Elderly Woman Hit and Killed by Car; Motorist Escapes

Mrs. Prince, a part-time resident of Gardner's subdivision, located in Fox River Grove, was killed by a hit and run driver in front of her home in Elmhurst Thursday evening. She and her aged husband were sitting on their porch in the evening when a small fox terrier belonging to one of the neighbors across the street approached them and played with Mrs. Prince, fearing for his safety, rather than the dog in her arms and was attempting to cross the street to take it home when she was struck down and her body carried two blocks before it dropped off the death car. The automobile was without lights and was occupied by only the driver. The driver sped through a stop light and escaped.

61st Annual Camp Meeting to Open Here Friday A.M.

Board of Review Extends Blanket Reduction on 1934 Spread

The board consisted of H. D. Kelley of Barrington, chairman, J. P. King of Lake Park and Frank McDermott of Waukegan. Although there was some dissension as to the amount of the cut, the three members were unanimous that there should be some reduction and agreed on the percentage suggested by Mr. Kelley. This is the second Lake county blanket real estate assessment reduction in the last three years. The first was for 15 per cent. Cook county property has enjoyed two reductions in assessed value during the time. The reductions, coming first in one county and then the other, upset the plans of governing bodies in Barrington village, school district and park district, as the tax levies are based on the total assessed value of the entire district lying in both counties. However, the reduction is always welcome by the real estate taxpayers.

Berberry for Decoration The deciduous Japanese berberry is widely used as a hedge plant, because, in addition to its hardiness and ease of culture, it is green in summer, tinted in the fall, and strong with gorgeous red berries throughout the winter. It is a native of Japan, says the American Nature association, where it was discovered and sent to the St. Petersburg Botanic gardens by the Russian botanist, Carl Maximowitch, in 1864. The Arnold Arboretum, near Boston, received seeds from St. Petersburg in 1875.

Grasshoppers Shed Skins All the most injurious grasshoppers shed their skins on an average of five times during the course of their development. The grasshopper's skin does not keep pace with the growth of the insect, so the old skin goes through the several processes of molting by hanging upside down attached by its legs to some support and slowly wriggling out of its old coat.

Lake Zurich Summer Theatre Presents "Ten Nights in a Bar Room"

The Lake Zurich Summer theatre, which has been giving performances at Old Dixie Inn on route 22 this summer presented a repeat performance of "Ten Nights in a Bar Room" last Saturday evening in answer to popular demand. The cast included Caye Swihart, Peggy Reid, Eunice Bonnell, Brent Wynn, Al. Presh and Edmond Feika of Chicago and Jean Payne of Evanston.

They played this famous thriller of the last century in "show boat" style with sweeping gestures and the florid dialogue of the early nineties. There were musical specialty numbers between scenes.

Penguins Are Travelers Penguins may give the appearance of staid stay-at-homes, but actually they travel extensively—at least the Adelle and Emperor Penguins of the Antarctic do. Stones found in stomachs of these birds, Dincaen Stewart, of Carleton college, reported to the American Journal of Science, indicate migrations of 350 to 400 miles—Literary Digest.

Accepting Injustice "No man," said the sage of Chinatown, "has a right to accept an injustice for the sake of himself and thereby promote conditions which bring injustice to his friends and neighbors."

Everybody has a telephone number, but we have one all our own. It's 225. Easy to remember, isn't it? Just 225.

For exhibition purposes only!

Modern gas heat is fast replacing old-fashioned methods

THE snorting, puffing Iron Horse that once was the pride of the rails is now just a relic—for exhibition purposes only. The boiler that once breathed smoke and soot has grown rusty with disuse—replaced by the fast, silent, clean streamlined train. So, too, with heating systems. The old-fashioned furnace with its soot, dirt and dusty ashes is rapidly losing favor. Thousands are switching to modern gas heat. Gas heat that is automatic, efficient, free of dirt.

With gas heat you never have a worry about the furnace. No running up and down stairs to fix the fire. You fire your furnace from your easy chair by simply setting a little thermostat on the wall. And gas heat is clean. No soot. No dirt. No basement muss. The house stays clean. Curtains and walls are free of grime. And think of the comfort of a winter with no fire to bank, without welding a shovel, without hauling a single painful ash.

