Whalebone Serves as Teeth

Whalebone (the true name being baleen) is the curious stuff that grows in place of teeth in the upper jaws of whales, writes Jonette Shirley in "To the North," a book which she is now writing. Baleen acts as a sieve, strains the many barrels of water gulped down by the whale as with wide open mouth it grazes the surface of the water, protects it from swallowing anything but the myriads of small mollusks on which it lives.

YOU DON'T HAVE TO "BREAK IN" THE FORD V-8

You can drive it 50 miles an hour the day you buy it

THE FORD V-8 is ready for normal driving when you buy it. There is no tedious period of breaking-in for 500 or 1000 miles. You can drive it up to 50 miles an hour the first day. And after the first hundred miles you can drive it as fast as you desire.

That means greater motoring enjoyment for every motorist. It is especially important to motorists who are thinking about a new car for a vacation trip—to physicians, salesmen and all those who use a car for business. Instead of dragging along at slow speeds for days, you can make good time from the start.

The reason for this is as important as the result. The Ford V-8 needs no breaking-in because of unusual accuracy in the manufacture of moving parts and the smoothness of bearing surfaces. Clearances are correct when you buy the car. It is not necessary to depend on a long wearing-in period to eliminate tightness and insure smooth running. Longer life, greater economy and better performance are bound to result from such precision methods. The Ford V-8 gives you fine-car construction, along with fine-car performance, comfort, safety and beauty.

New Dunes Park a Haven of Brilliant Blooms

Pink orchids and yellow carnations, silver green, juniper and silvery berries, painted cup, shears, stars, blazing stars and "rockets."

The list sounds like a treasure trove but it isn't. It's just a few of the brilliant blossoms at interesting plants that are being shown in the new Dunes Park of Illinois between Waukegan and the Wisconsin state line.

The orchids will be along in a few days. They are not out of the camp as those one seen in Florida's windows but they are not so common.

And speaking of families, plants and flowers at Dunes Park are in suitable "association" confined to definite areas and what like the "social strata" of big city.

"Ten Nights in a Bar Room" to Open at Summer Theatre

Revival of Old Thriller to Start Three-Night Run Saturday

The Lake Zurich Summer Theatre goes from the sublime to the ridiculous this week when it opens a three night run of "Ten Nights in a Bar Room" on Saturday after completing its run of "Macbeth."

Aside from Walton Pyre and Luella Canterbury of Chicago, and Robert Shrewsbury and Harrison Hutton of the American Art theatre as guest artists, the "Macbeth" cast included practically every member of the colony except the cook. She was on duty as door keeper. Altho the undertaking itself may have seemed presumptuous, the company gave a most creditable performance in spite of unfortunate last minute changes of cast. Preston Heath Tuttle of the Cleveland Playhouse directed the performance and it was staged by Russell Rink of the Goodman theatre.

The old time thriller, "Ten Nights," is being directed by Mr. Canterbury, and promises an evening of the sort of entertainment over which our grandparents enjoyed weeping early tears. There will be appropriate musical specialties between acts to the accompaniment of a wheezy organ, and the cast includes Don Lamson, Russell and Chrystal Rink, Louis and Patricia Canterbury, Imogene Kaufman, Russell Sleet, Jerome Lerner, Albert Merriman, Julia Chireh, Mildred Price and Jasper Mastbaum.

The theatre is located in the old "Dixie Inn" on Route 22 in Lake Zurich. The curtain rises at 8:30 p. m.

MANY thousands of home owners have now had one or even two heating seasons in which to judge gas heat. Now they know its many advantages over other heating methods, and they find it. They've saved hours of the wearying drudgery of shoveling and hauling ashes because gas heat is automatic. After an entire heating season walls and furnishings are still clean. There is no soot, no dirt or grime. They know, too, how comparatively little it costs to have the benefits of this care-free heating service.

Gas heat does not reduce heating costs—but it does give you far more for the money you spend. Gas heat saves you worry, labor. It gives you household cleanliness. It provides your homewith comforts never before possible. For these services, for these countless conveniences, gas heat asks only a few cents more a week. But in return, gas heat will give you greater dollar and cents value than any other heating method you can name.

