Funeral Services for Victim of Crash, Miss Hart, Held Sunday

A charge of manslaughter against John Sundberg of Whitefish, Wis., driver of the truck that fatally injured Miss Gertrude Hart last Thursday evening, was returned by a coroner's jury following an inquest, held at 203 S. Cook street, Friday.

The jury recommended that the defendant be held to the grand jury on the charge of manslaughter, their verdict being that he was driving "without proper care and in a negligent manner."

It is stated that Miss Hart "came to death in front of number 141 S. Northwest highway." Barrington, from shock and hemorrhage, from injuries sustained when her Packard sedan was struck in the rear by a Ford V8 truck owned by the Whitewater Brewing company and being driven northbound by Mr. Sundberg November 1.

From the testimony presented, we, the jury, find the said John Sundberg was driving said truck without proper care in a negligent manner and recommend that he be held to the grand jury on the charge of manslaughter until released by due process of the law."

Men who comprised the jury were C. James, Charles Schaefer, Matthew Peasek, Arnold Kohnert, George Jencks and Robert Nightengale.

Testimony was given by Floyd Plagge, owner of the shop in front of which the accident occurred, George Selfridge, chauffeur to Miss Hart, Zimmerman, garage man who had examined brakes on the truck, the defendant, and chief of police E. W. Baade. The position in which Miss Hart's car was parked, position of both cars after the crash and subsequent findings of the police were included in the testimony.

Mr. Sundberg, who is 39 years old, testified that he had come to America with his parents at the age of two years, is unmarried, and had been making six trips a year for his company, each trip including 226 miles of travel. Intense weariness must have caused him to doze and drive off the road, he stated later.

After the accident he was kept in the local jail until Friday afternoon when Chief Baade, in a

Business Men to Be Lions' Guests at Dinner Meet

Will Be at School Building; Bank Scrip Plan to Be Explained

Invitations were sent to 140 business and professional men in Barrington this week to attend the Lions club dinner and business meeting which will be held in the auditorium of the school next Monday evening on the suggestion and approval of the school board and E. S. Smith, superintendent.

The two-fold purpose of the meeting will be presentation of the proposed script plan for distributing an early dividend from the First State bank.

Second, the school board will escort the Lions and their guests through the building, showing them the improvements which have been added this summer under the IER, and also the various departments of the institution.

The script plan which was outlined in the Review last week includes a clearing house for issuance of credit to each depositor who chooses to enter it to the extent of 10 per cent of his claim against the bank.

The depositors who enter can use their credit for trade at local stores at full face value. If the plan is put into operation, however, cooperation of a majority of the merchants is necessary to make the plan successful.

The merchants will have a good opportunity to hear the plan at the meeting Monday night. It will be discussed in detail and questions relative to it asked from the floor will be answered. The speakers who will present and explain the plan are Fred Fuhs, president of the Des Plaines association conducting a similar script program, and Edward Sloan, secretary of the association.

If enough merchants are present at the meeting, and if time permits, a third item of general business will be brought up. It is the Lions' comprehensive plan for Barrington. This is a plan drawn up by the ways and means committee of the club under the chairmanship of R. L. Mundhenk. It proposes to promote Barrington both as a business center and a residential community.

The dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m. The business meeting will start at 7:30 p.m. A nominal charge to defray cost will be made for those eating dinner, but the meeting at 7:30 will be free. Persons wishing to be present may come at 7:30 o'clock. Those who wish to attend the dinner should notify J. C. Cadwallader, secretary.

corps of Chicago Wednesday.

Royalty's Toys Shown

Toys valued at more than $8,000, too, were shown in an exhibition of royalty's toys at the Argus in London recently. Two gold rattles which once delighted the prince of Wales and a fair-haired doll companion of Queen Mary in her baby days attracted much attention. Musical dolls given by Queen Victoria to the prince of Wales and the duke of York when they were babies Queen Elizabeth and Oliver Cromwell's christening robes and a skirt worn by Charles I when he was two, were also shown.

Mr. Motorist

Here are some items for insuring carefree winter driving that you might consider:

For Performance—

Complete lubrication with winter oils,
New spark plugs and a new or toned up battery.

For Safety—

New tires and tubes.
Defrosters for better vision.

Comfort—

Shock-absorbers re-adjusted and filled.
A modern hot water heater.

Appearance and Wear—

A good waxing job.
The car re-painted right.
Proper top dressing.
Anti-freeze in radiator.

