Lake Zurich Day Outing Enjoyed by Large Crowd

Interesting Picnic Program Stimulates Gathering Thursday

More than 300 persons stopped ordinary daily affairs and participated in the annual Lake Zurich day held at Opatry's Beach on the Fox River at Fox River Grove last Thursday. Residents of the village of Zurich and the country joined in the list of events planned for the occasion.

Considerable interest was aroused in the softball games and a large crowd was on hand to cheer for the girls' basketball game of Lake Zurich and the country. The town girls successfully solved the pitching efforts of their opponents and won quite handsily by an 11 to 2 score.

The girls' game was played in the morning, and in the afternoon the single men and married men met and crossed bats at softball in an effort to prove their superiority. The single boys proved to be the better of the two and trimmed their seniors by a score of 3 to 1 in a game that was closely played and contested throughout.

A series of guessing games had been arranged and turned out to be highly interesting as the picnicers attempted to solve the puzzles and riddles offered by the committee consisting of Rev. E. A. Irion, W. H. Budde, and Charles Winter.

Rev. Irion announced the winners of the contests.

A highly lock combination puzzle resulted in H. Wesner first, J. L. Clements second and Miss Eleanor Gohke third. H. Wesner was first, James Weber second and Miss Ann Withagen third in the game to guess the identity of the major league pitcher.

Mice Plifer Fund From Cash Drawer of Passenger Depot

Mother Nature usually provides human and animal with the required necessities to sustain life, but a family of mice residing in the Chicago and Northwestern railway passenger depot are worldly-wise and quite capable of taking care of themselves, in the experience of local station agents.

Over a period of time this summer, a shortage was noticed in the cash drawer of the ticket window. A loss of $18, which was detected Thursday, brought the total amount missing to $43.

Mystified, the agents instituted a search and when the cash drawer was opened, a five-dollar bill was found partially pulled through a hole made by the mice. When the remainder of the partitions are removed, it is expected that the missing bills will be located.

According to J. A. McCoy, station agent, the mouse family is to be exterminated and made to seek financial relief from other sources.

School Must Sell Work to Pupils, A. Lines Tells P.-T. A.

Lake County Chorus Sings Harvest Cantata at Meeting Tuesday

"The aim of your school board is to install as good a school as is possible for the money you can afford to pay," A. Lines, board member, told parents and teachers assembled in the school auditorium Tuesday evening for the first Parent-Teacher association meeting this season.

"The object of education is to sell the course to each pupil so that every child will want to know what he is learning," continued Mr. Lines. "The P.-T. A. helps to establish harmony. It makes for mutual knowledge of the child so that the most suitable course may be sold to every child."

After enumerating various types of work offered in the local school, Mr. Lines answered questions concerning the financial management of the school. He stated that the school is a body of personal property and real estate taxes, state aid amounting to about $1500 here annually, and tuition from those outside of the school district.

Each dollar the school accepts is divided as follows: 6.23 percent for education (the keeping up of all courses), 33.33 percent for the building, when completed will cost about $140,000, and the balance for maintenance, a large assembly hall and classrooms for the kindergarten, first and second grades and the high school. A playground will be installed on the newly purchased property adjoining the school grounds and that must be balanced with fun, exercise and social life," Mr. Lines said.

Delightful music for the evening was furnished by the Lake county chorus of 35 voices under the direction of Mrs. Charles Jones, who sang a harvest cantata consisting of nine songs.

Following introduction of P.-T. A. officers, board members and the faculty, a social hour was enjoyed. Mrs. T. E. Davis was chairman of the committee of first grade mothers who served refreshments.

P.-T. A. members of the Northwest Suburban council will be entertained at tea at the Methodist church Friday afternoon. There will be a program, also, beginning at 2 p. m.

Changing of Time Schedule Creates Muddled Situation

Local Daylight Saving Ordinance to Expire Saturday Night

The automatic return to central standard time Saturday night in the village of Barrington by virtue of an ordinance now in effect, while the city of Chicago remains on eastern time is expected to result in confusion here.

The change of the clocks by ordinance actually controls only those in village offices and does not affect other schedules that might be adopted by individuals. When the city of Chicago returns to standard time while the village trustees did not take a definite stand at a meeting Monday night. The local ordinance becomes inoperative Saturday evening time.

