Little Change in Standing in Hall-Mason Vote Count

Failure of Judges of election to initial three ballots in Wauconda at the April 14 primary brought about the only apparent change in the standing of State's Attorney Charles E. Mason and Harry A. Calkins in the county court for the republican nomination for state's attorney of Lake county.

Two of the uninitialed ballots were for Mason and one for Hall, thus reducing Mason's lead from 22 to 20 votes. The uninitialed ballots were thrown out.

Aside from these changes there were no changes in the canvass of returns for Cuba and Wauconda precincts.

The counting room returns in the township showed Hall 114, Mason 311 and 5 objected to ballots. The Fremont count was 115, Mason 293 and objected to 11. Hall petitioned for the count after the certificate of nomination was issued to Mason by the county clerk.

The election board, which gave Mason 16,892 votes and Hall 10,669.

Alford Declared County Clerk by Court Decision

Ruling By Judge Persons Is Finish of 16 Months' Legal Battle

Russ Alford is now duly elected Lake county clerk by virtue of a decision made by Judge Perry L. Persons in the circuit court of Lake county Tuesday. Alford's majority over Hendee was 15 votes.

The official count after the question of legality on some vote was settled showed Hendee with 18,457 and Alford 18,492.

In stating his decision, Judge Persons has culminated a court battle that was fought for 16 months. He outlined his ruling on three highly significant questions raised in the contest, with relation to the rights of students at a school as voters, the initialing of ballots and the alleged tampering with ballots.

In Libertyville precinct 3 votes cast by students of St. Mary's of the Lake Seminary were not allowed by Judge Persons. By that ruling Hendee lost 35 while Alford dropped 128. He also held that 402 ballots that were questioned in Wauconda precincts 20 and 24 were valid and the apparent differences in election judge's signatures were not sufficient to disenfranchise voters of those precincts.

A handwriting expert had been introduced by Hendee to prove the initialing was not done by the judges but Judge Persons chose to regard the testimony of the judges themselves as correct.

Allegations that tampering with ballots had occurred in Wauconda, Elia and Deerfield townships were also ruled against by the judge.

J. Balstow, nominee for Lake county state's attorney on the democratic ticket, represented Alford in court.
