Pennies on a String
As the natives have no trouser pockets in which to carry their house change, coins for the mandated territory of New Guinea are perforated so that they may be carried threaded on a string.

Many Still Survive

Use of Word "Presently"
The use of this adverb in the sense of immediately, at once, is now classed by the dictionary as archaic. That is, the term in this sense is antiquated and though still found, is going out of use in literary English. Formerly, until roughly the end of the seventeenth century, the sense was in general use. Shakespeare wrote "Two Gentlemen of Verona," act 4, sc. 4: "Go presently and take this ring with thee," meaning immediately, as the context shows. And Priding unmistakably used it in this sense in "Tom Jones" (1749) in describing a poor woman who "sooner looked at the serpent than she presently recognized him." From this earlier use, occurring from the early part of the fifteenth century, the sense gradually became weakened, probably during the seventeenth century, to its ordinary modern use of by and by, after a little time, shortly, etc.

Executive Scout Boards to Hold Annual Meeting

1936 Program to Be Discussed at Des Plaines Session Monday

The executive board of the Northwest Suburban council, Boy Scouts of America, will hold a meeting on Monday evening, Feb. 24, in the council chambers of the city hall in Des Plaines. In addition to the members of the executive board the members of all standing committees of the council will be present which includes all members of district committees.

This annual meeting is for the purpose of formulating the program and objectives for the year 1936. The program will consist of a general assembly of all scouts at which time President C. H. C. Greig will present his recommendations for the year following which the council committee will meet separately and formulate their objectives and program.

The chairman of each committee will then present their report at a general assembly following the committee meeting.

The chairman of various committees are as follows: Camping, H. H. Calkins of Barrington; court of honor, Charles F. Moore of Park Ridge; cubmaster, Walter Floerke of Park Ridge; scoutmaster, A. R. Crawford of Niles; finance, C. S. Stewart of Des Plaines; health and safety, M. H. Howarth of Park Ridge; leadership training, E. R. Henderson of Niles Center; senior scoutmaster, Edward H. Stehman of Park Ridge; ten-year program, W. H. Culman of Park Ridge; parents' council, T. M. Watson of Park Ridge.

Word has been received from James E. West, chief scout executive, asking that all scouts cooperate in the feeding of birds during winter weather. All troops in the Northwest Suburban council are asked to make definite plans to provide food for birds.

Parade of New Pails Saturday Result of Good Merchandising

Persons downtown in Barrington Saturday might have wondered what influenced the sale of so many pails in Barrington. Thirteen dozen 10 quart pails were sold at a special sale at King's Five Cent to One Dollar store on Saturday.

A local wit remarked after watching the parade of the shiny buckets around the village that "the realists must be getting ready for a quick thaw and are buying their bailing implements now."

Perhaps he is right, but to find some 154 residents of Barrington needing pails is unusual. Of course they could be used to haul coal, chicken feed, table scraps, water and a number of other items. At any rate the store advertised in The Review last week, and the incident was another example of the fact that advertising produces results.

Announcement

SELDOM before has there been such shortage of homes in this country as today. This shortage exists in practically every village and city. Barrington is no exception. To make possible better economic conditions and the addition of many desirable families in this community, a series of articles on building has been arranged for publication in coming issues of this newspaper. These articles which will be accompanied by appropriate and helpful advertising material, have been prepared by a registered architect and will give many suggestions to people planning on building. They will contain, in addition to the discussion of other subjects, information on costs and financing which may make possible the building of homes for many who do not fully realize present building opportunities.

Karl Plath Shows Paintings of Birds to Woman's Club

Karl Plath's lecture to members and guests of the Barrington Woman's Club in the Methodist church Wednesday afternoon included several surprise features—ten pictures of birds, painted by Mr. Plath, as well as his unusual collection of stuffed birds with brilliant plumage undimmed years after death.

Some of the birds had been stuffed in 1830, the speaker stated. None are exposed to light except for lectures, hence the feathers retain their gorgeous color. Mr. Plath is an artist, ornithologist, lecturer and curator of birds at Brookfield Zoo. As a hobby, he has an aviary of 80 birds in his home.