"We do not feel that the board has the right to attempt to control the actions of over 2000 persons in this matter," Village President Earl Hatte said.

The situation became jammed due to the fact that many Barrington persons commute daily to Chicago and consequently will be required to stop work on eastern standard time.

According to information given by the village trustees, the Chicago and North Western railroad will continue to operate on central standard time but suburban schedules will be made to conform with Chicago time conditions.

Unless other action is taken by the village trustees, it was reported that the Barrington public school will operate in conformity with eastern standard time as will the town of Winnetka. All churches and St. Anne parochial school will operate scheduled standard time while a canvass of pastors revealed Wednesday night.

Merchants in the entire business section of Barrington were contacted Wednesday and it was learned that 34 houses favored central standard time while 15 favored eastern standard time in conformity with Chicago. Other businesses expressed no preference but stated they would comply with the majority.

The Catlow theatre will operate its movie schedule on central standard time as will the P. T. A. catlow manager, announced.

The action of the municipal commission in changing back to central standard time while others are changing back to central standard time.

Eligibility List of Postmastership Is Released This Week

William Skinner, A. G. Martens and W. Paddock are on the eligibility list for the Barrington postmaster job, according to a report from the United States civil service commission. The list was notified the candidates, who took the last examination, of their standing in the competition.

Mr. Skinner and Mr. Martens had previously been reported on the eligibility list for the appointment. Mr. Skinner having been placed there after the first examination and Mr. Martens following the second.

Mr. Paddock is the only new one on the list. Other local persons who had been rated for the list did not take the last examination and were not carried on this list.

When an appointment to the position will be made is not known by local postal authorities or political leaders.

Candidates Will Tour Lake County

Rodney H. Brandon, candidate for congressman-at-large, Earl R. Seay, candidate for re-election as state senator, and Ralph E. Church, candidate for congressman in the 10th district, will visit county and district candidates on the republican ticket in a county-wide tour of Lake county Friday.

The caravan is to start at Barrington in the late morning, possibly after having lunch here, it was reported, will then visit other communities before ending up at Winthrop Harbor where a rally is to be held in the evening.

"Rhythm on the Range" at Catlow Sunday, Monday

"To Mary—With Love" Billed
Three Days; "Naughty Marietta" Returns

What happens to love when a young bride, struggling with poverty, is offered the luxuries of the world? Barbara Stanwyck gives the answer to that question in "The Bride Walks Out," which is being screened the last times at the Catlow theatre tonight.

Gene Raymond has the role of the young husband, and Robert Young that of the beckoning millionaire.

Late issue of the March of Time is booked with this feature.

Once again, and finally, the rafters of the Catlow will ring to the glorious music of Victor Herbert's "Naughty Marietta." According to the many requests for another showing of this—the supreme musical achievement of the screen—the manager of the local theatre has scheduled the final return of this picture for Friday night.

The long sustained enthusiasm for the singing of Jeanette McDonald and Nelson Eddy, and the capable support of the large cast places "Naughty Marietta" among the few productions that offer increased entertainment value with each successive viewing.

"The Dancing Pirate" playing Saturday night is a ray of adventure of early California days, filmed entirely in technicolor.

Charles Collins, the new dancing sensation of the screen; Steff Duna, the girl of "La Cucaracha," and Frank Morgan are starred.

Odyssey, Pathe News, comedy and the 9:30 p. m. gift event are added items of interest.

A new pace in music and mirth is set in "Rhythm on the Range," the Sunday-Monday feature offering.

King Crosby is the bright and shining star of the piece, with Frances Farmer, Bob Burns and Martha Raye making a brilliant constellation.

The story is delightfully ridiculous, and offers no end of hilarious situations as it shows a man who has spent his last dime to buy a prize bull, escorting his thoroughbred west in a bus.

It develops that Frances Farmer is a stowaway in this very box car, and from then on the romance and mirth vie with each other for their moment on the screen.

A new Popeye cartoon, hand Act and late descriptive news are short subjects listed for the Sunday-Monday bill.

William Boyd as Hopalong Cassidy, brings another thrilling Western adventure to the screen in "Heart of the West."

It will be shown Tuesday as the bargain night offering of the week. Spontaneous, cartoon, musical comedy and a scenic of Morocco are short subjects for this program.

