Mrs. R. R. Hammond Tells Club How to Plan Garden Beautification

The Village Garden Club of Barrington held a regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Carl Hatje Monday afternoon.

Mrs. R. R. Hammond, speaker for the afternoon, discussed the planting of a garden for a succession of bloom.

"Planting for a succession bloom," said Mrs. Hammond, "is the final accomplishment in the work of art for the gardener. One should plant a garden for beauty the year round." She then listed garden plants according to the season of blooms:

"Evergreens provide bloom in the winter garden and form a background.

In the early spring come plants of bulbous nature, such as crocus, snowdrops, violet, narcissus, and finally tulips.

"June provides our third period of bloom and it is here that we have the greatest color assortment in delphinium, rose, day lilies, carnations, bleeding heart, and other flowering plants.

In midsummer we have phloxes, hollyhocks, salvias, and veronicas and our final period of bloom is the fall, our hardy stars as chrysanthemums."

Assisting Mrs. Hatje during the social hour that followed the program were Mrs. Collins and Mrs. Schutt.