Miss Verdie Homuth
Bride of Howard Rice

Miss Verdie Homuth, daughter of Mrs. Clara Homuth, 206 S. Hager avenue, and Howard Rice, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chalmus Rice of Dundee township were quietly married Saturday afternoon in Elgin. Reverend Jordan of the Evangelical church officiated using the single ring service. Miss Dorothie Mock of Green Bay, Wis., a cousin of the bride, and Homer Rice of Carmi, a cousin of the groom, served as attendants. The bride wore a blue velvet gown and a corsage of gardenias. The bridegroom was in green velvet and carried talisman roses. After a short trip the young people returned to Barrington and are at home at 206 S. Hager avenue.

Scherer-Grebe
Nuptials Saturday

Miss Ruth Scherer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Scherer of Naperville, and Kenneth Grebe of Barrington were married Saturday Oct. 27 in Afley. Rev. William Albrecht officiated using the single ring service. Reverend Albrecht was formerly pastor of the Zion church in Barrington. Mr. and Mrs. Ober Albrecht of Naples attended the bridal couple.

The bride was attired in a blue crepe dress trimmed in silver; she wore a corsage of orchids. Mrs. Albrecht was dressed in navy blue and wore a corsage of white gardenias. After a short trip Mr. and Mrs. Grebe returned to Barrington and are at home on Hager avenue.

Mrs. Walter Meyer
Honored

Mrs. Minnie Jahnke, 207 S. Cook street, entertained at a miscellaneous shower Tuesday evening in honor of Mrs. Walter Meyer, an October bride. Thirty-two guests spent the evening at hearts. Prizes went to the honor guest, to Mrs. Nellie Dente, and to Mrs. William Moller of Elgin. Mrs. A. Peape also of Elgin, and Mrs. Herman Mass of Algonquin were among the guests. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Ray Jurs and Mrs. Walter Hartley.

Barrington
Woman's Club

The seventh district American Homes department will sponsor an exhibit of hobbies at Jefferson Park Field house, Higgins road and Long Avenue, Nov. 22. Paintings, rugs, quilts, knitted and crocheted articles, handmade by club women in their leisure time, will be shown. There will also be a food show. Cakes, breads, pies, canned fruit, pickles and jams may be entered.

Those who attended the exhibit two years ago will remember the very fine exhibit Barrington women had on display. It is hoped that ours this year will be equally interesting.

The November issue of the Illinois Federation News is off the press. In addition to articles by state officers and chairmen, this issue has information concerning the state poetry and short story contests for the women. In the poetry contest a prize of $5 will be awarded for the best contribution, $3 for second, and there will be three honorable mentions.

In the short story contest, first prize will be $15, second $10 and there will be two honorable mentions. Entries must be in the hands of district literature chairmen not later than March 15, 1935. Those interested in either contest may secure further information from Mrs. Lester Higgins, literature and public library chairman.

Mrs. Grant Sibley and Mrs. Cecil Kellam, chairman of the philanthropy committee, drove to the Little Wanderers' Day Nursery, Chicago, Tuesday, taking our club contributions to the seventh district "pound party" for the nursery. Our members contributed more than 130 pounds of food-stuffs including rice, prunes, but-

Miss Dorothy Eades
Bride of George Thompson

Miss Dorothy Eades of Monticello and George Thompson of Barrington were married Saturday evening at the home of Rev. and Mrs. H. L. Eagle. Rev. Eagle officiated reading the single ring service. Mrs. Eagle and William Thompson, father of the groom, served as attendants.

The bride wore a gown of robin's egg blue with brown accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson are living with Mr. Thompson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Thompson, 231 Applebee street. The parents entertained a group of relatives at dinner Sunday in honor of the young people.

Entertain Sunday School Class

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Bauman, 121 Harrison street, entertained the Christian Companionship class of Salem church Tuesday evening. A program was given by four men of the group who spoke on the following issues: money and banking, tariff and foreign trade, agricultural policies, and governmental projects. A social hour followed in which refreshments were served by Mrs. Bauman and Mrs. Edward Schroeder.

Eastern Star Entertains
Young People

Members of Eastern Star entertained its young people at one of the loveliest fall parties of the season Monday evening. Autumn colors were used in the decorations. Miss Vera Cady and Miss Ardith Wente sang several duets and Miss Helen Muesel did Spanish and toe dancing. Games and dancing followed the program with music by Donald Bennett's orchestra. Refreshments were served to 150 guests.

Funeral services for Miss Martha Hart, at the home of her sister, Mrs. Helen Evans, Sunday afternoon with Rev. A. E. Taylor officiating. Burial in Evergreen cemetery.
Miss Hart was 69 years old. She was born and reared in Chicago and spent a large part of her life in Barrington with a brother, H. Stillson.

