J. M. Friedlander Predicts Better Conditions Soon

Outlines Sound Business Practices in Address at Lions Meeting

Worried over a marked temporary improvement for the business play, Joseph Friedlander outlined three essentials for sound business management in an address to the Barrington Lions Club meeting Monday night.

Advised improvement in business should be made by a marked improvement in business practices. Mr. Friedlander said, "Advised members of his audience to take advantage of the business improvement wisely so as to improve their financial position to withstand poor business conditions later if they should develop."

He outlined the accounts receivable and selling at a profit were outlined as three essentials a sound business management. Refining is merely setting the annual expense figure under the annual income figure, he explained.

Mr. Friedlander advised that if the budget is balanced out, it becomes a balanced budget. If the expense exceeds the income, the budget becomes unbalanced. The federal government's budget has been unbalanced for several years with the result of a high debt.

If corporations show an unbalanced budget year after year, it gets into trouble. An individual likewise can not spend more than his income without getting into trouble. The speaker advised his listeners to budget their expenses so as to have an ample margin of income.

Mr. Friedlander advised that if the management of their accounts receivable is through the services of an agency, he stressed the necessity of limiting a customer's credit to a certain amount, which enables a customer to do as much service to him as well as to himself, told his audience.

The point system has been emphasized, the speaker said; but every business should sell its products at the price it needs to run a profitable business. It is necessary to safeguard the interests of the owner and the employees.

Mrs. H. R. Byfield Granted Divorce From A. H. Byfield

Mrs. Harriet R. Byfield of Cuba, Illinois, granted a divorce from A. H. Byfield after an immediate hearing before Judge Edward C. Bowles. Mrs. Byfield said at the hearing that she intended to leave the jurisdiction of the Lake county court and desired having the case heard.

Mrs. Byfield was granted a divorce on the complaint that her husband had abandoned her.

On Sept. 15, 1933, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Byfield, 3212 North Avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Niemeyer, 213 North Avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Garber, 425 Division, all of Barrington, filed for a divorce for that day was granted and exceeded by almost 1000 the anticipated number of instructors. This was the largest number ever to attend a session.

Superintendent of the local public schools, E. S. Smith, reported that talk of a divorce was particularly interesting and educational. A talk on "Matching the Machine Age," Dr. Ralph W. Stickman, pastor of First church, New York, was an outstanding event, he stated.

Malcolm C. MacLean, University of Michigan, delivered a lecture on "Safety in Education in High School."

After testifying in behalf of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Byfield, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Niemeyer of Chicago, a daughter of former marriage, accepted to report attorneys for both parties had made proper arrangements out of court.

Stoves and Hot Water Heaters Are in Demand

The market for heaters and hot water heating plants is active now. N. O. Plagge advertised an Arctic hot water plant for sale in The Review classified column last week. Five persons answered the ad, one of them buying the heater. Mrs. F. M. Hodgeson advertised a white enamel coal heater in The Review and as a result sold it to a buyer in Long Grove.

Many stoves and heating units have been sold this fall through classified advertising in The Review which brings together buyers and sellers, renters and landlords, lessees, finders, traders, etc. in the rural and urban communities of Barrington, Lake Zurich, Palatine, Long Grove, Fox River Grove, Cary, Prairie View, Wauconda and Dundee.

"Top Hat" Begins Three-Day Run at Catlow Tonight

Midnight Show of "Werewolf of London" is Halloween Special

Much ado is being made over "Top Hat" which begins its three-day showing at the Catlow theatre tonight.

Critics and fans are emphatic that it is a picture over which much ado should be made, hailing it as the best and handsomest production of all the Fred Astaire, Ginger Rogers films. For sheer entertainment, the kind that lifts the spirit to a pitch of exuberance, one will wait long to experience its equal.

Tonight, after the two early evening screenings of "Top Hat," the midnight show will be a Halloween revelry. It is a midnight showing of "The Werewolf of London," and is calculated to top the celebration of all who are inclined to be prankish as the vigil of All Saint's day draws to its close. The midnight show will begin at 11:15. The midnight show will be preceded by appropriate short subjects.

