Local Residents Spend Two Months Touring in West

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Calkins and son, 725 Summit street, returned this week from a vacation of two months in the western and southwestern parts of this country. During their trip they visited many of the historical and interesting localities.

Included in their itinerary were the Grand Canyon, the Gulf of Mexico at Galveston, Tex., Carlsbad caverns in New Mexico and a short trip into Mexico. Crossing the mountains in Arizona between Globe and Phoenix, they traversed a spot known as the "top of the world" and made an inspection tour of the Grand Canyon.

Orange groves of Arizona and California held their interest as did the American canal, now under construction. The Barrington folks also inspected the great irrigation bridge, a highway between Oakland and San Francisco, Calif.

During a route northward they traveled up the Pacific coast from Los Angeles to Portland, Ore., and country containing the redwood trees of California. Heights of 8000 feet were reached on some mountain roads.

They visited the navy yard at Bremerton across the sound from Seattle where the U.S.S. Virginia was being docked. They spent two weeks with Mrs. Calkins' sister, Mrs. Charles S. Brown, at Kirkland, Wash. Their son, James, and Mrs. Kate E. Miller and her two sons, Houghton and Harry, at Seattle, Wash., several days.

The Millers are former residents of Barrington.

The homeward journey included visits to the Grand Canyon, Petrified Forest and Painted Desert, all in Arizona.

Local Stores Have Busiest Week-End of Spring Season

Interest in the first of the Barrington Laundry's assemblage was reflected by the fact that 40 answers, nearly all of them correct, were mailed or taken to the laundry. The winning answers, as announced in an advertisement on page 2 of this issue of The Review, were determined on the basis of neatness and originality. The second assemblage contest appears in this issue.

The laundry was one of several local firms to experience unusually busy week-ends as the result of display advertising in last week's issue of The Review.

Geddis Home Furnishing Co., which advertised a cleanup of all wallpaper in stock, had the best week-end day since Mr. Geddis purchased the store.

Ankner's Bakery, giving away a loaf of bread with every 25 cents purchase, disposed of its tall heaping bread and gave tickets, each good for a loaf, to 50 customers who arrived after the bread supply was gone.

Several other stores reported a busy Friday and Saturday.

Mr. Prehm died Wednesday at Benton Harbor, Mich., where he was attempting a recovery from an almost life-long illness.

Paul Prehm was born in Lake Zurich January 20, 1902, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William John Prehm. He spent his entire life in the community. After attending the local school, he became a pupil at Barrington high school, but ill health caused him to leave before he graduated.

He was elected to the office of village clerk of Lake Zurich five years ago and had held the office since consecutive terms until his death.

Woman's Club Is Hostess to Units of Seventh District

Mme. Bianca Randall Sings and Lectures Here Wednesday

Members of women's clubs in the seventh district were guests of the Barrington Woman's club at a delightful meeting in the Methodist church Wednesday afternoon.

Guests were present from Lake Zurich, Pleasant, Norwood Park, Arlington Heights, and Park Ridge.

Mrs. Sabro Baldwin, secretary of the seventh district, addressed the group, inviting members of the Barrington Woman's club to attend district meetings. Mrs. J. E. Best, a past president of the seventh district, who was among the guests, delivered a special address on "Opera" and gave dramatic accounts of her impressions of various well-known singers and actors. She told how hearing various artists when she was a young girl had enriched her life and made her eager to be a great singer.

"Publicity has made stars but never has, will, nor can make artists," she said. "Lift yourself up into the process of making an artist—all the sorrow, struggle, hardship, oppositions, months of hard work, routine and that divine discontent which sees as an impetus to the artist's brain."

"Singing is a disease. Strains of an overture are to the opera singer the greatest inspiration life can offer."

"The artist is a vital, illuminating part of life—not antagonistic to it. He must save the technique of good tone plus a good life and capacity for emotional expression. He must go outward and visible sign of his inward progress."

Among the artists mentioned by Mme. Randall were her former husband, Harry Randall, and her son, Harry Randall.

Set Hearing Date on Condemnation for Outfall Sewer

Case to Be Heard March 30 in Circuit Court of Lake County

A hearing in the Flint creek condemnation for sewage rights proceedings will be conducted in circuit court of Lake county on March 30 according to information reported by D. B. Maloney, village attorney, at the village board meeting Monday night.

The plaintiff in the case is the village of Barrington and defendants are a group of persons owning property north of the Northwest highway and through which the Flint creek flows to the Fox river.

Many of the defendants are not opposed to use of the creek by the village, it was reported at board meeting.

Under the proposed set-up for the Flint creek sewer, the village will be equipped by an outfall sewer to the point where Flint creek intersects the Northwest highway.

Storm water, accumulating in separate sewers will flow into Flint creek near the treatment plant.

Irving Landwehr appeared before the board to protest against construction of an outfall sewer, but as unnecessary expense to local property owners, Mr. Landwehr contended that with a 55 cent pure effluent it would not be consistent to build an outfall sewer part of the way to the Fox river and then to have the sewer crash the rest of the way. Mr. Landwehr as owner of land along Flint creek near the treatment plant.

Liquor License Fee Will Remain $200 Per Annum

Proposed Raise Voted Main Street Widening

"Fees for liquor licenses in the village" was the subject of consideration at the village board meeting Monday night. The beginning of the fiscal year for 1936 is May 1. Trustee John Daeschler introduced the subject to learn the sentiment of the board on the matter.

The subject for discussion was a proposed increase of the fee from its present rate of $100. Trustee Earl Hest, H. D. A. Grebe favored an increase of the fee. A motion was presented by Grebe and seconded by Grebe to raise the license to $200 per annum. An amendment was offered to that motion by Trustee John Carroll which would be read by Koehler. The amendment proposed payment after May 1 to allow taxpayers more time to meet the increase. The vote on the amendment was four to two with Grebe and Grebe dissenting.

The license committee, Trustees Daeschler, Carroll and Koehler, met in session and returned to the board with the recommendation that the fee be kept at $200. This was put in the form of a motion by Daeschler carried by Carroll. The motion carried by a vote of four to two with the same trustees opposing.

Trustee John Blanke reported that the village engineers had completed the survey and plotting of the Main street widening project. A. C. Cadwallader, village clerk, received notice of the February allotment of the state gas tax fund credited to $233.65. The total now credited the village is $6448.25. The balance of the unallotted cost of the work. Project will be widening of Main street from Cook to Elia.

Regulations on speed limits in the village were discussed after Trustee Earl Hest read a letter from the state highway department. The state highway department in conjunction with Chief of Police E. W. Bann and those in charge on various sections of the city streets. The limits set by the police department did not conform with those set by village ordinance and the matter was referred to the village board.

Bids will be received by the village board on an audit of the village books.

Also on the program will be group singing, several selections by a "barber shop" quartet, and a play by the drama club.
