Clearing House Plan for State Bank Explained

One was when a dividend might be expected from the receiver of the First State bank. Mr. Sloan predicted that a dividend would the First State bank. Mr. Sloan predicted that a dividend would be paid in five or six months. The bond account of the bank is large enough to pay a 10-to 15 per cent dividend new if it were sold. The bonds with other assets are pledged to the RFC with application for a government loan. If a loan is granted, the first dividend will be for at least 20 per cent and probably for more.

The assistant receiver was asked if a person indebted to the closed-bank would be required to apply on his debt any assignments that he received. The answer was no. If the debtor wished to apply assignments to pay off his debt, be could do so, however, and by doing to help liquidate the bank assets.