Investigate gas heat now. We make a startling offer so you may know the countless comforts and conveniences it will bring to your home.

We'll install gas heat at our expense, remove it at our expense, if you don't like it. We'll install a burner in your present furnace or boiler at our expense. You pay the rental for the burner, which amounts to only $3 a month for the heating months in the average home. This charge is included with the bill for the gas you use. You try it for one month, two months, a year. If within a year you find that you don't like it, we'll remove it at our expense and replace your former heating equipment in good workmanlike order. But if you decide to keep gas heat—as we think you will—the rental you have paid applies on the purchase price of the equipment.

Now—while there is time before the cold weather—get the facts about low cost gas heat. Call today for details.

ESSENTIAL Driest days and uncomfortable nights might follow a creation of your gas service. You could, of course, fire without this service but modern life would certainly be lacking in many matters which have almost become necessities.

This important service is constantly at your command, 24 hours each day, for cooking and heating and other purposes. This service must be maintained. It has become so essentially a part of living.

And from the standpoint of economic common sense the price you pay for this service must cover the production and distribution of it, plus a reasonable return on the money invested to make it possible.

YOU INVEST NOTHING To Try Gas Heat!

Gas heat can be installed without your investing one cent for equipment. To prove that every home can now afford to heat with gas, we'll install it at our expense—remove it at our expense, if you don't like it. Accept this startling offer. Phone your nearest Public Service office TODAY.

Cider Natural Beverage for Pioneer Americans

Cider has been called the American national beverage. It is not peculiar to the United States. England, France and many another temperate zone nation makes cider, but it is true that the juice of the apple has special connotations with American life.

Cider was a natural beverage for the pioneer American. Its making was easy. No elaborate machinery was required. Its raw material was a fruit of which there was so great a surplus that the product could not be humanly consumed. It was a beverage which, in one stage, was suited to the delicate palates and light heads of women and children, while in another it became a sort of Viking's berserk nectar.

So characteristic of America was this drink that it became the symbol of a Presidential campaign. William Henry Harrison, who, incidentally, came from the very heart of Appleseed John's domain, was swept to victory on a hard-cider platform.—Washington Star.

Booming Armaments
Military forces sometimes face armaments which their own country has previously sold to the enemy. During the war, 120,000,000 of German patent fuses for hand grenades were used by the allies; the British fleet used German night sights and Germany bought British copper through Sweden.

J. K. Prentice, Mrs. A. Reichmann on Bird Club Program Tuesday Evening

Stating that he had seen 75 shore birds in Deer Grove forest preserve, John K. Prentice included his description of shore birds to 30 members and guests of the Barrington Bird club, at a meeting held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Fleming of Jewel Park Tuesday evening...

Mr. Prentice said that much of his information had been gleaned from Dr. Wilfred W. Osgood, curator of zoology, and Colin C. Sanborn, assistant curator, of the Field Museum staff.

In defining shore birds to distinguish them from cranes, storks, herons, etc., which are known as marsh birds, the speaker stated the ancestors of shore birds are swimmers and all members of the family swim naturally when necessary but only the phalaropes disport themselves as gracefully as miniature swans.

Shore birds are divided into five families numbering 16 in all: oyster catchers, 4; plovers, tringids and sandpipers, 21; woodcock and snipe, 56; avocets and stilts, 2; phalaropes, 3. They form a valuable national food resource even though large numbers have been exterminated by market hunters in recent years.

Plan for Subsistence Farming Proposed By N. T. Maxon, Architect

During the height of the depression, one of the leading editors of farm and live stock publications, went to Washington to do what he could to relieve the large farmers and the unemployed.

together as they are now. In fact, there are many sound reasons why they should not, and one is a potent factor in the elevation of our social standard, and that is to get the family of the workers out of the tenements where the children have better chances to grow up into better citizens, to learn more about government by owning a piece of land and a home when they grow up.

Under the Maxon plan the workers are to build their own homes and other home structures. This is done by having pre-fabricated units built that will be adaptable for any type home the worker may select.

