Schedule Motion Pictures for Two Nights at School

"Open-House" Planned With Program Tonight and Friday

Persons interested in education will have the opportunity of witnessing class room procedure as it is conducted in the Barrington public school at showings of motion pictures taken at school recently to be presented at the school auditorium Thursday and Friday evenings, March 5 and 6. The movie will be run two nights, starting at 8 o'clock each night. Last year the movies were shown only one night, and the crowd was too large to handle satisfactorily. E. S. Smith, superintendent of schools, reported. For that reason, he has asked those persons whose names fall in the alphabetical order from A through Z to come Thursday night and the remainder of the alphabetical order the following night. This is not a mandatory request but has been made in the hope of insuring each person a good seat. Mr. Smith stated.

"Open-house" will be held in all the rooms both evenings and after the programs, teachers will be in their respective class rooms and students will be at liberty to visit around the building.

A complete program from kindergarten classes up through high school with pictures of the various classes participating in different extra-curricular work has been taken. In addition to the school picture, there will be features in sound and color on other topics.

Some of the pictures were shown by the National Education annual meeting in St. Louis, Mo., this week and Superintendent Smith had an opportunity to see some of them. He reported that he is highly gratified with the results.

have adopted the change in time. Commuters and farmers are the groups most seriously affected by the change. Several persons using the train daily have forcibly expressed their opinions against the time switch. "It's an outrage!" "A nuisance created to benefit a few!" "The reason for it still isn't apparent!" According to dairy farmers their inconvenience will come in haying and harvesting time. They say they are forced to go to work earlier to make milk deliveries and will lose additional time waiting for the bus to take the dew off the fields. Favorable comment has been heard on health benefits that might be derived by children. The extra hour of sunlight after school has been pointed out as an advantage.

Erman S. Smith Attends Important Educators' Meeting

E. S. Smith, superintendent of public schools, returned from St. Louis, Mo., this week after having spent a week attending the National Educators annual meeting.

Mr. Smith reported that the sessions were highly interesting, many points having been brought out concerning the educational field which had not been fully discussed previously.

One point emphasized was the need of change in high school curriculum from the requirements demanded by universities. Many requirements having been brought out, Mr. Smith stated that he is of the opinion that numerous changes will be made soon in the type of subjects to be taught. Curriculum changes would be applicable to Barrington high as well as other places, he reported.

He also related interesting points on a discussion concerning the advisability of teaching controversial subjects. As yet topics of current political nature are not stressed in high schools, but Mr. Smith believes the modern trend will be to add high school courses that will cover important phases of economic and social welfare as they are being developed.

Six hundred speakers addressed various meetings, covering the educational program. Mr. Smith reported, adding that more than 10,000 members were present and an increase of educators from this section of the country was noted.

A string orchestra has been engaged for the evening to furnish music for dancing.

This function is being jointly sponsored by the men and women of St. Anne's parish.

Farm Bureau Official Receives Promotion in Recognition of Services

At this week's meeting of the Cook county Farm Bureau board of directors, their assistant farm adviser, M. E. Tischer, tendered his resignation. This was accompanied by a statement that he had received an offer from the official of the Grundy county Farm Bureau at Morris, Ill., to take the position of adviser there which has recently been vacated.

This move is an advancement along the line of work in which Mr. Tischer has been engaged for the last six years and it is a recognition of the success he has attained and the satisfaction he has given while in the employ of the Cook county Farm Bureau.
