ESTABLISHED 1885 LESLIE W. McCLURE, Editor and Publisher

ILLINOIS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Published every Thureday afternoon at Barrington, Illinois, and red as Second-class matter at the Barrington post office under entered as Second-cla. Act of March 8, 1879.

All communications should be addressed to the BARRINGTON REVISW, 110 W. Main Street, Barrington, Illinois. Carls of thanks resolutions of condolence, oblivary, poetry, memorials, and all notices of entertainments or society and church sales and parties given for pseuniary benefit will be charged for.

TELEPHONE, BARRINGTON NO. 1

WHAT WILL HAPPEN NEXT?

There is a deep interest in the question often asked now There is a deep interest in the question often asked now, What is to become of the unemployed when government aid quits or what is to become of the future generations with science and invention increasing the lessening need of labor?

Looking back over the history of ages in comparison to our present situation it is evident there is not and never has been any need of a world depression. They have come and gone in irregular succession of years measured al-ways by the relentless indiscretion of the people of the age in which the depression occurred.

There is an abundance of labor needed now and there There is an abundance of labor needed now and there always has been. The law that governs necessary production is shortened only by the people of the age who have wasted or wrongly used surpluses in better times. If every improvement, repair or construction needed or desired could be taken care of, that is, if the people who desired to have work done could afford, to have it done and pay for it, there would be little unemployment especially if people worked on a more equal basis of hours and wages. Education, training and appendicabile has had a creat deal to do in creating this prenticeshin has had a creat deal to do in creating this equal oass of hours and wages. Education, training and ap-prenticeship has had a great deal to do in creating this change. When times were good it was difficult to get ap-prentices to work up in many lines of endeavor. It is surpris-ing how many laborers there are now who do not know how to do ordinary work as it should be done or who are too careless to try.

When we are willing to admit it we find that debt, interest, taxes and competition, social as well as industrial have had more to do with creating our present state of affairs than over production of foodstuff or machinery. The creating of unequal opportunity through too great profits and accumulations, however, may be the result of indiscreet spending and investment by the producing classes, when there is no curb on industrial power.

Intellectual development and inventive progress should be to our advantage in civilization and they will always be if rightly used, and if not we will pay the price of our unrightrightly used, and it not we will pay the price of our unright-counsess, judgment and manner of dealing with each other. The most unfortunate thing about the whole matter is that there are those who are not guilty who must of a consequence suffer along with the guilty. The future generation will either suffer or change conditions of social service.—Adver-tiser, Eldon, Mo.

NEWSPAPER MISTAKES

Lehigh Independent-Argus: Errors in newspapers are frequent, though it is the goal of one and all who claim to be journalists to eradicate the disease of mistakes. An editorial in the Lehigh, Nebraska World, published some time ago, expressed the situation and gives some advice which could be read over with profit every once in a while, both by newspaper folk and subscribers.

Yes, newspapers make mistakes. There is no conceal-"Yes, newspapers make mistakes. There is no concealing the fact, because the errors themselves are spread where all the world may see them. But is there as much inaccuracy as people think? Probably not. Frank R. Kent of the Baltimore Sun, speaking at William and Mary College, makes a striking statement of the case, which may interest readers as much as it interests newspapermen. 'In no business and in no profession save that of the pure scientist,' he declares, it the premium of accuracy so hich, the penalty for inaccurits the premium of accuracy so hich, the penalty for inaccuras much as it interests newspapermen. In no business and in no profession save that of the pure scientist, he declares, 'is the premium of accuracy so high, the penalty for inaccuracy so prompt and the proportion of accuracy so great. There isn't a newspaperman anywhere who does not know that, trivial though his error may be, someone will catch it. Even when it escapes the watchful editorial gaze, even when no one in the office picks it up, even when he himself is unaware of it, there are still the old, subscribers—thousands of them—tightest start aggressive, resentful. eafer to not their finger vigilant, alert, aggressive, resentful, eager to put their finger vigilant, auert, aggressive, resource with the editor and "show up" on the "break," communicate with the editor and "show up" the writer and the paper. These old subscribers, in my judgment, are by far the most valuable asset a newspaperman can have. Their militant, microscopic scrutiny is the finest

EDITORIAL SHORTS
Reputations wear out quickly when not taken care of.
Nature can be improved a little, but not radically

Some folks don't tell what they know, while other folks tell what they don't know.

