Special Meeting Held of Trustees and Jewel Rep-

Noth Hough street sewer main laid by the Gjelde Construction Co. to connect Jewel Park sewer to the village mains is a temporary expedient put without the written consent of the village board, to village attorney D. H. Malone.

Mr. Malone's opinion was expressed at a special meeting of the board held Friday night and attended by Allen Hunt and T. E. Davis, representatives of Jewel Co.

There are no records of any payment available, the attorney advised, but members of the then serving board have reported a gentleman's agreement between Jewel Co. and the village board.

It was suggested that the village now plan a special assessment job for installing a new sewer outlet from Jewel Park to the village line, which the main line connects with the mains.

As much of the Gjelde main line should be utilized in the new job as possible with Mr. Gjelde reimbursed for it. It was also suggested that Jewel present the assessment bonds for financing the work.

A new line can be installed and legal bonds issued by property owners, whereas the assessment bonds can be spread for the old improvement installed without the required legal proceedings.

Mr. Malone will write a letter to H. Karker, president of Jewel Co. explaining the plan in detail.

Tokyo Girls' School Wins
So successful has become the new school for prospective brides in Tokyo, Japan, that a marriage bureau for students is to be opened at the center. In addition, many young men are now engaged in the youth of Japan are causing this increase by their enthusiasm over the graduates and marrying them. The marriage bureau is reported to have a long list of young men who are seeking brides. The school was started last year under difficult conditions. Students had to face much ridicule from male members of the family and from the neighbors who looked to the kitchens and class rooms to learn cooking and needlework. At graduation time students flocked to the graduates, and the school was pronounced a success.

Sunshine Killers Rattlesnakes
Owls, horned owls, think of a desert rattlesnake as lurking in the sun all day long awaiting his prey. Surprisingly, however, direct sunlight quickly kills this cold-blooded reptile. This was proved by members of the Yosemite Field School in Yosemite National Park. A specimen rattlesnake was desired for museum display but it was found that the snake, though a member of the same school, therefore, placed a rattler in an exposed position where he died in convulsions under the direct rays of the sun in 17½ minutes.—Scientific American.

wouldn't buy those eyes

Yet in two out of three homes, children's eyes probably suffer from the wrong kind of lighting. Don't delay. Send today for our free light test. It measures accurately every light in your home.

HOW about the lamp by which your child reads? Does it give enough light? Does the light strike the printed page at the right angle? Is it free from the glare that works such havoc with eyes?

Experts estimate that in nine out of ten homes, some member of the family suffers from the wrong kind of lighting. Perhaps it's mother who is squinting because the lining of her reading lamp is too dark. Or the home may be so deficient in attractive, hospitable light that the young members of the family hate to stay home. Or father may be paying for light that is wasted through lack of the right kind of fixtures.

What correct lighting is

To protect eyes, you should have from 20 to 30 foot-candles of light falling on the printed page. It should be properly diffused with no glare, no deep shadows, no contrasts to cause eyes to change focus frequently. Under such lighting, eye tension is relieved. Your body relaxes. Your nerves relax, too.

Most women would be glad to give their families the benefit of safe lighting; to protect the eyesight of their children. But they have no way of measuring the kind of light their lamps give. And so night after night eyes struggle on with danger of permanent injury.

How to get it

In the last few years some wonderful discoveries have been made about proper lighting. Lighting engineers have found that just by changing the position of shades, by raising or lowering the height of bulbs, and by designing a special kind of "light reflecting" shade, these handicaps to eyesight are completely overcome.

See the new "Sight-Saver" lamps

Your Public Service Store has a variety of these properly designed lamps for sale. They are beautiful as well as safe for eyes. Come down and see them and at the same time learn, from our better lighting display, simple and easy ways in which you can improve the lighting in your home. And get Free, a marvelous little device called "The Lighting Tape Measure" which enables you to tell quickly whether or not each lamp in your home is providing safe light. Act at once. Don't allow the eyes in your family to struggle unaided another night.

Grading of Highway
59 North of Town to
Be Started in Spring

The new route for highway 59 between North Hough street and Wauconda has been accepted, but grading will not be started until spring.

