

"Whipsaw" Brings Tracy and Loy to Catlow Theatre

Lawrence Tibbett Appears in "Metropolitan" With Popular Songs

Frank Morgan, once-time New York chisel boy, has reverted to type. He gives voice to song for the first time in his screen career, in the new M-G-M comedy, "The Perfect Gentleman," coming Friday to the Catlow theatre.

The song? None other than that rousing anthem, "Pack Up Your Troubles in Your Old Kit Bag."

Everyone had forgotten that the comic Mr. Morgan was a singer, including Mr. Morgan. Then Director Tim Whelan happened upon a press biography of the actor and discovered that he was first famous as one of the best choir boys in his native New York.

Chicago City's largest auditorium, where the nation's most popular radio amateur hours originate, was built to exact scale by Paramount technicians for production of "Millions in the Air," which opens Saturday at the Catlow theatre.

More than 1000 extras were used in the picture as "amateur" performers before the microphone or as members of the studio audience.

In addition, many "background" shots of New York scenes were taken to be fitted into the story, which revolves about a successful amateur hour. Wendy Harris and John Howard play the leading roles.

Myrna Loy and Spencer Tracy, two of the most vital personalities of the screen, appear together for the first time in "Whipsaw," new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer feature which opens Sunday at the Catlow theatre.

The story concerns Miss Loy as a fascinating member of an international ring of jewel thieves, and Tracy as a secret service man who forces her to pose as his wife. The results are adventurous, tragic, romantic, and humorous.

The picture is hailed as Miss Loy's greatest success since "The Thin Man."

Joe E. Brown, the funnel-mouthed comedian, comes to the Catlow theatre Tuesday in what is heralded as his most popular comedy romance.

In addition to Joe's laugh-provoking stunts, there are four live musical numbers in the picture in one of back stage life and the singing comes in naturally.

Joe E. hims M. sings and dances and does acrobatic stunts with the famous Maxxols.

Scenes of pretty chorus and dancing girls appear in the theatrical sequences but "Bright Lights" is neither musical nor a farce but a stirring romantic comedy.

Lawrence Tibbett, radio, concert, and operatic baritone, who returns to the screen in the 20th Century picture, "Metropolitan," at the Catlow theatre Wednesday and Thursday, has a new slant on the employment problem.

"This would result not only in a lasting gain in culture and education, but would also employ many thousands."

In his new picture, Tibbett sings a wide range of popular and oper-

Machinery Repair and Maintenance School is Scheduled for Friday

As one means of helping Lake county farmers reduce present high replacement costs on their equipment, a one-day machinery repair and maintenance meeting is being planned for Friday, Feb. 7, at the Farmer's hall, Grayslake. It was announced by Farm Advisor H. C. Gilkerson.

This is one of 17 county meetings being held under the supervision of the Extension Service, extension specialists in agricultural engineering at the college of agriculture, University of Illinois.

Lack of care, timely repair, and proper adjustment of their equipment by farmers in Lake and other counties is largely responsible for the high cost of machinery replacement, costs in the state now total about $34,000,000 or approximately one-fifth of the total investment in machinery.

The average annual expenditure for farm machinery in Illinois is $1.50 for each crop acre.

"One way for the farmer to increase his efficiency is to make needed adjustments and repairs at home," Hay said. "This requires that he understand the operating principles of his machines."

The purpose of the February 7 meeting is to give farmers the opportunity to learn more about the work of directors, and it is hoped that those who attend the meeting will pass on to their neighbors any useful information gained in the adjusting and operating of plows, mowers, corn planters, tractors and hayding equipment.

The school will begin promptly at 10 a.m. and conclude at 3 p.m. The farm account school which was originally scheduled for January 25, but postponed on account of the bad weather, will be held at the Farmer's hall, Grayslake, Saturday, Feb. 8. Representatives of the University of Illinois extend-their services will be present to help those wishing to start new accounts and assist present cooperators in the closing of old accounts.

Early Treatment of Oats Cheapens Smut Prevention

Preparations for oat seedling in a spray from Benjamin Koehler, a pathologist of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois, show that farmers can save the cost of disinfecting their earliest smut by treating it two to six weeks before seeding, which will also be a saving from the effects of the spray on the yield.

Crop Losses and Acreage Increase Noted by Census

1935 Government Report for Agriculture Released for Illinois

An increase of over 12,000 acres of corn was shown in Lake county between 1939 and 1934 in preliminary figures from the 1935 census released by Director William L. Austin, bureau of census, department of commerce. The brought the acreage of corn to all purposes in 1934 to 39,422 acres.

Similarly, in the same period there were 192 more farms under 100 acres than previously. Figures for 1935 show 1758 farms compared with 1566 in 1930. The value of farms in Lake county is $28,869,120 with a farm value of $16,422 or 51.5%.

The drought of 1934 seriously reduced most crop yields. Despite the increase in corn acreage, only 112,000 bushels of corn were harvested in 1934 compared with 1933.

Hay production showed a drop from over 1,000 bushels to 33,267. Hay acreage was over 2300 acres greater in 1934 than in 1933 for the crop was seriously affected by the dry spell.

