall have no relations with that power while its act of violation continues.

Let that be done and the problems of restoring public confidence throughout the world, of rebuilding international trade and of disarmament will solve themselves with reasonable promptness.—Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University.

WHAT'S GOING ON IN WASHINGTON

Luck has been breaking against the investment economists. When Labor is restless, capital worried, farmers burned out in wide areas.

Many officials are convinced that the autumn is not to bring a normal upturn unless some sort of a drastic stimulus is applied. Whether that is to be a meeting of the viewpoint of industrialists and financiers on questions of policy, or whether it is to involve a new dose of socialism is a matter for Mr. Roosevelt to decide.

Deep worry is being reflected by government economists over the apparent approach of a period of high cost foodstuffs. Advancing prices of bread, butter, of milk, of meat and of other staples in the diet of workingmen and of those on relief, is coming at a time when industry is slowing down.

New highs are being recorded in labor disputes. From a total of $88 in 1932 the number jumped to 4,277 in the past year ended July 1, 1934. The previous record had been 3,430, made in 1919.

Figures for the past year are those of the national labor board and are made and were gathered by the bureau of labor statistics. Not all disputes, or even a majority, end in strikes. The strike total for the NRA blue eagle period is set by the labor board at 1,454, involving 1,879,315 workers. The number of actual strikes in the past is not available, but in 1919 more than 4,500,000 workers were involved.

NRA is in an almost hopeless position. It is now faced with the problem either of sending to jail bakers who sell bread under prices fixed by order authorities, or of sending to jail dealers who refuse to maintain minimum prices, or of backing water and admitting that this vital phase of the program is a failure.

A New York court last week actually ordered an automobile dealer to serve three months in jail because he sold a car at $50 under the retail price fixed by the code.

The President's speech at Portland, Oregon, showed that he was not yet aware of the far-reaching consequences of the government's policy of competing with them to speak softly and go gently you must speak and move with gentleness. If you want them to be well mannered you must practice being good mannered on all occasions. Little children are not ready to take over grown-up people's manners. They have to hear you say, "How do you do?" "I am sorry to disturb you." "Won't you have this chair?" "I think you will be more comfortable," before they say it.

Telling or showing once is not enough. You must show many many times for the one telling. Show by your own conduct that the thing you wish the child to do is easy for you to do and he will have more faith in it being possible for him. Then make it easy for him to do by providing the right atmosphere. A child cannot be patient in an atmosphere of impatience. He cannot be gentle and well mannered in an environment that is neither the one nor the other. Make things easy for him and he will find them so.

Our Children

By Angelo Patri

c. Bell Syndicate—WNU Service

"You Do It"

"What are you making all the fuss about, Dick? You can tie your shoe if you want to." "No I can't. It won't tie for me." "Nonsense. Any shoe will tie for you if you try it. You get right down to it and tie it." "I can't. I did try. It's too hard for me."

"It isn't hard. It's easy enough once you try your mind to it." "Is it easy?" "Yes, easy as can be."

"Then you do it. It's hard for me." Things that are easy for us are difficult for children. They have to make an effort to adjust their muscles for the task. They have to think about and direct every move.

A wrong motion, and it is easy for a child to make one, sends a whole series of movements the wrong way. Dick was passing his shoe string over instead of under making it impossible for him to tie the knot. As soon as that one motion had been set right he tied the knot easily.

Some children tire sooner than others. For them it is annoying. They will escape it if they can and if they form a habit of calling for help at the first sign of trouble they will not gain power. Let the child try to do his job. When he cries for help hold your hand. Watch what he does and find the difficulty. Set that right, encourage him to go ahead. He needs help over the hard place but he needs to go the rest of the way himself.

It helps a child to see grown-up people do the things they expect little ones to do. What you would have the children do and think easy to do, you should do yourself. If you want private business and the effect of government generally. When Mr. Roosevelt gets back to Washington and is in closer touch with what is really happening in the field of business and finance he will doubtless adopt a more reassuring strategy.

Corn-belt farmers, their cash low, crops burned by the drought, livestock prices poor, have been waiting patiently for a much-needed check from the agricultural adjustment bureau administration in Washington.

They were first promised this check in January, then each month afterward until today. The payment was to be for an agreement to hold down their production of hogs 25 per cent and their production of corn 20 per cent. The money, in turn, was to come from a tax levied on the processing of hogs and grain.

Into that situation the other day, Henry P. Fletcher, chairman of the republican national committee, injected a bit of dynamite. He told newspaper men that the way of thinking these checks, totaling about $130,000,000 were being withheld until near getting time, as a means of vote collection.

The opinion is heard in a good many sections now that the president is still being forthright in type of civil works administration program before long in another effort to get money into circulation.

