

Movable Freezing Point
Water will freeze when inclined in a vacuum; it will freeze at a point 1-1/2 degrees higher than the ordinary freezing point. To freeze, water must be expanded by placing a great pressure upon it and limiting its expansion. It is possible to reduce the freezing point, by this method, until it is several degrees below the zero of the Fahrenheit scale. Correspondingly, by reducing the normal pressure on the water expansion in a vacuum, the freezing point is raised. The atmosphere pressure being comparatively slight, the creation of a vacuum serves to raise the freezing point only a small fraction of a degree.

The United States has paid a total of about $35,000,000 in ransom for American captives. This ransom or tribute money was paid to Algeria pirates of the Barbary Coast in the north coast of Africa in the first decade of the American Republic's existence. Annual payments of about $1,000,000 were made until the United States fought and won the Barbary States war, in which such famous commanders as Commodore Tripoli, Rodgers and Barrow took part.

"Sons o' Guns" Is Billed at Catlow Sunday, Monday

"Fury" Finishes R'n Tonight and Friday; Variety of Movies Scheduled

Tonight and Friday are the remaining days allotted to screening of "Fury" at the Catlow theatre. Spencer Tracy and Sylvia Sydney have powerful and appealing roles in this story of mob violence in which an innocent man is subjected to mass lawlessness.

"Epic" is the term that has been used indiscriminately, but occurs in its correct meaning when used to describe the film "Robin Hood of El Dorado."

This feature, which plays Saturday night, has star and story attraction.

Werner Baxter is cast in the leading role which depicts the career of Marrietta, the handi-her who roared through the wild west at the head of his own army in the lawless days of the California gold rush of '49.

Cast opposite Baxter in the leading female role is Ann Loring, a new "discovery" that Hollywood looks upon as promising.

Joe E. Brown has a great show in "Sons o' Guns," the feature which begins the series of the hilarious side of the late war days. Joan Blondell is teamed with Joe, and for comic measure the cast includes Eric Blore and Wini Shaw.

"Sons o' Guns," showing Sunday and Monday, presents Joe as a happy-go-lucky musical comedy star caught up into the army. And as a soldier he is one of the dumbest and funniest things are bound to happen to such an incorrigible member of U. S. army—and they do!

In addition to the feature number Sunday and Monday there will be shown two shorts of outstanding interest—Slyly Jason in "Changing the Guard" and Little Jack Little in hand act.

Bargain night, Tuesday, brings Chester Morris and Madge Evans in "Moonlight Murder." It has to do with the slaying of a great ten or before 20,000 witnesses during an operative performance in the famous Hollywood Bowl.

Morris has the role of a detective, aided by Miss Evans, he solves one of the oddest crime mysteries ever presented on the screen.

Edward G. (Little Caesar) Robinson in "Bullets or Ballots" is scheduled for Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week.

The story deals with the G-Men's attempt to get the brain trust behind the crime trust.

Joan Blondell and Frank McHugh have featured roles in this expose of the higher-up dictatorship of modern gangdom.

Climbing Roses Need Summer Attention

There are two distinct types of climbing roses:

1. Those of the small-flowered type which bloom in clusters and are usually known as "ramblers" such as Crimson Rambler, Dorothy Perkins and Paul's Scarlet.

2. The large single-flowered type such as Dr. Van Fleet, Elvira Meun and Marechal Niel.

Insofar as pruning is concerned, they must be handled very differently. It is the rambling or cluster-flowering type which should be pruned at this time, just after their blooming season is over.

Prune the ramblers from its support and cut out old canes at the base, or to a point where a strong new shoot arises from the old cane.

Then, to induce the strong new growth, which will produce next summer's flowers, give the plant a feeding of a complete balanced plant food. This should be applied at the rate of one rounded tablespoonful to each square foot of space surrounding the plant. Work lightly into the soil and water it well. As the new canes appear at the base of the plant, tie them up to prevent injury.

This summer pruning and feeding renews the plant's vigor and also, a well-pruned rambling is not subject to mildew as is an unpruned plant.

Do not prune the large single-flowered types at this time. They need only to have a slight thinning and dead branches removed in the spring, since their best bloom is produced on old wood. However, this type will also benefit from a feeding at this time, applied at the same rate as mention above for ramblers.