Walter Blatter and Myrna Loy are co-starred in "To Mary—With Love," which is scheduled for next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

The story appeared in the Saturday Evening Post, and is as good as the best romance ever printed by that journal. Readers will recall the gallant and constant love of the wife, who hides her time throughout the passing years while her husband is buffeted with stock market crashes, sea wars, and extra-marital affairs.

The story strikes too deep and sure, that viewers will follow the vicissitudes of this couple with intense interest, and glory with the wife who plays the game gallantly, feeling confident that her love was not misplaced.

Queen Victoria Shocked

Subjects by Ry. Journey
When Queen Victoria, in June, 1852, made her first journey by train from Slough to Paddington, and declared that she had enjoyed it, wide circles in Britain sustained a serious shock. Men and women shook their heads, and a writer in Pearson's Weekly.

A question as to contemporary records, Queen Victoria "accomplished the journey free from dust and crowd and heat, and was quite charmed with it."

The queen's favorite coachman insisted upon accompanying the engine-driver in order to see that nothing was done to endanger her safety. When he descended from the footplate at Paddington station, reliable observers say he resembled a disheveled negro minstrel more than a servant in Royal liver.

A question was afterwards asked in the house of commons by an M. P. who "thought that her majesty's person should not be subjected to the hazards of railway travel."

An answer was given stating that two carriages had been interposed between the engine and the carriage occupied by the queen, to obviate risk of collision.

In those days many notable people strongly opposed the new mode of travel. The duke of Cumberland, for instance, in the house of lords, voted against a bill for a new railway because "it would be very disturbing to the Eton boys."

He added that "passengers would be shaken to death in these devil's carriages, and all for what?"

Plaines, bricklayers working on the C. B. Allyn residence on Hillside avenue, were injured when a scaffolding gave way and dropped them about 15 feet into the base-the building Tuesday morning. The building is being erected by Norman T. Mason, architect and contractor.

They were taken to a doctor for medical attention and Schulerberg was removed to the Sherman hosrevealed a fractured rib. Laugerand contusions.

Baptist Exhibits Attract Crowds

More than 200 persons viewed the exhibit of handmade articles, crafts, flowers and hobbies on display at the Baptist church
Thursday and Friday. Judges awarded ribbons to the best in each class but there were so many entries and such a number of classes in each division that the ribbon winners were too long to be listed.

About 20 lovely quilts were included in the array and 38 rugs, all handmade. One of the most unique was a rug made of old sacks which had been dyed, then woven into a pattern adopted from a Navajo Indian design at the Art Institute.

Judges of the various exhibits were Mrs. E. A. Beerman, rug;
Mrs. Eldon Gieske, Mrs. Harold
Grebe, quilts and needlework;
Mrs. Fred Record, Mrs. R. R.

MACHINES VERSUS JOBS

How is your job affected by machinery? The Associated Press in a dispatch from Dayton, Ohio, printed recently in the New York Times. The answer, it suggests, should be based on the cold practical fact of what is occurring.

"From 1900 to 1933," says the dispatch, "when we had more new machinery than at any time in our history, there was a gain of 20,000,000 new jobs. Every time a thousand new people were added to our population, 422 new jobs were created by our machine age."

"This looks like a pretty good result from our twentieth century mechanization. Four hundred out of every 1,000 people are now taking care of the needs of the remaining 600."

"During the last 50 years, the number of jobs has increased about 300 per cent. That does not look as if we were going in the wrong direction. One-seventh of everybody working today is making some product unknown 50 years ago."

"Only 4 per cent of the 2,500,000 unemployed who were studied by the U. S. unemployment census lost their jobs because of being displaced by machinery. Only 16 per cent of the inventions are for the purpose of saving labor."

A DEBTOR PARTNERSHIP

A large eastern insurance company has sent to its agents an explanation of the plan it expects to adopt in the future in the matter of farm mortgages, together with the reasons therefor.

Briefly, the company will hereafter give the mortgagor a chance to enter into a three-part partnership agreement, whereby the company assumes some sort of supervision to see that the farm is properly taken care of, and in return grants the privilege of skipping a payment of principal and interest any year when the price of corn on the Chicago market is below 51 cents per bushel.

The company in question recognizes that forced foreclosures, such as we have had too many of in the past, are bad for the insurance company as well as the farmer, so the company is willing to enter into this sort of partnership agreement.