The agricultural department at Washington commented in 1930. "A large increase in the number of people resorting to ways of life in the country is inevitable. It may in fact, establish an order of social security and social progress far superior to that being realized in much of the United States."

Under the Maxon plan, the present conditions, social and economic, the large farms throughout the country are not able to realize a fair return on their investment and labor. Prices they receive for what they sell are not in line with the prices to buy. Labor cannot be kept employed in industrial and commercial work for the full time of eight hours each day, a week. These two problems must be solved together.

To Observe Scout Day at Fair Thurs.; D. Beard, Speaker

With Daniel Carter Beard, author of books on outdoor life and woodcraft, scheduled as the principal speaker for scout day at the fair, Thursday, August 23, are organizers of scouts in this area, leading troops in the afternoon. He will speak in the court of the hall of states at 10 a. m. Thursday so arrangements are being made through county headquarters for buses to leave Des Plaines at 8:15 a. m. and Park Ridge at 8:30 a. m. Those in charge stated that transportation would be provided only for those who register in advance. Buses will leave the fair to return home at 9 p. m.

Dan Beard was one of the first Americans to receive the Silver Buffalo award by boy scouts of America for distinguished service to boyhood. The citation surrounding this award read, "Daniel Carter Beard is an outstanding outdoorsman, pioneer of outdoor movement for boys as founder of Boy Pioneers and Sons of Daniel Boone, honorary vice president, national scout commissioner, chairman, national court of honor and charter member of the executive board of the Boy Scouts of America, whose prestige, wisdom, and experience have been pillars in the structure of the organization."

Born in Cincinnati in June, 1859, he spent his early life in and around that city where the memory of Daniel Boone's exploits was common in every household. The woods, fields and forest were his playground and before he reached manhood he was a true scout and knew how to live in the wilderness. As he reached manhood he began writing and illustrating a successful career as an instructor of animals and wild life. Later he began writing and illustrating today as author of many books for boys. He has formerly been editor of Recreational Magazine and former president of the Campfire Club of America. Mr. Beard adjoining Mt. McKinley in named for him. He is still active as an author and illustrator and each month his page appears in Boys Life magazine.

Cacao Used as Money
Cacao was used as a means of barter and the payment of tribute by the Aztecs and Mayans. Cacao's wealth was often judged by the number of cacao beans he possessed. In Mexico a good slave could be purchased for 100 beans, his highly concentrated food value, low cost of production, and numerous uses stimulated cacao cultivation.

July Figures Show Marked Increase in Suburban Area

Building Permits for Last Month Total $435,510 for This Region

Suburban building figures in the Chicago region for the month of July showed a decided increase over last month, villages adjacent to Barrington as well as Barrington itself having started several new projects. Barrington showed a total of $12,745 in building permits issued last month as compared with $1000 in June, 1934, and none in July, 1933.

July's total for the Chicago suburban region, $435,510, compares favorably with January's $459,000 and May's $491,000. February was able to show only half of July's total, but several other months exceeded July's figures, March with $524,000, April with $530,000 and June with $620,000.

The July figures would have looked extremely good almost any month in 1933 since records show that they were exceeded only once and that was in October, naturally one of the best building months.

Detailed figures of the survey issued this week are as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Location and Amount. July '34 July '33 June '34. Barrington 12,745 None 1,000. Crystal Lk. 4,900 2,550 None. Des Plaines 225 None None. Elgin 8,173 9,500 23,216. Mt. Prospect None None None. Park Ridge 425 590 1,150. Waukegan 1,750 2,500 4,975.

Thieves Enter Dayton Hotel; Take Liquor, Cash and Two Slot Machines

Thieves entered the Dayton hotel between 1 and 4 a. m. Tuesday and robbed the management of two slot machines, several bottles of liquor, and small change amounting to about $4.50 according to a report submitted to chief of police E. W. Baade. Lights were burning in the front room entered by using a pass key to the side door of the hotel entrance. Mrs. George Atkins, wife of the proprietor, was awakened by the sound of her dog barking violently about 4 a. m. and went downstairs to investigate. She discovered the slot machines, one large and one small one, were gone and reported the family. Further investigation revealed the theft of liquor from the hotel bar and small change, kept in the cash drawer.