Steel Nets a Failure
Among the odd contraptions used in the World war were the steel nets, made of steel cables 1/20 inch thick, which England hung in the air, by anchored balloons, to catch the German airplanes that frequently bombed her bigger cities. Australia and New Zealand. Australia is different, oddly alien in its aspect from New Zealand, its neighbor. It does not possess the lofty peaks, the deep canyons, or active volcanic areas. Its rivers are not the tumbling cascades of its lakes the glacier-cut mirrors of the Dominion. But in vegetation, in animal life it presents a most attractive aspect. It is the most level of all the continents, its tallest mountain, Mt. Kosciuszko, rising but 7,328 feet above sea level.

Insects on Ocean Surface. Holobates, insects that live on the surface of the ocean usually hundreds of miles from land, cannot right themselves after rolling over, an involuntary act that occurs when their backs get wet. Hence scientists wonder how these insects survive after they have been drenched by spray or rain.—Richard Jenks, Utica, N. Y., in Collier's Weekly.

Steel Nets a Failure

Among the odd contraptions used in the World war were the steel nets, made of steel cables, 100 feet long, which England hung in the air, by anchored balloons, to catch the German airplanes that frequently bombed her bigger cities. Although high hopes were held for the success of these nets, only one plane ran into one of them—and went right through it virtually unharmed.—Collier's Weekly.

Haste Chief Cause of Accidents

The chart above shows that last year 21 per cent of the deaths resulting from accidents involving automobiles were due to exceeding the speed limit; 17 per cent were due to drivers operating on the wrong side of the road; 15 per cent were due to the failure of drivers to exercise caution when the right-of-way was involved; 14 per cent of the deaths were due to drivers going off the roadway; 13 per cent were due to acts of recklessness, and 10 per cent of the deaths were due to miscellaneous errors by drivers.

Statistics by the Travelers Insurance Company indicate that 9 out of every 10 accidents for which the driver is to blame result from undue haste—haste to get through the next intersection before the light flashes red, haste to pass a few cars ahead when it's impossible to do so without using the wrong side of the street, haste in going through an intersection when the other fellow was in the intersection first, haste while traveling on the highway.

Haggis Is Not Scotch
Haggis is generally regarded as a delicacy only among the Scots. Most Englishmen have but a vague idea what the feroceous thing is, yet in the Middle Ages it figured largely in the dietary of the workers, says Tit-Bits Magazine. It originated, however, not in England, nor in Provincial France, where a very similar concoction known as "pieds et paquets" is considered a delicacy, but from classic Greece. These refined, artistic, fastidious ancients not only ate it and enjoyed it, but immortalized it in verse. Brought to England by Roman legionnaires, it narrowly escaped becoming the national dish of England. The concoction is made of oatmeal, pepper, salt, the liver, lungs, and heart of a sheep; the whole being sewn into the stomach bag of a sheep and boiled.

P.T.A. Round-Up of First Graders Tuesday, Aug. 4

Clinic for Free Examination at School Gymnasium 9:30 to 12 a. m.

Free medical examination of all local children eligible to enter first grade in fall is being provided by the Barrington Parent-Teacher association and will take place in the school auditorium from 9:30 to 12 a. m. Tuesday, August 4. A local doctor and a public health nurse will be in charge. Entry blanks were distributed to local parents during the past two weeks by a committee assisting Mrs. James Hatfield, general chairman of the round-up.

The committee included Mrs. Cecil Kellam, Mrs. J. M. Friedlander, Mrs. E. J. Harris, Mrs. A. L. Bateman and Mrs. Albert Wilkins. The entry blanks were given out in advance so that persons preferring to have their own physician make the examination might do so and yet have the child's physical record on file at school.

"It is advisable to have every child examined prior to entering school so that any physical defects may be adjusted within the next few weeks and be cast aside first grade without handicaps," Mrs. Hatfield stated.

Any families not listed in the school survey have been asked to get in touch with Mrs. Hatfield so that entry blanks may be sent to their homes. All first graders are eligible for free examination at the clinic.

The summer round-up marks the first project of the P.T.A. this season.