The Sunday-Monday bill is really a two-feature program, although one of the items is but ten minutes in length.

The little event with the big impact is the latest Quintuplets interview of the Dionne Quintuplets which has given them the title, "Goin' On Two." The whole world follows the ups and downs of this unusual broad of babies, and this is a great daily thrill, will give more intense pleasure than is possible through any other.

The other feature event is the presentation of "Annapolis Farewell," a stirring story of June week in the U. S. Naval Academy. Tom Brown, Rosalind Keith, Dick Cromwell and Sir Guy Standing appear in leading roles, with an entire regiment of midshipmen and the U. S. navy to form an authentic background.

"Annapolis Farewell" is very definite evidence of the government's new policy of permitting the people to see behind the scenes of the military training of the parades does not usurp the plot. There is interwoven a story of suspense and romance which will bring a catch to the throat, mist to the eyes and a cheer at the close.

Tuesday, Buck Jones in "Bard of Brigadoon" will be offered at the basement night attraction. It is a Western of exceptional scenic beauty, and is filled with action of the type so dear to the hearts of all lovers of adventure.

Wednesday and Thursday nights will be staged the annual home talent musical of the American Legion. The show bears the title, "Here Comes the Showboat." The curtain is at 8:15 p. m.

Mediterraneans Led the Way
For centuries the Mediterranean was the only sea to bear commerce. The straits of Gibraltar were the gateway to this huge sea. Countries not on the Mediterranean shores were backward, barbaric or subject to the Mediterranean races.

Automobile Forms for Registration Being Distributed

Secretary of State E. Hughes Urges Buying Licenses Immediately

Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes this week began distribution of registration forms for 1936 Illinois automobile licenses.

First shipment of application blanks were made to city and county clerks, sheriffs, police stations, the State Police, motor vehicle clubs throughout the state, from which places they will be available to car owners.

By special arrangements with all companies, license forms will be distributed also from filling stations, gas stations and along various state highways.

The law requires car owners to display 1936 license plates January 1 and according to Secretary Hughes, the motor vehicle act makes no provision for any day of grace.

Motorists are urged to expedite early delivery of license plates. Secretary Hughes urged motorists to fill out application forms immediately upon receipt, mailing them to his office in Springfield properly notarized, and accompanied by correct fees either in the form of certified checks or money order.

Postage stamps are not permitted, Mr. Hughes stated.

Car owners desiring reassignment of their 1935 numbers must make request and file their application before December 1. Those re-registering the same car should renew their 1935 registration card along with their application for their new plates.

Motorists registering new cars will be required to furnish the secretary of state's office with a bill of sale as an official record for the motor vehicle department.

They must also apply for a certificate of title. Other car owners who are now registered in Illinois are not required to make application for a new certificate of title. A certificate of title is good for the life of the car when in the original owner's possession.

Applicants for plates for newly registered cars must furnish evidence of ownership in the form of a properly endorsed certificate of title.

Plates this year will cost less than heretofore. Following is a schedule of new fees:

8 plates reduced to $6.50; $12 plates reduced to $10.50; $20 plates reduced to $17.50; $30 plates are reduced to $24; $42. The new license plates now in the process of production will be

Mediterraneans Sea of Ages

There is only one sea that has been compared with all the other—the Mediterranean. The Pacific and the Atlantic have been known to us for less than a thousand years, but the "Mare Mediterraneus" from the remembered past, the "Sea from the Sun" is the "Great Sea" from the "Mediterraneans."

The ancient nations, with the waves—Phoenicians, Carthaginians, Greeks, Romans, Venetians—were all Mediterranean peoples. It is the sea of the ages. On its waters Odysseus journeyed from Troy and Aegeus made his伟大 voyage. It bore Caesar's prow as he set forth to conquer and carried the argosies of Byzantes as they brought home the wealth of earliest commerce.

The King's Salary

The amount paid by the King of England and to members of the royal family are known as the civil list, granted by parliament upon the recommendation of a select committee. According to Whitaker's Almanac the King's civil list is £1,000,000, the Queen's £500,000, the Prince of Wales £225,000, and the annuities to other members of the royal family £115,000 pounds (£57,500). In the first of these are included 125,000 pounds for salaries of the royal household and £100,000 for expenses of household.