A meeting of R. T. Cash of Elgin, district highway engineer, Lake county officials and the Barrington route 59 committee, was held at the home of N. Barusman Monday night to ascertain if the work could be started this fall.

Mr. Cash reported that on October 10, the department will start getting the final bit of right-of-way, and that if not bothered by objectors, will finish everything preparatory to grading by winter time.

Both grading and paving should be completed before the end of next summer, he said.

October 12When is Publicity
Advertising?

Although the large majority of newspaper patrons understand perfectly the difference between ADVERTISING and NEWS, a few do not, and occasionally call at The Review office with purely advertising material with request that it be published as news. The basis of their mistake is usually a simple misunderstanding of the difference between advertising and news.

We will not attempt in a brief space to differentiate in detail between the two, but will suggest the basic difference between printed advertising and printed news.

PRINTED NEWS consists of a concise recital of recently developed facts which are of general interest to the public, but of no special pecuniary or commercial benefit to anyone.

PRINTED ADVERTISING is the recital of facts, claims, representations, etc., for the direct or indirect purpose of commercial or pecuniary benefit to one or more persons or groups of persons.

Mistaken ideas on advertising frequently concern publicity for public performances, public meetings and benefit suppers, and open cards of thanks and letters of condolence.

A Rule of Thumb followed by editors and advertising managers for many years is briefly:

Where admission is charged or collections taken up for a public entertainment, party, dinner, etc., the publicity is advertising and should be charged for.

Where no admission is charged and no collection taken, brief publicity can be treated as news.

The Barrington Review and other progressive newspapers have adhered to the above rule for more than 20 years. Below is reprinted the masthead of the Barrington Review of June 27, 1912 to show that 22 years ago the advertising department of the Barrington Review was conducted on a business-like basis as it now is:

TELEPHONE, BARRINGTON NO. 1

MR. HORNER CUT YOUR TAXES (?)

Probably sensing the unpopularity and the unfairness of the sales tax, which Governor Horner is planning to extend, and possibly increase, state administration publicity men are sending out news releases such as the following one to newspapers of the state:

Springfield, Ill.—DuPage county citizens are paying less under the retailers' occupational tax law than they were under the state's direct property tax eliminated by Governor Henry Horner, it was shown today in a report issued by K. L. Ames, Jr., Director of Finance, State of Illinois. The report revealed that in the year ending July 30, 1934, DuPage county paid $337,786.63 retailers' occupational tax, while under the property tax for state purposes in 1932 on a 50 cent assessment rate, DuPage county was assessed a total of $377,976.60.

"This savings can be attributed directly to Governor Horner," said Director Ames. "The retailers' occupational tax has produced a more equal spread of taxes throughout the state."

Perhaps it qualifies as good publicity. Obviously, it is intended to give readers the impression that Governor Horner's big-hearted sponsorship of the occupational tax (which incidentally brings in several millions more to the state than the property tax did) has saved us money here in DuPage county.

Attribute the savings to Mr. Horner! What savings?

True in 1932, DuPage was assessed $377,976 as the state's share of the real estate tax. But County Treasurer Retta K. Martin actually paid to the state only $278,499, as its share of all the real estate taxes collected in DuPage.

And towards that $278,499 the railroads and public utilities in DuPage paid $49,000. Deducting the $49,000 from the total amount paid, leaves $229,499 which the rank and file of realty taxpayers in this county contribute to the state. The Ames figures tell what was assessed, not what was collected. What a difference!

Under the sales tax set-up, the railroads and large corporations pay very little; for their purchases subject to the occupational tax are negligible. That means that in 1933 the DuPage property owners paid $337,786 sales tax, according to Mr. Ames' figures, as compared with $229,499 state realty tax the year before.

Taking Director Ames at his word, DuPage home owners should shout the praises of Governor Horner from the house tops, for the privilege of paying nearly a hundred thousand dollars a year more towards supporting the state government!

Nearly every resident of DuPage county buys some share of his everyday needs, upon which sales taxes are paid, in Chicago or Cook county. Naturally, the two per cent that DuPagers pay on Cook county purchases is not shown in the above figures. There would be no way of knowing just exactly how much of the Cook total can be attributed to DuPage buyers, and hence it cannot be extended.