Uncle Louis Has Coveted by All

Louis Miller is the proudest White Sox fan in the Barrington district. And that takes in eleven of them. The roll call of White Sox fandom in these parts (like the membership in the Barrington-Cuba democratic party has been growing steadily for the last four years until you could scarcely crowd all the members into the C. and N. W. flagman's lounging room at Cook and Main streets.

But Louis is one of the two or three who have been mentally and morally pulled along the Comiskey crew ever since radio's first belated barkings out the hits and errors.

"Last place or not, we're going to set there next year, you wait and see," Louis would answer taunts of the boards of born and reared Cub fans. And then after Jimmy Dykes took hold of things on the south side, Louis' predictions began to bear fruit.

And to get back to Louis' ascent of pride within the last few days, he had made himself a personal friend of this same James Dykes. About every other Sunday or more or less often, he slips out of church right after the sermon and makes a motor dash for Comiskey park. He claims to carry a permanent game pass, and with or without it, he gets into the lower grand stand on the big ball

The medical examination of all first graders in fall is being provided by the Barrington Parent-Teacher association and will take place in the school auditorium from 9:30 to 12 a. m. Tuesday, August 4. A head doctor and a public health nurse will be in charge.

Uncle Louis Has Something to Be Coveted by Any Loyal Sox Fan

For a season the proudest Sox fan in the Barrington grounds took takes in all of the Sox. The roll call of Sox fans in these parts, (like the membership in the Barrington club democratic party) has been growing steadily for the last few years until you could scarcely crowd all the members into the 10 and N. W. Wagner's home on Cook and Main streets.

But Louis is one of the two or three who have been mentally and physically along the Conley's home on 10th and Main since the Sox moved to the new ballpark. And then after the Sox moved to the new ballpark, Louis' prediction began to bear fruit.

And to get back to Louis' ascension of peak within the last few days he had made himself a personal friend of the same James Dugan. About every other Sunday or more or less often, he slips out of church right after the service and makes a motor dash for Comstock park. He claims to carry a prominent case pass, and with a motor car he gets into the lower grand stand on the big ball grounds. After every game he finds his way to the ball players' club room to renew acquaintances with Skipper Dykes, Mule Haas, Ripper Radcliff, Lakeview Ted Lyons and some of the other athletes.

Last Sunday, after watching the Sox drop a couple of games to the league leading Yanks, Louis came away from the ball park with a promise from Jimmy that he would receive a souvenir from the team.

The souvenir arrived Tuesday morning. It was a baseball autographed by 24 of the South Side ball players in addition to William Harridge, president of the American League. Louis was so proud of the Sox that he was just the official stamp on the ball. At any rate, Louis is ready to show his pride to any and all Sox fans who care to call at his store.

Mrs. Mary Bernard Buried Wednesday

Last rites for Mrs. Mary Bernard, 77 year-old mother of Dr. Frank J. Bernard of Cuba township, were held at St. Mary's church in Galea with burial in St. Mary's cemetery Wednesday morning. Rev. Father Miller officiated.

Mrs. Bernard died at her son's home Sunday morning, after having been in ill health for the past four months. Heart trouble caused her death. She was well-known in Barrington having lived with her son for the past eight years.

Mary Held was born at Rock Island in 1859, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Held. She was married to Joseph Bernard in 1876. Her husband and two brothers, John and Frank, preceded her in death.

Surviving her are her son, Frank of Barrington, two daughters, Mrs. P. O. Fish of Madison, Wis., and Mrs. H. R. Anderson of Barrington, two brothers, Joseph of Galea, and John, D. and August of Galea, Mass., two sisters, Clara Held of Freeport, Ill., and Mrs. H. R. Hollander, Galea, Ill., seven grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Prominent Cary Man Is Buried Thursday

Last rites for James Joseph Neely, 74 year-old prominent resident of Cary, were held at St. Peter and Paul church, Cary, Thursday morning with burial in Evergreen cemetery in Barrington. Rev. Father F. A. Kilderry officiated.

Neely died at his residence in Cary Monday after a year's illness.

James Neely was born in Waukegan on February 24, 1862 and was married to Anna Dunne at Cary 45 years ago. The couple had made their home in Cary ever since. Mr. Neely was a penitentiary, railroad engineer and very active in church circles at Cary.