The announcement on Friday by secretary of the treasury Morgenthau that the government was printing the first batch of silver certificates authorized under the silver purchase act of 1934 was construed abroad as the first step toward the end of the money States government. This construction had a depressing effect on the dollar abroad although Mr. Morgenthau said that the action was a move toward inflation.

Recommendation for a 1936 program involving the purchase of 1,000 planes for the army air corps have been submitted to the general staff of the army by Maj. Gen. Benjamin D. Fouli. The program, designed to give the corps an air force of 2,320 planes, is in accordance with the recommendations of the Newton D. Baker committee, is dependent on appropriations by congress, it is explaining.

them to speak softly and go gently you must speak and move with gentleness. If you want them to be well mannered you must practice being good mannered on all occasions. Little children are not ready to take over grown-up people's manners. They have to hear you say, "How do you do?" "I am sorry to disturb you." "Won't you have this chair?" "I think you will be more comfortable," before they say it.

Telling or showing once is not enough. You must show many many times for the one telling. Show by your own conduct that the thing you wish the child to do is easy for you to do and he will have more faith in it being possible for him. Then make it easy for him to do by providing the right atmosphere. A child cannot be patient in an atmosphere of impatience. He cannot be gentle and well mannered in an environment that is neither the one nor the other. Make things easy for him and he will find them so.

Plans and specifications for all post offices and federal buildings are being held up by Morgenthau until he can go over them and prune out unnecessary and costly details. The treasury has charge of building post offices, marine hospitals and customs already has cutting off "gingerbread" trimmings from the buildings which he calls "mausoleums" Secretary Morgenthau hopes to save thousands of dollars.

The new type of post office building which secretary Morgenthau hopes to see spring up over the country, is a simple, efficient and without being monumental or costly. He says that he will take care that the buildings are the late jazz age, and the recent entry into athletic competition. "Girls Twice as Apt to Contract Tuberculosis as Boys"—Statistics

Because of the exceptionally high tuberculosis death rate among girls between the ages of 15 and 24, which is twice as high as that of young men of the same age, the Illinois Tuberculosis Association has issued a warning to parents to take extra precautions against the development of the disease in young women.

The exact reason for the disparity between the death rates of the two sexes never has been satisfactorily explained. Some physicians have advanced the theory that the scanty dress of the modern girl might be responsible. Others have claimed that the fact of dieting for a boyish figure is mainly the cause. Still others have pointed to the increased industrialization of women, the late jazz age, and the recent entry into athletic competition. Scientific investigation has failed to show that any of the foregoing theories are well grounded.

of those studied had had children immediately before the onset of the disease was noticed. "Regardless of contributing causes, the great number of deaths should cause parents considerable concern. One of the surest ways of detecting tuberculosis in a child is to have a physical examination including an X-ray picture by a competent physician each year."

"Special care should be taken if it is known that the young woman has been in close contact with an open case of tuberculosis. Statistics show that most new cases of the disease develop in direct contact with an old case."

Where Shetland Ponies Come From Many Shetland ponies come from the Shetland (or Zeland) islands, an archipelago of numerous small islands where the native breed of horses originated from which they received their name.

Others come from breeding farms in other parts of Scotland and England. They have been successfully raised in America also. Shetlands, according to stock ratings, are 100% hands high, though many mature animals are nine hands or less. Highest points, raised extensively in the Shetland islands, are slightly less than the Shetlands.—Publisher Magazine.

PREPAREDNESS PAYS!

Tough for Gussie

The opener was a heartbreaker for Gussie Allenburg, who lost about only allowing the Gilberts two hits in the 10th inning. Ellis' home run in the eighth, tying the score at 1 all, as the first hit made off the story right hander. A single, sacrifice, and two errors gave the Gilberts their winning runs in the 10th inning.

The usual potent bats of the farm sluggers failed to speak very readily in either game, especially when men were on base. The locals garnered only seven hits in each contest, far less than they usually make, and although three of the hits were home runs, all three came with the bases empty. Waldo Schuett hit for the first in the opener and Willis Kuehnle and Charlie Berg smashed out homers in the nightcap.

Merchants Lose Close Games to Heights, Dundee

The Barrington Merchants softball team went down in defeat twice by narrow margins in their last two starts, the Dundee Merchants taking a 14 to 10 slugfest at Dundee last Friday, and the Paddock Printers of Arlington Heights winning 8 to 7 on the final diamond Wednesday night.

The Merchants got off to an early lead in the Dundee game, but were weakened in the final innings to come out on the short end of the score. The same thing happened in the Arlington tilt, the local team drawing away to a 5 to 1 lead in the fifth inning only to have Heights tie the score in the seventh and go ahead with two runs in the next frame. Pflug of Wauconda, playing with the locals, turned in a sparkling performance, jamming out three home runs in four times at bat.

