Committee Report Shows Number Persons Eligible for Security Pensions

The Lake county committee of EIRC extended relief during September of last year to 173 residents of Lake county who would be eligible for old age pensions.

In addition to these cases, a total of 420 cases that would be eligible for such pensions were cared for through the local fund during July, August, and September of last year.

Data on the cases were compiled under the direction of the statistical department of the Illinois Emergency Relief commission, which made a statewide survey of its own and of local relief rolls to determine how far social security might affect the relief problem.

The figures were obtained by direct studies of case records of those being aided. The figures should not be considered as an estimate of the number of cases which will receive or apply for old age pensions since the relief rolls constitute only a relatively small part of the unemployed group in the state.

Girl Scout Notes

The new commissioner of the local council is Mrs. Edwin Parke and not Miss Josephine Parke, as previously announced.

Troop 2 has a new meeting date on Friday afternoons from 3:30 to 5 o'clock. The date still conflicts with those scouts who have G.A.A. at school but every effort will be made to adjust matters.

Troop 3 held its regular weekly meeting Tuesday afternoon at 3:30. The captain, Miss Grace Wandke, was assisted by Miss Helen Parke. Some scouts passed their second class first aid tests and some passed the test on knots.

A long felt need for a janitor was satisfied this week when Henry Melow fired the furnace in the cabin. The leaders are greatly helped and the cabin is reliably warmed for all scouts by this assistance and even better meetings will result.

"Collegiate" Is Feature Show on Sunday, Monday

January Bill at Catlow Has Many Stellar Pictures of Recent Issue

The remainder of January will be one of the most outstanding weeks of any season scheduled for showing at the Catlow theatre. The feature is "The Littlest Rebel," with Jos Fenner and Jack Hinkle in "Collegiate," Pat O'Brien in "State Over Broadway," Joan Blondell and Glenda Farrell in "Hattie," Fred Astaire, Charles Laughton, Clark Gable and Frances Fox in "Mutiny on the Bounty," Sylvia Sydney in "Mary Queen of Scots," Bing Crosby in "The Night of the Hunter," Margaret Sullivan in "So Red the Rose" and a number of exceptional merit.

The story tells how Jack Oakie, Broadway school boy, enters a boarding school from his father's hands. Myrna Loy, Oscar Brown Jr. and his anti-publicity agent, Sam Sparks, get Oakie into a jam when for the reading of the will, they start out for the newly-organized school with him. On the way they meet the "Penny" who is a victim of amnesia. The four go to the school and proceed to the school which proves a major disappointment because of its mid-Victorian atmosphere.

Oakie and his cohorts begin to make things hum from the beginning. They change the seminary into a "charm school," substitute the soapbuds for the zither and shorts for khaki and are being sent to the music into the place. All in all, "Collegiate" makes a grand entertainment and should be as pleasing to the eyes and ears of grown-ups as to those of the youngsters.

Several of the members agreed to put on one under the direction of Mrs. Alice Catronotta. They practiced at the school hall Friday evening.

Members of Fox River Grove held their 119th held their monthly meeting at the village hall Wednesday evening with 14 members present. Mrs. DeWack Olmstead was appointed chairman of a group of women who will assist the Legion men at the ski meet where they have the refreshment concession. Chester J. Catlow Leaves Saturday on Southern Trip

Chester J. Catlow left for New York Saturday on the first leg of his annual winter's trip to the island of St. Lucia. He will sail on the S. S. Nerissa, arriving at Port Castries the 26th. He plans call for two months in St. Lucia followed by a week in Barbados and Trinidad. He will make steamship connections at the latter island for the return trip, arriving in New York early in April.

It will be recalled that the Catlow theatre gave a benefit matinee last November for the Victoria hospital on the island of St. Lucia. Mr. Catlow recently received a letter from the resident surgeon of that hospital thanking the personal of the theatre and the sponsors for their aid.

"I can hardly assure you enough," the letter reads, "how much we appreciate this great kindness. As you know we are pretty poor in this little island, and it is only by help such as yours that we can gradually improve the hospital. It may interest you to know that more than 500 babies are born annually in the maternity department, you have been so good to help. I am taking the liberty of informing the local papers of this benefit matinee."