He was survived by his widow and one brother, Ben of Waukegan, as well as by many nieces and nephews.

1936 Valuations of Townships Are Slightly Raised

Cuba Books to Be Completed
Soon; Increases Are
General in County

Property valuations in 10 out of 12 Lake county townships for which assessors' books have been turned into the 1936 board of review are slightly higher than the equalized values fixed by the 1935 board of review. Valuations are lower in two of the townships.

The 1936 board of review, composed of John D. Thomas, Charles J. Wright and John E. Hayes Sr., now has on hand 23 of the 52 assessors' books in the county. While most of the valuations for the rural townships are being studied by the board, north shore town assessors with the bulk of Lake county property are still working on their assessments.

On file with the board of review at present are 212 objections by property owners. The majority come from Waukegan and the lake shore towns. Property owners in the towns for which the assessors' books are now on file have up to August 1 in which to make objections.

Following are the comparative property valuations in townships for which assessment books are now on file:

Insects Migrate
Insects apparently possess an extra sense that is not shared by mankind. This is a direction sense similar to, but much more remarkable than, the migratory instinct of birds. Insects migrate with the same infallible directness as birds, but there is this difference, whereas with birds migration means a double journey, the migrants depart and again return, and may continue old birds that know the route; with insects the journey is undertaken only once and by a new generation.

Surface Important
Fingerprints made by the moisture of the hand can be identified only when left on smooth or polished surfaces. They cannot be classified, owing to insufficient ridge detail, when made on such rough surfaces as unpainted wood, iron or stone, textiles, certain kinds of paper or human skin—Collins' Weekly.

Question Trio on Nearby Burglaries

T. Jacobson, A. Hasmussen and C. Carlson, all of Chicago, are being held by Chicago police for questioning concerning robberies that occurred at Dundee and Fox River Grove earlier this month.

Police are investigating facts and reports concerning theft of a Ford sedan, typewriter, check processor, tires, batteries and other accessories from the H. H. Brey company garage at Dundee early in the morning of July 4. Evidence that the trio may have knowledge of the burglary of Joseph Halder's Grove laundry in Fox River Grove July 1 has been reported.

Shirts, finished flat pieces, electric fans and irons valued at $200 were stolen from the laundry, James Konda, a laundry employee, has identified property in the men's possession as that stolen from the Fox River Grove establishment. Information obtained by Joseph Bowman, police chief at Fox River Grove, further links the three men with the laundry thefts.

It was reported that loot in their possession at the time they were arrested was traced to the Fox River Grove and Dundee burglaries. The men deny knowledge of the thefts.

Early Post Riders

On August 30, 1876, hardly more than a month after the adoption of the Declaration of Independence, the Continental Congress passed a resolution providing in part that "the communication of intelligence with frequency and despatch, from one part to another of this extensive continent is essentially requisite to its safety; that, therefore, there shall be employed on the several post roads a rider for every 25 or 30 miles, whose business it shall be to proceed immediately through his stage three times each week, setting out immediately on receipt of the mail, and traveling with the same, by night and by day, without stopping, until he shall have delivered it to the next rider."

Mashrooms Always Delicacy

The high esteem in which mushrooms are held as an article of diet dates back to ancient times. Practically always they were considered a delicacy, an extravagance, "a food fit for the gods," and not a dish for the average table.

"Entangling Alliances"

Washington, in his farewell address, published September 17, 1796, said: "Why forego the advantages of so peculiar a situation? Why quit our own to stand upon foreign ground? Why, by interweaving our destiny with that of any part of Europe, entangle our peace and prosperity in the toils of European ambition, rivalry, interest, humor, or caprice? It was Jefferson who said, "Peace, commerce and honest friendship with all nations—entangling alliances with none." This was in his first inaugural address, March 4, 1801.

MILITARY COLONISTS

It is clear now what Mussolini is going to do with Ethiopia. He is to colonize it with the army that has conquered it. Thus he solves at once the triple problem of occupying the country, developing it into a colony profitable to the mother country, and disposing of Italy's surplus population.

