Woman's Union of St. Paul's Will Hold Celebration

Members and friends of the women's Union of St. Paul church will participate in anniversary celebrations commemorating the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of this church organization Sunday, Dec. 2, and Thurs., Dec. 6.

Members of the society will attend the worship service of the church as a group Sunday morning. They will occupy the center row of pews and take an active part in the service. The pastor will preach the anniversary sermon.

A more elaborate program has been planned by the program chairman for Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Rudolph Kocher, Jr., is chairman. The main speaker will be Rev. E. F. Wilking, Lancaster, Wis., the pastor who was instrumental in founding this organization twenty-five years ago. Special recognition will be given the surviving charter members and new members to be received into the fellowship of the organization.

After the more formal part of the program, there will follow a fellowship period during which the members will be called upon to briefly review outstanding events of their respective administrations. Mrs. Charles Witt was the first president; she served as leader of the organization during

Widened Street Will Be Opened in About Two Weeks

Park Avenue Paved by Local Men: Financed From

Widening of Park avenue paving was completed Wednesday morning after nearly two weeks of interrupted work. The new surface which will afford space for diagonal parking on both sides of the street with plenty of room in the center for two-way traffic, is covered with straw for protection against freezing and will be open for use in about two weeks.

The project is a small but important one. It eliminates the most dangerous bottleneck in the Barrington street system and adds

Barrington Boy Killed in Auto- Truck Collision

Dale Sherman, 20, Knocked From Car, Run Over
by Truck

Thrown from a light car he was driving and ran over by a truck. Dale Sherman of Barrington was killed on the Northwest highway about one-tenth of a mile south of the Main street intersection shortly before 6 p. m. Tuesday. His car was struck by a light truck driven by Phillip McLaughlin of Keweenaw, Wis., which was about to pass the car when the collision occurred. A wheel of the truck ran over Dale's head after he had been thrown onto the pavement in front of it.

Death came to Sherman as the result of shock and loss of blood resulting in accidental death, according to the verdict following an inquest Thursday morning.

According to Mr. McLaughlin, he had been driving behind Sherman's car for about half a mile, both machines going northwest on the highway. Just after making the turn coming into Barrington, he drove his truck into the second lane and prepared to pass the car. Sherman, who had been leaning out of the window of his car, suddenly swung to the left in front of the truck as if starting to make a U-turn. The truck crashed into the center of the car, causing the driver to be thrown out through the door at his left, McLaughlin testified.

One wheel of the light car was broken and the body was wounded in and sprung. It was forced off the west side of the highway. The truck was not badly damaged. An examination of the truck revealed that brakes were in good condition. An examination of the brakes on the other car could not be made after the crash.

Sherman was driving his own car alone. McLaughlin was driving his own car and was accompanied by Dale Carpenter of Jackson, Wis.

Dale Franklin Sherman was 20 years old on August 13. He was born and reared in Muscoda, Wis., the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Sherman. He attended grade school there. Later the family moved to Butler, Mo., where Dale attended high school. Two years ago Dale moved to Barrington with his mother, younger brother and two sisters. Mrs. Sherman had been in the restaurant business here for the last four or five months as proprietor of the Home Cafe on East Main street. Dale was employed on the highway last summer and since then has helped his mother in the restaurant. He was a member of the Baptist church.

The deceased boy is survived by his parents, two sisters, Genevieve and Gladys, and a brother, Glen.

Funeral services will be held at the chapel, 203 S. Cook street at 2 p. m. Friday. Burial will take place in Evergreen cemetery. Rev. Charles Drusel will officiate.

Free Instruction for Women Workers in Girl
Scouting: All Day Tues.

Free instruction for women workers interested in girl scouting activities will be given in the Lions club room above the Green-gard grill all day Tuesday by Miss Ruth Schroeder, regional instructor.

Adults who have not worked previously but are interested in scouting and would like to become capable of leadership are welcome to attend the classes according to Mrs. C. Stot, chairman of the local committee which arranged for the meeting. Instruction will begin at 10 a. m. Tuesday.