North Western Extends Popular Meal Service

Quick acceptance by the public of "money-saving" idea introduced on Chicago and North Western Railway coaches a short time ago has caused great meal service from a restaurant, porter service and free pillows—thus making that road to extend this service to the West Wednesday (Oct. 30) to the "Corn King Limited" running from Chicago to Omaha—St. Louis between Chicago and Ashland, Wis.

Science Lecturer Stresses Need of Spiritual Life

Judge Samuel Greene Speaks at School Auditorium Tuesday

Judge Samuel W. Greene, of Chicago, member of The Board of Lecturers of The Methodist Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Barrington, Illinois, addressed a lecture titled "Christian Science: The Vision of Spiritual Light" this evening, October 28, in the auditorium of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Barrington High school auditorium.

The lecturer was introduced by Rev. Mary G. Eddy.

Judge Greene spoke in part as follows:

"The desire for light is natural. According to the record in the book of Genesis, God's edict is 'Let there be light.' The unfoldment of the spiritual light is made manifest in the day, and the darkness is made manifest in the night, as is indicated in the evening statement from the Christian Science textbook, 'Science and Health with a Key to the Scripture' by Mary Baker Eddy, Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science.

"And God called the light Day, and the darkness He called Night. And the evening and morning were the first day.

questions as to the divine creation both spiritual and material are answered in this passage, for the solar system is not yet fully developed. The record of creation still there is light. This light not from the sun nor from canopic flames, but is the revelation of Truth and of spiritual idea.

This also shows that there is a place where God's light is seen, since the sun is not yet created and the earth is not yet created.

"Was not this a revelation of creation?"

"Thus, in clear, definite engaged words, the student of Christian Science is invited to cross the threshold of spiritualism, to learn the teachings of Christian Science, lifting thought from the limited confines of materialism to the boundless expanses of spiritualism.

"The woes and burdens mankind are the result of erroneous thinking, engendered and propagated by the false assumptions that real good can be had by following this light of spiritual interpretation of the Bible text.

"A spiritual journey leads to the salvation or dominion decreed in the first chapter of Genesis.

Mr. and Mrs. August Mavis of Barrington celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Wednesday in their new home on Washington street. Mr. and Mrs. Mavis have lived in the same year in this vicinity, having come to Barrington from their farm home near Wauconda. One son died in infancy.

In the afternoon Rev. and Mrs. Hermann Koenig and members of the W.M.F. chapter of St. Paul church gathered to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Mavis. A beautiful basket of yellow chrysanthemums presented by the Union was an expression of their good will.

In the evening fifty relatives and friends gathered and a delightful program followed. Relations were present from Fairmont, Minn., Menasha, Woodstock, Chicago and Wauconda.

Tragedy moved through the home of a Hanover township farmer Monday afternoon when his son and his wife were found hanging from the minds of his wife and mother and the horns of a father and husband taking his own life a moment of insanity while intoxicated.

Jacob Nealer, 43-year-old farmer living on S. R. Route 26 between Belvidere and Oostenburg, committed suicide Monday afternoon after beating his wife Marla while she was working in the basement of their farm home. Mrs. Nealer testified at an inquest held by County Coroner E. Edelstein at the Danielson and Willmington funeral chapels, 293 S. Cook street.

Mrs. J. D. Saracino drove in the Little Wanderer's Day Parade early this week to take out contributions to the seventh district pound party for the nursery.

A large number of cans, candies, apples, potatoes, turnips, prunes, flour, sugar and bacon made up our donation. Members who have not had an opportunity to bring in their donations may still do so and they will be delivered to the nursery at a later date. The philanthropy committee wishes to thank all who contributed to the success of this project.