Nearly half a million young soldiers who are joining sent to that savage land remain there, and others are being sent. It would be interesting to know how they like the prospect. Possibly they would have rebelled if their destiny had been made plain to them before they went. Now they will probably acquiesce, despite the terrific heat and disease of those lowlands, and the difficulties and dangers of subduing and civilizing the uplands, with savage and resentful natives already nearby in the jungle.

Ancient Rome colonized distant lands in this way. It is clever statesmanship for Mussolini—as long as it works. Hitler will be studying the experiment. The British government probably looks on with some envy. It has vast areas it wants to develop under the British flag, but the poverty-stricken masses in England do not want to leave their cities, and no British government can colonize them against their will.

WAGE SCALES

The International labor headquarters at Geneva has just made public figures showing that wages paid to American workers are by far the highest in the world.

Except for four other nations, the American standard was twice as high as that in the 13 countries covered in the study. In making the computation, the international labor headquarters made allowances for differences in living costs so that the index accurately represents the worker's real income.

Elbow Room

By ARLEA DICK
"Your boy broke my window, and I want you to have it fixed at once."
"I think he did it purposely," the irate lady continued, before he could reply. "The boys of this block are so destructive."

"Won't you sit down, Miss Marston?" Mr. Wilson courteously offered a chair. "I'm sorry about the window. We'll have it attended to at once. But I can't believe Ted did it on purpose. He's sometimes careless, but he's never malicious."

He turned to the living-room door. "Ted," he called across. "Tom and I were practicing curves."

"Why don't you practice on the school diamond?"

"We do, whenever we can, but there are so many fellows who want it we have to take turns."

"Why," exclaimed Miss Marston severely, "must you throw at all?"

"Ted didn't know my, so he said nothing."

"If you were my son," she continued, "I should forbid your throwing." With this simple solution, she rose to depart.

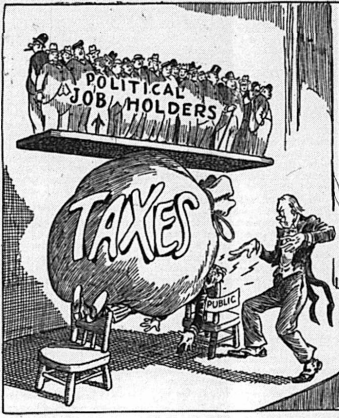

"I'm glad I'm not her son," Ted exclaimed fervently, when she was out of hearing.

"She undoubtedly is too," his father said dryly. Then he added to himself, "Fondle a boy to throw! How very fortunate it is that she raises cats instead of boys!"

Then feeling he had been unjust to the really excellent lady, he explained to himself and Ted, "But of course, if she had boys, she'd understand them and know they have to throw."

"That's right," Ted eagerly agreed on this bit of argument.

HYPNOTIZED

WHAT'S GOING ON IN WASHINGTON

(Courtesy The United States News)

Still upward, despite an unexpected summer slump, climbs the number of persons going back to private employment, continuing a five-month trend for manufacture, reports the department of labor on the basis of its reports collected from 135,000 establishments employing over 7,000,000 workers.

The number of additional employees in June taken on by this section of industry is 58,000. Employment now, compared with that of a year ago, shows an increase of 365,000 workers, which is estimated to indicate a gain of well over a million in the entire economy.

Work relief rolls show a concurrent drop to 2,231,600, which is down from the high-water mark of 2,400,000 in the early part of the year.

One important difference between now and a year ago in the relief and employment picture is that a year ago, when employment increased, the number of relief recipients also increased, reflecting a situation in which more unemployed people were coming to the end of their resources than were being reemployed. Today, relief estimates that the drought will force a million persons to the government for relief when winter comes.

As rains mercifully alleviate suffer from the great drought of 1936, the government acts to relieve the needy and sets in motion plans to minimize losses from possible droughts in the future. Action consists in putting to work farmers left destitute by crop failure; encouraging them in part by transferring furnished farm animals to places where they may be fed. The works progress administration estimates that the drought will force a million persons to the government for relief when winter comes.

Planning against a recurrence of such disasters takes two forms. First, to collect facts and make recommendations, the president appoints a six-man committee to study and report on a policy for the great plains drought area. Morris L. Cooke, the chairman, reports that his recommendations will be in two parts, namely:

1.—Encouragement for modification of the type of farming done in the dry regions, such as, for instance, as a partial shift to the drought-resistant soy bean crop.