The money secured is to be used to purchase two new type beds for the free maternity ward, and any remaining will be used to further the efforts of the baby clinic in Port Castries proper.

Cuba Township

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Kelsey and son Ward of Chicago spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kelsey.

Ruth O'Keefe spent Saturday and Sunday with Frances Riley. Mrs. Conrad Kraus and granddaughter, Myrtle Kirby, were Saturday afternoon callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Kraus of Cary.

Five tables of cars and bucco were enjoyed at Kelsey school Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Elmer Pichen of Cary was awarded the prize. Mrs. Carl Olmstead will be hostess at the next party which will be held February 13.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kelsey left by motor Sunday for Biloxi, Miss., where they will spend the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Karen Hansen and family were seen about their Shady Hill cottage Sunday.

Herndon, president of the Illinois Farm Supply company, when he talks on "Potential of a Cooperative Company."

Library News

We hope you all read the article in the Barrington Review two weeks ago about the public library. If you did, you know that the library contains more than 600 volumes and that there are nearly 1500 borrower's cards in use. If you do not use one of these cards you are missing a privilege that is rightly yours. There are books for all ages and all tastes. In this space each week, will be found some information about the books. If you are interested in the German situation you will wish to read "The Nazi Dictatorship" by Dr. Frederick L. Schmidt. The information in this book is presented in a lucid and interesting manner.

The money secured is to be used to purchase two new type beds for the free maternity ward, and any remaining will be used to further the efforts of the baby clinic in Port Castries proper.

Barrington Hills

Bustle and excitement are reigning in the Daniel Woodhead family this week because of their daughter Ellen's pending marriage Friday night. The fortunate young man is Frank Irving Dougherty Jr. of Chicago and formerly of Bradenton, Florida. The wedding is to be small and will be held at eight-thirty in the chapel of the First Congregational church at Evanston.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Nestle entertained 20 young people from Highland Park Saturday and enjoyed a buffet luncheon at their home. They had hoped to skate at the club in the evening, but the ice being too soft, it was impossible, so they finished the day tobogganing.

Mrs. De Koven Bowen entertained at a cocktail party Saturday night preceding the club dinner.

The group at the club Sunday night was sorry not to be able to enjoy the fancy skating but were equally pleased with moving pictures shown by Sheldon Clark. They portrayed the story of all from the beginning up to the present.

Mrs. Hubby: "How do I look in my new gown? Does it fit all right?"
Hubby: "Not so bad, but can't you get into it a little tighter?"

"One of our hobbies is our Myers deep and shallow well automatic pumps. And why not? We have been selling them for years and they always give satisfaction. Those at Pomeroy farm are the latest who are enjoying running water at their home with a Myers Deep Well Pump."

"Ma, did Daddy play a drum in the war?"
"I don't believe so, son. Why?"

Opening Services for First Church of Christ, Scientist, Well Attended

Opening services for First Church of Christ, Scientist, were reported by E. L. Virden of the congregation as follows: Completion of First Church of Christ, Scientist, enabled the congregation to hold its first services in the new auditorium last Sunday. There was a large attendance at two meetings—10:45 a. m. and 3:30 p. m.

The residents of Barrington and its neighboring towns, as well as those who regularly attend this church have occasion to experience justifiable pride in the fruition of its worthy undertaking during an unfavorable economic period when building activity was practically suppressed. While one is most favorably impressed with the architectural design, especially adapted to the site, the real sense of admiration comes upon entering the edifice itself to find so perfectly manifested an atmosphere of devotion which obtains in a marked degree.

Local Employees Hired

An instructor, a plant manager and five or six local employes were at work Wednesday in the dress manufacturing shop which is being installed in the Landwer building on East Main street. The name under which the new company will operate in Barrington has not been announced. Full details will be given in a subsequent issue of The Review.

Manheimer Home Guttled by Fire Friday Afternoon

Community Fire Department Works Several Hours Battling Blaze

The fire swept through the main portion of the J. H. Manheimer home on the old Dundee road Friday afternoon and caused a heavy damage. The blaze started about 1:30 o'clock when F. R. Mitchell of Barrington was working in the basement. Gaining headway rapidly, the flames spread through the basement and first floor structure.