Investigate gas heat today. Ask to have an engineer survey your home and give you an accurate estimate. You will learn quickly just how much it will cost to provide your home with all the advantages gas heat offers.

The rhinoceros hide is generally regarded as tougher than the elephant hide. It is not true, however, as generally supposed, that a bullet will not penetrate this skin except between the deep folds. It is naturally soft and easily penetrated by a bullet or hunting knife. When dried it becomes exceedingly hard and was formerly used by Indian princes in making shields for their soldiers. Big game hunters use large caliber rifles when hunting the rhinoceros, though sometimes guns of small caliber are employed. The favorite shot is the heart and the neck shot. It does not appear that the one animal is much harder for a big game hunter to kill than the other.

The rhinoceros hide is generally regarded as tougher than the elephant hide. It is not true, however, as generally supposed, that a bullet will not penetrate this skin except between the deep folds. It is naturally soft and easily penetrated by a bullet or hunting knife. When dried it becomes exceedingly hard and was formerly used by Indian princes in making shields for their soldiers. Big game hunters use large caliber rifles when hunting the rhinoceros, though sometimes guns of small caliber are employed. The favorite shot is the heart and the neck shot. It does not appear that the one animal is much harder for a big game hunter to kill than the other.

The responsibility of reporting automobile accidents from now on will be placed on the persons involved in the accident, according to a new law passed by the legislature which goes into effect September 1. The new law also provides that the person involved in an accident must provide a written report of the accident to the police. The report must include the names of the persons involved, the names of the witnesses, the names of the police officers who were present, and a description of the accident. The report must also include a statement of the person involved in the accident as to what caused the accident. The new law also provides that the person involved in an accident must provide a copy of the report to the insurance company. Black and white will be the color scheme for automobile plates in 1936, Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes announced this week. Contract for manufacturing plates was awarded to a Chicago firm.

The contract calls for the manufacture of approximately 1,300,000 passenger plates and 200,000 truck, motorcycle and trailer plates. The numerals on the plates will be white on a black background. "ILLINOIS 1936" will be below the numerals instead of above as on the 1935 plates. This change is made to thwart any attempt to defraud the state by painting the year's plates to conform with the 1936 colors.

Trustees Consider New Franchise for Public Service

writing or not. It was also stated that payment of a fee to the village for the right of franchise is not allowed by the commerce commission. Some pointed out that no concession would be made, such as free lighting, because the company cannot do it for one municipality and not another and also that these privileges would eventually be placed upon the consumer by increased rates. One point brought forward was that a new law permits access to company records at any time.

Company Records Open
An spokesman for the Public Service Co. Martin Schreiber, district manager, pointed out that the franchise was of standard form as approved by other communities purchasing electric service from the company. Some compromises on the duration of the franchise probably could be reached, Mr. Schreiber said, but due to the heavy investment the company carries within the village it must necessarily be guaranteed a reasonable period of power consumption to protect its own investment.

He stated that whenever possible the company cut rates and further showed that this had been done two years ago on village street lighting. Also, that time any authorized person wished to inspect company records they were welcome to do so. He said that to grant the request made upon the company were not possible in his jurisdiction and would have to be sent to company headquarters.

Favor 25-Year Period
A vote on the matter found Carroll, Daeschler, Piagge and Kocher voting for allowing a 25-year franchise. Blanke voted so, asking for more time to consider the matter. Grebe voted against the measure asking for a 15-year franchise. Blanke voted so, asking for more time to consider the matter. Grebe voted against the measure asking for a 15-year franchise.

Barrington Youths Shoot F. Bascher in Shoulder Friday; Target Practicing

If this were in Ethiopia, Japan or some other militaristic country there would be no news value to the fact that three local boys accidentally shot F. Bascher, an E. J. & E. railway employe, Friday as they were engaged in shooting a rifle.

The boys had placed a bottle on a fence post and were taking turns trying to break the target. Bascher was working along the right-of-way when the boys carelessly neglected to watch behind their target.

Bascher was struck in the shoulder from behind by the bullet, shot from a .22 rifle, and it was necessary to take the slug out from the front of the shoulder. No official action was taken with the boys but they received a lecture on their negligence and were strongly warned against the careless use of firearms.

