THE FARMER IN WONDERLAND (From the Prairie Farmer)

"What time is it?" the Farmer asked the March Hare. The First Robin is here so it must be Springtime," said the March Hare.
"Maybe so." the Farmer said, "but when I went to Chi-

"Maybe so," the Farmer said, "but when I went to Cin-cago with my hogs yesterday it was half past ten at half past nine and noon at 11.

"What I want to know, is it March or May, and should I get up at five or six, and is it time to test seed corn or har-vest the oats?"

"Why don't you write to Mayor Kelly at Chicago and ask

"Why don't you write to Mayor Kelly at Chicago and ask him what time it is?" asked the March Hare.
"That wouldn't help me get my cows milked," objected the Farmer. "What I want to know is, does the 7:30 milk train go at 6:30 or 8:30 and why? And do Chicago folks get yesterday's milk or today's or tomorrow's, now that they have got one kind of time and the cows another?

"I'd like to know, too," the Farmer went on, if eating dinner at 11 or 1:30 or whenever it is, accounts for the milk price being 1.91 instead of $2.11?"

"That's because the dollar is worth only 59 cents," said the March Hare.

the March Hare.

"Thanks," said the Farmer. "You've made everything so clear. I was all mixed up. I thought President Roosevelt had devalued the clock and Mayor Kelly had made 12 o'clock worth 59 cents. Or maybe that's what I paid for my new

"You can't do that," said the March Hare. "The sun is only half way across the sky."

"What's the sun got to do with it anymore?" asked the Farmer as he took off his shoes.

FEWER TAXES AND LESS SPENDING

If corporations are to be forced to pay out all their earn-ings as they acquire them, what will they use for money in an hour of crisis

In an address last Sunday evening W. J. Cameron of In an address last Sunday evening W. J. Cameron of the Ford Motor company showed that, while the government has expended about ten billion dollars during the depression years, industry had put forth twenty-seven billions of its accumulated savings to maintain business, provide employment, pay wages. The administration's business philosophy apears to be that industry should forget thrift, spurn sound management, spend its income as it gets it and then, when depression strikes it low, cast itself, its workers and its shareholders on government relief.