The Barrington community fire department responded to the call after a strenuous battle managed to extinguish the blaze, caused by a lack of water when the electric lines to the pump were burned away. The department worked for several hours with chemicals before the fire was stopped.

Insurance was carried on the structure and other personal property. The house was insured. Mr. Manheimer believes the entire structure will have to be razed. He purchased the estate from Harry W. Greene five years ago and has spent considerable money in alterations and extensions. The exact damage cannot be determined until insurance underwriters have examined the house. The flames were prevented from reaching an oil storage tank containing 200 gallons of fuel oil by the damage which had been done. The pump, bird house owned by Mr. Manheimer were taken from the home, which was in danger of catching fire.

Only the living room on the first floor was not completely destroyed. The servants quarters, kitchen, dining room and bath room were gutted so badly the house had settled in one corner. The Manheimers have taken temporary residence in Barrington.

St. Matthew Church Elects Officials Tuesday Evening

The annual meeting of the St. Matthew Lutheran church congregation was held Tuesday night in the church parlors. Election of officers and statements of conditions for the year previous and for 1936 were items of business at the meeting.

Those elected to hold office for the coming year are: Charles Schmidt, chairman; Herman Panzold, pastor; William Nighline, Jr., treasurer; Gilbert Raebler, secretary; Edwin Meyer, financial secretary.

A treasury report by William Nighline revealed a sound financial condition existing with a reserve fund. Reverend A. T. Kottman read the annual report of the spiritual year. During the past year 24 members joined the church, eight by confirmation and seven by transfer. There were 12 baptisms, six marriages and one burial. The pastor reported that the church has 168 baptized and 192 communicant members.

The newly elected officers will be installed at a special service to be held Sunday morning at St. Matthew church.

Speaker Scores U.S. Attitude Toward Japan in Address

Woman's Club Hears Dr. F. L. Schuman's Ideas for Peace

That a dangerously illogical and insistent policy of the United States toward Japan must be abandoned if war between the two countries is to be avoided was asserted by Dr. Frederick L. Schuman, assistant professor of political science at the University of Chicago in his address to members of the Barrington Woman's club at their meeting in the Methodist church Wednesday afternoon.

In favor of fairness, no distinction should be made between "the United States" and "the United States must eventually choose between a policy of cooperation or a policy of isolation but which ever choice, a realistic peace policy must be followed."

He enumerated the following official acts seeming to discriminate against Japan: naval maneuvers in waters adjacent to Japan, refusal to agree to Japanese increase in navy to the size of that of the U. S. navy, plans to fortify U. S. islands in the Pacific as potential naval bases, refusal to recognize Japanese territory seized in conquest and immigration laws directly insulting to the Japanese people.

"War is inevitable unless our views and attitudes are changed," the speaker declared. Blundering, meddling and public apathy were listed by him as among the factors contributing to wars.

Embargo, forbidding trade with any states at war and refusing to defend commercial interests in warring countries were listed by Dr. Schuman as means of preserving peace.

Missionaries Tell of Conditions of Life in South America

The South American attitude of escape from pain, sorrow, or misfortune was scored by Miss Ruth Wilson of Detroit, Mich., missionary from Montevideo, Uruguay, at services in the Methodist church Sunday morning under auspices of the Women's Foreign Missionary society. Miss Wilson described conditions south of the equator, emphasizing the fact that citizens under the "southern cross" have a vastly different attitude toward life and religion than those of the north.

An intimate picture of life in Argentina was presented by Mrs. Albert Wagner of Crystal Lake at a meeting of the Young Women's Missionary society in the home of Rev. and Mrs. H. L. Eagle Tuesday evening. Mrs. Wagner, a daughter of Bishop Waldorf described her experiences in Argentina, enumerating customs and types of students in various schools she visited.

GROW CHRISTMAS TREES

Christmas tree shortages such as occurred in Chicago this past holiday season indicate that thousands of acres of idle land in Illinois might profitably be planted with evergreen trees, according to J. E. Davis, extension forester for the college of agriculture, University of Illinois, and the Illinois natural history survey.