"A finished picture usually tells a story," Mr. Plath said as he began showing his paintings. "I have preferred to paint grotesque or bizarre birds because their brilliant colorings intrigue me."

Among his paintings were pictures of penguins, black-necked stilts, albatross, blue moose from Brazil, painted against an old gold background with salmon blue flowers contributing a contrasting note which accentuated the blueness of the birds, toucans, rhinoceros horn bills, tropic birds of Bermuda, giant whistlers, motmots and hairy crows.

Some of the peculiar names are the result of naming by natives of countries inhabited by the birds, the speaker explained. He gave whimsical stories about the various birds, their characteristics and habitats.

An investiture ceremony by girl scouts of troop 2 under the leadership of Miss Bonnie Jean Clark concluded the program.

The Countryside Garden class was entertained at its February meeting at the home of Mrs. John R. Prestice, 540 E. Hough street, with a group of talks on gardens, garden design, flower culture, springing down and birds.

Mrs. Lester Higgins gave an illustrated lecture on "General Principles Underlying Design," stressing the relationship of garden and flower bed design to the development of plant life.

Mrs. J. D. Saracino read a paper on "Making Cold Frames and Hotbeds." The points brought out in her paper were appropriate now with spring approaching.

Mrs. W. J. Prestice delivered a thirty minute talk on "Birds in the Garden." Her discussion was to acquaint club members with various species of birds that can be induced to make their home in gardens of this locality.

A five minute showery of "Spring Flowering Shrubs" was conducted by Mrs. A. J. Crawford. Mrs. R. R. Hammond, club president, in recovering from a recent operation and was unable to be present.

WHO OWNS THIS COUNTRY?

Henry Ford thinks; he seldom speaks. Sitting at his right hand is W. J. Cameron, accepted generally as Mr. Ford's spokesman. When Mr. Cameron speaks, under the sponsorship of his chief, it is assumed that the words of Cameron reflect the thoughts and ideas of Mr. Ford.

In a recent broadcast Mr. Cameron tore to shreds an argument frequently advanced by persons who wish to promote some form of socialism that "two per cent of the people own 80 to 90 per cent of the wealth," Mr. Cameron asked: "Who owns the United States?"

Answering his own question, in his own way, he continued:

"Who owns the homes and farms and personal property, the stores and factories, the money stock and the debt of the United States? Use 1929 or 1933 statistics, it doesn't matter. There are the same number of homes and farms and productive facilities and people, the same amount of land, whether the national wealth is 460 billion dollars, the estimate for 1929, or 320 billions, the estimate for 1933. Who gets the income of the United States? Who controls the productive and distributive process? Tonight we deal with ownership.

"In 1929 the largest single block of wealth, 22 per cent of the whole, was dwellings, the homes of the people, valued at 102 billion dollars. Who owns them? Next in volume of wealth were the farms at 58 billion dollars, or 12 per cent of the whole. Who owns those farms? Next come personal property—clothing, household furnishings, jewelry, automobiles—amounting to 49½ billion dollars, or 11½ per cent of the national wealth. Al of us recognize that ownership of these is almost entirely with individuals.

"Of the 25 million homes and lots in this country, 17 million are owned by their occupants, most of the others are the small investments of the same individuals. In cities, 70 per cent of this property is free of mortgage, and banks hold only one-fifth of such mortgages as exist. Of the 6 million farms, 3½ million are owned by the men who operate them, and 600,000 of these owners rented additional land. Almost two-thirds of our crop land is owned by the farmers who harvest it.

"In 1930 the mortgaged farms were worth 21 billion dollars and the mortgages less than 7 billion dollars. About 30 per cent of the farm mortgage claim was held by farmers themselves, active and retired; 32 per cent by farmers' local financial institutions and insurance companies and 19 per cent by government agencies. The farmers' debt in 1933 was in better shape than the government or corporation debt.