More specific is the plan of Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, who advances a proposal for crop insurance. Premiums would be paid in kind in years of large production, these to form a fund to be drawn on for the benefit of farmers whose crops fail. In this manner, says Mr. Wallace, the country would have an ever-normal granary which would tend to stabilize prices and abate the economic distress of the farmer.

By a stroke of the pen the president puts up a bar to further political orange in the field of postmaster appointments. In an executive order he decrees that masters of the first, second, and third classes must hereafter be selected under civil service rules.

Number of postmasterships charged, 13,736.

Postmasters of the fourth class, numbering 31,666 are already under the civil service.

The order follows the failure of a congressional measure having the same purpose, which missed approval by a narrow margin in the last days of the congress recently ended.

The difference in effect between the executive order and a law is that the executive order may be rescinded by action of the president or any future president, whereas a change effected by congress has the permanency that comes with a statute.

The new order does not mean that present postmasters must qualify under competitive examinations. It refers to future appointments only. Since postmaster terms are four years, a considerable time must elapse before the civil service status of postmasters will be in general effect.

Inspection by post office inspectors. FWA investigators are charged with tapping wires of federal employees in various departments.

So follow transfer of FWA's star sleuth to a senatorial committee of inquiry and presidential decree of a ban on any suggestion of an OGPU (Soviet secret service police).

This is to be an end to interdepartmental espionage in the government. Such is the peremptory word that comes from the white house and commands most attention in the public works administration.

The trouble arises as some armies of sleuths are accused of invading their rivals' domains and spying on the activities of the other groups. Treasury men are charged with checking up on justice department men. Justice department men are charged with checking up on justice department men.

The post office department must guard its mails from robbery and see that facilities are not used for forbidden purposes.

The treasury is charged with tracking down attempts to defraud it of revenue.

Gloves Long in Use

The glove is believed to be the only article of clothing that has been in use since the days of the cave dwellers. Of its many different uses up through the present, writes Mary Margaret Shea, Salem, Mass., in Collier's Weekly, an important one was at the dinner table, where, before the advent of knives and forks, they were worn to protect the fingers from being burnt by hot food.

Nobody Knows Why

Palm warblers that winter in Louisiana fly to Labrador to sing while those that winter in the Greater Antilles spend the summer months in Northwest Canada. No one knows why the birds migrate, but the routes cross each other in Georgia.

The Bears were then held scoreless until the seventh inning, with four hits. Lenziel connected with a single and scoring on a single by House. House advanced when George was safe at first on an error and coming home on a single by Palmett. George was out at the plate.

Cameron, pitcher for the Bears, pitched an excellent game, driving out 15 men, walking six and allowing only four hits.

Two tournament games are scheduled for this Thursday night. The first game starting at 8:45 between the Mound City Blues and the Chicago Mills. The second game starts at 8:45 between the local Bears and the Bloomington Democrats.

Goff, who has a fine reputation as a hurler, will pitch for the Democrats against Cameron of the Bears. Goff has allowed only two hits in the tournament to date. Cameron and Goff promise to make Thursday night's game an exciting pitchers' battle.

After Wednesday night's game there will be 8 teams left in the tournament.

The winning team of the sectional tournament will travel to Wichita, Kan., to compete for the national championship.

The Bears will travel to Silver Lake to play the Silver Lake and Palmett, as well as 4 6

Huge Exposition for Chicago

Pictured above is an artist's conception of the central arena of the International Amphitheater at the Chicago Stock Yards as it will appear during the first International Horticultural Exposition which will be held in America. The show will take place September 12 to 20.

In the background is a reproduction of the Garden of Babylon. They will occupy an area 100 feet wide and will rise by terraces to a height of 55 feet. Model flower gardens will be arranged on either side of the arena with a lagoon and fountains in the center, interspersed by walks for the use of the public.

The management announces that programs of entertainment and education will take place every afternoon and evening during the Exposition. Unusual lighting effects have been planned to give color variations and further add to the scenic effects.