The Chicago market ran 145,000 trees short, and eleven hour prices soared to as high as $5 for the choicest remaining trees. This shortage was caused mainly by the fact that most wholesale dealers caught with surplus supplies in recent years, ordered smaller shipments for the 1935 season, Mr. Davis explained. Since they had to order months ahead from such distant points as Maine and Washington, it was impossible to regulate orders very closely to demand.

By having to order months in advance, dealers stand to lose either by having too many trees or by not being able to supply the demand. If local trees were available, the cut could be regulated more closely to demand. In years of exceptionally heavy buying such as the one just past additional supplies could be rushed to market on short notice.

Idle land especially in northern Illinois could very well be planted with Christmas trees, Mr. Davis said. These may be planted at the rate of 2700 to the acre and the entire crop can be harvested in 12 years. The plantation trees have the advantage over forest-grown trees in that they develop under regulated conditions and more uniform growth can be assured. The trees even can be forced to develop a dense growth of small branches by being bud-pruned the year before they are to be cut.

Being produced close to market, Illinois-grown Christmas trees would not have to be cut so early and would be received by users in much better condition than trees shipped from distant states. Also, the short haul to market would allow the producer to sell at a lower price and still have a greater margin of profit.

SKILLED LABOR WANTED

Men seeking jobs and jobs seeking men, and the two can't get together. The men aren't prepared to fit the jobs. It is a pathetic condition of everything being out of joint.

There are plenty of "educated" and "trained" men, but they are not properly educated and trained for the specific jobs that need them. Those who have education cannot use it. There are 10,000,000 employable between the ages of 18 and 29 who never held a job. Many of these have been through the schools; many have studied in high schools and colleges. They tell the employment manager that they will do anything but they can't name the particular thing they know they can do well.

It is a serious situation and the remedy cannot be applied immediately. Mistakes of long standing will have to be corrected. A proposal has been made that manufacturers and other industrialists revive the apprentice system. That may help. Conditions change rapidly. Employment managers complain that even those trained in vocational schools are unsuitable because they are taught "tricks of the trade" that now are obsolete.

Evidently there are problems on which the industrialists and the educators should work together.—Evening News, Southridge, Mass.

WHAT'S GOING ON IN WASHINGTON

(Courtesy The United States News)

The farm control program is dead. It is slain by the supreme court, which, in a 6-3 decision, rules that: 1. The proceeding taxes, not being for revenue but to control agricultural production, may not be imposed under the limitations of the constitution.

2. Benefit payments, being in form of coercion for regulating production, are illegal. 3. Bounties may be paid which are for the general welfare, but no conditions may be required of their recipients if these are to accomplish regulation of that which congress may not regulate under the constitution.

Answering the majority opinion, written by Justice Roberts, Justice Stone vigorously dissenting, directing his arguments chiefly against point number 3. Justices Brandeis and Cardozo join in the dissent. Say the minority: This ruling is contradictory to the power to appropriate money for the public welfare, and leads to absurd conclusions. It permits congress to pay money for the general welfare but forbids it to see that the general welfare is thereby promoted.

The "united front" bonus bill captures the first line of trenches, winning passage in the house by a vote of 356 to 59. It provides for the immediate payment of the adjusted service certificates, due in 1945, at an estimated cost of 2200 million dollars. Interest on money borrowed against the certificates is cancelled.

Present 6-to-4 vote in the house compares with a 3-to-1 favorable vote last year for a similar bill, under which the cost was to be met in greenbacks. The senate is expected likewise to adopt the bill, but with a less sweeping majority than the house. Since this measure is watched closely, and with this query in mind: Will it be sufficient to override an indicated veto by the president, whose budget makes no provision for the outlay?

The public utility act wins a respite from court attacks by the industry. It comes back through refusal of the District of Columbia supreme court to grant seven injunctions sought against the securities and exchange commission to prevent it from enforcing the law.

Since the remainder of the 50 odd injunction suits brought elsewhere were expected to be routed through this same court, the SEC having its domicile in the District of Columbia, this decision brings all to rest.

The laws are two—one levying a tax on the shelter and the other directing the payment of pensions from federal revenues. This round-about way of providing pensions was enacted into law last month as a detour around a supreme court decision. The court had ruled that the roads might not be the shelter of their employees.

The first move was to ask the District of Columbia lower court to declare the railroad pension laws invalid. The laws are two—one levying a tax on the shelter and the other directing the payment of pensions from federal revenues.