"Again: Personal property of nearly 50 billion dollars' value is almost completely owned by its users. Take the 25-000,000 automobiles for example. About 38 per cent of them are paid for when bought; 96½ per cent of installment purchases result in full ownership. From facts like these it is impossible to create a creditor class lordling it over a debtor class.

"Add to these the 2 per cent of the national wealth represented by a million and a half retail stores—nine-tenths of the stores are little stores, the property or business or both of individuals. Add another five per cent for local business buildings—offices, warehouses, repair shops, clubs—and you have accounted for over 50 per cent of the national wealth. Add to this the wealth we own collectively, the churches, schools, colleges, libraries, museums, parks, government property, and it grows to 58 per cent.

"Then we come to what is called corporate wealth. Take public utilities and transportation; together they account for 14 per cent of the wealth, normally 63 billion dollars. Their ownership is distributed among 12 million people—45 per cent of them women—so widely distributed that government has based a policy on that fact. Manufacturing constitutes 9 per cent of the nation's wealth, or 42½ billion dollars. It consists normally of 200,000 factories with their equipment. Most of the factories are small places owned by one or several persons; 145,000 factories, or 72½ per cent, produce each less than $100,000 worth of goods a year. The rest are the big industries." The Ford Motor Co. alone deals with 5300 other concerns, more than half of which are capitalized for less than $75,000. Conservatively computing the private individual share in all these things, we have this—about 72 per cent of the nation's wealth is held by ordinary individual owners.

"That disposes of the falsehood that while our people were working and rearing their families and minding their own business, this country was stolen from them. The wealth of the country is not owned by a handful of people."

In the book, "Adventure for Happiness," Dr. Cadman sets out to combat the prevailing spirit of pessimism and to discover instead the sources of happiness in a troubled world. He believes there is plenty of happiness, provided we realize it exists and decide consistently to find it. Dr. Cadman counts over the possible sources of happiness common to all men. Knowing the sources of happiness, it may be found by all, is his belief.

Volga Legend
The Volga river is the longest in Europe, 2300 miles long and draining an area more than twice the size of Texas, and passes the doors of the mightiest cities in Russia—Nashir-Noygorod, Kazan, Saratov, Samara, Perm, Ufa and the ancient town of Astrakhan.

WHAT'S GOING ON

The new farm program is on its way toward becoming a law of the land. The senate approaches an indicated approval.

The bill allows payment to those farmers who shift acreage from cash to soil-conserving crops, this procedure to be replaced later by payment to states which adopt production control in keeping with a federal agricultural policy. Payments are limited to 500 million dollars a year.

Senate debate revolves chiefly around the question whether the bill will be allowed by the supreme court, which had ruled payment to farmers inadvisable if conditioned on the farmers carrying out specific requirements.

Says Senator Norris (Rep.) of Nebraska: "The supreme court AAA decision is a blow to national welfare. If the problem of farm control is left to the states, the time will come when we will be another China. I have no doubt that the present bill is constitutional, but the court will probably invalidate it."

Replies Senator Dickinson (Rep.) of Iowa: "These proposals to limit the court will undermine the whole theory of American democracy. The present bill is unconstitutional in granting legislative power to the president."

Within two weeks of the deadline when the neutrality law expires, champions of economic self-defense in the interests of peace and themselves held to a standstill.

The proposed economic self-defense act is an embargo on export of war materials to belligerents beyond normal peace-time volume. It includes also making trade with belligerents and travel in war zones at private risk only.

With progress in this program blocked, committees of both house and senate vote for one year's extension of the present law, which would be amended in two parts. Proposed amendments would exempt Latin-American countries from operation of the law if fighting a non-American power and would forbid credits to foreign belligerents.

The president is "determined" that a program for increased construction of low-cost housing shall go forward.

So reports Senator Robert F. Wagner (Dem.), of New York, who himself is sponsoring a bill for subsidizing the building of a billion dollars in the first year.