O. T. Henkle, president of the Exposition, informs that the 7,500 seats of the amphitheater will be free to the public at all times. The four huge exhibit halls of the International Amphitheater will be occupied by competitive displays of flowers, arrangements, gardens, fruits, vegetables, and nuts. Competition will be open to individual exhibitors, as well as to commercial growers and garden clubs.

Amateur growers will be given the chance to exhibit the results of their study and labor. Educational features will include demonstrations by experts on many subjects. There will also be daily lectures on numerous phases of horticulture, illustrated by motion pictures.

To date, 26 state colleges, the Ontario Agricultural College, and the United States Department of Agriculture have offered their full support and co-operation to the Exposition, as well as 22 horticultural organizations of national importance.

Gloves Long in Use

The glove is believed to be the only article of clothing that has been in use since the days of the cave dwellers. Of its many different uses up through the ages, the most important one was at the dinner table, where, before the advent of knives and forks, they were worn to protect the fingers from being burned by hot food.

Nobody Knows Why

Palm warblers that winter in Louisiana fly to Labrador to nest, while those that winter in the Greater Antilles spend the summer months in Northwest Canada. The two migration routes cross each other in Georgia.

"The Factory Girl" to Be Presented at Summer Theatre

Myrtle Bigden Driscoll in Leading Role Sunday Evening

Myrtle Bigden Driscoll's interpretation of the Widow Gable in the Lake Zurich Summer Theatre's production of "Sun Up" last Sunday night was a revelation to anyone who may have come to see "Just another show." It had an assurance which can come only from many years' experience and inspired the younger members of the cast to lift the performance above anything which this group has done since its organization in 1934.

With John Driscoll as director, this interesting colony of earnest young thespians is gaining a reputation for work which is far above the average. Mr. Driscoll has a rich background both as actor and director and the colony is showing distinct artistic growth.

In contrast to the high comedy of "Meet the Wife" and the stark drama of "Sun Up," the bill for next Sunday night will be "The Factory Girl." This famous old "tear jerker" melodrama is a classic of its period of American playwriting and promises an evening of thrills.

Mrs. Driscoll will make another guest appearance—this time in a broad comedy role—supported by a cast which will include practically every resident member of the colony. The curtain is at 8:50 p. m.

The safety factor in summer motoring must again be brought to the attention of the vacation-minded public, according to S. J. Gieske, local Goodyear dealer, who believes that the 75 per cent increase in the new passenger car sales will result in a comparable gain in used car sales.

"An automobile is as safe as its equipment, and tires come close to heading the list," said Mr. Gieske. "People who plan vacation trips must bear in mind that weak tires will not stand the wear and tear of the twisting, rambling country roads nor can they cope with the heat of hard-surface roads at high speeds."

All Dogs Must Be Muzzled, on Leash, or Kept at Home

State Board Issues Order to Check Spread of Rabies

Due to the prevalence of rabies in Chicago and other parts of Cook county, the state board of health has issued orders that all dogs in the county be kept on leash and muzzled or be kept at home. This order came from Dr. A. J. Jirka, chief of the board of health. It will be enforced in Barrington, Chief of Police E. W. Baade, declared Thursday morning.

During the last year or so, the police department has been active in picking up dogs that have been running loose and have in many been a nuisance. From now until after the board of health order is lifted, all dogs not on leash will be picked up regardless of whether they are disturbing persons or property or not.

No persons have been reported bitten by dogs in or near Barrington, but more than 100 persons per day have been bitten in Chicago during the last few days.

In 24 hours ending at 5 a. m. Wednesday, 168 persons were bitten by dogs. During the previous 24 hours 140 persons were bitten. An examination of dogs dying at the pound or under observation in Chicago revealed that 40 per cent had rabies.

Persons going out of Cook county on vacations must leave their dogs at boarding kennels or with veterinarians. There is now a quarantine against taking dogs out of the county.

Pay $992,000 for Insurance Benefits

Life insurance payments to local policyholders and beneficiaries totaled $992,000 in 1935, or $2718 a day, according to a compilation announced this week by the National Underwriter, weekly insurance publication.

The amount paid by insurance companies in Lake county was slightly less than one-half of one per cent of the $235,000,000 paid to policyholders and beneficiaries in the entire state. Payments throughout the state last year were increased $23,000,000 over 1934. Illinois ranked third in life payments in the country and ranks third in population. The per capita payment in 1935 was $29.95, compared to $27.05 the year before.