Slowly, the sharply contrasting pair moved off, the younger still supporting the elder and maneuvering his gait to a stroll so Sturt's quick, and audible, breathing showed no more pronounced.

A slender young man was climbing a leaning in the mill yard. He lifted himself above the heads of the crowd and held up a hand for silence. This, however, was not readily obtained. A dreighted and dripping citizen was only just pulling himself from the chill waters of the pond, a self-conscious grin glued to his lips as the black hair was plastered to his brow by the soaking it had received. On a peeled tree trunk he had been hanging for hours, it was said.

W. Grunau Opened First Barber Shop Here 50 Years Ago

Tells How Village Looked When Mustaches Were Dived for 35¢

Barrington's first barber, W.H. Grunau, opened his shop on Park Avenue 34 years ago this month on a site just one doorway distant from his present location. Until his arrival, local men had shaved themselves at home with the exception of Sunday callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lageschulte.

John Jacobson spent the weekend at the Christensen home in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. August Meyer of Chicago spent Sunday at their home. Mrs. Bertha Ryan of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Elizet of Chicago were Sunday callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lageschulte.

Halucuts cost 25 cents each in those days, shaves 16 cents. When a gentleman was fancy and wanted his graying or faded-looking mustache to be dyed, that service cost 35 cents.

Mustaches were quite the rage but many men wore beards, said Mr. Grunau as he reminised over those days. There were five older ladies who came in to have their hair styled. However most women wore their hair long. Very young girls wore straight bobs.

Barrington was a village of wooden buildings, wood sidewalks and mud roads. Farmers used to deliver milk to the village in two-wheeled carts. There were only about 700 residents.

Five years later in the fall, Mr. Grunau brought his bride, Annie Meier of Palatine, to Barrington to live. Their first home was in an apartment above "Dickson's Drug store," which occupied the present site of Gold Star Motor company. One son, William Grunau, was born to them and they now have one grandchild.

In spite of his 73 years (the will be 74 next May 6), Mr. Grunau is very active, walking to work from his home at 319 Grove Avenue and engaging in business daily.

There are only two people living whom the Grunaus remember as having lived on Grove Avenue when they moved to their present address 47 years ago, he stated. They are Mr. B. Sodt and Mrs. C. Hutchison.

Fire destroyed the block in which his first barber shop was located in 1903. A bucket brigade of volunteers' fire fighters couldn't stop the flames which started in the Henning saloon and soon destroyed all buildings "in that row."

Mr. Grunau, Mr. Henning and Mr. W. Stott rebuilt the block. During that period of re-building, about two months in all, Mr. Grunau had his shop in the old Lamey building. That was his only chance of street location in the entire 54 years.

Cuba Township

Mrs. Norris Iverson and son Francis of Downers Grove were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kirby.

Mrs. Elmer Piché and daughter Shirley of Cary and Mrs. Charles Mavis and daughter Crystal of Algonquin were Thursday guests of their aunt Mrs. Frank Lageschulte.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Comfort and family of Palatine were Thursday evening visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kelley.

Mrs. Harold Kelley was hostess to Cuba Home Bureau members and friends Wednesday. A delicious luncheon was served at noon. The guests were Madame K. Kendall, El Brendt, W. Regg, T. Thelen, Mrs. Kelsey, M. Kelsey and F. Lageschulte. Handicrafts demonstrated by Mrs. Earl Kano and Mrs. Olsen. Miss Kim melchior demonstrated several meal dishes.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kuhlman and son George Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Krause were Friday evening dinner guests at the home of Mrs. Bertha Ryan of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Elizet of Chicago were Sunday callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lageschulte.

Tuesday night the Men's bridge club met at Barrington Hills Country club for the first of their weekly meetings. That same night Mrs. Robert Buckley entertained all the wives at supper.

