ON CENSORING SOURCES OF NEWS

In knocking out the Louisiana newspaper tax law the United States supreme court held the state statute to be "a deliberate and calculated device in the guise of a tax to limit the circulation of information to which the public is entitled in virtue of the constitutional guaranties." The court further held: "A free press stands as one of the great interpreters between the government and the people. To allow it to be fettered is to fetter ourselves."

The radio, like the press, is an "interpreter between the government and the people." The decision in the Louisiana newspaper case may yet be cited by the supreme court when it some day is asked to pass on the right of the government to censor political radio broadcasts.

WHAT'S GOING ON IN WASHINGTON

(Courtesy The United States News)

Small retail dealers in large numbers descended on Washington to urge the passage of law aimed at their chain store rivals.

The measure, sponsored by Senator Robinson and Representative Patman, forbids discounts, rebates, allowances and advertising service charges to any one purchaser over those available to competitors. Buyers' cooperative associations would be exempt from the law.

Advocates of the bill note with satisfaction a federal trade commission order which commands the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company to terminate a contract with Sears-Roebuck. As a result of the contract Goodyear tires, under a special name, could be sold by the merchandising firm much more cheaply than by small dealers.

Chain stores, contending against strong congressional opposition, point out that they are aiding the consumer, bringing him the benefit of large-scale efficiencies impossible to small dealers. Consumers, as usual, are silent.

The battle of the codes is re-fought before the supreme court but on a different issue.

At issue this time is the code set up for the soft coal industry by the Cuffey Coal act. Congress has defined the terms of the code and seeks to enforce it by a tax, partially remitted for complying corporations.

The NRA codes, struck down last May 27, were made by executive action and were enforced by police power.

Prime issue in both cases is the extent of congressional power over operations affecting interstate commerce. The government having failed in the first case to prove to the court's satisfaction that poultry packing directly affects interstate commerce, at-graph company, which is ordered by the senate committee to hand over telegrams exchanged between a law firm and its clients and then is enjoined from doing so by the District of Columbia supreme court.

In granting a temporary injunction, Justice Alfred A. Wheat says: "The subpoena served on the telegraph company, called for copies of all telegrams sent or received by the law firm between certain dates, goes way beyond the committee's powers."

The decision comes in the face of a statement by counsel for the committee that a refusal by the company to comply with the committee's subpoena might lead to action for contempt of the senate's proceedings.

Meanwhile the committee asks the senate for an additional $25,000 to carry forward its inquiry into lobby practices. It has already spent $150,000.

As European powers are electrified into feverish activity over Germany's militarization of the Rhineland, contrary to terms of the Versailles Treaty, Uncle Sam looks to the state of his defenses, taking these steps:

1. House committee votes to report favorably the McSwain bill for increasing army airplanes over a five-year period from the present authorization of 1750 to 4000. Serviceable army planes now number 735.

2. Appropriations for the War department are reported by senate committee amounting to $60 million dollars, which is $7 million higher than approved by the house last month. They provide for an increase in the regular army from 147,000 to 185,000.

3. The War department lets a contract of 43 million dollars for buy 512 airplane engines, of which 422 are to be the most powerful ever built.

4. State department tells the president that all Latin-American countries except Paraguay have replied favorably to his invitation for a Pan-American conference to plan consolidation of peace machinery in the Americas.

The ultimate test of the government's "let the seller beware" policy in relation to securities appraised as the supreme court takes under advisement the case of J. Edward Jones.

Mr. Jones, having registered with the Securities and Exchange commission a proposed issue of $100,000 in oil royalty certificates, had been told by the SEC that his statement did not meet the commission's standards of truth and candor.

Called to testify at hearings, Mr. Jones sought to withdraw his registration. The commission, refusing permission, obtained a court order requiring his attendance. Appalling, Mr. Jones carries the case to the supreme court.

There the SEC's authority is challenged on many grounds.

DOCTORS KNOW

Mother's read this:

A cleansing dose today, a smaller quantity tomorrow; let one day's use until bowels need no help at all.

Why do people come home from a hospital with bowels working like a well-regulated watch?

The answer is simple, and it's the answer to all your bowels' worries if you will only realize it: many doctors and hospitals use a liquid laxative. If you know what a doctor knows, you would use only the liquid form. A liquid can always be taken in gradually reduced doses. Reduced doses is the secret of any real relief from constipation.
