

Farm Co-ops Will Hold Meeting at State University

National Organizations to Discuss Marketing of Dairy Products

Chester C. Davis, administrator, agricultural administration, Washington, D. C., discussing European outlets for agricultural products will feature that part of the 12th annual session of the American Institute of Cooperation devoted to problems of international trade, reports H. C. M. Case, head of the department of agricultural economics, college of agriculture, University of Illinois, who is in charge of local arrangements for the meeting. It will be held at the university, June 15 to 17.

"Having spent the past three months in Europe making a special study of outlets for agricultural products, Davis will have a message full of first-hand information on this subject," Case said.

The institute centers its attention upon the immediate problems confronting farmers' purchasing and marketing associations.

Discussions of international trade will occupy the interest of the institute at two evening meetings, June 15 and June 18. Administrator Davis will speak at the Monday evening general session, which will be presided over by Edward A. O'Neal, president of American Farm Bureau Federation. The more than 3000 expected to attend the conference will be welcomed by Dean H. W. Mumford of the college of agriculture. Following Davis on the program will be C. W. Peterson, Calgary, Canada, discussing international trade problems as illustrated by wheat.

Thursday evening's program will feature L. R. Edminister, Washington, D. C., head economic analyst, trade agreement section, state department of the federal government.

Edminister can be regarded as an official spokesman of the state department. Case said. "The Thursday evening general session will be presided over by C. V. Gregory, editor of Prairie Farmer."

CHARLES W. HOLMAN

Leaders of the general discussions on international trade problems will be H. M. Conway, Chicago, National Livestock Marketing association; N. C. Williamson, New Orleans, American Cotton Co-operative association; Charles W. Holman, Washington, D. C., American Institute of Cooperation, and M. W. Thatcher, Washington rep-representative Farmers' National Grain Corporation.

How to get more money to the producer for his milk, cream, eggs, poultry and produce in general will be prominent among the talks and discussions of the institute.

Pure Milk Group Buys Processing Factory at Lisle

Pure Milk association officials announced this week that they have purchased the country receiving and processing plant of the Union Dairy company of Chicago at Lisle, Ill. This plant is located about 25 miles from Chicago, and is receiving about 50,000 pounds of milk daily at the present time.

The purchase of the plant is in accordance with the wishes expressed by the voting delegates of the Pure Milk association's 14,500 members that the cooperative should embark upon a processing and manufacturing plant program to take care of the organization's surplus milk. The Lisle plant is the first move in this direction following the annual meeting held March 12, 1935. Negotiations for purchasing other plants are now under way, but have not yet reached the stage of completion.

"We are especially pleased with the purchase of the Lisle plant," declared President John P. Case of the Pure Milk association, "because it occupies a strategic position so far as our west side Chicago and west suburban distributors are concerned. We are now in a position to shift milk to any of these dairies quickly, should the occasion demand."

The Pure Milk association now has three plants with which to take care of its surplus milk, including a cheese plant at Elgin which receives about 60,000 pounds daily. With plants running full capacity, it is estimated that about 200,000 pounds of milk can be cared for daily, especially since the Lisle plant is to be renovated with additional equipment purchased.

L.O.O.F. Booster Club to Sponsor Carnival June 22-23

Festival Will Be Opened With Many Attractive Features

According to Fred Schumaker, general chairman of the third annual midsummer festival being presented by the Odd Fellows Booster club on the Barrington baseball diamond for the entire week of June 22 to 27 inclusive, a greater show with more attractions than ever has been planned this year. It will begin to arrive in Barrington Sunday and Monday night and will last the big day carnival show sponsored by the local unit.

From 15 to 20 games and contests of the new type will be operated and there will be amusements of many other forms to add to the enjoyment of children as well as grown-ups.

A daredevil aerial act has been booked for the carnival and will be presented to the patrons night after night. Winnie and Dollie, the aerialist team, are scheduled to perform a routine of trapeze tricks on apparatus standing 10 feet in the air. $88,000 in Bonds Received by War Service Men Here

176 Veterans Get Bonus Registered Mail Tuesday and Wednesday

World war veterans of this community, with a few exceptions, have applied for and received the adjusted service certificate bonus figure checks to the amount of $88,000.

Prior to Wednesday night 176 service men had received the bonds by registered mail deliveries through the Barrington post office. Registered letters have arrived for several men who are on vacation or for some other reason have not called for them.

Postal employees began passing out the mail to veterans Tuesday morning. On Wednesday J. Robertson, assistant postmaster, began receiving the bonds from those who wished to exchange them for government checks. Forty men called during the day to apply for payment, and a large number was expected Thursday.

Each veteran received the face value of his adjusted service certificate minus any amount that he might have borrowed on it to the maximum 50 per cent of the amount of the certificate at the time he borrowed in the spring of September 1921, on all loans before 1921. The loan rate was 4 per cent, but this was cancelled after September 1921, on all loans before 1921.

The payment was made with $ bonds and a government check for any odd amount beyond a figure divisible by 50. For example, a veteran had $175 due him, received nine $50 bonds and check for $25. These came together in a registered government envelope. One veteran reported receiving an odd amount check for $1.21. Another reported receiving a check for $49.10.

It is expected that full checks in payment for corrected bonds will be received by Saturday Monday as they are mailed out from the regional disbursing office at Chicago.

A large majority of applications by veterans in this community for adjusted service certificate bonus was made through the Barrington post of the American Legion and the able cooperation of Roy Williams.