Famous Home in Scotland
Center of Great Dispute
An interesting place in Scotland's "hardest north" is John O'Grat's house, now a hotel. The place has a great history, many people traveling from London's End in Cornwall to John O'Grat's for the pleasure of staying there. The house is a fine example of the architecture of the north of Scotland.

The legend attached to the old John O'Grat's house is often recalled. It relates how, during the reign of King James IV, a lowlander came to these parts, settled and founded a family—the Gratts. In time the family had eight branches. At an annual festival a dispute arose over who had a right to sit at the head of the table. John O'Grat settled the question by building an octagonal table. The house had eight doors. He then summoned the eight representative members of the family to a special feast, bidding each of them enter by a different door and take the seat opposite it. This they did to their own satisfaction and to John's. This ingenious arrangement restored perfect harmony.—New York World-Telegram.

All-Star Boxing and Wrestling Show at North Park Friday Night

Card Includes 30 Rounds of Boxing by C.Y.O. Fighters

Two Wrestling Bout; Notables to Be Present Starts at 8 p. m.

Two notable athletes and a school day, but first I want to tell you Marjorie forgot to feed and water Dicky the day she went to the picnic. Jim, then, didn't get a drink, and, Jeanie, what didn't you do?

"I don't know, Mother."

"I forgot to hang up your pajamas this morning," said the Mother.

"Did I?" asked Mother.

"Well, little daughter, we all forgot something. Now off to bed you all go. Good night, dear."

Mr. Anderson then turned to the family and said, "I feel at liberty to express his likes and dislikes without fear of offense or criticism. Kindly criticisms are freely given and received in the same spirit."

"Are there not some evenings when there are no complaints?" I asked.

"This was a Family Forum," she answered smiling. "On other evenings, when nothing more important to the children interferes, we have a General Forum. At the General we discuss some social problem, which is puzzling to children. The topic is often chosen for several evenings. We talked about the difference between 'telling tales' and 'being a tattler' for over a week, I remember. They did a lot of thinking and the discussion proved very helpful."

Dundee Merchants in 6 to 1 Victory Over Local Team

Dundee Merchants made it two in a row over the Barrington Merchant softball team by winning 6 to 1 in a game at Spunner's park last Friday night. Dundee had won earlier in the season by a 2-1 score.

Too many errors, seven in all, cost the local boys any chance of winning although both teams made about the same number of hits.

The home Merchants need not regret the defeat too seriously as the Dundee aggregation is rated one of the strongest teams in northern Illinois and at present boasts a victory string of twelve straight.

Frank Vokac Wins Fox River Valley Diving Title for Second Year

Vokac, a student at the University of Illinois, will be known here for his diving exhibitions at the local pool. For his victory he received the J. J. Norris trophy, annually awarded to the winner of the fancy diving event.

Portrayal of Emotions
Trombone's Chief Role
The trombone, like the trumpet, is of ancient origin. At the close of the Middle Ages, trombones were well known in Germany, and a writer in the Washington Post.

The name trombone comes from "tromba" and means a large trumpet. It is called the slide trombone because the tubes slide in and out to adjust the precise pitch. It has neither finger holes nor valves, but the lengthening or shortening of the tube by sliding it up or back is enough to produce all the notes of the scale. Its tube is about 9 feet long, and its compass is slightly in excess of two octaves.

The symphony orchestra generally contains three tenor trombones and one bass trombone. Though when they are used in separate parts, the names given to them are somewhat misleading. The trombone parts are written as they sound, but the tenor trombone may have its music in the alto, tenor, or bass clef. The trombone is hard to play, as it demands much breath from the player. Composers therefore employ it for only a few notes at a time, with frequent rests.

The use of the slide makes fairly rapid passages possible on the trombone, especially if they be largely in one harmonic series, and can be blown without much change of position. Rapid execution may be used by a solo player to dazzle an audience; but in orchestral work the trombone is treated more slowly.

Stanczak Brothers Nine to Play in National Tourney

Stanczak Brothers baseball team, several times opponents of the Bears at the local park, is entered in the National Amateur Baseball tournament which is to start Tuesday at Wichita, Kansas, to run until August 25. The first game for the Stanczaks will be against the Cleveland Cloth Mills team of Shelby, North Carolina, state champs, this Friday.