Mr. Geyer announced that his new duties would include a preoccupation with production and production relationships.

The announcement was given out, according to Mr. Geyer, to put at rest any fears that his arrival here will bring in the milk stand in relation to his resignation and future affiliations.

Action of Mars' Polar Caps

Because the polar caps of Mars expand and recede like our own, there are seasons similar to our own. The seasons are longer, for the years on Mars are 687 days long. Certain areas on the planet change color, receding from the green and back again, just as the change in the color of the foliage here in fall and spring would appear from Mars.

The selected crops harvested in 1934 showed heavy decreases due to a prolonged dry spell.

Official statistics released for the state show increases in the number of farms and in the number of smaller farms of crops. Material increases were noted in each of the three years of 1933, 1934 and 1935.

The estimated average value of farms in the state is figured at $16,671 with an average acre value of 16c.

A TIP TO THE AVERAGE MAN

Eighty per cent of all taxes in this nation are "hidden"—that is, they represent part of the cost of articles and services, and must be paid by the consumer.

The total net taxable income—not taxes paid—of all American corporations in 1933, was $2,500,000,000. The total net taxable income of persons with net incomes in excess of $5000 was $4,000,000,000. This makes a total of $6,500,000,000. Total cost of government, federal, state and local, was $15,500,000,000 in 1933. Result: If the government had confiscated the entire taxable income of all corporations and all individuals with a net income of $5000 or more, there would have remained a tax bill of $9,000,000,000 to be paid by persons and businesses outside of these classifications.

The small-salaried man, the small investor, the laborer, the little business owner—these are the people who pay the major part of the cost of government. The price of a loaf of bread, for instance, includes the cost of 53 separate taxes. So it goes with clothing, light, tobacco—every luxury and necessity you use. Indirect taxation is one of the largest items in the cost of living and doing business.—Detroit Legal Courier.

GETTING OUT OF RELIEF

It is agreed on all sides that the government must cut its expenditures and move as rapidly as possible toward balancing the federal budget.

Unfortunately too many citizens seem to stop right there, without figuring just how the change back to normal is going to be accomplished. The abnormal relief load creates the conditions leading to such deficits. Just how is the government going to get out of the relief business and thereby out of the red?

To do so, it has to get rid of the unemployment burden, including both employables and unemployables. The government is now providing work of various kinds for about 3,500,000 of the former, and is helping to take care, in various ways, of about an equal number of the latter. How about these 7,000,000?

More workers will naturally get private employment as business improvement continues. There is held a strong incentive for business interests of all kinds to hire idle men and women as rapidly as they can, for all kinds of work, as the most effective means of reducing federal expenses, deficits and taxes.

It will be up to the states and local governments to provide work or subsistence for the remainder, if the government sticks to its declared purpose of getting out of the relief business as rapidly as it can. And the state men and local governments and private charity will have to take care also of the unemployables.

The burden upon taxpayers, in any case, may be about the same except for the employables hired again by private enterprise. The most effective reduction of public expenses comes from private employment.—Review Atlas, Monmouth, Illinois.

BELIEVE IN YOURSELF

Give me the man who believes in persistent effort. He has an objective in all that he does, and he keeps the light of it constantly before him.

No trumpet announces his successive steps from one vantage point to another. He cares not for praise nor does he need continuous urging. His urge comes from within, and directs his course from day to day. The seeming flare of spasmadic achievement disturbs him not. But when the months have rolled by he has gained ground steadily, and as the years succeed each other, he becomes what the world is pleased to call on "outstanding success."

Some gain success quickly, apparently without effort, and we are prone to call them "lucky." Too often the results of such success are lost just as quickly and just as easily. Persistent effort goes on to the end. It does not rest on laurels gained, for the persistent worker finds joy only in continued achievement, no matter how much may already have been gained.—Daily Tribune, Royal Oak, Michigan.

From a tumult of debate over the legality of controlling farm production by congressional enactment, a new program emerges. Senate committee reports favorably on a conservation bill by a vote of 15 to 2.

The program is sharply divided into two parts.

The first part applies to the years 1936 and 1937. Under this portion, the secretary of agriculture is authorized to pay farmers in accordance with, but not as a condition of, their compliance with government objectives in regulating production. Nitrate growing crops will be favored as alternatives to large acreages in grain crops.

The second part applies to 1938 and later. Under it, payments will be made to states adopting crop control programs in conformity with the new law.

From one agricultural group sharp protest is voiced. This is the dairy products group, which sees in an increase in grain crops the making of a milk surplus.

President Roosevelt in his last state of the Union address: "No new taxes, over and above the present rates, are advisable or necessary."

President Roosevelt, asked last week if there will be a new tax bill at this session of Congress, O.K. yes.

Reason for the about-face: Enactment of the 2-billion-dollar bonus measure and invalidation of the present tax law.

The second part of the program of inflation, who appeal against an increase of the tax load. They propose, instead, an issue of greenbacks, retrievable gradually, which would thus amount to raising money by a loan without interest.

