Rice, Whipple Win Low Net at Pro-Senior Golf Meet

Charles Rice, professional at Barrington Hills Country club, and C. J. Whipple, club member, were low net winners of the annual pro-senior golfing event at Barrington Hills Country club sponsored by the club with nearly 100 professionals and seniors participating Monday.

Rice and Whipple carded 74 with a six handicap to have low net of 68 while John Revolta of Evanston and John H. Victor of Glen View won low gross with a 40-33 for 73.

The victory of the local team is more impressive in view of the outstanding aggregation of leading golfers that competed and included such stars as Don Gardner, Revolta, Bob MacDonald, Harry Cooper, Jack Hutchinson Sr., Tommy Armore, and Ira Couch.

Jim Fossils of Ruth Lake was paired with J. D. Hood of Barrington and finished with an 83 with a six handicap for 77.

Care of Tulip Beds Suggested for Fall

Perhaps you have an established tulip bed which you did not care to dig up this year. It is not necessary to dig and reset bulbs each season although it is true that when left undisturbed for several seasons, the flowers become somewhat smaller than if lifted and replanted regularly.

However, on such permanent beds, unless proper soil fertility is maintained, the quality of the bulbs deteriorates badly. Established beds should be given a very shallow cultivation in the fall to remove weeds, and a feeding of complete plant food should also be given, applying on the surface and watering in well. It is very important to keep the beds absolutely clean up to winter, and then you will have very little trouble with weeds in the tulip bed in the spring.

Much bulb beds after the ground is well frozen. This prevents alternate freezing and thawing, and consequent breaking of roots.

Curing Cigarette Tobacco
Cigarette tobacco smells like green hay at the end of the year of aging, like horsebarn in 18 months, and takes two years to acquire the mild smoking taste and mellow aroma demanded by American smokers, according to a report to the American Chemical society.

All-Star Boxing Show Slated for Outstanding Card

Prominent CYO Fighters Are to Appear in Matches August 28

C. A. Long, general chairman of the second annual boxing show to be sponsored by St. Anne's church at Northside park August 28, reported this week that early returns of ticket sales indicate a larger attendance than last year when 500 sport fans witnessed the bouts.

Chairman Long has listed three-round bouts of boxing and one wrestling match. The list of fighters that will appear from the ranks of the Chicago CYO championship team has not been announced at present but Mr. Long has been assured that the outstanding men in each weight division will be in Barrington on the night of the fights. Tom Kennally, heavyweight champion of the CYO and Golden Gloves bouts, is to be a member of the team.

The one wrestling match will feature Jack Riley and Rudy Hoffman. Riley is a former Olympic team champion as well as an All-American halfback from Northwestern university. Hoffman is an
