New CCC Enrollment of Lake County Boys

Announcing a new enrollment period for membership in the Civilian Conservation Corps, representatives announced Monday that there is room in the CCC for a large number of youths who register and are found eligible from Lake County. No definite quota has been set.

The enrollments this period will be accepted from October 1 to October 15 and must be made originally to the town supervisors, according to a new regulation set down when poor relief administration was turned back from the CCC to the towns. H. D. Kelsey will handle applications for Cuba town and Harry Washo for Elia.

In making application for places in the CCC, Lake county youths must first contact the supervisors to obtain a written statement which, in turn, will be turned over to the officers of the CCC. Preliminary examinations will be conducted at relief offices by physicians from Fort Sheridan. The CCC takes young men between the ages of 17 and 28.

Three birthday children have been photographed for the column this week. Pictured at the left is Mary Edith Titterton who will be two years old Friday, Oct. 2. At the left and below is the little Alice Vera Reese, who also has a favorite dolly, half as large as herself. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Reese, Elia township.

And of course a boy in most happy if he has a dog. Keith Melvin Pederson has a hard time holding his dog, Keith, five playmate and probably some protection. Keith is the three year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pederson, Poplar Creek farm in Hanover township. His birthday is today, October 1.

The Review would like to hear from parents of other October children Thursday or Friday of this week or not later than 9 o'clock Saturday morning. Before a picture can appear in this column it must be taken, developed and printed, the print sent away to an engraving plant and the engraving mailed back to The Review.