Miss Hart was killed instantly last Sunday just as she was about to enter her car, parked in the driveway of a garage on Main Street.
A truck, top breaking, had left the road and was driving along the parking area of the highway and in the accident occurred. Mr. Sellins, who was approaching the truck and tried to avoid it, was hit out of the way.
The truck, rear of the Hart car was 20 feet north. Miss Hart was against the steps and Mr. Sellins barely escaped being hit.

TELEPHONE, BARRINGTON NO. 1

THE FORGOTTEN MAN

We learned from the United States News this week that the "Forgotten Man" theme was not originated in 1932 by Franklin D. Roosevelt, then candidate for president, but in 1883 by Professor William Graham Sumner of Yale university in an essay on behalf of the burdened taxpayer. This was when Mr. Roosevelt was merely a child.

There would be no objection to Mr. Roosevelt using Professor Sumner's "Forgotten Man" for a campaign theme, but it is strange that he twisted the original thought around and named the plunderer of the real forgotten man as his own political forgotten man.

An excerpt from Professor's Sumner's famous essay follows:

"The Forgotten Man is delving away in patient industry, supporting his family, paying his taxes, casting his vote, supporting the church and the school, reading his newspaper, and cheering for the politician of his admiration, but he is the only one for whom there is no provision in the great scramble and the big divide.

"Such is the Forgotten Man. He works, he votes, generally he prays—but he always pays—yes, above all, he pays. He does not want an office; his name never gets into the news-paper except when he gets married or dies. He keeps production going on. He contributes to the strength of parties. He is flattered before election. He is strongly patriotic. He is wanted, whenever, in his little circle, there is work to be done or counsel to be given. He may grumble some occasionally to his wife and family, but he does not frequent the grocery or talk politics at the tavern.

"Consequently, he is forgotten. He is a commonplace man. He gives no trouble. He excites no admiration. He is not in any way a hero (like a popular orator); or a problem (like tramps and outcasts); nor notorious (like criminals); nor an object of sentiment (like the poor and weak); nor a burden (like paupers and loafers); nor an object out of which social capital may be made (like the beneficiaries of church and state charities); nor an object for charitable aid and protection (like animals treated with cruelty); nor the object of a "job" (like the ignorant and illiterate); nor one over whom sentimental economists and statesmen can parade their fine sentiments (like inefficient workmen and shiftless artisans). Therefore, he is forgotten.

"The Forgotten Man is weighed down with the cost and burden of the schemes for making everybody happy, with the cost of public beneficence, with the support of all the loafers, with the loss of all the economic quackery, with the cost of all the "jobs." Let us remember him a little while. Let us take some of the burdens off him. Let us turn our pity on him instead of on the good-for-nothing. It will be only justice to him, and society will greatly gain by it."

DEMOCRACY AND STRIKES

People who enjoy living in a democracy might as well make up their minds to the fact that democracy's shortcomings have been accepted along with its benefits. We have been getting a first-hand picture of one of democracy's worst drawbacks—knock-down and drag-out industrial warfare...

But we need to recognize the fact that this sort of thing, costly and destructive, is, nevertheless, one of the things we bargain for when we pin our faith to the democratic processes.

Russia has no strikes because there is not, strictly speaking, anyone for the workers to strike against except themselves... That's one way to make strikes impossible—to liquidate the employing class...

The Italian worker can't strike because, if he does, he strikes against a government which will have no hesitation in bringing its iron hand down on his neck... So that's another way to prevent strikes—to liquidate the labor movement.

Under a democracy, neither of these solutions is possible. There must remain, then, an amount of freedom within which either the employer or the worker can, if he feels justified, precipitate industrial warfare...

We have a democracy and we mean to keep it—and our strikeless millennium will just have to wait until the whole industrial field is pervaded by the justice, the public spirit and the sense of responsibility which are, ultimately, democracy's greatest safeguards.—Tribune-Advertiser, Tiffin, O.

POLITICS IN CHARITY

The worst thing in giving charity is politics. We would guess that more money has been squandered in charity by the scheming politician than has ever been lost through the inexperience or lack of understanding of those who spend the public's money. It seems impossible to keep politics out of the work of helping people. That is not a new condition. It is as old as charity itself.

The old fashioned woman who used to boast about how many glasses of jelly she would get out of a gallon of berries, has a daughter who likes to brag about how many miles she can get out of a gallon of gas.

If a man thinks he is going to be sick, he frequently is, and if a town thinks it is failing behind, it frequently is.