The payments to policyholders and beneficiaries in Lake county communities last year were as follows:

Highland Park	$397,000
Waukegan	275,000
Lake Forest	108,000
Barrington	60,000
Antioch	34,000
Lake Bluff	21,000

Salvation Army Merit The Salvation Army has a special recognition for its members for distinguished service. Its order of merit is called Order of the Founder. It was instituted in 1917, with a view of marking distinguished or memorable service, such as would, in spirit or achievement, have specially recommended itself to the army's founder.

Fine Wire Valuable Platinum fuse wire used in delicate electrical instruments, meters and special radio tubes is drawn so fine that one grade of it is not considered expensive even at a price that makes its cost $11,000,000 a pound, writes James Cooke, Philadelphia, Pa., in Collier's Weekly.

Truffles are a product of the French countryside. Hogs are trained to dig them up from their beds under the trees, and, although these animals are also partial to them, they are persuaded with careful coaxing to surrender the prize.

[Pick Out the One Who's "Nerts"]

It would be suspected that when people rush about it's because of some good reason. Perhaps going to a fire, or something like that. It has been said that there's a surplus of leisure in America, but that every body is in more of a hurry than ever before. Automobiles are made faster than ever. People drive faster than ever. They even die faster than ever.

Most persons think the dare-devil aerial stunts play fast and loose with life. They say, "I wouldn't do that." They shudder when they see a window cleaner hanging by a life belt, high above the street. Most persons say, "I wouldn't do that." They watch with bated breath the structural steel worker walking almost gingerly around on the skeleton of a huge skyscraper. None of that for a huge person.

The stunts of the rope walker, the trapeze performer, the high diver and all his brothers and sisters are not pursued for the merriment of idle minds. Not by a long fall. But few drivers regard in a serious light the hazards of motoring.

To most there's nothing to worry about when a car is being driven at high rates of speed, or when a curve or corner is taken sharply, or when another car is not almost head on at the top of a hill. The record of the occurrence of automobile accidents, the wreckage of cars going off the road, and the collection of cars at innumerable places—all go to indicate that many drivers don't realize the constant risks which only the utmost care makes it possible to avoid.

Flowers at Garden Club Show Monday Attract Throng

Junior Group Serves Tea; Guests; Many From North Shore

Lovely buffet tables, children's tables, bouquets and unusual flower and vegetable arrangements characterized the annual show of the Garden Club of Barrington, held at Barrington High Country Club Monday afternoon.

Members of the Junior Garden Club had been invited to contribute exhibits this year and they were among those which won prizes the various divisions of the show.

As in former years, the ladies arranged their exhibits Monday morning, held a brief business meeting and then enjoyed a light luncheon prior to the arrival of visitors.

Guests came from Wheaton, several north shore clubs in addition to those from organizations in Barrington and the neighboring communities.

Miss Billie White was the elected chairman of the show. Mrs. Samuel Rowe was in charge of ticket sales. Members of the Junior Garden Club served tea during the afternoon.

Among the exhibits which won special attention was an outdoor supper table which Mrs. Alexander Tarowsky and Mrs. Samuel Rowe arranged in yellow and brown with a plump china hen nestling in a basket of yellow and red roses as the centerpiece. It was first prize in that class and an attractive table, arranged by Mrs. William Horne and Mrs. Jane Cunningham won second. "All five are members of the Junior Garden Club."

Slippery Pavement Cause of Accidents Even in Summer

A slippery pavement caused a milted chemical compound placed on a new strip of pavement.

Northeast highway near 7th creek bridge was responsible for a series of accidents Saturday night. Approximately six cars were damaged to some extent when they went into the ditch or struck other cars. No injuries were reported.

The state highway department had paved a short strip of road Friday and in order to allow traffic to cross it Saturday, had placed considerable chemical on it to retain the moisture and prevent brittleness. The heat of the sun said to be responsible for the chemical melting.

Care owned by Miss Hazel Packer of Chicago and Mrs. H. Brown of Maywood were the most seriously damaged when they ran off the road into the ditch.