The administration plan is declared to be a compromise between such subsidy and the encouragement of private capital to enter the building business.

The direct subsidy plan contemplates loans and grants to localities. The other arrangement envisages insurance of mortgages, extending the federal housing act beyond April 1 and permitting insurance loans up to 90 per cent of the value of the property, instead of 50 per cent as at present. Federal delay in that year of a ten-year plan is tentatively placed at $300,000,000.

Already eleven months old is the president's request that congress provide open subsidies for American ship builders and ship companies so as to place them on a competitive level with foreign companies subsidized by their governments.

An attempt to comply was made in a bill which passed the house by a narrow margin last June and then lay helpless in senate committee.

Now a mastering of forces begins again with a conference in the white house.

Chief hurdle to be passed is the objection of those who fear the subsidy will go to enrich ship men without accomplishing the purpose of expanding the merchant marine.

Tentatively proposed is limitation of profits for shipbuilders at 10 per cent and for shipping companies at 4 per cent, no salaries above $17,000 a year and no apportioning of profits into holding companies.

Prospect of enactment at the present session of congress, according to committee spokesmen: "There is a chance."

Uncle Sam completes his largest silver-gold deal.

It is part of the process of buying silver for monetary use, entered on the treasury by congress for amassing silver reserve equal to one-third the gold stocks in value.

In one transaction, 50 million ounces of silver are purchased from the Chinese government at a cost of $132,500,000, this sum being available to China in the form of gold.

How near to the required production are the present silver stocks, valued for money purposes at 2153 million dollars?

Answers the treasury: 21 per cent of the gold, up from 12 per cent when buying began and with another 12 per cent to go.

Old Fortna May Solve
Inca Treasure Puzzles

Does the crumbling fortress of Macacu Pichu, where a desperate band of Incas made their last stand against Pizarro and his conquistadors in 1532, hold the secret of the fabulous Inca golden treasure?

It is a landmark on the secret trail along which the gold was carried out of the reach of the invading white men.

Marchu Pichu, its stone walls with their interlocking masonry still intact after hundreds of years, is a more or less familiar sight to the trails into the Peruvian interior. The story of the Inca treasure, too, is familiar to every reader of history.

How the Spaniards, hungry for gold, held an Inca chief captive, and how he was to be ransomed with pure gold.

Part of the gold was delivered, but when the Incas learned of the Spaniards' treachery and the murder of their king, they turned and fled into the interior with millions of dollars' worth of gold bars.

This old stone fort, like the more famous Temple of the Sun at Cuzco, is a masterpiece of architecture and is one of the greatest works of "civilized" man.—Washington Post.

Derivation of Word "Masial"
The derivation of the word "Masial" is from the Hebrew Maschil, meaning an exhortation.

Believed in "Cramp" Rings

From the Fifteenth to the Twentieth century England believed in the efficacy of cramp rings—finger rings that would prevent cramps after they had been blessed by the king. Faith in these rings increased so rapidly that the blessing was no longer needed, and millions were sold for other ailments, such as rheumatism, epilepsy and fits. As late as 1912, "Genuine Anti-Rheumatic Rings" were advertised in English farm magazines.—Collier's Weekly.

The Hradcany at Prague has been continuously inhabited since Paleolithic times. Historical records indicate a large settlement on the Vitava river protected by two castles since the Tenth century. This fortified palace of the ancient kings of Bohemia is the headquarters of the Czechoslovak government and residence of the president. In the center of the palace area stands the cathedral of St. Vitus, founded in 1000 by the saint-king Venceslas.

Methodist Quintet Wins Church League Basketball Championship

Defeats St. Anne in Final Game on Regular Schedule

Baptists Finish Second; To Start Annual Tourney Monday Night

In their final regular schedule game, Monday night, the Methodist quintet defeated St. Anne, 24 to 14, in a game which was the 1935-36 church league basketball championship.

This victory gave the Methodists a season record of seven wins and a single defeat—their best coming in their opening game at the Baptists who finished in second place with six wins and losses. Later in a return game with the Baptists, the Methodists triumphed in a double-time game.