TELEPHONE, BARRINGTON NO. 1

TINKERING IS NO CURE

Every war of first magnitude is followed by a temporary boom while depleted stocks are being restored, according to a writer in the New York Sun, but after a few years there is a severe panic, with a decline in prices and in labor employment.

The post-war boom in America ended in 1929, although the great collapse in wheat had come when the war-time demands ended, the price dropping from $3 to less than $1 a bushel. Ignoring the obvious cause of this slump in price, politicians blamed the existing marketing system and demanded its punishment.

This agitation, long continued, has discouraged speculative activity of the market. For nearly a year leaders of the grain trade have repeatedly warned that excessive governmental tinkering and threats of new and more drastic laws, such as the so-called commodity exchange bill offered at the last session of congress, would drive out that speculative support so essential at crop movement time.

Such warnings, informed editors and marketing authorities point out were unheeded, with the result that the winter wheat crop recently harvested has found a market almost entirely devoid of the usual valuable speculative support. As was inevitable, the farmer has suffered as a consequence.

STUMPING FOR ELECTION

Probably no administration in history has ever sent its high officials out over the country so much just prior to an election. Wallace, Tugwell, Ezekiel and Davis of the agriculture department have either made or planned swings. Farley and Johnson completed their stumping tours ahead of the president's. Secretary Roper went to Alaska, Secretary Cummings is headed for Hawaii, Secretary Dern to Panama, Relief Chief Harry Hopkins to Europe on government business, etc. The "second team" is running the show.

The last time an administration initiated such a battle to retain congress it was directed by Woodrow Wilson. But you can get heavy odds even in republican camps that the result won't be the same. Wilson lost control after pleading for a democratic vote.

Incidentally, the democratic chiefs are beginning to wonder where Al Smith will pop up next. He has taken the dry-cleaned Tammany back to his breast. But since making his famous "money-dollar" crack he has been very, very quiet despite the acclaim he received then. No one believes he can be entirely silent through a campaign but they can't guess where he might strike or for which side.

NEW DEAL CONFLICTING

It takes a broad perspective and perhaps a change in advisers to see a way through the bumps that the present crop of "thinkers" has provided for the administration. Just taking a few of the conflicting movements at random gives you an idea of the problem. Labor was permitted to force production costs so high that all the aid given the farmer has left the parity little changed. Question, rationalize the NRA and labor activities or keep dumping more to the farmer to help him catch up. Billions have been added to the public debt, running it to a new high, and the only known method for liquidating a debt is taxation, yet new ideas for government competition with private enterprise are being invented daily, including the governmental operation of factories. Question: aid industry to get on its feet to pay the tax bill or burden it until the only recourse is outright socialization through governmental operation of all industries.

SALES TAX COLLECTIONS

Collections during the first twelve months of the operation of the sales tax act produced $36,632,933.25, K. L. Ames, Jr., director of finance of the state of Illinois, announced today.

During the month of July there was collected $3,349,729.93 for June business. This is the largest amount collected during any one month since the sales tax was put into effect, exceeding the amount collected in January, 1934, for December business of $3,529,989.98.

The reduction in real estate tax, which was supposed to result from passage of the retail sales tax act, saves property taxpayers only a small percentage of the total amount collected on retail sales. The difference is used by the large army of office holders who administer the sales tax law and by other agencies which have greatly increased the cost of Illinois state government.

RIGHT OF WAY

Pedestrians who are crossing the street at an intersection on a crosswalk have the right of way over automobiles, according to the accident prevention department of the Chicago Motor club. Drivers must slow down or stop if necessary and afford them a chance to cross in safety. This is always the rule, except at intersections where traffic is being regulated and controlled by a police officer or signal device. At such times pedestrians should obey the officer or signal.