The National championship baseball tournament is expected to be the largest athletic event in the midwest. Officials expect a turn out of 150,000 fans for the two weeks of play.

Honne Wagner, present coach of the Pittsburgh Pirates and one of the greatest players of all-time, will be the guest of honor. Wagner will present trophies to the winners. Thirty-two teams, representing 24 states, will vie for honors.

Louis Miller's 90 Tops Lion Golfers at Picnic

Louis Miller topped all other Lion golfers at the annual Lions club picnic held at Lake Lawn, Delavan, Wis., last Thursday, with a 90 for the 18 hole round. (Louis later confessed it was his first time out this year.)

Eddie Olcott, a guest, stole the show from his hosts by shooting the day's low score, an 89.

In a softball game a team made up of Lions residing in Cook county beat Lake county, 5 to 2.

Thirteen Errors Mark Bears Easy Victory Sunday

Seek to Avenge Early Defeat; Troupe Carry 11 to 3 in Last Start

Abode the 500 mark for the first time this season with a record of eight games won and seven lost, and also possessors of a three-in-a-row winning streak.

Barrington's up and coming Bears are eagerly awaiting the appearance of the flashy Arlington Heights Red Wings for a return game on the local diamond next Sunday.

The Bears haven't forgotten that 14-4 shelling they received in the season opener at Heights, May 5, and will be out to redeem themselves Sunday. The above mentioned contest, however, could hardly be called anything but a practice game as it was the first time the local squad had played together since the previous season.

Red Wings Strong
Whether the Bears can defeat the Red Wings remains to be seen as the Heights nine has been playing sweet ball this year and recently registered a 6 to 1 win over the highly-touted Trades Council team of Elgin. It is expected that the largest crowd of the season will be on hand when the game starts at 3 p. m. at Spunner's park.

The resistance expected from the Cary Baby Ruffs failed to materialize last Sunday and the Bears came out with an easy 11 to 3 victory, their eighth of the season.

Founding E. Kvidera for 14 hits the local squad won the game with a six-run sprint in the eighth inning. Rudy Berg starred at the plate with four hits in five times up. It was more or less an "evening" game as the Bears committed seven errors and Cary six.

Odor Description System

Has Never Been Provided

Man has an important sense—the sense of smell—but not one to describe any of the sensations which that organ conveys to his mind. Says the New York Herald Tribune: "He can describe his reaction to the sensation, but there are no words for describing the vast array of odors of which we become conscious," declared Dr. Ernest C. Crocker, of the Arthur D. Little Laboratories, Boston. Terms such as pleasant, unpleasant, nauseating, repulsive, etc., are purely relative and are subjective and dependent upon one's experience and convey nothing of the original sensation to others. "Some system of odor description is required that is independent of a person's experience with background and that will create the same impression in the mind of the receiver as in that of the describer," Doctor Crocker says. Smelling and tasting are very much alike, and in what we call flavor actually work together. They are nearly enough alike that smellings may be called tastings at a distance. Actually both are chemical senses in that by means of them we respond to the presentation of small amounts of substances to nerves with special sensitive organs called detectors. Smelling is a million times more delicate than tasting as far as the amount of material goes that is required to produce a sensation.

"Macaroni" Is Cab Horse

Name Popular in Naples

"Macaroni" in Naples means a cab horse and not food, when a visitor to Italy tips his cab driver he follows custom lightly and says, "For Macaroni!" This Italian name for a cab horse came to America early, notes a writer in the Chicago Daily News, for when Yankee Doodle rode to town he adorned his horse's hat "and called him macaroni." Italian steeds are decked out with brilliantly colored artificial flowers, rosettes and colored ribbons of paper, so that the city often assumes a carnival appearance. The crowning effect, however, is a long pheasant feather caught at the top of the horse's bridle. To obtain the American version of macaroni in Naples one calls for "pasta." This famous food has as many as many shapes as there are cities in Italy, for most towns have their favorite ways of preparing it. At Bologna it is ribbon shaped, in Rome it comes in strips. That of Sicily is the most intricate of all, skillfully rolled around knitting needles to make it a tiny spiral.

