Accident Must Be Reported Within 24 Hours, Ruling

New Law Shifts Responsibility From Police to Persons Involved

The responsibility of reporting accidents from persons involved in the accident, rather than the police, is the new law passed by the legislature. It is now in effect. Reports must be made within 24 hours of the accident, and forward within 24 hours of the accident, and forward within 24 hours of the accident.

Persons who have been involved in an accident must report it to the police within 24 hours of the accident. If they fail to do so, they may be fined $100 or imprisoned for 30 days.

The new law is designed to make it easier for the police to find out about accidents. It also makes it easier for the courts to find out about accidents.

Plates for 1936

Black and White

Black and white will be the color scheme for automobile plates in 1936, Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes announced this week. Contract for manufacturing plates was awarded to a Chicago firm.

The contract calls for the manufacture of approximately 1,300,000 passenger plates and 200,000 truck, motorcycle and trailer plates.

The numerals on the plates will be white on a black background. "ILLINOIS 1936" will be above the numerals instead of above as on the 1935 plates. This change is made to thwart any attempt to defraud the state by painting this year's plates to conform with the 1936 colors.

Secretary Hughes called attention to the fact that passenger car plates this year will cost less than heretofore. The reduction is as follows: $5 plates reduced to $6.50; $12 plates reduced to $10.50; $20 plates reduced to $17; $25 plates reduced to $22 and motorcycle fees are reduced from $4 to $3.

Trustees Consider New Franchise for Public Service

writing or not. It was also stated that payment of a fee to the village for the right of franchise is not allowed by the commerce commission. Some pointed out that no concession would be made, such as free lighting, because the company cannot do it for one municipality and not another and also that these privileges would eventually be placed upon the consumer by increased rates. One point brought forward was that a new law permits access to company records at any time.

Company Records Open

An spokesman for the Public Service Co., Martin Schreiber, district manager, pointed out that the franchise was of standard form as approved by other communities purchasing electric service from the company. Some compromise on the duration of the franchise probably could be reached, Mr. Schreiber said, but due to the heavy investment the company carries within the village it must necessarily be guaranteed a reasonable period of power consumption to protect its own investment.

He stated that whenever possible the company cut rates and further showed that this had been done two years ago on village street lighting. Also, that any time any authorized person wished to inspect company records they were welcome to do so. He said that to grant the request made upon the company were not possible in his jurisdiction and would have to be sent to company headquarters.

Favor 25-Year Period

A vote on the matter found Carroll, Daeschler, Plagge and Kicher voting for allowing a 25-year franchise. Blanke voted so, asking for more time to consider the matter. Grebe voted against the measure asking for a 15-year grant. President Haisz stated: "Unless changes were made to incorporate the provisions for the village taking over the system at some future time he would veto the ordinance. A two-thirds majority is necessary to make it effective over a veto."

Barrington Youths Shoot Fractured Nose as Car Leaves Highway Sunday

Friday; Target Practicing

If it were in Ethiopia, Japan or some other militaristic country there would be no news value to the fact that three local boys accidentally shot F. Baecher, an E. J. & E. railway employe, Friday as they were engaged in shooting a rifle.

The boys had placed a bottle on a fence post and were taking turns trying to break the target. Baecher was working along the right-of-way to the boys' car, nearly neglected to watch behind their target.

Baecher was struck in the shoulder from behind by the bullet, shot from a .22 rifle, and it was necessary to take the slug out from the front of the shoulder.

No official action was taken with the boys but they received a lecture on their negligence and were strongly warned against the careless use of firearms.

Famous Home in Scotland

Center of Great Dispute

An interesting place in Scotland's "farthest north" is John O'Grat's house, now a hotel. The place has a great lure, many people traveling from Land's End in Cornwall to John O'Grat's for the pleasure of saying they journeyed from the southernmost to the northernmost point of Great Britain.

The legend attached to the old John O'Grat's house, is often recalled. It relates how, during the reign of King James IV, a lowlander came to these parts, settled and founded a family—the Greats. In time the family had eight branches. At an annual festive reunion a dispute arose over who had a right to sit at the head of the table. John O'Grat settled the question by building an octagonal table. The house had eight doors. He then summoned the eight representative members of the family to a special feast, bidding each of them enter by a different door and take the seat opposite it. This they did to their own satisfaction and to John's. This ingenious arrangement restored perfect harmony.—New York Times-Telegram.