WHAT'S GOING ON IN WASHINGTON

The president, back in the white house, has found his desk crowded with problems. Not since March 4, 1933, has Mr. Roosevelt faced questions of so great immediate concern to the country. The drought, slackening business, labor disputes, financing, money, all press for attention. Decisions are in the air affecting the future of the NRA, AAA, FERA, PWA, and many of the other important new deal administrative creations. Which way should NRA turn? Should it be toward more restrictions, shorter hours, and higher prices maintained by the strong arm of the government? Or toward fewer restrictions, lower prices, with jobs to grow from increased production? Is a vast new spending drive required to support the present industrial price level? What can be done to cushion the effect of an approaching high cost of foodstuffs, due to the drought and the AAA? Should a heavy printing of silver certificates follow the nationalization of that metal? How can approaching financial trouble in Europe be averted from our shores? A procession of high officials has started to the white house to help the president reach an answer to these and other questions. At Green Bay, Mr. Roosevelt said that there is going to be action.

Psychological influences which are apt to generate fear of the future—if permitted to go unchallenged—are at the moment the most dangerous forces in our economic situation. The "doughflation" has come up again. Fear of presidential policies had spread throughout the business and financial world with renewed intensity. The result in mild form was apparent in the first failure last week of a treasury offering of securities. Also the unavailability in the position of bonds and the revival of the scramble for equities are both symptomatic of how different groups in the nation read the signs of the future. The Roosevelt administration has certainly itself to blame for these adverse readings. Mr. Roosevelt's answer last week to pleas for clarification of government policies consisted of defiance and a consistent speech was an error in tactics.

Insurance on Thursday of a presidential proclamation "nationalizing" silver was the outstanding event of the past week in Washington. This proclamation, taken in conjunction with a treasury statement issued Friday after a conference between president F. D. Roosevelt and secretary Morgenthau immediately following the former's return to the capital, was interpreted as another step of the administration toward a managed currency. The proclamation was issued with authority vested in the president by the silver purchase act of 1934. It has been prepared for some time but was withheld until the government's financial experts decided that the debt was not growing either in mind or body as he ought.

When a child says, "I won't," whether in words or actions does not matter—he does his mind and sits inside in the darkness of his anger and fear. You never meet the one without the other, anything that brings fear brings anger with it. They are twins. Until we can help the child free himself of the fear he cannot get out and play. He is a prisoner to his fear, or as we are termed it now, his stubbornness. Children who are not certain about their power to do what they are asked of them are likely to balk. They have not the power of courage to tell us all they are feeling. We have to win him by trust and confidence before he will venture another step. We cannot accomplish this by scolding and shaking and slapping. All that adds to the difficulty.

Our Children

By Angelo Patri, c. Bell Syndicate—WNU Service

The Contrary Child

Children who are contrary and stubborn are a great trial to their mothers and teachers. When one comes along the best thing to do is not to mind to learn the child of his affliction, for an affliction it certainly is. A contrary child is unhappy and an unhappy child does not grow either in mind or body as he ought. When a child says, "I won't," whether in words or actions does not matter—he does his mind and sits inside in the darkness of his anger and fear. You never meet the one without the other, anything that brings fear brings anger with it. They are twins. Until we can help the child free himself of the fear he cannot get out and play. He is a prisoner to his fear, or as we are termed it now, his stubbornness. Children who are not certain about their power to do what they are asked of them are likely to balk. They have not the power of courage to tell us all they are feeling. We have to win him by trust and confidence before he will venture another step. We cannot accomplish this by scolding and shaking and slapping. All that adds to the difficulty.

From Scorpio and Sagittarius it passes through Ari, Lupus, Norma, Crux, and Centaurus to Argo, and then northward once more into the southern hemisphere in Canis Major completing its circuit of the heavens.

Parliament The word parliament was first used by Matthew Paris in 1246, but only gradually replaced the names by which the councils of the English kings had previously been known. Modern parliament has developed slowly from Witenagemot of Anglo-Saxon times.

Rubber Trees Traced to Theft All of the rubber trees in India, Malaya and the Far East, may be traced to a daring theft by Sir Henry Wickham. When the British government tried to retain complete control of the raw output by forbidding the exportation of seeds, Wickham pretended that he was "collecting exceedingly delicate botanical specimens for the delivery to Her Own Britannic Majesty's Royal Gardens at Kew." He reached England with a cartload of seed, promptly planted them, and the young shoots were then sent to Ceylon, where the plantation industry started.