Winners of this year's title by the Methodists, ended St. Paul's season of the league. St. Paul's won the championship last year in 1935-36, and the year before that tied with Salem for first place.

St. Paul Third

The loss of several outstanding players weakened the St. Paul's team. This year they ended in third place. Salem and St. Anne finished in a tie for fourth and fifth place in the standing.

Last Monday's games were the last ones on the regular schedule although a tournament will be played to finish the season.

Accuracy at the free-throw line was the key to the victory of the Methodists to its victory over St. Anne. The M.C.'s only missed three out of 13 attempts. Latta, Conn, and Herzog scored for the Methodists. Dave Capulli starred for St. Anne.

The rapidly improving St. Paul quintet defeated Salem, 28 to 19, and playing its best game of the season. Reiss, W. Allenburg and Kuhlman led the St. Paul attack. W. Grabenkorn and Gliese won for Salem.

To Hold Tournament

The fourth annual church league tournament will get underway next Monday night with St. Paul meeting St. Anne in the first game, and Salem and the Methodists clashing in the second contest.

The winner of the St. Anne-M.C. game will meet the Baptists, March 2, and the winner of the game will meet the St. Paul-St. Anne winner for the league championship, March 9.

Look for Bronks to Go Places in District Tourney

Due to a change in the usual procedure, Barrington high school boys in the district will have a first district championship in the Illinois state basketball tournament when the Bronks play in the 1936 district meet at Wauconda, next week.

In an effort to give weaker teams a better chance to win the tournament was added this year. Smaller teams first will meet in a district tournament, the winner and runner-up of each to qualify for the regional. Larger teams automatically draw a complete bye in the district, competing in the regional and then in the sectionals if they win their regionals.

Chance for Bronks

This new setup groups the Bronks with seven other small schools—Palatine, Wauconda, Hebron, Capron, Mellenburg, Huntley and Elia (Lakes Zurich) in the Wauconda district. The Bronks appear as strong as any of the above teams of which Hebron and Elia are probably the best.

Elia will be the Bronks first opponent, Thursday night, at 8:30 p. m. Complete schedule for the Wauconda district tourney is as follows:

Wednesday, Feb. 26
7:30 p. m.—Palatine vs. Wauconda.
8:30 p. m.—Hebron vs. Capron.

Thursday, Feb. 27
7:30 p. m.—Mellenburg vs. Huntley.
8:30 p. m.—Elia vs. Barrington.

Friday, Feb. 28
7:30 p. m.—Winners of Wed. game.
8:30 p. m.—Winners of Thurs. game.

Saturday, Feb. 29
7:30 p. m.—Losers of Fri. games.

Back to Nature
The cry, "Return to Nature" started by Rousseau in the middle of the eighteenth century, was caught up by romantic poets in England and echoed by the essayists in our own New England, but fell into silence about 75 years ago.

Meaning of "Hotel" in England
The meaning of "hotel" is a bit puzzling, because there is no exact meaning, at least in England, says Answers Magazine. Apparently anyone who has a room or two to let is entitled to put up the sign "Hotel" over his door. An hotel may be anything from a small private boarding house to a large luxury hotel, replete with every "racket" for the comfort of its guests. Other countries have already defined the word legally. Even in Scotland an inn or hotel must have at least four apartments reserved exclusively for sleeping accommodations for travelers.

Wauconda Teams Easy Victims of Bronks, Ponies

Bronks Win 41-18; Ponies Cop
22-8; Both Play at
Ela, Friday

The Bronchos completely outclassed a midweek Wauconda team in a basketball game on the home court, Tuesday evening, the local high school heavyweight triumphing, 41 to 18, for their seventh Northwest conference victory of the season.

Norris Grabenkov, respected forward and one of the leading conference scorers, paced the Bronk attack with six baskets and a free throw.

Reserves Star
Two reserves, Stout and Niemelä, also helped with the scoring. Stout made nine points, and Niemelä, seven. Diane featured for Wauconda with four baskets and three charity tosses.