Will organized labor, in adapting itself to mass production industries, split into two parts?

That question acquire a keen edge from a resolution of the United Mine Workers, largest union in the American Federation of Labor, authorizing their officers to should they continue to move into new used houses that were once high-priced.

That is the concrete meaning of controversy about holding.

Bill to help the housing-hungry, sponsored by Senator Robert F. Wagner (Dem.), of New York, means an opportunity for those earning less than $3000 a year to live in new houses. He proposes use of one billion dollars a year for the next ten years, this sum to be matched three times over by private or local interest.

The administration's forces are planning a large liberalization of the federal housing act, permitting government insurance of mortgages for the benefit of the small builder or owner-builder, and establishment of corporations to provide a market for insured mortgages. This envisages a hope, but scarcely a promise, for genuine low-cost new homes.

Two searchlights of publicity are turned on certain "bubbles."

First is a questionnaire sent to 5000 leading business men asking information under oath on their contributions toward various organizations to influence legislation.

Second is a call from the Security and Exchange commission for reports on payments to utility companies.

Bill to help the housing-hungry, sponsored by Senator Robert F. Wagner (Dem.), of New York, means an opportunity for those earning less than $3000 a year to live in new houses. He proposes use of one billion dollars a year for the next ten years, this sum to be matched three times over by private or local interest.

The administration's forces are planning a large liberalization of the federal housing act, permitting government insurance of mortgages for the benefit of the small builder or owner-builder, and establishment of corporations to provide a market for insured mortgages. This envisages a hope, but scarcely a promise, for genuine low-cost new homes.

B. H. S. Cagers to Meet in Pair of Games at Fox Lake Friday Night

Both Ponies and Bronchos Out for
6th League Win

Bronchos Beat Antioch, Lose to Lake Forest in Tournament

Barrington high school's baseball team, the Bronchos, came from Northwest conference with a 10-1 record to travel to Fox Lake for their sixth league night, Saturday, and the two games were a repeat high success. At present the Bronchos are in third place in the heavy division while the Ponies are in the lightweight with records of five wins and five losses. The two teams that are quinlets will be strengthed for their sixth conference victory, which is fairly certain of a sure victory.

Both teams are down to 10 games with two wins and 10 losses, and the lights' place with a .500 rating for the games.

Low to Lake Forest

Bronchos were eliminated in the quarter-finals of the conference meet last weekend.

On Saturday, the first round, Wednesday night, BHS fared a cropper, following evening and assimilated the worst defeat of the year at the hands of Lake Forest.

In the latter game the Broncos were 2-14 at half-time, then completely collapsed in the second half as the inspired Foresters ran points to the maroon and white.

On Friday night spot, from a BHS stand, was the performance of the Bronchos, ace Bronk for the Antioch game. Grabbing in style, set a high record when he made 12 points from free throw.

He made 19 points the night against Lake Forest, for a total of 35 points in the team.

Going Not Easy

In the other two games, the team had no easy time winning.

After trimming Aragon, Wildcat had three tough games with Bensenville, Lake Forest and Leyden, all decided by narrow margins. The powerful Leyden team is now far above the four remaining games and the conference title for the play-offs.

Team No. 4, the semi-finalists, then went to Leyden by a close score, leading Tournaments' Scores.

Chester Catlow
Tells of Heavy
Sea on Atlantic

The following letter from Chester Catlow, written at St. Croix January 25th, narrates his exciting adventures on the high seas enroute to St. Lucia when a severe storm rocked the ship 14 hours.

"New York was good to me. My friend had the fascinating places to visit. The ship was a pleasure. The ship was making Madison Avenue and being received among the chosen few in her popular dining club; and being the guest of one of the cast of the 'Tobacco Road'.

After the performance we were asked back stage to meet Miss Wycherly, the second star of Charlotte Amalie. Three hours later we left for St. Croix, where lights are now receiving the last of the cargo scheduled for this island.

Saturday noon we watched the famous sun rise recede into nothingness, and sailed into the teeth of a gale that became violent early Sunday morning and continued unabated 14 hours. Beds broke loose; luggage, chairs, dishes and doors careened wildly. Casual-quaint city of Castries crowded trees were black eyes, cracked ribs, broken legs, cuts, contusions and bruises. My bed was torn from the wall and I was hurtled with trunks, shoes and splintered furniture back and forth across the cabin till the next fall. My shins, knees and arms still bear witness to the fray.

Now that we have reached the tropics, our beds and bodies mended, we look back upon it as a jolly encounter. These quiet waters of the Caribbean lapping the barren shores of St. Croix make us forget the ominous possibilities of those tumultuous waves three days back in the Atlantic.

Our feet touched soil gratefully at St. Thomas at noon today, and we lolled in the lightness of summer things in the Danish village of Charlotte Amalie. Three hours later we left for St. Croix, where lights are now receiving the last of the cargo scheduled for this island.

Tomorrow we stop at St. Martin, St. Kitts and Antigua; Saturday, Guadalupe and Dominica. Sunday we leave for the West Indies, where we will be in the afternoon