Things are improving—people are taking their bills out of the envelopes.

WHAT'S

GOING ON

WASHINGTON

(Courtesy The United States News)

The projects getting most intense consideration from the administration are aimed at getting people back to work and at narrowing down the problem of relief. They include the following: 1.—A plunge into the field of home building, slum clearance and grade crossing elimination on a vast scale with the broad use of federal credit. 2.—A venture into social insurance—unemployment reserves, and old age pensions—as a means of separating the employable from the unemployed, and thus simplifying the task of finding work for the millions of jobless.

An extension of the idea of the Tennessee Valley authority to other river valleys—such as the Missouri, Arkansas and Columbia—as a means of getting better use out of natural resources. Drastic action is being forced upon congress and the president, by the fact that the number of persons having to be supported by the federal government is growing instead of diminishing. The cost of this care is expected to near $2,000,000,000 in the next year.

Now the question is asked, why not use that two billion dollars to finance a huge program of building of all kinds, on a basis that will create jobs and at the same time will be on the basis of a loan instead of a gift? The money could be spent on projects that would pay out.

Preparations for relief of the needy during the approaching winter went forward during the week. Federal relief administrator Hopkins has announced that the government-estimated relief rolls would be larger than last winter.

He saw a possibility, however, that relief rolls may be slightly under the combined relief and CWA rolls of last year, which reached a peak of six millions.

There will be no CWA this winter but "made" jobs will be the backbone of the government's winter program. Tearing down slums, building houses for the destitute, repairing schools and building roads are some of the jobs which relief workers will continue to undertake.

The American Federation of Labor estimates that there are now nearly eleven million persons unemployed, and that unemployment is greater now than it was a year ago.

What improvement has occurred, it says, is largely in retail trade; the manufacturing industries having contributed practically nothing to residential construction.

Stubbornness

One morning a mother entered my kindergarten leading a little girl of five by the hand. She was putting the child along against her will.

"I would like to enter Mary in kindergarten," she said. "I can't do anything with her at home."

"What seems to be the trouble?" I asked.

"She's so stubborn. She won't do anything I want her to do."

I enrolled the child, and giving her a chair, said, "You may sit anywhere you like, Mary."

As the mother started for the door she turned to me and said, "When you want Mary to do anything, just ask her to do the opposite."

Mary stood for a while, then picking up her chair proceeded to seat herself by a wall. She sat there all the morning. No one paid any attention to her. When we had games, I asked her to come and play with us.

"No!" she replied in a spiteful manner.

Mary sat in the same chair every day. She kept it up for a week or so. Then I think she became impressed with the idea that it made no difference to anyone else whether she joined us or not.

One morning when we were having games I saw Mary was standing. After a few moments hesitation she came slowly up to the group. I smiled at her, saying nothing. Soon she slid up beside me and stood there watching the game.

When we returned to our chairs, she went over to hers and picked it up. I made a place next to me at the table, saying, "Here's a place for your chair, Mary. If you would like to sit here, Mary came over and sat herself down.

That was the last of Mary's stubbornness at kindergarten. I related my experience with

BARRINGTON LEAGUE

Schambel's team seems to have a permanent place at the top of the local football scene.

The league is divided into two divisions, the North and South.

Brooks and Carr are still in second place.

Schambel defeated Acme two games to one, and Pohman's

Drugstore defeated Shurhoff on the same score on Thursday, Nov. 1.

On Tuesday night Jefferson Ice defeated Acme two games to one,

while Pohman's Dairy took Lipofsky into camp for three games straight.

The Ponies, local high school second team, made their first touchdown since the 1932 season,

when they defeated Libertyville

19 to 7 Thursday. However, they were really clicking as they hand ed the Libertyville seconds the first time this season at the hands of the Ponies, the other victory having been won on a safety.

The Ponies got off to a bad start when Libertyville scored a couple of touchdowns in the first few minutes of play for a touchdown.

Libertyville didn't have a chance during the rest of the game, however, for the Ponies team will be working steadily shored across three touchdowns.

Roth and Staudt did some good work on the field for Barrington

but the team deserved credit for the safety.

The Ponies got into this last game of the season.

Most of them will graduate to the varsity next year as the second team is mainly for experience.

The Ponies made a record of two victories and three defeats this season. The victories were over Elmhurst, Glen Ellyn and Waukegan. The losses were at the hands of Elmhurst, Glen Ellyn and Waukegan.

The Ponies are now 2-3-1.

They have a record of 1-2-1 in the conference and 1-2-1 in the city. They have a