Nerves in the Skin
Skin is the external integument of vertebrates, consisting of the epidermis or cuticle and the dermis or corium. The epidermis is composed of stratified ectodermal epithelium without nerves or blood vessels. The inner layer or dermis contains abundant blood vessels and nerves and is composed mainly of connective tissue.

Kraft Paper Gets Its Name From German Word

Kraft paper or pulp derives its name from the German word for strength, which is its chief characteristic. According to the Kraft paper company, Kraft paper and Kraft pulp are used practically interchangeably. The Kraft pulp is of a dull brown shade when unbleached and is used for the manufacture of products where color is not a consideration and where strength and ability to resist all kinds of wear and tear is desired as for instance in wrapping and bagging paper.

The Kraft paper is especially adaptable to the pulping of long fibered resins and non-resinous woods, certain kinds of wood that are useless in the manufacture of sulphate pulp being adaptable to this process. In the sulphate process used for making Kraft paper, sulphate of soda replaces soda ash. Originally the paper was made by hand, and the process was completed by mechanical means. In the modern production of Kraft pulp, the cooking is more thorough and the subsequent disintegration of the pulp is accomplished in the beaters and Jordans.

Letters Once a Week

The island of Faial, with a population of about 140, is the most in accessible place in the Shetland group, and is probably more isolated than any other part of the United Kingdom. Situated in the stormy Atlantic, 18 miles from the nearest point of the mainland, without telegraphic or telephone communication, the islanders' only means of intercourse with the outside world is restricted to small service weekly in summer and bi-monthly in winter. In summer the service is fairly reliable although subject to interruption by storms, but during the remainder of the year it is very irregular, as long a period as six weeks having elapsed between trips last year.

Edison Disliked Decorations

Upon Thomas Edison's second trip to Europe the French telephone company offered him a decoration which required that he wear a long sash. But the Ohlson flatly refused with the assertion that it could not be "done" for him. Edison's wife, he did however consent to wear the little red button of the Legion of Honor. But whenever he saw any American approaching he would slip the button into his pocket for fear, as he said, "they might think I am trying to show off."

E.F. Schaede, Local Harness Maker for Fifty Years Dec. 1

Golden Anniversary of His Business Sees Horses
Less Popular

Another pioneer business man of Barrington will celebrate an anniversary soon—the fiftieth year of his harness business, started on Prairie Avenue Dec. 1, 1884.

The man is E. F. Schaede who,
in spite of his 77 years, is still able to continue his work as harness maker and manages the same shop on East Main street which he started in 1884.

Mr. Schaede was born in Germany and studied the trade there.
He left in 1882 and settled in Des Plaines in 1882, 1882, working in a harness shop there for a year and a half. Dec. 1, 1884, he came to Barrington and opened a shop
of his own near a barber shop operated by W. Grunau.

In the year 1889 he purchased a harness shop on East Main street from G. Helmendorfer and the same year he married Mary Riske, a young woman whose home was south of Barrington.
They made their first home in the shop on East Main street.

Of the three children born to their union, two daughters, Ema and Mabel, are living. One son died at the age of four years.
There is one grandson, Charles Harder.

As business increased, Mr.
Schaede built additions along the west side of the shop, enlarging it considerably. Horses and buggies were the principal forms of conveyance in those days and the harness maker was kept busy busy.

He and his wife celebrated their fortieth wedding anniversary last summer. They are living at 414 E. Main street, in the home they built ten years ago. This month Mr. Schaede is moving his business back into the little shop,
the additions no longer being needed. Motor vehicles have changed methods of transportation
but there are still enough horses and wagons on roads and village streets to keep the harness maker
busy.

Mrs. Matthew Krajack Dies Following Stroke

Mrs. Matthew Krajack, who had suffered a paralytic stroke in her home in Fox River Grove last week, died at St. Joseph's hospital, Elgin Sunday. She was 42 years old.