A large group attended the opening meeting of the Study Class last Thursday when Mrs. Lester Higgins gave a review of Ellen Glasgow's "Vein of Iron." It was a most interesting and enjoyable review and gave the audience a keen desire to read the entire book. Mrs. Higgins stated that Ellen Glasgow, who was born in Virginia, wrote anonymously for some time. Her books have broken away from the old southern tradition and reveal people as they are, are, and always have been pictured. Miss Glasgow now lives in Richmond, Va., "Vein of Iron" is beautifully written and the character sketches are exceptionally realistic. The story centers around Ada Pfeilstock, taking her from childhood to middle age. Her mother soon left her post as a maid to marry a man of her own choice and Ada was forced into marriage with another girl. There follow a number of unhappy years when they scarcely see each other. Shortly before Hilda leaves to go to Europe during the war they spend several days together. Though she planned to be married, she had said her divorce was not final until he was in his way across. Ada never regrets her actions, though shortly after her child, die, which deeply affects her as she tends postpartum.

Upon Ralph's return from Europe she is still engaged and taking Ada's father and aunt to a larger city. The story carries them through the boom years following the war with all of them drawing large salaries and living comfortably.

Ada's life through the terrible crash in October, 1929 when many of their neighbors and friends left penniless and they themselves are nearly destitute. At the death of Mr. Pfeilstock, Ada and Ralph decide to again live in the old house in Richmond and fix it up. Ada may go down to their son and his wife.

The book brings out Ada's great love for Ralph, her deep capacity for enjoying life even when she was unhappy, and her will to live, which was handed down from her ancestors, highly pioneer in that country.

SANITY ON THE PRAIRIES

It is refreshing to report that at least one state has managed to avoid the fallacy that the way to create prosperity is to spend billions on credit—credit which must be based on all the savings and wealth, all the prosperity, all the industries, all the earnings and other resources of the commonwealth.

The state is Nebraska, which is described by W. E. Christensen in an article in the New York Herald Tribune entitled "Sanity on the Prairies."

Nebraska has a new $10,000,000 capitol—without a penny of debt standing against it.

Nebraska has a splendid highway system—without a single outstanding bond.

Nebraska's state tax, which provides the funds for supporting the state university, four normal schools and all other state activities, has averaged less than two mils per year during the last 10 years.

Nebraska has no state income tax, no sales tax, no nuisance taxes. The state hasn't one cent of bonded indebtedness. Total bonded debt of its 93 counties, in July, 1934, was but $6,247,000—of which a single county, Douglas, accounted for $4,500,000, leaving the small sum of $1,700,000 apportioned among the 92 remaining county governments.

This sounds like a taxpayers' Utopia, which it is. To this hasn't been achieved through magic. Here, according to Mr. Christensen, is the four-sided plan Nebraska follows:

1. Pay as you go; issue no state bonds and few county bonds. 2. Reject new forms of taxation. 3. Watch public spending and the spenders. 4. Remember that even in these changing times the functions of local government are the same as they were 15 years ago and should cost no more.

The plan is simple. It is workable. It is sound. Nebraska has led the way toward economic sanity—other states should fall in line.—Gazette, Cape May Court House, New Jersey.

THE MIDDLE WEST

The old pioneer spirit still prevails in that section of the country familiarly known as the Middle West. Within the past twelve months the Middle Westerner faced tremendous odds, even stark tragedy. Droughts, dust storms and floods have visited his part of the world with grim shadows that those more faint of heart would have succumbed to with grace. There were times when he may not have felt like smiling, but at no time did anyone hear the Middle Westerner whine.

Surely every citizen can find a worth-while example in the conduct of their fellow Americans whose homes were almost blown away, then almost washed away, calamities bad enough in themselves but especially discouraging when they followed close upon the heels of a drought that lasted almost two years. But the Middle Western men and women are the kind that "can take it." Their ancestors were the hearty followers of the plow who journeyed far into the unknown to establish homes. And once established they were ready to protect them with courage and determination, believing that a little bad luck now and then only adds spice to life. What matter such trivial things as too much dust or water or the lack of it? This game of living is something beyond the quitters. It requires pioneers to win, and the Middle Westerners have it in their blood.—Times, Ellicott City, Md.

WHAT'S GOING ON

(Courtesy The United States News)

In the face of gathering speed in a world-wide naval armament race, Uncle Sam receives—and accepts—an invitation from London to attend a conference on naval limitation. The date is set for December 2.