They The smallest bird in the world is the Calypso's hummingbird, found only in Cuba. It is less than two inches from end of beak to the tip of its tail, and it is so light it can hardly be felt when held on the hand. In fact, the hummingbird-moth we see around flowers in the evening is larger and heavier than this bird.

Right to Vote The United States of America does not guarantee to its citizens the right to a divorce. In the State of Kansas City, The State of Kansas, who may enjoy the privilege is reserved to the individual in granting the divorce. The Constitution provides that no state shall make or sex. Lake Zurich Team Scores Five Runs in Ninth Inning

Game With North Chicago Giants Falls Thrill; Sides Here Sunday

A prolonged rally by the Lake Zurich Pirates in the ninth inning of the game with the North Chicago Giants Sunday, but they finally got the side out after five runs had scored to chalk up their second win of the season over the Giants, 6 to 1. The local baseball club apparently had a safe lead, 5 to 1, going into the final game but the Pirates look no mercy on Earl Hines, Barrington high school pitcher who had relieved Charley Chasley in the sixth, jumping on him for five hits and five runs before Chasley came back from out of position to get the side out. When Chasley went in to pitch he was out two outs and the bases loaded and the batter had three strikes to his credit. Errors had been made in this inning for if the first out would have been an error, probably one of the runs would have been scored. Chasley gave up only three hits in the seven innings he pitched.

Chasley's hero continued his batting streak with a home run and triple, while Herb Garbisch also came through with a four bagger.

Giants Game Flips The regularly scheduled game Sunday with the North Chicago Giants, an all-colored team all through when the Giants injured the Bears on Friday that they had a previous engagement. It couldn't come. Booking manager Ray Wickham scurried around and fortunately was able to contact Lake Zurich. Pirates had an open date.

The rubber game between the two and the Elgin Parkside had to be played here next Sunday. A Spencers Park. Elgin was the first encounter and the Bears took best of Elgin leaving Sunday's game to determine which is the better of the two teams.

Elstodoff, Welsh Word

Elstodoff is a Welsh word applying to assemblies of bards and people meeting for competition in Welsh poetry and prose and in music, both vocal and instrumental. There are two kind of Elstodoffs, the national and the provincial gatherings, which take place in many parts of Wales and even in the Welsh in foreign countries, especially in the United States. Originally the principal function of the Elstodoff was to license or admit duly qualified candidates to the position of recognized bards or minstrels. The festival is an institution of importance in the intellectual life of the Welsh people.

Right to Vote

The United States of America does not guarantee to its citizens the right to vote, writes G. H. Turner in the Kansas City Times. The decision as to who may enjoy this privilege is reserved to the legislatures of the States. The Constitution merely provides that the granting of the right to vote to any state shall discriminate because of race, religion or sex. It is for this reason that there exists the occasional legislator of a person being a citizen of the United States, for although a state cannot make an alien a citizen of the United States, it may confer on him all the privileges that it confers on its own citizens.

State Bank of Palatine Will
The 1888 depositors of the State Bank of Palatine will receive the latter part of this week a per cent dividend, amounting to $20,234.54. The dividend is made possible by a Reconstruction Finance corporation loan on bank's assets and has been authorized by State Auditor Edward Barrett, according to an announcement by William L. O'Connell, general receiver for closed state banks.
The dividend is the first paid since the bank was closed the national banking moratorium March 5, 1933. The RFC is to be $21,660.02, against which assets appraised at $188,679 but with a book value of $24,858.82 were pledged.
Refuse Former Loan
Of the $71,660.02 federal loan $45,578.29 is being paid to rest the remainder of a previous RFC loan which, coupled with interest amounted to $45,578.29. The early loan was made before the bank closed and amounted to $7,775.76. The principal had been reduced through proceeds from collections to $44,802.51.
This leaves $25,857.63 of the second loan available for dividends. This sum added to the $15,200 cash on hand, makes $41,057.63 out of which a dividend can be taken. The 22 per cent paid will leave a substantial working fund for the reestablishment of the bank.
Preferred Claims Cleared Up
The institution has a deposit liability of $173,278.50. It has preferred claims of $24,231.64 that have been allowed and $18,000 more that are pending.
At the time the bank was closed it had total assets with a book value of $345,444.45, the principal items of which were loans discounts at $138,299.45; furniture and fixtures, $13,873.93; banking house, $53,306.68; real estate loans, $87,955.35; and notes, $18,842.28. The total dividends at the time of closing was $29,342.44.