Mrs. Krajack is survived by her husband, a son, Earl, a stepdaughter Helen, her mother Mrs. Frank Kotaska, a sister, Mrs. George Maschek and two brothers, Henry of the Grove and George of Berwyn.
Her father, Frank Kotaska, proprietor of the Kotaska hotel, died in 1920.

Anna Krajack possessed a sunny disposition which won her many friends.

Funeral services were held at the National Undertaking Parlors

in Chicago with burial at Bohemian

Hollis died a few minutes after arriving at the hospital. Cowley was conscious, asked for fluids and told persons at the hospital that he was from the department of justice. He gave head-nodding signs and asked that he should be notified. He also asked for a doctor. At the Barrington hospital, he was loaded into the ambulance and taken to a man hospital in Elgin, where he was operated. He died at 2 a.m. Wednesday.

The Man From Yonder.

New Serial by Harold Titus Starts This Week

No one knew anything about Ben Elliott when he arrived in Tincup, but it wasn't long before he was a well-known figure for he'd hit "Bull" Durst. Nick Brandon's hired them, he was heating the world would never forget; he'd been taken over the impossible job of being the Host of the outfit after many an older and more experienced man had failed; and hadn't he had the courage to defy Brandon himself, the man who held Tincup in the hollow of his hand?

The world stood by and watched their heroics, and a younger, doing things that couldn't be done and doing them well, in spite of fire and dynamite and many another hazard. And Ben Elliott had the admiration of the majority of his jay, caried on for the sake of a little girl whom he had never seen—until one day he discovered that he was the only girl in town—but a lonely, young, man—just the one person in all the world that Nick Brandon really cared for.

Here, indeed, were complications, but Ben Elliott thrived on complications though he had to add that he was the boy of Dan McManus who was the "toughest job he had ever tackled."

Harold Titus tells this thrilling tale of romance and adventure in his latest North Woods story, "The Man From Yonder." Readers of the paper who are particular about clean, virgin stories that Titus writes will be glad to know that we have obtained the publication rights to "The Man From Yonder." All of our readers, we are sure, will enjoy reading it as it appears serially in these columns.

Thanksgiving Recess at School to Be Held Thursday and Friday

School will be dismissed Thursday and Friday of this week for regular Thanksgiving vacation. In addition, several schools have saved up half-holidays and by no tardiness during a week will have no school Wednesday.

Christmas vacation will start on Friday before Christmas this and will end on the day after New Year's.

Plan Series of Unusual Sunday Night Services for Methodist Church

The Methodist church will inaugurate a series of unusual Sunday evening services at 7:30 p.m. Sunday. Each will feature a half hour of community singing, using old world-old songs and songs known by everybody. A fine orchestra and choir will lead the singing.

There will be solos, duets, and quartets, both vocal and instrumental, to vary the programs.

One reel of motion pictures, either travelogues or educational subjects, will be included each Sunday and young people of the church will present a beautifully colored tableau each week.

The services will close with a 10-minute gospel message by the minister. A cordial invitation has been extended to the public to come and enjoy the presentations.

17 Children Brought to Baby Conference Tues.; Next Meeting Dec. 11

Seventeen children were examined at the November meeting of the baby conference of the Cook county rural public health division of the bureau of public welfare, held in the parlors of Salem church Tuesday afternoon.

They were examined by Dr. J. A. Forbich of the Children's Memorial hospital staff.

The next meeting will take place the second Tuesday in December, that is December 1, from 1 to 3 p.m. at the same place. Dr. Forbich will be in charge each month, assisted by a public health nurse.

The conference is sponsored by the Barrington Woman's club and is free to all pre-school children and babies of this vicinity. By bringing them in regularly, parents can keep an accurate record of each child's development—height and weight measurements are taken each time and each child is stripped for a complete examination.

Widened Street Will Be Opened in About 2 Weeks

The work was done by local labor and with locally furnished equipment. It will be paid for from Barrington's share of gasoline tax receipts.

The pavement is on railroad property which has been leased to the town. In all probability, the pavement will be in place long before the railroad needs the property. Although the agreement includes a short term license, the village retains the right to buy the property, should the railroad refuse to extend the license.