The Division of Departmental Reports, from which the story emanated, undoubtedly knew that, since DuPage is a suburban county, not anywhere near all of the sales tax contributions of its citizens were included in the returns of local merchants. Apparently the Springfield publicity man thought he could slip something over that would make political capital for Mr. Horner.

The statement that "the retailer's occupational tax has produced a more equal spread of taxes throughout the state" is questionable. Nobody denies that the sales tax has lifted some of the obligations from railroads and large building corporations and laid it upon the average home owner. If that is the kind of equalization that taxpayers want, we miss our guess.

The sales tax is neither more equitable nor less expensive than the property tax. It is less painful, because it is paid a few cents at a time. The only ones who like it are the railroads and other big property owners who have found that it costs them less than the state property tax did.—The Elmhurst Press.

HOW THEY "CRACKED DOWN"

Less than a year ago General Hugh S. Johnson, NRA administrator, predicted that the American people would "crack down on Henry Ford" because of Ford's refusal to sign the automobile code, although he was living up to the provisions of that code. Since then the American people have boosted Henry Ford's automobile business into first place in point of sales. And today, Hugh Johnson himself is out. He has a polite, complimentary, and sympathetic letter from the president to show to his grandchildren, but that letter nevertheless is an acceptance of a resignation which was Johnson's preference to being laid away on a figurehead's shelf.

Henry Ford is manufacturing an automobile very similar to his 1933 car with slight improvements. His competitors are manufacturing automobiles similar to but also slightly improved over their 1933 products. In 1933 Ford did not lead the field. This year he does. Something other than the improved quality of the product has boosted Ford sales into first place. Probably it's the American people's response to the general's orders to "crack down."

WHAT'S GOING ON

(Courtesy: The United States News)

The republican party found it self used as a cover in the west by radicals who knew the advertising value of that label. Today the same advertising power extends with respect to the democratic label. Hence the Upton Sinclairs and the others of his school of thought come into the democratic primaries and win by large margins. Mr. Roosevelt faces much more radicalism inside his own party. For the present he shows no signs of cracking down on it. Hence the conservative elements are fearful. They even suspect mistakenly that he relishes the social confusion. Otherwise they ask why doesn't he get rid of some of the radicals in his entourage for whose acts he must accept responsibility? But the president is as much troubled no doubt by the radical surge as are the conservatives. It cannot be brushed aside. And it welds power at the polls. Can it be guided? Mr. Roosevelt presumably thinks so.

There's billions in it, like "Mailbox Sellers," vision, this neck and neck race of administrative agencies to get the thrifty and distressed American home-owners properly financed. The federal administration announces that for almost 7000 financial institutions have accepted its contract of insurance of home modernization credit. These institutions have aggregate resources of upward of $32,000,000. These modernization loans are to stimulate the building industry, the government and the banks instilling the urge of the thrifty home owners to go into debt to make needed home repairs.

North America takes first rank among the continents in showing definite gains toward recovery. Through Alaska, Canada, Newfoundland, the United States, and Mexico, conditions are reported as better. Central America probably comes next with each of its little countries regaining a better outlook economically over the preceding year of depression. A little more than 50 per cent of the countries of Europe are showing gains or improved outlook. The remainder, especially the countries of the central and western part of the continent, reveal serious losses.

On the theory that the end justifies the means, New York City

Meals Time

By Angelo Patri
c, Bell Syndicate—WNU Service

"I have come to dread meal-time. This one won't eat, that one picks a quarrel with somebody, the other one cries. It's a nightmare. We have not had a decent meal-time in the last two years."

"Why not? How old are these children?"

The youngest is eight and the oldest is fourteen. The oldest is the worst. She refuses to eat. No matter what I set before she turns it over with her fork, sniffs disdainfully, and says, 'I can't eat that."

"What do you do when she does that?"

"I've done—everything. I've sent her from the table; I've told her she had to eat it; I've done about everything except cut it for her. What could I do?"

"You could send her from the table and tell her she would not get any food until the next meal-time, and you could see that your word was kept."