The former agreement, reached in 1930, was renounced by Japan last year on the ground that she could not accept a position of inferiority below Great Britain and the United States.

Now she declared to admit of a modification, the new formula being equality of defensive power, which does not necessarily mean a equality in tonnage of ships.

Uncovering momentarily the deep issues that underlie armaments, Japan hints of the desire to expand her sphere of distribution among nations of raw materials and natural resources.

To which hint Secretary of the Navy Swanson replies: "Naval matters are enough."

The muster support for waterway improvements, a call goes out to the chambers of commerce and interstate trade groups to send delegates to a national rivers and harbors congress at New Orleans, La., December 13.

Immediate purpose is stated to be preparation of a legislative program for the United States government which will include a portion of expendable funds may be routed to this form of public works.

Among the merits claimed are: 1.—A large portion (about 80 per cent) of the money spent goes into labor.

2.—The projects increase permanently the national wealth.

3.—They serve for national defense and protection of life and property.

4.—Projects are blueprinted to begin on short notice.

First unfair labor practice case under the national labor relations act opens at Pittsburgh, the labor board taking up a suit brought against the Greyhound Lines, Inc., for alleged discharge of employees on account of union activities.

Defended by the company: The board has no jurisdiction; the law is unconstitutional; because it delegates legislative power to the board, taken from the company and without any power of law, deprives the company of the right of trial by jury and attempts to regulate labor relations in operations which are not interstate.

The board overruled objections to its jurisdiction and proceeds to take evidence on two questions namely:

Were employees discharged for union activities?

The battle over the constitution of the American Federation of Labor votes to have its executive council frame a constitutional amendment which would give congress power over labor legislation throughout all industry and enable it to make valid law for social welfare.

The federation thus takes up the challenge set forth by President Roosevelt when he declared, after the supreme court's NRA decision, that the power of congress over industry is the outstanding problem on which the country must make up its mind in the next five or ten years.

"Collection of other taxes," says Mr. Morgenthau, "is 123 million dollars ahead of last year."

where and grasping at everything, in its efforts to learn the ways of life, the parents often offer problems that fill the young child with discouragement if not despair — problems that lead him to cultivate a goodness that is the result of fear, and a badness that is the product of example.

Parents should honestly try once in a while to see the point of view of the child, how much more reasonably they would exercise their authority. And how it would simplify their own task to recognize that the child, too, faces big problems.

Leap Year Is Needed to Average the 365 1/4 Days

Leap year comes from the addition every four years of one day to the length of the ordinary year of 365 days. This is to make an average of 365 1/4 days, or one day in a century. The leap year is not exactly divisible by four, as 1900, 1904, 1908, 1912, etc., are, with the exception of years divisible by 100 and not by 400. Thus the year 1900, though divisible by four was not a leap year, while the year 2000, divisible by 400, will be a leap year.

The date February 29 occurs in leap years, that month in other years having only 28 days. In ordinary years the day of the week on which any date falls, say July 4, occurs, advances one day each year, from Monday to Tuesday, etc., and on Tuesday the next, but on leap year there is a leap of an extra day. For instance, July 4 occurred on Friday in 1930 and Saturday in 1931, but on Monday in 1932, leap year — Indianapolis

Discovery of Electric Light

It is uncertain when electric light was first produced by artificial agencies. The first successful production occurred in 1810, when Sir Humphry Davy, with a battery of 2000 elements, generated the first artificial incandescence by producing an electric light with a 3-inches long between carbon points.

Lake Forest 7 to 6

Leyden Eagles, top grid team in the Northwest conference, kept its season record unscathed by defeating Lake Forest, 7 to 6, in a non-conference game at the wall Lake Forest, last Friday. It was the Eagles' sixth consecutive victory.

Lake Forest scored first when Wally Dieck went over from the two-yard line in the opening quarter, but Leyden tied it up in the second quarter when Wally Dieck caught a pass for a touchdown. Wally Dieck played for the Eagles in the first game of the season.

Both teams had the bulk of the game on the field, but Leyden had more time and 55 seconds to make the two points. Leyden had the ball for 30 minutes, while Lake Forest had it for 20 minutes.
