Open Season With One Street Light as Game

The extrames that some people will go to avoid being in the "lime-light" is shown by the report turned in by trustee Rudolph Control of the report turned in by trustee Rudolph Control of the report turned beard meeting Monday. Some become so adept with an air rifle that it is no trick at all to shoot out the street light at the foot of East Lake eirest leading into the park. Public service authorities state that it is necessary to replace a light there every three or four days. Despite all the sleuthing that is being done the culprit has not been found.