There will be solos, duets, and quartets, both vocal and instrumental, to vary the programs.

A FEW EARNEST SOULS

Whenever any public event or public improvement is carried forward to accomplishment, the burden of effort is usually carried by a few earnest souls who see that there is a job to be done and then go ahead and do it.

A small town that has a good city park, a good ball team, is well paved, has well kept lawns, puts on a good 4th of July celebration, has adequate lighting or has or does anything at all better than the average place, usually owes it to the initiative of a few who have ability and who will work.

One man's hobby is beautifying his home grounds. By the judicious use of trees and shrubs and painstaking care of them he sets an example to his neighbors and other householders which may have a marked effect on an entire community, even though few may have the time or patience to even approach the excellence he attains. That man may consider a good home baseball team a thing of minor importance or even useless foolishness.

Another man may look with admiration on the first man's beautiful lawn and hedge but as far as putting that much effort into having one himself he has never even thought of it. But he may take hold of the seemingly thankless job of managing a good ball team; he might even have the intestinal fortitude to try to be its umpire. Baseball is his hobby. He helps the community by doing his part to have a good team.

Another man may think baseball is the bunk and that a wonderful blue spruce tree in a pleasing setting is something to enjoy with only a fleeting glance as he drives by. But he probably believes that good paved streets with plenty of bright lighting are a necessity for his home town, and he goes ahead and pushes through the improvement against opposition of the "do nothing" and the "pay nothing" with which every place is cursed.

With another it's a fine golf course, with another it's a better city hall or a better school system. Each man may have a different way of helping his community and help it in connection with some activity in which he takes a personal interest.

Give the boys a good hand, whatever activity they try to put across! They're trying to do something in a creditable manner even though their way of doing it may not be exactly your way of doing it. At least recognize the fact that they are putting honest effort into the job. It takes a lot of different kinds of live people to make a live town.—Star News, Medford, Wis.

POSTAL SAVINGS VS. BANK DEPOSITS

There are still many people who believe in the fallacy that in depositing their surplus cash in postal savings it will be safer than in a local bank. That may have been true at one time, but now, with nearly all banks operating under the Federal Deposit Insurance plan, postal savings as well as any other form of government banking, or investment are just as safe but not a bit safer than local bank deposits up to the amount specified.

In his annual address to the Minnesota Bankers' association, D. J. Fohquette of this city, president of the association, pointed to the advantages of local bank deposits in the following:

The depositing public is unquestionably confused in regard to our stand. As a result, they are not making proper use of our banks and are still making a large part of their deposits with the postal savings system.

"Few of the millions who regularly deposit their funds with the postal savings system are aware that by doing so they are aiding and abetting a system which is sapping the life blood from their own communities. Many of these people would not patronize such a system if they knew that when they deposit with the postal savings system their funds become unavailable as a basis of credit in that community. I do not believe that the government is deliberately attempting to compete with our banks. I do not believe that they are seriously urging anyone to deposit with the postal savings rather than in a bank. I believe the fault lies more with us as bankers. What are we doing to inform people that banks today offer a degree of safety comparable to the postal savings system with an interest rate slightly greater and the added advantage that money deposited in the bank is available for credit to local business as business justifies the extension of such credit.—Sentinel, St. Cloud, Minn.

EDITORIAL SHORTS

Well, just for variety, we are still waiting for a wedding where they sing the ballad "I'll Be Faithful" instead of the good old standbys "I Love You Truly" and "Oh Promise Me."

The only people we know of who are as foolish as those who ridicule new ideas because they are new are those who ridicule all old ideas because they are old.—Chief River Falls Times.

One feature in favor of the old style phonograph over the radio is that it doesn't take time out to tell us about tooth paste, auto tires and stomach medicines.