Perhaps it represents a new era of relationship between debtor and creditor. There are times when the debtor does not want any interference with his business on the part of the creditor, but it is safe to assume that in most farm mortgages such an arrangement as is above referred to would be to the advantage of both parties.

Another thing: In agreeing to waive the annual payment on mortgage any time the price of corn on the Chicago market is less than 51 cents this large eastern insurance company is admitting that the farmer should have at least that much money for his corn. An admission of that kind may be a long step in better understanding between the industrial east and the agricultural middle west.—Sac Sun, Sac City, Ia.

Law of Diminishing Returns

In economics the law of diminishing returns is applied to the obsolescence of the arts as an increase of labor or capital applied beyond a certain point, as to cultivation of land, causes a less than proportionate increase in the production from the unit to which the additional labor or capital is applied.

"WHAT BIG TEETH YOU HAVE, GRAN'MA!"

WHAT'S GOING ON IN WASHINGTON

(Courtesy The United States News)

The drive for unionization in the steel industry advances to a point where, whether victorious or not, it may remake collective bargaining habits in this sector of labor relations.

Here are the elements of a complex situation: "Company union" members, employees of the Carnegie-Illinois steel corporation, organized by factories, send representatives to collaborate in a central committee.

The committee meets in Pittsburgh for two purposes. One is to prepare demands for a 25 per cent wage increase and for the establishment of a national wage committee for industry-wide bargaining.

The other is to decide whether to act along with the committee for steel organization, which is the group under the generalship of John L. Lewis and the industrial union leaders soon to be suspended as rebels from the American Federation of Labor.

When the first purpose, the committee of "company union" representatives agree. On the second, they divide, 7 to 6.

The seven return to make their demands through factory managers, as provided in company union constitutions.

The five present their demands direct to the head of the corporation and ask that the corporation recognize the committee for steel organization as their bargaining representatives.

Presented thus in tangible form to a steel company employing over 80,000 workers is a plan for collective bargaining new to the industry. Its answer is expected to determine the lines of future strategy in the organization drive.

Success in setting up such machinery for bargaining would duplicate in the steel industry a pattern already existing in the coal industry.

Struggling slowly up the pathway of recovery, industrial employment, as measured by official index, reaches its highest point since October, 1930.

So reports the department of labor, which adds that, in the sector of industry embraced in its survey, the number of those employed has increased by more than 1,000,000 since the same time a year ago. Figures refer to the month of July.

As to wage payments, money dispensed each week in pay envelopes is declared to be larger this last July than in July, 1935, by $42 million dollars.

To whom is the additional money going, enabling them to buy long-needed necessities and to face the future with hope?

The full answer is not available, but a partial answer is provided by the Federal Housing administration. It reports a considerable portion of it is going to those who now have an opportunity of working on construction. The building of residences is estimated to be running at 700 per cent above the corresponding months of 1935. About 30 per cent of the new construction is being done with mortgages insured by this agency. Chief advantage of such insurance: Elimination of costly second mortgages.

Reporting a steady march of progress in the numerical increase of government employees coming under civil service commission, it shows that almost half a million of them are to be paid. Only the still wiser can know when further patience is useless.

When measured in percentage of total employed, the story is different. The percentage has fallen. Reason assigned: Sudden increases in the need for workers, as has happened in recent years, places a demand on the civil service machinery which it is not geared to supply. Also, many types of skill have been required for which the commission had not had occasion to make provision before.

In numbers, the workers qualified under civil service rules have risen from 450,592 in 1934 to 498,725 in 1935. In percentage of the total of all employees, they have fallen from 78 to 65, although the percentage rose slightly within the past year.

Most important recent move in substituting merit for political influence in appointments: President Roosevelt's executive order last month placing postmasters of the first three classes under the civil service. The top three of the four-class had already been under the merit system.

Buyers eager for goods and with money in their pockets set in motion forces which mark up two seasonal recurrences. One is a high tide in industrial production since November, 1935. The other is an excess of imports over exports continues this month.

The record in industrial production is measured by the Federal Reserve board's index. This barometer of recovery stands at 108 for July. That is to say, industrial production for that month is 8 per cent above the average for the years 1923 to 1925. Scattered bulletins for August indicate a still higher surge in the demand for goods. Examples are steel operations at 72 per cent of capacity and estimates by the president of General Motors corporation that this year's output will top that of 1929 or any other year in its history.