This Friday night the Merchants will take the field against the Fox River Grove Pirates at Spunners park. The game is slated to start at 6:45 p. m.

Net Team Loses to Elgin; Return Match Saturday

Herb Fisher, Former Indiana U. Star Scores Lone Win for Locals

Barrington's new tennis club went down to defeat in its first start of the season last Saturday, losing to Elgin 6 matches to 1 at the Wing Park courts. Herb Fisher, former University of Indiana star, came through with the lone local win, defeating E. Akeman, Elgin No. 1 player in singles 6-2, 6-8, and 6-0. The Barrington netmen were slightly handicapped by the fact that the Wing Park courts were of clay instead of cement as are the local tennis courts.

Next Saturday will offer the first chance for Barrington fans to see the new team in action when Elgin comes here for a return match at the local tennis courts. Play will start at 2 p. m. and will consist of four singles and three doubles matches. The local team will be strengthened by the addition of John Wehrheim who formerly played at Purdue university. Wehrheim, who stands six feet and four inches, weighs close to 200 pounds, and has a good all-around game.

Testative matches are also being arranged with DesPlaines, Evanston, Oak Park, and St. Charles. Results of the other Elgin matches, all won by the visiting city stars, were: Singles—Webb defeated Brown, 6-0, 6-0; Olhaber defeated Willis, 6-4, 6-1; Krueger defeated W. W. Meyer, 7-5, 6-4; Doubles—Olhaber and Achman defeated Miller and Fisher, 4-6, 6-2, 6-4; Herd and Savage defeated Willis and W. W. Meyer, 6-4, 6-1, 6-4; Webb and Gaeder defeated Brown and W. W. Meyer, 6-1, 6-0.

Merchants Girls to Play Palatine; Lose to Fox River Grove

The Barrington Merchants girls softball team will play its next game against Palatine next Thursday, Aug. 16 at the Russell street playground. The girls will be seeking their fifth win of the season.

In their last start the local girls never got going and fell easy prey to Fox River Grove by a score of 25 to 5. The game was played on the winner's diamond.

Als an Ancient Beverage

Als is older than literature, for in the first fragments of recorded history occurs mention of the beverage as having previously existed. Bibliography, which is bewilderingly extensive on the subject of ale and beer, seems pretty well agreed on the statement that ale was known in China 4,000 years before Christ and in Egypt at least 4,000 years ago.

Berger and Hager Fail to Qualify in Western Junior

Owen Berger and Don Hager of Barrington, playing in the Western Junior golf championship at Hinsdale Tuesday shot rounds of 84 and 87 respectively to fall outside of the qualifying bracket for match play which included 25 golfers with scores of 77 or better. The local youths were up against real competition as in the aggregate, the scoring was the best on record for a Western Junior meet.

A field of 225 competed in the event with four youthful golfers tying for medal honors with 77's. So keen was the competition that 11 contestants tied with 77's for the last six places in the match play bracket. This made necessary a playoff which went three holes before the winners were determined.

Dim Headlights of Your Car; Keep Windshields Clean, Warns Bulletin

Springfield, Ill. Aug. 9.—Glares lights may be the direct concern of the "other fellow" on the highway, but for safety every motorist should be as careful not to blind others as he is not to hinder his own vision by driving behind an ancient windshield according to a safety bulletin issued today by Edward J. Hughes, Secretary of State.

"Proper headlights and clean windshields promote general safety both on highways and streets," the bulletin said. "One who drives with a glaring light may blind a motorist coming from the opposite direction and thereby invite a collision. Just as well drive in absolute darkness as into a blinding light."

"Dim your headlights at the approach of traffic, for your own safety in this instance may depend on the clear vision of the driver coming toward you."

"And so that you may meet the glare of other headlights more successfully, keep your windshield clean. Dirty windshields are not only hazards in themselves, but they also magnify the annoying glare of headlights striking them. To reduce the attendant risk of accident make it a habit to keep the glass in your windshield clean at all times. And also remember that the windshield wiper is one of the most important safety devices. Keep it in good condition so that it will be ready in an emergency."

For That Turtle Soup

Of the three common kinds of sea turtles, the hawksbill is exported for tortoise shell, and the green turtle for its flesh, says the American Nature association. The remaining one of the trio, the loggerhead, seems not to offer any special temptation to man, but like the others has its nest robbed to an extent that threatens its abundance.

