came to Barrington. He established shop in a building owned by W. Stolt, next to his present location, and a short while later purchased the building.

At that time the Lamey building on East Main street was the only place where brick construction. A man named Grunau occurred to him when the entire Park avenue block was burned out by a fire originating in a saloon owned by Charles Hennig, located where the present Grebe Hardware store now stands.

While the buildings were being rebuilt in brick, Mr. Grunau opened a shop in the Lamey building for several months. W. N. Landwehr purchased the building erected by Mr. Grunau and he in turn moved into his present location which was partially built by Joseph Catlow, who had sold the unfinished structure to J. C. Plagge. Harvey Harnden had maintained a saloon establishment there prior to that and several butcher and candy shops had tenanted the building.

For the new shop, Mr. Grunau bought lighting fixtures which had been used at the Chicago Hotel's saloon of 1893.

A Steady, Cooling Breeze Throughout Your Entire House

WITH AN ATTIC COOLING SYSTEM

HERE'S HOW IT WORKS
The average night temperature is several degrees below the daytime temperature. By dispelling stale, hot air that has been stored in the attic throughout the day, and by drawing in cool night air at the lower floors, a constant breeze cools its way through your house.

Here's Nature's own way to keep cool. Air in motion! Cool breezes throughout your house! With an Attic Cooling System you scientifically provide your home with a wealth of cool, circulating air. Hot air is driven off. Cool night air replaces it. A constant motion is started and continues like a steady breeze to give you relief from heat.

Investigate this opportunity to cool your house this summer. Special terms are offered. Visit your nearest Public Service office for complete details.

During July and August