The record in trade with other countries comes from the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce. It shows more goods sold than a year ago. But, more significantly, it shows a much greater rise in those purchased from abroad.

Secretary of Commerce Roper makes this month: Nearly half the increase in imports is due to luxuries not produced in great quantities in this country. Another factor is a rise in purchases of raw materials, such as rubber and tin, needed for our expanding industry.

Age of Animals

It is not easy to discover the ages of wild animals, because no records can be kept, but we know the length of life of our pets. A dog, with care, will live to be fifty years old, and a cat twenty, though there have been cats and dogs as old as twenty. A rabbit is old at five and a horse at twenty-five, while a parrot often lives to be sixty.

Poetry Has Double Meaning

Unlike primitive literature in general, the poetry of the United States, that of Hawaii, according to experts, contains from two to five meanings for each poetic phrase.

Patience

"Only the wise," said Hi Ho the sage of Chinatown, "can know when to be patient. Only the still wiser can know when further patience is useless."

1936 Football

Bronks to Play

Niles Center at Home Saturday

Elaborate Homecoming Event

Planned for Game With Libertyville

The Broncho gridiron men are looking forward to their first battle with considerable speculation. The first game will be non-controversial and the Niles Center is also looking forward to their first game Saturday starting at 3 p. m. This is the first time the locals have met Niles Center in football.

The first conference game will be played here with Warren Oct. 3.

Perhaps the greatest event of the '36 football season for the Bronks will be the homecoming game which is to be played here Saturday, Oct. 31, with Libertyville. This is to be made a grand affair. A committee from the Lions club is cooperating with the high school to make this the best homecoming the school has ever had.

Coach Paul E. Clark is also looking forward to his first game Saturday with high hopes. While this year's team does not average very heavy, it will be exceptional fast. The weight handicap is expected to be offset by the speed of the team.

Saturday's game will tend to disclose the season's possibilities for the Bronches.

The probable lineup for the first game is as follows: Edward Gaur and Charles Meiner, ends; Eugene Kincaid and Jack Mountaine, tackles; Arthur Conrad and Keith Kampert or Gordon Cameron, guards; Bayard Olmsted, center; William Tichy, quarterback; Noris Grabenkort and Leonard Mel, halfbacks; Robert Caldwell, fullback.

Northwestern U. Football Schedule

Has Strong Teams

Coach Lynn Waldorf and his Wildcats play a strenuous season in attempting to win the Big Ten football title for Northwestern university this year. The Wildcats play five games at Ithaca stadium in Evanston and three away from home.

In meeting Iowa, Ohio State, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois and Michigan for the Big Ten lead Northwestern has its work cut out by virtue of the present strength of the opponents.

Waldorf is rated to produce a strong gridiron combination this year and the team is reported to be present to rank with teams of other years.

Schedule at Home

Oct. 3—Iowa.

Oct. 10—North Dakota State.

Oct. 17—Ohio State.

Oct. 31—Minnesota.

The front row gridders men are facing forward to their first battle of considerable speculation. The game will be non-conference game to be played with Niles Center on the home field Saturday, Oct. 31, with Libertyville. This is the first time the locals have met Niles Center in football.

The first conference game will be played here with Warren Oct. 10.

Perhaps the greatest event of the football season for the gridders will be the homecoming game which is to be played here Saturday, Oct. 31, with Libertyville. This is to be made a game day. A committee from the Lions Club is cooperating with the gridders to make this the best homecoming the school has ever had.

Paul E. Clark is also being forward to the first game of the season with high hopes. While the year's team does not average as heavy, it will be exceptional.

The gridders' game will tend to show the season's possibilities for the gridders.

The probable lineup for the first game is as follows: Edward Garg and Charles Meiner, ends; Eugene Russell and Jack Mountain, tackles; Arthur Conrad and Keith Bennett, or Gordon Cameron, guards; Bayard Olmsted, center; William Tichy, quarterback; Norman Grabowski and Leonard Melnick, halfbacks; Robert Cadwallader, fullback.

Northwestern U. Football Schedule Has Strong Teams

Waldorf is rated to produce a gridders combination this year and the team is reported to attempt to rank with teams of other years.