Zombies

Zombie is a Haitian name meaning a witch or magician, and is used by uncultured negroes to frighten their children. The effect of this is very similar to the American expression "look out or the bogey man will get you." These bogey men are said to be taken from their graves by men who want cheap labor. They take these men and fix them so they are able to work. They presumably have no soul; their faces are expressionless, and they are evidently hard of understanding. It is widely believed in Haiti that it is possible to inject a fluid into the bodies of the dead persons, which will make it possible for their bodies to move and act as robots.

A Barrington banner was donated by Harry A. Rand. This was suspended in a conspicuous place so folks could find the merry Barringtonians.
We had a sumptuous pot luck meal and to top it off Mrs. Wiseman brought a delicious and beautifully decorated anniversary cake. While we were busy munching who should stroll along but Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schoppe of Palatine, Illinois. We were delighted to see them and had a good old visit.

The Name "Fidac"
The letters F. I. D. A. C. is the shortened form of the name taken by the Federation of Allied Legion, founded in 1920, with headquarters at Paris, France. The letters stand for the French name of the organization, Federation Interalliée des Anciens Combattants.

No Taxes Paid to Washington
There is no assessor of Washington and Washington has no collection of taxes; no taxes are paid to Washington.

Origin of Term "Toasting"
The Anglo-Saxon custom of drinking healths has been, since the Eighteenth century, termed "toasting." In the latter the word is connected with the toast put into ale cups. This is probably correct, says the author of an old English work on ale and beer, though Wedgewood considers "toast" a corruption of "stos an," knock (glass), a German drinker's cry.

Cost of Fox Hunting
The pastime of following the hounds, or fox hunting, involves an annual expenditure of from $50,000 to $500,000 in Great Britain.

"Uliguous"
There is a variant spelling of the gloom, which has the botanical meaning "growing in swampy or muddy places." In former times it was employed with the meaning "muddy; slimy; mucky." It is derived from the Latin uliginosus, meaning "moisture."

The Dear Young Things
Debut is pronounced day-bit (rhyme with few). Debutant is day-bant (rhyme with any). If the girl calls herself a debutante and makes a day-boy, her entrance into society will probably be followed by a swift exit.

Blanke Defends Repair of North Hough St. Sewer

Reads 11 Page Report on Gjeliefeld Line at Board Meeting

The village of Barrington is morally obligated to maintain and improve the Hough street sanitary sewer main and its lift pump which is a connecting outlet for sewage flow from the Jewel park system to the village sanitary sewer main near Hough street and the E. J. & E. tracks, according to an opinion expressed by Trustee John Blanke at the regular board meeting Monday night.

Mr. Blanke's opinion was read in conclusion to a lengthy report on the status of the Hough street main which was installed by the Gjeliefeld Construction Co. in 1929 for the purpose of giving the Jewel park system an outlet.

There has been considerable discussion about that sewer which was installed by the Gjeliefeld Construction Co. in 1929 for the purpose of giving the Jewel park system an outlet.

The sewer was planned by the village engineers of Barrington, Mr. Peterson, and Barrington as part of a comprehensive extension of the village system to include service to property at the outlying edge of town. The comprehensive system was abandoned later because of the pending law suit against the village in which Barrington Hills County club et al were complainants. However, the Jewel's private system was under construction when the plan was dropped and without the village sanitary sewer extension, it would not have an outlet. A "gentlemen's agreement" was said to have been reached by which the Gjeliefeld Construction Co. would install the connecting link and would be paid later from property assessment when the sewer system extension program was carried out.

The court injunction against Barrington under the plan of an outlet has greatly dimmed the prospect of the proposed extension being put in, with the result that the Gjeliefeld Co. is in a peculiar situation in regard to getting remuneration for its work. It has filed a bill against the village for $15,021.19, but no village board has acknowledged this debt.

Several trustees (during the last few years) have taken the stand that the village does not own the sewer, did not order it and should not pay for it. Elden Gleske, president of the present board, believes that the village should not take such steps as improving the system or replacing the worn out lift pump as this might be interpreted as legal acknowledgment that the village owns the sewer and is obligated to pay for it. The main was installed to serve certain property and should be paid for by assessment on the property it serves according to this viewpoint.

Trustee Blanke as chairman of the sewer and water committee has taken the attitude that in repairing the pump, the village does not alter its status relative to the Hough street line. He summarized his eleven page single spaced report on the subject as follows:

"An application of the law cited above to the Jewel park improvement and to the North Hough street sewer and sewer lift proves conclusively that the village of Barrington has a duty and a liability to maintain, repair and operate the Jewel park sanitary sewer, the North Hough street

According to his report to the local police, the accident occurred as Mr. Wehr was attempting to pass a milk truck on a bottle neck of Northwest highway. Mr. Wehr was going north and in attempting to pass the milk truck collided with a cattle truck, driven by Otto Anderson of Wheeling, which was going south. Both cars were slightly damaged.