The Algonquin Indians

The Algonquin Indian tribe lived, when discovered in the Seventeenth century, in two wholly separate portions, one on Cumberland river in Tennessee and Kentucky, and the other on Savannah river in South Carolina. Like their relatives the Sank. Fox and Kickapoo, they were restless and inclined to wander. Toward the end of the Seventeenth century the eastern division moved north into Pennsylvania, and early in the Eighteenth the other began to drift northwestward across the Ohio. The two divisions united for the first time in the historic period.

about 1750, in eastern Ohio. They fought the British or Americans until 1755, then variously joined the Cherokee or Creek or withdrew to Indiana and even Missouri. Portions of the tribe lived for a time in Texas and Kansas, and they are now gathered in Oklahoma, though in several districts.

"Sweating" of Glass

Glass is not porous to any appreciable extent and the "sweat" does not come from the inside of the glass vessel or pipe. The water vapor contained in the atmosphere when it comes in contact with the cooler pipe or other vessel. The observation that pipes and walls tend to sweat more in warm weather is explained by the fact that warm air can absorb much more moisture than cold air. When the air is cooled by contact with cold water pipes, it cannot retain all the moisture held in suspension, and some is deposited.

Chaucer and English Language

Lousbury says of Chaucer's influence: "No really national language could exist until a literature had been created which would be admired and studied by all who could read, and taken as a model by all who could write. It was only a man of genius that could lift up one of these dialects into a pre-eminent over the rest, and ever give to the scattered forces existing in any one of them the unity and vigor of life. This was the work that Chaucer did."

Formation of Natural Glass

Natural glass is a phenomenon well known to science. As a rule it is caused by the fusion of lightning bolts. Examples of this are the Arabian and other deserts are invariably tribular and friable. Another variety, known as tektites, occurs in meteoric craters, and has long been familiar as "obsidian," "water chrysolite," and "Moldavite," the various names given to gem stones cut from it.

Relative Humidity

Humidity has to do with the dampness of the air. Absolute humidity is defined as the actual quantity of moisture present in a given quantity of air, and it may be expressed as a certain number of grains per cubic foot or of grams per liter. The quantity of moisture, expressed in per cent, is the ratio of the actual amount of water vapor present in the atmosphere to the quantity which could be there, at the given temperature. A method of determining the relative humidity at any place is to measure the dry-bulb temperature of the air with a wet and dry thermometer. The wet thermometer has its bulb covered with muslin that is kept damp. The difference in the readings of the thermometers, referred to a chart, gives the relative humidity.

Billions Have Lived and Died

The number of persons who have lived and died on this earth since the dawn of recorded history, some 5000 years ago, is approximately 60,000,000,000, or only 20 for every individual in the world today, writes D. E. Moore, Jeanette, Pa., in Collier's Weekly.

Village Officials Hear Resolution on Sewer Drains

Trustee John Blanke read a resolution Monday evening that had been prepared by the sewer committee upon a list of out-houses and toilets that drained into the old abandoned sewer. Twenty-one violations of the municipal ordinance were found by Paul Purcell, superintendent of streets and E. W. Bandle, health officer, working with Mr. Blanke. The resolution was adopted by the board and read in part that those persons in error are to be notified by letter and asked to communicate with A. C. Burscht, village clerk, and give reasons why those conditions exist. If the property owners do not respond within 15 days some action must be taken. Sponsors of the resolution request that the board and are necessary due to the impending sewer improvement.

State Officer of PWA Hastens Start of Sewer Project

A schedule of procedure to getting the Barrington sewer project started was received Wednesday night by local officials. It came from the Illinois office of the public works administration.

The program as laid out is: The meeting at which the plans and specifications are approved should be held not later than August 26, 1935.

The meeting at which the bond and rate ordinance are passed should be held not later than August 26. The ordinance regarding the petition for a referendum should be executed not earlier than 10 days after posting of the bond ordinance. If no petition is filed, if a petition is filed, the Illinois office should be notified of the action immediately, so that forms for the petition proceedings can be provided.

The instructions stated that if the schedule is deviated from, the office should be advised immediately. It is probable the plans and specifications will not be completed and ready for approval August 26. As a result, the schedule for the start of the project will be delayed.

A letter outlining the contract for the federal loans was received last week and read at the board meeting Monday night.