The year 1936 may be a break for the girls, but to the

The year 1930 may be a break for the girls, but to the pedestrian it is just another leap year.

The season is at hand when we shall see some of our most esteemed citizens and some not so highly esteemed, either "viewing with alarm" or "pointing with pride."

While safety slogans will help in making our streets and roads safer, we're going to have to go much farther than

B. C. Forbes, financial writer, points out that one Chicago B. C. Forbes, financial writer, points out that one Chicago business firm pays $10,000 in taxes every day, while another has to dig up 25,000 iron men as its daily tax subscription. Seemingly those business houses pay it, but the customer foots the bill in the long run, so no wonder we are all wondering where it will finally end.

Those who get things for nothing never fail to come had the subscription on the same tarms.

SCIENTIST

5:38 a. m., Sunday school.

10:45 a. m., Sunday service.

Subject: "Soul."

Golden Text: Psalms 25:11, 4.

Unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul. Show my thy ways, O Lord;

teach me thy paths.

The reading room, 114 E. Sta tion street, Hopitky building, is for another supply on the same te

REV. W. H. HILL, Pastor.

SOUTH CHURCH
Penny route and Station road
Regular weekly achedule:
Thursday, 8 p. m.—Cottage
prayer meetings in the home well as the control of t

WHAT'S COING ON
THE STATE OF TH

Bronch

Meet Warren He Friday: Waucon Is Foe Tues

Finale at Ela Week from Bronks and Pon Beat Grant

Rasketball thick and fast school cagers as the season ly draws to a close. The br and Ponies play their last Northwest conference gas one A scheduled to appea DHS court. Wauconda is slated to on the local floor next walle the conference final played against Ela at Lak the following Friday, Pob. Bronks should easily def Wauconda but it may be ent story with the other both Warren and Ela ha teams, especially the latt Bronks Third Broaks Third The Bronchos, entre third place in the heavys vision, seem likely to hole sition for the rest of the Coach T. C. Hosford's err ies are only one game or place in the lightweight act.

Atthough the Bronks are championably occaderation have a record to protect in last two home games. For than two years (since da) 1934 when Labertyville we 1934, the local heavyweight have the bronks a convergence Warren and Wasconds, we tend this record over two for warren and Wasconds, we tend to the record over two for sons and part of a, third.

This Grant
Led by Norrie Grahning
the choe seally defected Grant,
19, at Fox Lake, Friday
The marcon and white tea
all the way to gain its sist ference win. Coach Clark; tuted freeky aending the squad into the game.

Glenn Hager, fall guard.
Glenn Hager, fall guard,
account in according with for gads. Although the Bronks ar goals.

Art Castle's two baskets
free throw in the last two

Andere	son, c	******
Hager,	g
Castle,	g		(
Stout,	ď
Rieck.	1		(
Niemei	er, f		6
Dotters	rer, R	PARTY NO.	0
Cadwa	Hader		0
LaPoin

Grint, 19 --Werhen, f Rowden, f Burleigh, f

Jewel Tea Cagers Drop Close 36-3 Tilt to Red Co

Jewel Tea Company's baske team gave the strong Coll negro once team, the Red Ca course in their game on the court lase Thursday evening. The team of the court lase Thursday evening to lead, 22-17, at the half, 32-25, at the three-quarters force the Red Cape railled in final period to win, 36-24. A' banket by Carter in the leat ute turned the trick. Heltman and Mondy sarrer Heltman and Mondy sarrer kets and the latter with four kets and a first throw. Get and the latter with four kets and a first throw. Get and for the colored capens will find goods.