A NEW EXPENSE

On January 1, American business, large and small, found itself with a new item of operating expense to pay. The item is labeled "Social Security."

This year, unemployment insurance will take 1 per cent of each employer's total payroll—and it is to be paid by the employer, not the employee. Next year the tax will be 2 per cent, and in 1938 will reach 3 per cent, the maximum under the present law. Forecasts are that the tax will produce total revenue of $250,000,000 during 1936. If business conditions remain unchanged, it will obviously produce $500,000,000 next year, $750,000,000 per year thereafter. However, hope is that business betterment, with its corollary of increased employment and higher wages, will steadily increase the revenue even though the percentage of tax remains constant.

Next step in the program will come in 1937, when the federal old-age insurance plan goes into operation. That will start with a 1 per cent tax on employers and 1 per cent on employees, which will mount slowly until it reaches 3 per cent on each in 1949. Total federal tax will thus be 9 per cent of all payrolls by 1950, of which employers will pay 6 per cent, employees 3 per cent.

Certain legal troubles arise from the fact that, in the view of many able attorneys, the social security act was hastily written, lacks the clarity it should have. Some think that present legislation should be thrown overboard and a new start made. However, there seems small chance that this will be done, though it is expected the present congress will make an effort to clear up some of the more vague parts of the law and thus make it legally sounder.

Dismissing these legal and technical difficulties, which must be eventually settled by the courts and congress, it may be said that business views social security with mixed emotions: Many leading corporations have liberal pension plans of their own, established long before a federal law was conceived. They agree with the principle the legislation represents, confused as they are by some of the details. Many industries are considerably worried as to where to get the money, at a time when, in spite of rising sales, net profits of numerous businesses are at comparatively low levels. Hope of the administration is that business conditions will continue to improve so rapidly that profits cannot help but rise, that increased costs will thus be automatically taken care of, for under the law, these new costs become fixed overhead regardless of any profit.

THEY ARE CLEVER, NOT DEEP

We American citizens like to bask in our own amug conclusion that we are thinkers, but we sit by the millions next to our radios and listen to oratorical surface skimmers speak in generalities, and then we applaud them.

We have half a dozen professional radio orators who tell us this country has resources to support 700 million people at the level of the "American standing of living" and then condemn the handful of executives who earn from $100,000 per year up. The inference is left that if the one hundred thousand, two hundred thousand, three hundred thousand and million dollar incomes were redistributed the rest of us would live in a Utopia.

If we Americans were the thinkers we believe we are, we would know that this old share the wealth gag goes back into Biblical times and that today in America a full billion dollars of "excessive income" divided among all the people in the country would only produce two cents per day per person. Also we would know that the radio orators, whether ministers, priests or fathers of old age pension plans are making fat incomes off their fine radio voices and clever oratory. They are political prototypes of the late Huey Long, even if they may be better characters and more dignified gentlemen.

HIS BEST MONUMENT

It is interesting that the League of Nations is beginning to justify its existence in the eyes of the American public and reflect credit to the late President Wilson whose popularity, shrank dimly during the last two years of his administration.

We wonder what will survive from the multitude of Rooseveltian experiments to justify his years as president. Without attempting to give reasons for our guess, we suggest the conservation program and the other experiment closely linked with it—the C.C.C. which is supposed to provide sound physical and citizenship training for that part of the country's youth which otherwise is not given ordinary opportunity.

The following industries established new production records in 1935, though some were not so fortunate in the matter of profits: Radios, washing machines, refrigerators, electric power, nickel, gasoline, shoes, aviation, rayon, oil burners.

If those people who throw bricks would only start laying them, look what a prosperous community we would have.

"Windfall" Is Regarded

Good Luck to Peasants In the year 1066, William, Duke of Normandy, led his forces into England. His cousin, Edward the Confessor, king of England, had died, and the opportunity of adding to his domain could not be overlooked by the ambitious young overlord.

In the battle of Hastings, Harold, the other contestant for the throne, was killed. Thus William became ruler of England. He set about, renouncing the laws of the land and succeeded in putting into effect many excellent ideas.

From this time dates our expression of a "windfall" in reference to a piece of good luck, notice a writer in the Washington Star. Under the laws of William it was a criminal offense to cut down timber in the forests. The poor people, therefore, were allowed to pick up for their fires only the branches which had been brought down by the wind. A windstorm, bringing a "windfall," was always welcomed by the peasants as good luck, and in this sense we use the phrase.

The Man Who Knows

Whether the Remedy You are taking for Headaches, Neuralgia or Rheumatism Pains is SAFE is Your Doctor. Ask Him

Don't Entrust Your Own or Your Family's Well-Being to Unknown Preparations

BEFORE you take any preparation you don't know all about, for the relief of headaches, or the pains of rheumatism, neuralgia or neuralgia, ask your doctor what he thinks about it—in comparison with Genuine Bayer Aspirin. We say this because, before the discovery of Bayer Aspirin, most so-called "pain" remedies were advised against by physicians as being bad for the stomach, or, often, for the heart. And the discovery of Bayer Aspirin largely changed medical practice.

Countless thousands of people who have taken Bayer Aspirin year in and out without ill effect, have proved that the medical findings about its safety were correct. Remember this: Genuine Bayer Aspirin is rated among the safest methods yet discovered for the relief of headaches and all common pains... and safe for the average person to take regularly.

You can get real Bayer Aspirin at any drug store—simply by never asking for it by the name "aspirin" alone, but always saying BAYER ASPIRIN when you buy.

THE DOCTORS ARE RIGHT

Women should take only liquid laxatives

Many believe any laxative they might take only makes constipation worse. And that isn't true. Do what doctors do to relieve this condition. They use a liquid

THREE STEPS TO BELIEVED CONFIRMATION

A cleansing dose today; a smaller quantity tomorrow; less each time, until bowels need no help at all.

laxative, and keep receiving the dose until the bowels need no help at all.

Reduced dosage is the secret of aiding Nature in restoring regularity. You must use a little less laxative each time, and that's why your laxative should be in liquid form. A liquid dose can be regulated to the drop.

The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains senna and cascara—both natural laxatives that form no habit even with children. Syrup Pepsin is the nicest tasting, nicest acting laxative you ever tried.