WHAT'S GOING ON

(Courtesy: The United States News)

Incidentally there are signs that the administration is going international—at least it is abandoning the self-containment argument sufficiently to go out after the market. More foreign trade than we have had, I think, will be a rapid transformation. It will take considerable time to get the trade negotiations to a point where volume can be increased. But progress is being made. Also there are signs of a stabilization program for international currencies. Judging by present day happenings, a stabilization of the dollar in relation to the pound and franc may be expected early in 1935.

"Next winter," said the president, "we may well undertake the great task of furthering security of the citizen and his family through social insurance." What he had in mind, of course, was to have congress pass laws that would give the citizen and his family from having to suffer in the future from the misfortunes that have befallen him. "Social insurance," he said, "is a simple language, means taking care of people when they are out of work, aged or sick and doing it in such a way that it will not be looked on as charity. This can be done by setting up funds out of which the citizen may be taken care of when any or all of these misfortunes overtake him."

The once all-important NRA is today the mystery organization of the day. It has been all but entirely wiped out since its inception, and to the dismay of its present administration, the NRA future is uncertain. Codes are reported to be languishing and code violations to be mounting, while the industrial self-government machine goes into law gear. A salvage crew has been at work now for about two months, tinkering with the blue eagle. Recently a peep has come from the men on the outside that the Hugh Johnson outspokenness has come to an abrupt silence. Members of the magazine national industrial recovery board have met daily, and have conferred with the president. The wheels have been kept turning. If slowly. The official silence has bred many an unofficial report. On the day NIRA is said to be preparing to enter NRA. Another day all price fixing and production control provisions of codes are to be scrapped. Still another day plans are being laid to order a step-up in industrial production with the government guaranteeing against loss. Again, schemes are being considered to force each employer to form a definite number of men to his pay roll.

January 3 next is the deadline for veterans wishing to obtain delayed service certificates. Applications not filed by that date will not be considered. Such are the terms of the adjusted compensation act, reported veterans' administrator Frank T. Hines. In case veterans have died without filing application, their dependents will be entitled to some benefits even if application is not filed within six months from the time of his death.

President Roosevelt apparently is satisfied that the nation is well on its way to recovery. This is disclosed in a letter which he wrote several days before he left for his annual Thanksgiving vacation in the Adirondacks, and which was read before the American conference of mayors in session in Chicago last week. "Our effort along the road of economic recovery have been productive of substantial results," wrote the president. He added that the coming congress undoubtedly would give further attention to proposals involving unemployment relief, public works, unemployment insurance, old-age pensions, and housing. The letter was written the day before the session began to administer the foreign on economic security: "I do not know whether this is the time for any federal legislation on old-age security."

He bears out the explanation made by secretary of labor Perkins that the president has closed the door of his mind against old-age pensions, since he expects congress to consider

HOME EDUCATION

"The Child's First School is the Family"—Froebel

Issued by National Kindergarten Assn. 8 W. 40th St. New York

Kindergarten Activities

The mother of small children who does not live within reach of a kindergarten need not completely deprive her little ones of the opportunity of receiving systematic training. It is known that the stimulus of cooperative work and play, so vital a feature of the kindergarten, is not so apt to be found in the smaller group at home and is entirely lacking in the case of the only child. Nevertheless, many of the activities provided in kindergarten can be carried on at home by the small group but the lonely child as well.

Any child, child, sing morning greetings to father and mother as well as teacher.

Good morning songs to various members of the family, to the new day, to sun or clouds, sun or white dressing, do much to create a sunny morning atmosphere.

There are songs to accompany many of the home duties, besides a wealth of nature songs. At bedtime the devotional spirit of the evening prayer may be enhanced by the singing of a child's hymn.

A kindergarten calendar may easily be made at home. For this purpose a sheet of white card-board is cut off into a sufficient number of squares for the days of the month.

The children mark the calendar each day with a suitable emblem. Yellow circles should be provided for sunny days and gray for cloudy days. They themselves draw rain, a gray circle partly covered with white indicated snow.

