MACHINES VERSUS JOBS

How is your job affected by machinery? asks The Associated Press in a dispatch from Dayton, Ohio, printed recently in the New York Times.

"From 1900 to 1933," says the dispatch, "when we had more new machinery than at any time in our history, there was a gain of 20,000,000 new jobs. Every time a thousand new people were added to our population, 422 new jobs were created by our machine age."

"This looks like a pretty good result from our twentieth century mechanization. Four hundred out of every 1000 people are now taking care of the needs of the remaining 600."

"During the last 50 years, the population of the United States increased about 200 per cent, while jobs have increased about 300 per cent. That does not look as if we were going in the wrong direction. One-seventh of everybody working today is making some product unknown 50 years ago."

Only 4 per cent of the 2,500,000 unemployed who were studied by the U. S. unemployment census lost their jobs because of being displaced by machinery. Only 16 per cent of the inventions are for the purpose of saving labor."

A DEBTOR PARTNERSHIP

A large eastern insurance company has sent to its agents an explanation of the plan it expects to adopt in the future in the matter of farm mortgages, together with the reasons therefor.

Briefly, the company will hereafter give the mortgagor a chance to enter into a three-part partnership agreement, whereby the company assumes some sort of supervision to see that the farm is properly taken care of, and in return grants the privilege of skipping a payment of principal and interest any year when the price of corn on the Chicago market is below 51 cents per bushel.

The company in question recognizes that forced foreclosures, such as we have had too many of in the past, are bad for the insurance company as well as the farmer, so the company is willing to enter into this sort of partnership agreement.

Perhaps it represents a new era of relationship between debtor and creditor. There are times when the debtor does not want any interference with his business on the part of the creditor, but it is safe to assume that in most farm mortgages such an arrangement as is above referred to would be to the advantage of both parties.

Another thing: In agreeing to waive the annual payment on a mortgage any time the price of corn on the Chicago market is less than 51 cents, this large eastern insurance company is admitting that the farmer should have at least that much money for his corn. An admission of that kind may be a long step in better understanding between the industrial east and the agricultural middle west.—Sac Sun, Sac City, Ia.

The drive for unionization in the steel industry advances to a point where, whether victorious or not, it may make collective bargaining habits in this sector of labor relations.

When measured in percentage of total employed, the story is different. The percentage has fallen. Reason assigned: Sudden increases in the need for workers, as has happened in recent years, places a demand on the civil service machinery which it is not geared to supply.

Most important recent move in substituting merit for political influence in appointments: President Roosevelt's executive order last month placing postmasters of the first three classes under the civil service.

Buyers eager for goods and with money in their pockets set in motion forces which mark up two annual records. One is a high price in industry. The other is an excess of imports over exports.

The record in industrial production is measured by the Federal Reserve Board's index. This barometer of recovery stands at 108 for July. That is to say, industrial production for that month is 8 per cent above the average for the years 1923 to 1925.

Success in setting up such machinery for bargaining would duplicate in the steel industry a pattern already existing in the coal industry.

Struggling slowly up the pathway of recovery, industrial employment, as measured by official index, reaches its highest point since October, 1930.

It shows more goods sold than a year ago. But, more significantly, it shows a much greater rise in those purchased from abroad.

Secretary of Commerce Roper makes this note: Nearly half the increase in imports is due to luxuries not produced in great quantities in this country.

It is not easy to discover the ages of wild animals, because no records can be kept. But we know the length of life of our pets. A dog, with care, will live to be fifteen years and a cat twelve. There have been cats as old as twenty.

Age of Animals Unlike primitive literature in other parts of the United States, that of Hawaii, according to experts, contains from two to five meanings for each poetic phrase.

Reporting a steady march of progress in the numerical increase of government employees coming under civil service commission shows that almost half a million of Uncle Sam's workers today have successfully passed the commission's examinations for competence.

When the workers qualified under civil service rules have risen from 456,592 in 1934 to 498,725 in 1935, in percentage of the total of all employes, they have fallen from 78 to 65, although the percentage rose slightly within the past year.

HOME EDUCATION

"The Child's First School Is the Family"—Froebel Issued by National Kindergarten Assn. 8, 39th St. New York

A Talk on Truthfulness By L. E. EUBANKS Sunny-natured, blue-eyed Billy, nine years old, had done most of his playing for the last year with Ralph, the only child of a neighbor.

It was a family habit for Billy to have delightful talks with his Daddy each evening, and of late Daddy had noticed a new and some alarming tendency, on the part of his boy, to fabricate fantastic tales and "big adventures."

"Did you put the hammer away when you finished repairing your wagon?" asked Daddy. "Yes," the boy answered. "No, Billy, you didn't," spoke up his mother, "it still lies on the lawn."

"I don't understand you, Son," said Daddy, putting his hand gently on the child's shoulder. "Don't you tell the truth? It is much better than telling a lie, I know."

"Ralph lies all the time," Billy explained, "and I like him. He says that it makes no difference whether you lie or not. He says that his mother lied when she told him he couldn't be happy if he lied, because he has been trying to lie."

"Well," continued his father, "that's what I meant by reputation; you see I have a good reputation with you for honesty, isn't it comforting for you to know that what I say to you is always true?"

"Oh, yes!" "Don't you want people to think that way of you?" "Yes."

There was a moment's pause. Billy looked as if he were going to cry, then he said, "Ralph's mother was right. Lying does make a boy unhappy. I'll get the hammer now, Daddy."

Brongs to Play Niles Center at Home Saturday

Elaborate Homecoming Event Planned for Game With Libertyville

The Broncho gridiron men are looking forward to their first battle with considerable speculation. The first game will be non-controversial and is to be played with Niles Center on the home field Saturday starting at 3 p. m.

Perhaps the greatest event of the '36 football season for the Bronchos will be the homecoming game which is to be played here Saturday, Oct. 31, with Libertyville. This is to be made a gala affair. A committee from the Lion club is cooperating with the high school to make this the best homecoming the school has ever had.

Saturday's game will tend to disclose the season's possibilities for the Bronchos. The probable lineup for the first game is as follows: Edward Gurd, and Charles Melner, ends; Eugene Knefeld and Jack Mountain, tackles; Arthur Conrad and Keith Kampert or Gordon, Cadroon, guards; Bayard Olmsted, center; William Tichy, quarterback; Norbert Frankfort and Lenard Melner, halfbacks; Robert Caldwell, der, fullback.

Coach Lynn Walderf and his Wildcats face a strenuous season in attempting to win the Big Ten football title for Northwestern university this year. The Wildcats play five games at Dyche stadium in Evanston and three away from home.

In meeting Iowa, Ohio State, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois and Michigan for the Big Ten lead Northwestern has its work cut out by virtue of the present strength of the opponents.

Walderf is rated to produce a strong gridiron combination this year and the team is reported to return to rank with teams of other years.

Northwestern U. Football Schedule Has Strong Teams

Schedule at Home October 3—Iowa. Oct. 10—North Dakota State. Oct. 17—Ohio State. Oct. 21—Minnesota. Nov. 7—Wisconsin.

From Away From Home Oct. 24—Illinois. Nov. 14—Michigan. Nov. 21—Notre Dame.