"The Child's First School Is the Family"—Froebel

Issued by National Kindergarten Assn. 8 W. 40th St. New York

Dependability CECIL NOEL

"I had to leave the children," said a woman to me one day, "and I'm sure they'll get into mischief while I'm away."

"I hope you didn't tell them that," I remarked.

"Oh yes, I did," she replied. "I told them I was sure they'd be up to some sort of mischief, and also that they would get a good scolding for it when I got back."

"I wish you hadn't said that to them," I answered. "You know, we generally get just what we expect in life. If you expect your children to be mischievous in your absence, they probably will be. If you say you trust them, and you feel confident that everything will be just the same as if you had stayed with them, then it is likely it will be just the same."

"I never thought of that," she said. "I think I'll try it the next time."

"She did, and some time later when I asked her how it had worked, she told me she had found it the most wonderful formula for good children. Although she added with a smile, "My little ones always will show some spice of mischief."

There are varieties of mischief, just as there are varieties of fun, but if you want your children to do no serious mischief during your absence, you must depend upon them.

Children love being trusted. They love doing "just like Mother would do." They like the importance of being "in their honor."

They like to plan pleasant little surprises for you, when you come home. If the surprise does not altogether please you, do keep it be compelled directly to pay the pensions, this being no part of regulating interstate transportation.

Chief among Peru's cities is Lima, the capital, built by Francisco Pizarro in 1533, with a portion of the ransom wrung from the Incas ruling in Cuzco, when that city was overthrown.

Lima, whose virgin territory for his new capital city and "be-gan from scratch" with the building of Lima so that the land was spring full-judged into being—the jewel-like "City of the Kings," which for centuries was the seat of the Peruvian government.

Peru, the home of the vicery, and the social and cultural center of the continent.

Several Changes Are Made in High School Grid Rules

Ten changes in the interscholastic high school football rules were adopted by the National Federation of High School Athletic Associations rules committee at the conclusion of its two-day meeting in Chicago, Saturday.

- The major changes were as follows:
 4. Jumping with both feet or knee foremost was ruled unnecessary roughness. This eliminated the section on hurdling.
 6. Tackling a runner out of bounds will be considered unnecessary roughness with such ruling made mandatory upon the referee. Responsibility for knowing that the runner is out of bounds is placed upon the tackler.
 7. The rule relative to unnecessary roughness in connection with neck and head tackles will be strengthened. The new wording of this rule will specifically prohibit twisting.
 8. The intermission between quarters were lengthened to two minutes, and between halves to fifteen minutes.
 10. A subcommittee was named to write in greater detail a tentative draft on what constitutes interference in a forward pass.

licked in a long haul. Just before the final run to make the final score Bronks 28, Bensenville 27.

Grabenkort led the Bronk scoring with 11 points on three baskets and five free throws while Anderson was next with four baskets. Kooke paced Bensenville with four baskets and four free throws.

In a poorly played game the Barrington Ponties suffered their five conference defeat, losing to the Bensenville lightweights, 16 to 12.

Win From Arlington
The Bronchos gained their 4th conference victory by defeating the Arlington Cardinals, 18 to 13, in a tight defensive game at Heights, Tuesday night. Only eight field goals were made—five by Barrington, and three by Arlington.

Grabenkort paced the scoring with three baskets and two free throws. The Bronks led 6-2 at the first quarter, 10-4 at the half, and 14-9 at the three quarters. Barrington Ponties lost an 18-15 overtime decision to the Arlington lightweights and in doing so dropped out of a first place tie in the conference junior division. The score was knotted 14 at the end of the regulation playing time.

Use of Italics in Bible
In almost all literature, Italics are used for emphasis or to give words a special meaning. But in the Bible they are used merely to designate words that have been added to make complete sense out of the literal translation from the Greek and Hebrew—Margaret Timney, Talladega, Alabama, in Collier's Weekly.

It also was stated that beginning today there will be reductions on person-to-person long distance calls every night after seven o'clock and all day Sunday. Heretofore there have been no reduced rate periods for person-to-person calls.

The new Sunday rates will be the same as the night rates. These reductions apply to nearly all calls on which the day station-to-station rate is more than 35 cents.