Three Men Hurt, Two Cars Damaged in Mishap
Near Barrington Sunday
Three men were injured and two cars in which they were riding were damaged Sunday night at 1 o'clock when one car collided with another that was parked along the pavement on North Park street. A quarter of a mile east of the Hill side avenue crossing.
The accident occurred just after Mrs. Marion Dimond, 7400 Greenwood avenue, Chicago, age 22, had parked near the edge of the pavement to recover a hat that had blown from one of the occupants of the car. The other car, driven by W. H. Dorsey, 7347 Idlewild avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa., age 60, was traveling west at a speed of about 25 miles per hour, according to the driver. It ran into the back of the first car and both cars down an embankment but neither were overturned.
Dorsey was the only one of the five occupants of the Pennsylvania car receiving injuries. 1,888 Persons in Palatine Draw 23 Per Cent Dividend

$30,234.54 Payment Result Reconstruction Finance Corporation Loan

The 1888 depositors of the State Bank of Palatine will receive the latter part of this week a per cent dividend, amounting to $20,234.54. The dividend is made possible by a Reconstruction Finance corporation loan on bank's assets and has been authorized by State Auditor Edward Barrett, according to an announcement by William L. O'Connell, general receiver for closed state banks.

The dividend is the first paid since the bank was closed the national banking moratorium March 5, 1933. The RFC is to be $21,660.02, against which assets appraised at $188,679 but with a book value of $24,858.82 were pledged.

Of the $71,660.02 federal loan $45,578.29 is being paid to rest the remainder of a previous RFC loan which, coupled with interest amounted to $45,578.29. The early loan was made before the bank closed and amounted to $7,775.76. The principal had been reduced through proceeds from collections to $44,802.51.

This leaves $25,857.63 of the second loan available for dividends. This sum added to the $15,200 cash on hand, makes $41,057.63 out of which a dividend can be taken. The 22 per cent paid will leave a substantial working fund for the reestablishment of the bank.

Preferred Claims Cleared Up
The institution has a deposit liability of $173,278.50. It has preferred claims of $24,231.64 that have been allowed and $18,000 more that are pending.

At the time the bank was closed it had total assets with a book value of $345,444.45, the principal items of which were loans discounts at $138,299.45; furniture and fixtures, $13,873.93; banking house, $53,306.68; real estate loans, $87,955.35; and notes, $18,842.28. The total dividends at the time of closing was $29,342.44.

Three Men Hurt, Two Cars Damaged in Mishap
Near Barrington Sunday

Three men were injured and two cars in which they were riding were damaged Sunday night at 1 o'clock when one car collided with another that was parked along the pavement on North Park street. A quarter of a mile east of the Hill side avenue crossing.

The accident occurred just after Mrs. Marion Dimond, 7400 Greenwood avenue, Chicago, age 22, had parked near the edge of the pavement to recover a hat that had blown from one of the occupants of the car. The other car, driven by W. H. Dorsey, 7347 Idlewild avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa., age 60, was traveling west at a speed of about 25 miles per hour, according to the driver. It ran into the back of the first car and both cars down an embankment but neither were overturned.

Dorsey was the only one of the five occupants of the Pennsylvania car receiving injuries. His face was badly cut by the steering wheel, Charles Stannette, Palauki, Tenn., age 28, the owner of the car driven by Dimond, received a superficial scalp wound, and Duncan Dohg, 13081 Astor street, Chicago, age 27, sustained a back injury.

Development of North Park Ur
The Barrington Bird Club has arranged to cooperate with the local park board in the planting of shrubs in the North Side park. A particular location near the playground has been reserved as a bird sanctuary. The planting will be done not only for the purpose of giving protection and cover but also for the fruit that the shrubs will produce for the birds. Hemp, millet, sunflower and cosmos will be planted for the seed eating birds. Some evergreens will be planted for cover.

It is hoped by members of the bird club that the new sanctuary project may be maintained permanently. A systematic method of developing the plot of ground