The Barrington Ponies also had an easy time, defeating the Wauconda lightweight, 22 to 8. Ed Gars topped the scoring with five baskets while "Butch" Bierman contributed three from the field.

Bronchos and Ponies travel to Lake Zurich, Friday night, for games with the Lake high school teams. Ela has exceptionally good teams this year and may give the locals some trouble.

Snow-bound roads that prevented their opponents from getting full teams together, caused the postponement of the Wauconda games last Friday. The games will be played at some future date.

To fill in for the postponed Warsaw tilt, Friday, the Bronchos played and defeated an assorted Alumni team, 24 to 16. The Ponies beat the local Fresh-Soph's, 33 to 3.

Hackney, Horse of Style
When it comes to "knee action" the Hackney is king of all horse flesh, says a writer in Horse's Daily. Noted as a harness horse of great style, he lifts his knees and folds his back. Originated in England where he was developed from good driving mares bred to thoroughbred stallions for park, cob, and carriage service.

Modern Hackney has been handicapped in carriage type and pony type. Preferred colors: bays, browns, and chestnuts, with white stockings and a star for show horses.

"Oldest Citizen of Brussels"
In Brussels travelers always seek out the fountain of the Mannekin, the "oldest citizen of Brussels." It stands behind the Hotel de Ville, at the corner of the Rue de l'Etoile, and the figure was cast about the time the Dutch were settling in Manhattan. The story goes that it was erected by a citizen who found his name on the spot, in the unconventional pose of the statue.

William Busse Is Seeking Office in County Election

William Busse, Cook county commissioner, has declared his intention of being a candidate for the republican nomination for county recorder. His petition was filed last week.

Mr. Busse has been county commissioner since the expiration of one term, 1912-1916, for a period of 25 years. He served as president of the county board for six years. He has been prominent in politics in the northwestern section of Cook county his entire life. His name has been mentioned as a candidate for the recorder's office many times but he was reluctant to join the race. Several other major county officers were offered to him at different times.

The Basques Speak Most Difficult of Languages

What is the most difficult language in the world to master? Prof. Watson Kirk Connell of Wesley college, Winnipeg, Canada, has studied the problem for years and asserts that the language of the 800,000 Basques, who live in the Pyrenees mountains, between France and Spain, is the hardest to learn. More than that, he says its origin is unknown, learned professors having tried for decades to relate Basque to Hebrew, Japanese, Celtic, Arabic and other tongues, but without success.

Professor Connell, acquainted with 50 languages, asserts that Basque has such a complicated grammar that only the natives can handle it correctly.

The Basques do not merely put their words up the back like other people do, he says. "They also have preterites and suffixes, and inflections, and exceptions are more numerous than rules. By the time a word gets out, nobody can recognize it, not even its own mother."

In fact, the Basques are as much a mystery as the language they speak. They are a distinct ethnic group, rugged mountaineers, with customs, folklore and folk songs peculiarly their own.

Three Local Clubs Plan for Flow

Will Have Exhibit Pier in Chicago March 2

Three local clubs will participate in the Chicago Flower Show, to be held at Navy Pier Feb. 29 to 75. The Garden Club, Country Club, and Junior Garden Club are preparing a show.

This year the Garden Club of Barrington is planning a still life picture of the window box.

The Junior Garden Club of Barrington, a group of people who are interested in the beauty of nature, will exhibit a still life picture of the window box.

The Country Club of Barrington will exhibit a still life picture of the window box. Among the preparations for the show last fall, the club members were busy with the exhibit.

They were placed in the exhibit and the show will be in the show and also in the show and also in the show.

The dramatic club will have a presentation of "The Man in the Iron Mask" on March 13.

The title of the play is "The Man in the Iron Mask." It is a story of a man who was imprisoned in the Bastille and who was later released.

The play was written by Alexandre Dumas and is a story of a man who was imprisoned in the Bastille and who was later released.
