G. Kuhlman Injured Wednesday When He Is Caught in Lift

G. Kuhlman of 297 S. Cook street, who is employed by West-nation Electric company in Chicago, was injured Wednesday afternoon when he was caught in an automobile-conveyor lift.

Mr. Kuhlman was held just atop the lift and had just stepped on it when the machine started moving upward, catching his body in the framework.

Fortunately the elevator operator heard or saw Mr. Kuhlman in time to cut the electric power and stop the lift, thus saving him from being crushed.

Mr. Kuhlman and his daughter, Bernice, hurried to Chicago after being notified of the accident but returned home Wednesday night.

Buick Adds New Model to Higher Priced Car Line

Addition of a new model to the higher priced series 90 (touring) group of motor cars has been announced by the Buick motor company.

Being a leader in the upper medium price field, in which it has a large exclusive clientele, the company has consistently maintained a wide selection of models for this group of buyers.

The new model is a formal sedan, combining the qualities of the limousine and the standard six passenger sedan of the series 90 limited group.

Dimensions of the new car provide two inches more leg room than the limousine type of body with three inches more space between the back of the front seat and the wheel.