Advertisements furnish pictures for special occasions, little children, a toy, a birthday cake, a Christmas tree, etc. The particular emblem is cut out to fit the children, than is taken to the calendar regularly, and the fact that they are being helped in a realization of divisions of time. The card should be large enough to allow for a suitable picture for the month to be mounted outside of the ruled portion.

Games train the memory at the same time that they afford keen pleasure. A mother may play many games with a child without interrupting her work. Diversification is a wonderful stimulus to the imagination, and numberless stories lend themselves to this form of reproduction.

Boy Scouts Will Fix Toys to Give to Poor Children

Local scouts will start work on Christmas "good turns" next week if local citizens cooperate by supplying them with toys, games or books which they can repackage and refinish to delight the hearts of poor children during the holidays.

The American Legion Auxiliary has furnished a warm, lighted basement, paint and brushes for the scouts to carry out the work of painting and repairing toys.

Disassembled or outgrown toys can bring a lot of joy to another child.
If paint is scratched off or a wheel broken, scouts will repair
the damage and pass on the article to local needy children at Christmas.

A scout will call for any donations if residents phone 20. Contributions may be brought to the Review office any day except Thursday if that is more convenient to the donor.

Dolls, books, games, toys of all kinds will be repaired by the scouts. Unfortunate boys and girls of this village will be taken care of first and the remainder will be sent to orphans.

Arrested for Trespass

Steady development of respect in the minds of hunters for property
by Barrington and Elgin towns-ships has been noted during the last few hunting seasons.

This year, especially, very few farmers and estate owners had trouble with trespassers. This was partly due to the fact that pheasants were scarce and fewer hunters invaded the territory. Most of those who do come to this district conduct themselves as gentlemen. Matthew Pecak, Barrington

rington township constable report.

Usually a score or more persons are arrested for hunting on posted property in this vicinity. This year only three were arrested in Barrington township and none in Elgin.

The three persons arrested in Barrington were Ned Glader, V.
H. and Fred, sons of Mr. and Mrs.
Hilman Pecak. They were taken to Mr. Peck on the Elgin farm following complaint made by Frank Stata. Their trial was held before Justice A. D. Church. They were found guilty and each paid
a $15 fine and costs.

Golden Rule Store Is Purchased From E. W.
Magill by J. Hoagland

E. W. Hoagland purchased the Golden Rule store, formerly operated by E. W. Magill at 117 N.
Cook street, this week and will continue to conduct it at the present location.

Mr. Hoagland will also continue to do furniture repairing, refinishing and cabinet-making as formerly.

The Golden Rule store has specialized in used furniture, china and antiques. Its former owner, Mr. Magill, was injured when he fell from a ladder while trying to hang a sign in front of the store Oct. 19, and has been unable to continue his usual activities. He is 74 years old.

Fairy Spoonne at New Trier Compliments Local Team for Sportsmanship

A high compliment for the sportsmanship of the local high school basketball team has been received by Capt. E. S. Smith from an official at New Trier high school within the last few days. The local team played New Trier November 21.

In a letter to Mr. Smith, Mr.
Fribis, family sponsor for a boys' club
at New Trier, wrote: "For ten years I have seen all New Trier boys and girls grow and develop during the four years I have been their coach that reflected deep pride and sportsmanship in every way than did your group. It beeps a solid background in the school, among the coaches, faculty,
and administration."

"Toys" to Be Subject of Program for P.T.A. Meet 2:30 p.m. Monday

A discussion of toys suitable for children of various ages will be the main part of a P.T.A.

program which is to be given in room 6 at the public school Monday afternoon. Mrs. Mildred
Port, a graduate of National Kindergarten
Evanson, will be the speaker.

She is to bring a selection of appropriate toys with her, according to age. Mrs. Harry Hoagland, chairman of the program committee, is a practical demonstration of the type she will advocate.

"We thought this talk would be especially interesting to parents in December as a guide to selecting suitable Christmas gifts for small children as well as older ones," Mrs. Hoagland said.