"I did do that and it didn't work."

"How long did she go without food?"

"How long? My goodness, you don't suppose I'd let the child starve, do you? I'm easy seeing that you are no mother, your mother couldn't starve her child."

"I am not, am not, am not going to continue to pester the life out of the family until some day they rise in wrath and do something about it."

"And the crying child? Why does he cry?"

"For everything. He must sit beside his father. Father must serve his first. If he doesn't, he cries."

"What happens when he cries?"

"His father stops him, takes him to his lap and comforts him. By and by he is a mouthful, and after his father coaxes him a little, he swallows

Early Stock Brokers

Stock certificates were a product of the Sixteenth century, according to the "Encyclopedia of American Law."

The first great modern company was the East India company, incorporated in 1600, and the Hudson Bay company soon followed, but it was not until the latter part of that century that the shares of these companies began to be actively traded in. The term "stock" was first used in England in 1695 and in 1697 Parliament enacted a law to license stock brokers and check the evils of speculation.

Stock trading came to America in colonial times and the New York Stock Exchange was the outgrowth of an agreement signed in May, 1792, by 24 brokers to fix the rates of commission of stocks and bonds.

Abandon Centuries-Old Tower

Camrai, France, has decided that it no longer needs a watchman in St. Martin's belfry day and night, and has discharged the last of the vigilante men. The move is also to reduce expenses. For hundreds of years men have watched the belfry tower and sounded an alarm in case of fire. Nowadays the residents telephone the fire department and the blaze may be out before the watchman sees it. The famous belfry was shelled and destroyed in the World war, but after the armistice it was rebuilt and the big bell rehung, only to fall and crack when the tower caught on fire. The bell was removed and hung outside, but new bell to replace the one melted by Germans. Of late years the watchman did not ring the bell, but telephoned the fire department.

Trade Council of Elgin Wins From Barrington 7 to 6

Bears Score Four Runs in Ninth, Have "Tying Run" on Third

The Bears lost a heart-breaking game to the Elgin Trades Council Sunday by the close score of 7 to 6. With only one out in the ninth and the tying run on third base, the local team was unable to score.

The game was a tight one and exciting all the way through. The Bears started the scoring by getting two runs in the first inning.

Elgin opened it with one in the fourth and one in the sixth in the seventh they garnered 4 runs on 4 hits and an error and got 1 run in the 9th inning to make it 7 to 2. However, in their half of the inning the Bears came right back to make four runs and the score was 7 to 6. With one out and a man on third, the next man struck out. Charley Berg then bunted to bring the run in, but the runner was out in a very close play at the plate.

The Bears next game will be played at Arlington Heights when they play the Arlington Cardinals.

Bedlington Terrier Not Wolf in Sheep's Clothing

Not quite the wolf in sheep's clothing, the Bedlington terrier is nevertheless very deceptive in appearance. Cloaked with a thick, texture coat, hard but woolly-like, and a smile that would have flattened Mary's little lamb, is the most amiable of all terriers of the British Isles.

As a sporting terrier he is second to none. He will work an otter, draw a badger and has no superior as an enemy to all types of vermin.

Founding of Washington Was Begun Back in 1787

While various proposals for a separate national district had been made soon after the Revolution, it was not until the Constitution was adopted in 1787 that the first step was taken. A clause in the Constitution gave congress certain powers of legislation over a district, not exceeding ten miles square which should become the seat of the government. A bill for this purpose was passed in 1790, the site of the capital being Washington's own choice.

The first permanent settlement by white men on this site had been made about the close of the Seventeenth century, by Irish and Scotch settlers from Maryland and Virginia ceded land to the central government in 1861. The Virginia portion was given back to that state. The commission appointed to purchase the land required for the government purposes found that there were 19 original proprietors, but only four principal landowners, Daniel Carroll, David Burnes, Samuel Davidson and George Washington, who was the most substantial of these, but gave in when threatened with the power of the government to force a sale.

By the terms of the sale, announced in 1791, the owners agreed to convey to the government free of cost such portions of the farms as were needed for streets, parks, etc., and to sell land for public buildings and improvements at $125 per acre.
